Statewide Drive Set By Town Of Mansfield

The 1962 Cancer Crusade in the town of Mansfield will have a target of $2,000 as its goal in the statewide cancer campaign in April, according to Miss Mildred Smith, general chairman of the local fund drive.

Miss Smith stated that this year's quota represents a slight increase over the 1961 goal in Mansfield and called on area citizens to get behind this important cause by mailing in their contributions as soon as they receive the appeal during the first week of April.

"Here in Mansfield we should not look upon our quota as a maximum, but as a minimum, and shoot for a record - breaking amount," Miss Smith urged. She stated that the 1961 cancer crusade in Connecticut surpassed all previous records in the state's history as campaign contributions reached a total of $763,632.

Three Services
These life-saving funds were put to use on a state and national basis in a three-pronged attack against cancer—research, education and service. Advances in method of treatment and diagnosis, and year-round educational efforts are gradually helping to reduce the cancer death toll. Today one cancer patient in three is saved compared to one in seven 25 years ago.

"Connecticut has taken the lead in many cancer programs supported by funds raised during the annual crusade," Miss Smith went on. "Research in the state is hitting every significant aspect, including virus relationships, leukemia, and studies of basic growth. A large part of this research is being carried on at the University of Connecticut in Storrs.

"The service program, which has aided many local cancer patients, is supported by funds totaling more than $250,000. In the educational field, thousands of Connecticut residents have been given life-saving information about cancer."

Praising the generous response of local citizens to previous cancer appeals, Miss Smith pointed out that the total raised here has increased from $912 in 1957 to $1650 in 1961. The largest part is obtained from contributions in response to the mail campaign. The balance is received from memorial contributions, the University of Connecticut Student Community Chest Carnival, and coin boxes.

Miss Smith will be assisted in the 1962 campaign by Mrs. Raymond K. Clapp, Miss Gladys Kneeland, Mrs. G. H. Lamson, Miss Janet Lincoln, Miss Dorothy Lundblad, Mrs. Richard M. May, Mrs. Henry G. Stetler and Mrs. Arthur L. Wood.

Alabama Psychologist Speaks Today On Curriculum Changes

A psychologist who specializes in problems of learning will tell some 350 New England educators about the "Cultural Demands for Changes in Curriculum" this morning at 10:30 a.m. at the University of Connecticut.

The speaker is Dr. Robert E. Bills, assistant dean for research at the University of Alabama's College of Education. His audience will be attending a two-day regional conference on school curriculum at the HUB Ballroom.

Object of the conclave is to examine and evaluate current needs of school systems in terms of the demands placed on them by society and how these demands are being met.

A veteran educator as well as psychologist, Dr. Bills has taught at the secondary and college level for almost a quarter century. He received his Ph. D. in clinical psychology from Columbia University and has been an associate professor of psychology at the University of Kentucky and chairman of the Psychology Dept. at Auburn University.

Dr. Bills has also served as president of the Kentucky Psychological Assn., chairman of the Board of Examiners of the Clinical Psychologists of the State of Kentucky, chairman of the University of Kentucky Research Club, and chairman of the Division of Biological Science at the University of Kentucky College of Arts and Sciences.

Music Department To Present Soloists, Quartet In Recital

Three soloists and a woodwind quartet will hold the spotlight Sunday, April 8, when the University of Connecticut Department of Music presents a student recital at 8:15 p.m. in the Von der Mehden Recital Hall.

Featured soloist will be Lynn Lockard, a talented soprano from 174 W. Ingomar Rd., Pittsburgh. She will sing two Elizabethan songs, a Vivaldi Motet, Grigges' "The Lament of Ian the Proud," Puccini's "Visi d'arte," and Schubert's "Shepherd on the Rock."

Soloists

Other soloists are—Theodore DeCorso, a sophomore clarinetist, 182 Academy St., Waterbury, who will perform the allegro movement from Mozart's "B-flat Clarinet Concerto," and Sandra Brown, a freshman bassoonist, Maupas Rd., Guilford, who will play Hindemith's "Bassoon Sonata."

Members of the woodwind quartet, which will offer a Diverti-

Student Elections Today Polls, Procedure Listed

Elections for student senators will be held today from 11 a.m.—7 p.m. and every student is urged to go to the polls. Students must vote according to the house that they are listed under in the Student Directory.

The system for voting is the Hare Preferential System. The student places a numeral one (1) next to the candidate he wants first, a numeral 2 next to his second choice and so on until he has finished all his voting.

In this system it is very important that the individual's first choice be labeled one, the second two, etc. because the system will not serve its purpose if one just numbers down the page in the order that the candidates are listed.

Each voter may vote for nine Senior Senators, six Junior Senators, and six Sophomore Senators.

Dance, Spirit Discussed In Frosh Class Council

By DON LE FEURE

Final preparations were made for the battle of the bands dance, scheduled for Friday under sponsorship of the freshman class at the Freshman Class Council meeting Tuesday night. It was decided that pending the acceptance of the council's constitution by the Student Senate tickets will go on sale today and may be purchased from council representatives or at the door. Music for the informal dance will be provided by the Fascinations, the Fenders, and the Continentals.

Class Picnic

Russ Olstead moved that the class picnic be held on May 12, because of the likelihood of good weather at this date, and the motion was carried unanimously. On recommendation of Mr. Olstead then council voted unanimously to hold the picnic at Sperry's Glen in Bolton.

Five dollars was appropriated to make a reservation. Total cost of renting Sperry's Glen will be thirty-five dollars. It was indicated that buses will probably be used for transportation.

Constitution

The Constitution Committee reported that the revised constitution will be brought before the Senate Wednesday. The council is not formally recognized until this constitution is approved. No activities can take place without this recognition.

A discussion was held on next semester's freshman week. Several suggestions were made. One representative suggested that the Marching Band Concert held behind the HUB be continued and that a dance be conducted along with it. Another recommended that round robin parties be resumed. A committee was formed to work on freshman week.

The Student Directory Committee called for a meeting next week to continue work on a student directory available to students at a nominal price. It is hoped that the directory will be published very year.

Class Spirit

The Spirit Committee is investigating ways of instilling spirit in the freshman class. Several ideas, such as the distribution of flyers saluting the class of 65, are being considered.

Approximately forty houses were represented at the meeting. President Ken Goldberg stressed that this low presentation is due partly to the fact that certain fraternities and sororities house no freshmen. The next meeting will be on April 3.

To Take Place In College-Age Bracket Biggest Connecticut Population Changes

Studies under way at the University of Connecticut bear out forecasts that the biggest changes in Connecticut's population picture this decade will occur in the college-age brackets.

According to preliminary results of a project being completed by Dr. Edward Stockwell of the UConn Department of Rural Sociology, a 50 per cent increase in the number of State residents between 20-30 year old is indicated by 1970. Meantime, a 49 per cent jump in the number of youngsters between age 10-20 is also anticipated at the end of the decade.

Duplication

These projections, which are based on provisions that the migration into Connecticut during this decade will duplicate the percentages of the 50's, further indicate that more than 1 million State residents will be in the 10-29-year bracket by 1970.

Dr. Stockwell, an asst. prof., also noted that the trend toward youthful domination of the population will be somewhat offset by gains in the over-70-year category. Here an increase of 30.2 percent is predicted.

Only one category—the 30-39-year group—is likely to diminish during the 60's, with some 21.562 fewer residents, or 5.9 per cent.

in Connecticut by 1970. This group consists of Depression births.

Other percentage increases follow:

Residents from 0-9, up 26.2 per cent; from 40-49, up 12.4 per cent; from 50-59, up 33.9 per cent; and from 60 to 69, up 16.1 per cent.

Phi Alpha Theta To Hold Initiation

Phi Alpha Theta, national honor society in history, will be holding its initiation on Sunday, April 8. In order to be eligible for membership students must have at least twelve credits in history, with an average grade of B, and an over all C.P.R. of 26.

Initiates will be entitled to compete for several scholarships and awards, and in addition will receive four copies of the Historian, the publication of the society.

Anyone who has not previously received a letter of invitation, but who believes he meets the qualifications, should leave his name in the history office by Monday, April 2.

Movie Critic Speaks Tonite

Noted movie critic of Esquire Magazine, Dwight Macdonald, will speak tonight in the HUB Ballroom at 8.

After graduating from Yale in 1928, he spent six months on the executive training squad of a large department store. This experience convinced him that his interests were literary.

He then became associate editor of Fortune, an editor of Partisan Review, editor and publisher of Politics, and in 1956-7, an advisory editor of the English monthly, Encounter.

For the past two years he has been the film critic for Esquire Magazine.

Mr. Macdonald is also credited with the authorship of books such as Henry Wallace, The Man and the Myth, The Root Is Man and The Ford Foundation.

His most recent book, Memoirs of a Revolutionist, was written relating to the period of his life, during which he was, successively, a Trotskyist, pacifist and an anarchist in his philosophical outlook.

Think Carefully Then Vote!

Another Senate campaign is over. Weeks of hard campaigning came to a close early this morning as candidates and their supporters feverishly distributed that one last poster or mimeographed sheet of campaign promises.

Today, a new Senate will be elected to serve for an entire year as the student governing body. Today, you, as voters, will decide who these Senators will be; you will decide who the Senate President will be.

If you care the least about student government, you will go to the polls today. No matter if you vote or not, a new Senate and a President will be elected. It is to your advantage to exercise your privilege and vote. Vote for the candidate who you believe will best serve you as an individual student.

But before you cast your vote, look over the entire situation: the party platforms; the candidates—their qualifications and experience. You have heard the candidates speak, you have read interviews with them in the Daily Campus, you have listened to interviews with them over WHUS, you have read our editorial comment in these columns.

If, however, with all this information in mind, you still cannot make up your mind—don't vote. Don't be led to the polls by some politician just for the sake of voting. Don't go to the polls blindly and vote for the candidates who look the best in their campaign pictures in today's Daily Campus.

If this is the case on the day of election, you have no one but yourself to blame. The issues have been clearly presented; it is up to the individual to acquaint himself with them. We hope that the number of such students is low; we hope that the majority of the student body will vote intelligently at the polls today. This is the only way that a student government which will be strong and effective will be elected.

We cannot emphasize enough the importance of intelligent voting. People who vote straight tickets are blind to the issues; they do not care about an efficient student government. People who vote the way a political chairman "suggests" are to be pitied for their lack of intelligence and individuality.

Today is election day. Vote—but before you vote, think carefully. The Senate which will be elected today will be in power for an entire year. Think carefully before you vote; a year can be a very long time.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor:

I have been following rather closely during the past semester the Connecticut Daily Campus in its fight for its rights as a student newspaper. My views and my sympathies have been largely with the Campus. Therefore, I was rather dismayed to read in the March 22 issue of the Campus, Mr. Cicarelli's article entitled "Legalized Gambling and Prostitution." A paper that demands rights certainly should realize that it has duties to fulfill. Thus, when within its pages an article is printed which offends the moral principles of the mature part of society, and is directly contrary to the morals of our Judaic-Christian heritage, it seems to me that that paper has failed in its duties and thus deserves no rights.

May I also remind Mr. Cicarelli that the end never justifies the means. Thus it would not matter what use the monies gained from legalized prostitution were put, when the means are directly contrary to the moral law. The use of sex is reserved for the sacred bond of marriage. Any degradation of it would destroy the basis of society, the family; and make man, who is a rational being, nothing more than an animal.

To The Editor:

In contrast to the critical nature of many of the letters appearing in this column, I would like to take this opportunity to commend an organization on campus—the Freshman Class Council. The members, among other things, have planned a Freshman Class Dance scheduled for March 30. Some other endeavors in preparation include a Class Picnic, next semester's Orientation Week, a student catalogue, and a book exchange.

All these projects have one main goal. This is to overcome the apathy and lack of unity in the Freshman Class. To achieve this goal is not an effortless task. It requires much time and thought by the individuals which comprise the council. Much work of this nature is unrecognized by students and faculty alike. This situation should be changed and I hope this letter will be a partial cure. To the Freshman Class Council, my sincere congratulations!

To The Editor:

In the March 27 issue of the Daily Campus there was an article which appeared on the front page concerning Greek Week. I am sure that the ancient Greeks would writhe in their graves if they had read this. The author has these learned people dressed in the garb of their hated enemies—the Romans. No self-righteous Greek would be caught dead in a toga. The Greeks wore a garment called a chiton.

Besides, anyone running in a toga would not get very far. It was a long garment wrapped around the body, preventing the complete use of one arm and nearly preventing the wearer from walking.

As long as we are going to run like the Greeks, let's dress like them.

To The Editor:

In reference to Mr. Demers' article on WHUS, it really interests me to read that classical and folk music, "Campus Spotlight," etc. are broadcast on "our" station. I might offer is completely nullified by the fact that all I can do is read this. However, it seems to me that any about WHUS. I do think it would be nice if the girls in South Campus could hear the station they are supporting.

Greek Week Holds Two Coffees To Choose God And Goddess

A Greek God and Goddess will reign during this year's Greek Week which will run from April 2-8. At two consecutive coffees the God and Goddess will be chosen. The first coffees were held last night at Alpha Delta Pi for the men, and at Alpha Sigma Phi for the women.

The final coffee will be held at Phi Kappa Tau where the seven highest ranking men and women contestants will be judged. The coffees will last from 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Sisters, brothers and pledges of the various houses were eligible, and once the name had been submitted a substitute would not be accepted.

Judging is based on the following attributes: looks, appearance, poise, personality and conversation. The judges for the men's preliminary coffee were Miss Botte, Miss Chambers, Mrs. Clack, Mr. Hildsinger and Captain Hess. Judging at the women's preliminary coffee were Mr. and Mrs. Ovale, Mr. and Mrs. MacNeil, and Brooks Chamberlain, president of the Sophomore Class. Judges for the final coffee will be Captain and Mrs. Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. John Dunlop, Miss Moulton and Captain Devereau.

Sorority entrants present at last night's coffee were: Delta Zeta, Diana Heller and Dianne Dillon; Alpha Delta Pi, Nancy Kelly; Delta, Pi, Marilyn Mead and Lynn Werther; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Eleanor Cuneo and Eleanor Tegus; Phi Mu, Janet Tyler and Regi Rinaldi; Phi Sigma Sigma, Jane Pincus and Linda Urman; Pi

Beta Phi, Kathy Smith and Mary Irvine; Alpha Epsilon Phi, Barbara Strauss and Gloria Horenbein; and Kappa Alpha Theta, Sandy Green and Jean Dotchen.

Men Entrants

Fraternity entrants included: Beta Sigma Gamma, William Lesneski, Alpha Zeta Omega, Roy Simmoneaux; Theta Sigma Chi, Brian Kiniry; Sigma Nu Alpha, Maurice Condou; Zeta Psi, Kenneth Borasi; Kappa Psi, Howard Lanza; Phi Kappa Tau, Stan

Fifth Semester Students To File Junior-Senior Plans By April 20

Mr. Harold R. Burke, Co-ordinator of Academic Counseling, has announced that all students entering their fifth semester must file a plan for the junior-senior work on or before April 20. He stated that this deadline applies to all schools and colleges except Nursing, Engineering and Pharmacy.

Procedure

Copies of the Plan for junior-senior work may be obtained at the Co-ordinator of Academic Counseling Office, Administration 177. The student will be given enough sheets to satisfy the number of copies needed by the office.

He or she is then assigned a major advisor by the Co-ordinator or is sent to the Department Head for assignment depending upon the practice followed by the school or college in which the student is enrolled. The major advisor and the student together work out a plan of study for the student's remaining two years of college work.

This should be done during the latter part of the fourth semester. Counselors advising sophomores are asked not to sign registration cards for fifth semester registrations before the plan for junior and senior work has been completed. The major advisor signs the registration card for the fifth semester and above.

Several Copies

Copies of the junior and senior work are prepared for the faculty counselor, Division of student Personnel, and the student. The copy submitted to the division is used by the Record's Office to determine whether or not the student meets graduation requirements.

It is important, therefore, that the Record's Office be notified promptly of course changes subsequently made in a plan for junior-senior work after it has been filed. When students change school or college, a new plan for junior and senior work must be

Open Bidding

Between 65 and 70 girls are registered for open bid rushing, Miss McCall announced today.

For the first time girls are able to rush who have not rushed previously.

They will be extended phone or verbal informal invitations to visit sorority houses for dinner, lunch, or coffee. Nor formal written invitations will be extended.

Following the two week rushing period, girls are to sign their preferentials on April 9 in Miss McCall's office in the Administration building before two in the afternoon.

They will pick up bids on the same afternoon between 4 and 4:30.

Pledging will be on April 9, also, and will take place at each sorority at 5 p.m.

Hoop Tournaments

The Way
The Ball Bounces

By LEIGH MONTVILLE

Basketball for the most part, died a glorious death this past weekend in such varied places as New York and Louisville. The sole survivor to this death of the basketball bug is the eternal N.B.A. playoff schedule which will easily be around to welcome the first of the birds and baseball teams back to the north. College ball was brought to a final rest with the Cincinnati Bearcats taking the National Collegiate Championships in a stunning 71-59 upset over Ohio State at Louisville and the Dayton Flyers copping the laurels in the NIT in New York over St. John's 73-69.

In the two collegiate tournaments one thing seemed to stand out particularly. That was the value of a good "big man" is to a college basketball team; or any hoop team in general for that matter. All four teams in the two tournament finals possessed outstanding, tall centers. It was on the strength of the superior play of Dayton and Cincinnati's pivotmen that both of them were crowned champs. For the Flyers it was burly 6-10 Bill Chmielewski who made his 6-10 counterpart, Leroy Ellis, wish he never learned the game of basketball. He outscored, outrebounded, and out-defended the more heralded Ellis. Leroy did score 22 points, but 12 of these were from the free throw line. He was held to a poor 5 for 19 from the floor. Big Bill, being only a sophomore, can be expected to be heard from a great deal in the next two years.

The NIT seemed to be the birth of greatness for him as he completely took over the brunt of the Flyer scoring punch from high-scoring Garry Roggenburk. With this blossoming out he not only gave Dayton their first NIT crown after five near misses, getting beat in the finals five times; but also made himself the unanimous tournament MVP by the sportswriters. And deservedly so he was; without him the Flyers would probably never have reached the semi-finals much less being crowned champions.

As for the fabulous Cincinnati Bearcats... what more can one say than the name of Paul Hogue? True Jerry Lucas was hampered by an injured knee, but most circles agree that even a 100 per cent Lucas would not have been able to stop the flawless game this man played. Even Jerry himself has been quoted as saying, "My knee didn't bother me, but Hogue sure did." Truer words were never spoken, for the 6-9, 240 pound Bearcat outshone "everyone's All-American" in every department. He particularly bottled him up under the basket the place where Ohio State, through Jerry Lucas's scoring, had accumulated such a fine record this season.

Paul Hogue, awkward sophomore, finally reached the heights of perfection with this performance. He won not only the applause and acclaim of the nation's basketball fans and the tourney MVP award, but also became a choice selection for the pro ranks as the New York Knicks grabbed him quick on the first draft. He should be the perfect remedy for their NBA ills... he's a good "big man."

High School Tourney

Looking at the also recently concluded New England high school basketball tournament one would at first glance throw our theory of the importance of the "big man" out. As everyone knows, the Owls of Hartford Public defeated their crosstown rivals Bulkeley for the NE championship 47-39. In this finale neither team possessed an outstanding big center nor did they have any relatively "big men."

Pitching And Catching Weaker
Due To Graduation And Pros

The outstanding talent of the most recent years isn't there, but University of Connecticut Baseball Coach Larry Panciera feels his Husky pitching staff is capable of tackling the 16-game schedule which begins April 6, at Coast Guard.

Graduation took Joe Clement, who won 16 straight as a Husky and posted an 8-3 record last year, and Lefty Al Belanger who was 3-0. In addition, the New York Yankees have Rollie Sheldon who would have been in his senior season as well as Tony Przybycien who would have been a junior.

Pitching Depth

Sheldon and Przybycien worked during the years when the Uconn

staff was so heavily laden with talent that retired Coach J. O. Christian had problems giving his chucker enough work, he had so many fine hurlers.

The situation isn't the same, nowadays; but it isn't crucial either.

Heading the corps of eight flingers, all right-handers, is senior Co-Capt. Ed Jones, a 6-1, 200-lb. speedballer, who came into his own at the midpoint of last season. He checked in with a final record of 3-0 in the won-lost column and very neat 2.09 ERA. The brightest spot of his sterling performance was the fact that he permitted but three earned runs over the last 31 innings he pitched, giving him less than one earned run per game. This strong boy is expected to carry the major portion of the pitching load and will be called upon to work at every possible opportunity.

Competition

Battling for the second place in the pitching rotation are senior Tommy Strong of Wethersfield and Dick Lenfest. Strong had a highly respectable ERA of 2.86 until he ran afoul of a slugging Boston College national tournament bound nine in his last game of the season a year ago. Lenfest looked very good against Yale and Holy Cross last season, but he had control trouble. He seems to be improving on his control in pre-season work; and if he masters this problem, he could be a valuable asset to the team.

Looking like the best prospect to get the number one relief job is diminutive Lew Lamporte of Bethel, a pharmacy major. The mainstay of the Uconn frosh nine a year ago, Lamporte stands only 5-9 and weighs 175.

Versatile Chuckers

Coach Panciera is converting his players with the zeal of a missionary. He has a trio of converts whom he is banking on to help with pitching duties. They are Jimmy Bell, a junior who played the entire season in left field a year ago; Jim Parmelee who played with the Hartford Branch last year; and sophomore Brian Kiniry who was a third baseman on the frosh nine previously. Bell and Parmelee will split their time between the mound and the outfield while Kiniry will concentrate on pitching.

Rounding out the pitching corps is John Lahr of Watertown, a lanky senior who is a newcomer on the squad.

Tight Schedule

The Huskies open their season with eight games over the first 16 days on the schedule. With this in mind, the pitching staff is working hard preparing for the rugged challenge.

Tommy Kopp, the workhorse catcher and powerhouse of the attack for the University of Connecticut baseball nine, is no longer around. Filling his shoes as a receiver is the task at hand for Uconn Coach Larry Panciera as he prepares the Huskies for their season opener with Coast Guard, April 6.

Kopp, leading home run hitter and a top run producer the past two seasons, didn't give understudy Don Warzocha of Wallingford much opportunity to pick up experience.

Experience

This means there is a wide open battle for the backstopping assignment among a senior and two juniors. Warzocha has been around two years; and naturally, he has the inside track on the job at this time. Pressing him is senior Jeremiah Fitzpatrick of Waterbury and junior Dick Avery of Vernon. All three are right-handed batters.

Fitzpatrick picked up plenty of baseball savvy catching for the Uconn Waterbury Branch team for three years. He is a graduate of Crosby High in Waterbury where he excelled in baseball and football. He is a bit lighter than Warzocha. Both stand 5-11 while Warzocha weighs 190 and Fitz tips the scales at 180.

Dick Avery

Avery, who stands 5-10 and weighs 170, is a graduate of Manchester High where he captained the 1959 team and was all-CCIL two years.

Also listed on the roster as a catcher is Harmon Freeman of South Hadley, Mass., who stands 6-2 and weighs 210.

After Connecticut's season opener with Coast Guard which will be played in New London; the Huskies make their home debut, with AIC, April 7.

Pros Lacking Long Runs
Due To Big Secondaries

March 28—(AP)—There are any number of players in the National Football League who can run 100 yards in ten seconds, but in 1961 there were only nine touchdown runs of more than 50 yards.

Why aren't there more long runs?

Well, here's what the fast and shifty Don Perkins of the Dallas Cowboys has to say about it.

"In pro football," says Perkins, "You get past the line of scrimmage, run about ten yards and suddenly it's like being at the line of scrimmage again. The linebacker, the cornerback, the safety man and a tackle or end cutting back, all hit you at once. The reason backs don't get away for long runs in the National League is simply the great secondary pursuit."

The St. Louis Cardinals were rocked back on their heels by injuries last fall but they feel they are bound to be luckier this time.

Running back Joe Childress reports the pain is gone from his injured knee. He's doing a lot of walking. Offensive tackle Ken Panfil had surgery on an ailing knee and the reports on him are excellent.

Jim Patton of the football Giants and Jack Reed of the baseball Yankees were teammates at the University of Mississippi. Both were on the football and baseball varsities.

Both roam the outfield of the Yankee Stadium now, Reed as a reserve fly-chaser for the Yanks and Patton as a safety man for the Giants.

A draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys, Larry Hudak, played with Ron Hatcher at Michigan State. Hatcher is much better than rated. The Cowboy rookie says: "Ron is quick and cute in the open field. He executes key blocks. He can sweep end on a pitchout. And he is wonderful at snaring passes."

During the football season Abe Woodson is great stealing enemy passes for the San Francisco 49'ers. Abe doesn't carry that over to the off-season. He works in a bank.

March 28—(AP)—Official statistics from the American Basketball League show that Connie Hawkins of the Pittsburgh Rens won the league scoring title. Hawkins finished with an average of 27 and a half points a game. Dick Barnett of Cleveland finished second with an average of slightly better than 26 points a game.

Giants Hope Battery and Second-base Better This Season

March 28.—(AP.)—Nobody ever called San Francisco a loser's town, and lived to say it a second time.

But this will be the fifth year for the one-time New York Giants in San Francisco and they seem to be walking directly in the footsteps of the 49'ers, the club that has made a career out of coming close without winning.

Perennial Contenders

Every year the Giants shape up as a hot contender and sometime or other during the course of the season they make things hot for everybody else. But they always cool off.

This year, well, Manager Al Dark says: "When the experts get around to picking a pennant winner I hope they say seven or eight teams can make a run for it, and don't just mention San Francisco."

Pitching

Pitching was a problem for the Giants last year and they may have solved it with the addition of Billy Pierce and Don Larsen, obtained in a trade with the Chicago White Sox.

Second base was a problem for the Giants last year and they're hoping that Charlie Hiller, who couldn't solve it in 1961, will in 1962.

Catcher was a problem for the Giants last year and the hope is that Ed Bailey, who slumped for most of 1961, will return to his norm this year. If not, Joe Pignatano or Rookie Tom Haller may help.

Candlestick Park

Candlestick Park, the wind tunnel of the Major Leagues, was a problem last year and on that one the Giants have no comment.

The Giants have a handful of aces to lead with. The peerless Willie Mays, the hammering Orlando Cepeda, fleet Felipe Alou, and possibly the comeback story of 1962, arvey Kuenn.

This looks like the year that Cepeda will spend most of his time at first base, where he likes it. Orlando was not very happy the last couple of seasons playing most of the time in the outfield. He may be shifted once in a while if Dark wants to get Willie McCovey into the lineup against certain pitchers.

Hiller

Hilleh is the hope at second. Charlie was a rookie "pneum" last spring but was tied up in knots by the pitchers once the season began. He went back to the minors for more seasoning.

Jose Pagan is improving at shortstop. He gets the job done but he is no threat to take over as "Mr. Shortstop" of the fine infielder and a timely hitter.

Golf Meeting

There will be a meeting tonight at 8 p.m. for all those interested in trying out for the varsity golf team in the classroom of the Physical Education Building. Coach Bill Loike cordially invites anyone interested to attend.

New York, March 28.—(AP)—Welterweight fighter Kid Paret remains in critical condition in a New York Hospital as a result of the beating he took in his title bout with Emile Griffith last Saturday.

Hospital officials reported this morning there was no major change in Paret's condition overnight. Last night, his condition was described as slightly improved, but he remained in a coma.

Mays is still a hawk in center field even if he has slowed up a little. Kuenn is fair in left and will have to hit .300 to hold his job. However, Kuenn reported to camp in great shape and reportedly is determined to find the batting eye he lost last year.

Alou, that's Felipe' is excellent in right field and may two-platoon with his brother, Matty.

Now, for the pitching.

Juan Marichal, a right-hander, and Mike McCormick, a south-paw, are young and strong. Each seems to be star material, and yet it hasn't happened. It could this year.

Jack Sanford will help Marichal and McCormick with the starting chores. Pierce is certain to take a regular turn. Billy O'Dell probably will be worked into the rotation.

Top Reliever

The incredible Stu Miller is in charge of the bullpen. Stu is one of the very best in the business at the fireman role.

Jim Duffalo and Bob Bolin will help Miller with the bullpen chores and Gaylord Perry is a touted rookie.

Dark made a favorable impression on baseball men last year in his debut as a manager. The whimsical Giants had him tossing in his sleep a few times and he almost ripped a finger off in a dressing room flare-up in Philadelphia. But he is back for another try and he must be given a chance to go all the way this time.

Meeting Tonight On WAF Career's

Captain June K. Vorce, US Air Force WAF selection officer for the northeastern United States, will host an information seminar and coffee today at 7 p.m. at the HUB for Uconn women who are interested in learning about a career as an officer in the United States Air Force.

Through the cooperation of Colonel John W. Wise, commander, AFROTC, and Cadet Colonel Charles T. Jaglinski, Commander Arnold Air Society, women student will be escorted to the coffee by members of the AFROTC Cadet Corps. Colonel Wise stated that, "Few women are aware of the great range of opportunities, both for professional careers and for substantial financial help in preparing for a professional career, that are afforded college women by the Air Force."

Opportunities Offered

He has asked Captain Vorce to discuss two major types of opportunities:

For seniors, specialist careers for graduates of prescribed curricula, and careers of an administrative and supervisory nature for liberal arts graduates.

For undergraduates, opportunities for students in special curricula, such as occupational therapy, physical therapy and dietetics which enable them to receive financial support to complete their senior year, or their internship.

Women have reservations about a career in the military services, but these reservations are generally based upon little direct personal knowledge. What many women want out of postgraduate employment, however, is seldom found as frequently in private employment as in employment by the Air Force.

Variety, travel, salaries that are not subject to sex-based differ-tials, opportunities to get into the highly desired fields, intelligence, research, personnel management, public relations, statistical analysis, finance, education and training, supply, administration, meteorology, and fringe benefits that private industry can seldom match are available.

Those interested in learning more about the work and life of a WAF officer are urged to contact Cadet Colonel Charles Jaglinski, 395, to arrange for an escort to the coffee.

Fronzizi Resists Demands That He Quit Presidency

Argentina, March 28—(AP)— Before dawn, Fronzizi rejected Argentine President Fronzizi is continuing to resist demands that he relinquish his post. Before going to lunch today, he ordered troops away from his place. They complied and left.

But the situation in Argentina is still confusing.

There have been a rash of reports in the capital city of Buenos Aires that the army, navy and air force chief had already set in motion action to toss Fronzizi out. But later in the day these reports subsided somewhat.
