Recruiters Cancel Interviews; Fear UConn Demonstration

"Navy recruitment has been postponed for Tuesday by mutual agreement between the placement office, acting as part of the University, and the Navy, acting on the part of the Government," according to John Powers of the University Placement Office. Due to a planned Connecticut Resistance Movement protest demonstration both the Navy representatives and the administration decided postponement was "advisable" under the circumstances," Powers said.

Interviews by United Aircraft representatives scheduled for Wednesday were also postponed. Both interviews were canceled to "give the University community a chance to discuss the issues in full," Powers said.

The original plan for the demonstration was to conduct a teach-in around the Navy representatives, according to Fred Wallace, CRM chairman. The teach-in, according to Fred York, "was to show the individual student how he is being used as a cog in the wheels of the war machine."

"This is all a part of the continuing effort to keep the University from becoming a part of the war effort," Wallace said.

The CRM will hold a meeting Tuesday to discuss the issue of University involvement in the war. It will take place in SS55, and all are invited.

'King of Hearts' Voting in Union Begins This Week

Voting will take place every day this week, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Student Union Lobby, for the King of Hearts. The contest is a part of Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority "Save a Heart" week, in which the sisters have set a goal of $1500 to be given to the Heart Fund.

The ten finalists competing for the title of King of Hearts are: Duke Ayers, Chi Phi; Dean Cook, Ethan Allan House; Paul Dunlon, Alpha Sigma Phi; Richard Freeman, Theta Zeta; Jerry Gormley, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Ken Johnson, Lafayette House; Louis Kornreich, Parker House; Bill Larenson, Sigma Chi Alpha; Jim Sok, Kappa Psi; and Michael Zinn, Sousa House.

In the Union Lobby, the sisters have set up a booth which dramatizes the operation of the heart. Voters place their donations in the canister which is denoted as representing a vote for each King candidate. The candidate bringing in the most money will be crowned at the "Save-A-Heart" dance, Friday, from 8 p.m. till midnight in Hawley Armory. Music will be provided by "The Enchanters" and admission will be 50 cents.

Other events of the week, which have been endorsed by Senators Ribicoff and Dodd, and Governor John Dempsey, include waitressing by the sisters in dormitories and at "A's".

'Knack' Opens Friday; Second Play of Season

Ann Jellicoe's humorous play, "The Knack", about three off-beat boys and an innocent country girl will be the second production this season by the UConn department of theater.

The play, directed by Dr. Nafe E. Katter and featuring a cast of four, will be presented November 10 - 18 at the Harriet S. Jorgensen Theater, with no performance Sunday, November 12.

The British comedy is concerned with four completely divergent personalities, one of whom has "The Knack" when it comes to his relationship with the opposite sex.

Brett St. Lawrence, a sophomore from Fairview, Mass., is cast as Tolen, the young man "who has that certain 'knack' with the ladies."

Brett St. Lawrence, a theater major, is familiar to UConn audiences, having played the title role in last season's production of "Billy Budd." He also appeared in "Twenty-Seven Wagons Full of Cotton," and "The Taming of the Shrew," both of which were presented by the Theater department.

Colin, the shy, awkward school teacher, who lacks confidence in himself and in his relationship with women, is played by Edward Weiant of Bloomfield. He is a junior majoring in Theater and has a long list of stage credits, including the role of Henry II in "Becket," and the Schoolmaster in "Marat Sade." He also received the 1966 "Best Production Award" for his direction of "Tin Foil Star of Gold."

Newcomer Joyce Rosenstein, a freshman from Bridgeport, plays the role of "Nancy Jones," the sweet, petite, innocent girl used by Tolen to teach Colin "The Knack."

Mark Egan, a senior English major from South Meridan, plays Tom, the eccentric roommate of Tolen and Colin. Tom's total involvement with art adds utter confusion and chaos to the group.

Wednesday Elections Include Five Referenda

A total of 19 elected positions and six questionnaires will be presented on Wednesday, November 8, as UConn's undergraduate population steps to the polls to vote in the Fall elections, Senator Pat Ruta, co-chairman of the Senate Elections Committee, announced.

Class officers, a Brancher Senator, and two Freshman Senators are to be elected. There are five questionnaires to be distributed to the general student body, dealing with the "New Morality", Vietnam, the Connecticut Daily Campus, the activities fee, and ASG scholarships. In addition, seniors are being asked to comment on graduation.

Commenting on the Vietnam referendum, Senator Bob Dombroff, the sponsor, said: "The purpose of the upcoming referendum dealing with Vietnam is to gauge the changing opinion of the UConn student on this issue. A previous referendum was held two years ago and the student body showed overwhelming support for President Johnson's policy. At that time a majority of the nation was also in favor of the government's stand. However, since two years past, the sentiment of the American public has changed in a significant enough proportion to make outdated the results of our first referendum. The purpose of a second referendum is to see if a similar attitude change has occurred among the UConn students. In this connection all students are urged to fill in the questionnaire presented to you at the ballot box Wednesday, November 8."

Ruta announced that ballot boxes will be located at the following locations: Beta Sigma Gamma, Kappa Psi, Hollister B, Towers 5A, French B, Delta Zeta, Sherman House, North Campus, the Student Union, Ryan Dining Hall, McMahon, Humanities, Shippee Hall, and Whitney Hall. Students may vote at any of the ballot boxes between 10 A.M. and 7 P.M., but branchers desiring to vote for Brancher Senator must vote at the Student Union. An I.D. card or a receipted fee bill is necessary to vote.

The University Women's League, Alpha Phi Omega, and Gamma Sigma Sigma will assist the Elections Committee at the ballot boxes.

Bloodmobile Quota 1,000 Pints; Donor Applications Being Accepted

A thousand pints of blood - enough to perform 45 open heart surgeries - is the goal of the Fall 1967 Bloodmobile. The Red Cross Unit will be on campus Nov. 15, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 16 at the ROTC Hanger.

Every six minutes, a pint of free blood is administered in Connecticut. Any blood given a Connecticut resident in another state is repaid by the Connecticut Blood Program. The only charge is an administrative fee for typing, transfusion, and associated services. Neighboring states require either monetary payment or blood donation at the rate of two or three pints for each pint used. Over 100,000 pints of blood were collected last year at a saving of 2 1/2 - 5 million dollars to the people of the state.

Encouraged by President Homer D. Babbidge, Jr., faculty response to recruitment is higher than in the past. Student recruitment is proceeding through the efforts of dormitory representatives. Students are encouraged to make appointments as soon as possible.

President Babbidge's Statement

This is to urge your support of one of Connecticut's greatest humanitarian projects -- the Connecticut Regional Blood Program.

Students (with faculty and staff) will again have the opportunity to give life-saving blood for the ill and the injured when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visits the campus Wednesday, Nov. 15, and Thursday, Nov. 16.

In the past the University family has always exceeded its goal, which in 1966 was 600 pints -- not a substantial volume in light of our growing numbers. This year's goal of 1,000 pints enlarges the opportunity for participation.

Achievement of this goal will add new strength to a blood bank in the service of all, including the University community.

Homer D. Babbidge, Jr.
President

Alumni Office Issues Statement On Dow Chemical Protests

"Moved that the Alumni Council go on record as supporting fully the policies and procedures outlined by Dr. Babbidge with regard to a free flow of ideas and people and particularly his belief that the University should permit interviews by all bonafide employers. And, that the Alumni Council lauds the President, the Provost and other University officials, as well as student body, Student Senate and the Faculty (Senate) for the moderate and judicious manner in which the recent demonstration involving the Dow Chemical Company was handled."

Office of Student Aid Offers Work-Study Jobs, Grants, Loans

"I need a job during the school year to help pay for some of my extra expenses," a coed told one of the Student Aid Office personnel.

"You've come to the right place. What kind of a job do you want?"

"An office job."
"Well, fill out this questionnaire and come back in a few minutes."

This is the typical beginning of interviews conducted by the Student Aid Office for students wanting a job during the school year. Most who want one can get one and all students needing a job because of financial need definitely will.

The Student Aid Office, during the 1966-1967 school year, handled either directly or indirectly 3.2 million dollars to help students pay for their college education. Of this total, $457,360 went towards Student Labor; while $441,828 was used for student work study programs -- almost a third of the total. These statistics were related by Peter V. Jodaitis, Director of Student Aid in a recent interview.

"Since the Student Labor Program or the Work Study Program can pay entirely for the student's education, their main purpose is to provide for week-end expenses such as meals and transportation.

The work-study program can provide enough work for 25 hours a week and pay ranges from $1.40 to $2.50 an hour for an on or off campus job. Work Study is designed especially for 3/4-time students who show a definite financial need.

The University Labor Program also starts at $1.40 and pays up to $2.50 an hour. The student labor program is unlike the work-study program because the student does not have to show a financial need to get the job. A student like the one in the interview will get a job on campus in a variety of capacities. The maximum hours of work are 25, but most students average from 8 to 10 hours a week.

In certain cases the student is paid from the grants that are established for his job by the department he is working for. If the student is working for a department that only has $400 allocated for his job when the grant is exhausted, the student's job is finished.

For any students are interested in working for any reason, the Student Aid office is in the Commons building. All applications for the work-study program should be in six weeks before the next semester begins. Others interested in Student Labor should fill out applications now.

Plans for Infirmary Expansion Include Construction of New Wing

Progress is finally being made towards the construction of a new wing for the Health Clinic. The new wing will contain seven doctor's offices, leaving the existing clinic to the nurses for health counseling and a processing area.

The cost of the wing has been approximated at 1/4 million dollars, and the addition will be built west of the old clinic. Constructed so that more floors can be added at a later date, the new wing will consist of a basement and a first floor.

The plans for the wing have just been reviewed and should be finalized and put up for bid within 90 days. Completion will then take about 12 months.

Our Election Day

Today is Election Day across the nation and there is, of course, considerable interest in the final results. But although there are several significant contests taking place today, we certainly don't want to neglect the big political picture which is being shaped right here at Storrs.

In case you may not have realized it (like so many people around here), tomorrow will be our own election day, and students -- some of them, that is -- will be going to the polls to make what some will call the most important decisions of the entire day. For resting in our hands is the power to determine who will be this year's class leaders, who will be our guiding hands -- in short, who will form the power elite.

But there are more questions to be settled tomorrow than simply who will wear the title of president, treasurer, etc. We will also be given the opportunity to answer such pressing questions as:

Do you think homosexuality is a criminal offense?

Do you think people who have had pre-marital intercourse are immoral?

Do you consider pre-marital sex to be immoral?

Would you be willing to publicly demonstrate for your beliefs? (I??) (We are not quite sure whether or not this is in strict reference to the previous question.)

As you can probably see, someone is out to stir up trouble on our normally serene New England campus. But fortunately this campaign extraordinaire will soon draw to a close and only the countless posters decorating our classrooms and residence halls will serve as reminders of bitter contests won and lost. . .

A Responsible White Community?

Editor:

I BELIEVE THAT WE (THE WHITE COMMUNITY) SHOULD AND MUST ACCEPT AN ACTIVE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE NEGRO SITUATION. We are aghast at the recent riots. We ask why are they asking so much of us. We ask why they can't be patient like they used to be. We ask why they can't respect our rights (not to sell a house to them). We ask why they can't respect law and order and property. WHY ARE WE ASKING THEM? WHY DON'T WE ASK OURSELVES? We should ask ourselves what we are doing, and what we have done to make them so utterly unhappy and defeated. What can we do to help? How can we help them want to learn, and to work? How can we help to right this wrong, and to heal the biggest wound in America? HAVE WE NO SENSE OF RESPONSIBILITY? HAVE WE NO COMPASSION?

First, let me say that I am against all forms of violence. I cannot say that the riots are right-- that kind of destruction never can be.

Second, however, most of the blame falls on us. I think that in this case we are the villains, and I for one, will admit it.

Third, I have the highest respect for people like Martin Luther King, Floy McKissick, Stokely Carmichael, H. Rapp Brown and many, many others for upholding the principles of non-violence for as long as they did (some still are). I doubt that even Ghandi could have. You ask why they have changed? Well, consider Mr. Carmichael for example. This advocate of Black Power was non-violently arrested over 50 times. He was in the first sit-ins. He has seen his friends (Black and White) beaten, mauled, and murdered for over 10 years, fighting for the rights guaranteed to all American citizens. HOW CAN WE BLAME HIM? The violence has come from US-- WE have fought their peaceful pleas with violence -- dogs, tear gas, billie clubs, fire hoses, cattle prods, and guns! HOW CAN WE ASK WHY THEY ARE VIOLENT? So now they are playing OUR game, and WE ask why. CAN'T YOU SEE WHY? LOOK AROUND YOU! IF WE KEEP THIS UP OUR COUNTRY WILL BE IN SHAMBLES.

Student Activities Fee Increase

Editor:

At the polls on Wednesday, there will be several referendums and questionnaires presented to the voters. One of the questionnaires has been prepared by the Senate Finance Committee and concerns an increase in the Student Activities Fee.

After extensive study of other state universities in the country, the Finance Committee has found that our Activities Fee is quite low in comparison. This fact in itself is certainly no justification for raising our Activities Fee. There are other valid reasons for an increase, however.

The Finance Committee is charged with the responsibility of disbursing funds to the various student organizations such as WHUS, Photopool and the Intertutorial Council. The Finance Committee also has the duty to subscribe to the CONNECTICUT DAILY CAMPUS for the whole student body. Many of the organizations which receive money from the Finance Committee could use more funds in order to purchase much-needed equipment and to sponsor more activities for the student body. Also, several organizations exist on campus which would like to receive funds, but are unable to do so because of the lack of available money.

The Finance Committee feels that an increase in the Student Activities Fee from $4 to $6 per student per semester would provide adequate additional funds so that all of the student organizations on campus who request money from the Student Senate would be able to do so, thereby improving their organizations and improving the University.

We feel that a $2 increase in the Activities Fee would greatly benefit the University, but we do not want to advocate such an increase unless the student body approves. This is the reason for the Finance Committee questionnaire. The members of the Finance Committee and of the Student Senate ask you to consider the question of an Activities Fee increase and to give us your opinion.

Thank you,
Bruce Brown
Student Senate Finance Com.

Arab-Israeli Problem Discussed

Editor:

Isn't it about time that we begin to approach the Arab-Israeli conflict with some degree of realism? Arguments to history by both Mr. Bosanquet for the Arabs and Mr. Eban for the Israelis have little bearing on the present situation. The Arabs can cite the fact that the Jews arrived only recently in modern history in the Middle East; the Jews can cite the Bible. Neither of these arguments proves anything. We must face the situation as it exists today.

Israel exists, and while there are rights and wrongs on both sides of the argument, the Arab countries must accept this fact. It is politically unfeasible for Arabs to think in terms of pushing the Israelis into the sea, or as you propose, for Israel to return to the 1948 borders. If the Arabs had won the war, and annihilated Israel, would you expect them to return to the status quo before the war, or, for that matter, before 1948? Isn't it about time the Arabs admitted Israel's existence? King Hussein's statements indicate that a break may be imminent in the situation; his position is to be applauded because he is a realist, and seems to be willing to recognize Israel as a nation.

I do not mean to imply that Israel's position is 100% correct; truth is found in shades of gray, not in black and white. How about being objective and considering both sides Mr. Bosanquet?

Sincerely,
Lauren Brock

And On McKissick

Editor:

I would like to inform both Mr. Constantine George and Mr. J. Cirie in mild terms that they are greatly mistaken. Constantine George said that Mr. McKissick never once mentioned education for the Negro (excuse me "Afro-American").

To straighten Constantine out Mr. McKissick stated how over the many years Afro-Americans have fought to go to school at any level. Each time he has tried to go to a decent school and receive a decent education, whites have tried every disgusting method possible to keep him down.

He specifically stated an instance whereupon his daughter's hair was stripped from the top of her head after having tried to enter school with the intentions of receiving equal education. If you don't feel this is fighting for education, Mr. George, you had better seek out and find for what fighting actually stands.

For the Afro-American it was not mandatory for Mr. McKissick to cite education as a necessity in his six points for any ignorant would realize that at least five of these points (Political Power, Economic Power, Law Enforcement, Leadership, and above all Self-Image) could not hope to be achieved without education. This is what we Blacks KNOW, Mr. George.

Now J. Cirie I don't know how many times you must hear it nor how many people must tell you, but in another effort I will try to "break-it-down" for you. It was NOT the Blacks who decided that violence breeds victory. It was your lily-white America. It was you who decided the only means of liberation was through war; you and your ancestors, not us. However we have learned and prospered from your teachings as you have noticed in Watts and Newark, etc. Peaceful talks got nothing for us but hostility and arrogance. The revolutions on the other hand received for us national awareness and increased governmental action.

Mr. Cirie, you tell me how much love you could build in your heart if you saw your women and children trampled, beaten, and treated worse than dogs. You try to close your eyes and forgive, then tell me it's possible. McKissick's hate is not carried over from his ancestors, it has valid foundation. Yet he is more a man than any white who hates for color alone. You see, his hate is working to help HIS people, not to destroy his oppressors. His is a nourishing hate. How many of your people can hate this way.

I'm asking you to answer your own question, "What will your violence build?" If you find this hard, Mr. Cirie, just look at your people's response to non-violence. Look at the way your people have bitten us with dogs, castrated our men, and raped our women and children. If there's nothing else, it will build respect and a better America for us.

Respectfully,
Chynthia L. Hill
Chairman- Afro-American History
Organization of Afro-American Students

Seniors !!!

On Wednesday, November 6th, you will not only vote for class officers, but you will also have the opportunity to make two important decisions concerning your graduation. A referendum has been drawn up by class council concerning two questions. The first -- do you want to graduate as a whole class in the stadium, or separately in different sections of the campus? The second -- what date do you prefer to graduate on? Sunday, June 2nd, or Monday, June 3rd? As members of the senior class and as candidates for office we urge you to vote and answer these questions so Class Council can plan graduation exercises.

World News Briefs

GARY, INDIANA

A three-judge federal court panel has ordered Indiana's Lake County election board to insure a fair election in Gary tomorrow. The panel ruled on suits filed by the Justice Department and by the democratic candidate for mayor -- negro Richard Hatcher. The panel ordered election officials to prevent ineligible persons from voting.

JOHNSON POPULARITY AT RECORD LOW

Two national polls agree President Johnson's popularity is at a record low. A poll by Louis Harris shows Johnson would lose to six possible republican opponents if he were to run against them now. And a new Gallup Poll says 50 per cent of those questioned do not approve of the way Johnson is handling his job. Thirty-eight per cent approve of his actions and the remainder state no opinion.

The Red Cross says it is organizing an airlift for white mercenaries and Katangan soldiers from the east Congo city of Bukavu. A spokesman says the Red Cross hopes to have four U.S. aircraft help in the airlift. But in Washington, state department news officer Robert McCloskey declines to discuss the Red Cross request for U.S. planes.

LEROI JONES SENTENCED TO 30 DAYS

Negro playwright-poet Leroy Jones and two other persons have been found guilty of illegally possessing weapons during rioting last July in Newark, New Jersey. The three were convicted by an all-white jury in Morristown, New Jersey. Jones was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for contempt of court.

RUSSIA PROPOSES SPY TRADE

An article in a national magazine "Saturday Evening Post" says Moscow has tried to arrange a trade with Washington that would free accused Russian spy Igor Ivanov, - a former chauffeur with the Soviet Trade Agency, Amtorg - as convicted for espionage in 1964. The story says Russia has offered to trade at least four Americans for Ivanov.

$20 MILLION FOR NATIONAL GALLERY

President Johnson has announced a gift of 20 million dollars from Paul Mellon and his sister, Mrs. Ailsa Mellon Bruce, to the National Gallery of Art. The money will be used to build an addition to the gallery. Andrew Mellon gave the original gift of funds for the gallery building. He also donated his art collection.

PUFF GOES THE GREEN GIANT

(Wichita Falls, Texas)--A jet-powered helicopter blew up today on the apron at Shepherd Air Force Base in Wichita Falls, Texas. One man was killed and five other injured. The copter was one of a type nicknamed 'The Jolly Green Giant'.

A witness said the helicopter exploded with a huge puff of smoke and a deafening roar. The cause of the blast is not yet known.

MURDER TRIAL JURY SELECTED

Selection of a jury was completed today for the trial of 30-year old Mrs. Dorothy Sheridan of Harwich, Massachusetts. Mrs. Sheridan is charged with manslaughter in the death of her five-year-old daughter, Lisa.

The state charges that the child died last March of a lung infection after the mother failed to provide medical care for her.

Mrs. Sheridan was indicted last April and in motions for dismissal of the indictment, Mrs. Sheridan filed an affidavit in which she claimed membership in the Christain Science faith.

The affidavit said since joining the faith in 1963 she had adhered to its precepts.

The defense contended the indictment sought to punish Mrs. Sheridan for conduct which was an essential element in the practice of her religion, and that it therefore violated her constitutional guarantee to religious freedom.

TWA JET CRASHES

There are no reports of fatalities in the flaming crash tonight of a Los Angeles-bound T.W.A. jet at the greater Cincinnati airport in Florence, Kentucky. Authorities say only a few persons among the 27 passengers and crew of seven were injured. The Boeing 707 jet was reported to have skidded over a hill shortly after take-off.

Five passengers have been taken to a hospital in Covington, Kentucky. But none are believed seriously hurt. A newsman at the scene reported the plane's right wing was almost torn off. Witnesses said only the front of the jetliner to be on fire.

727 U.S. PLANES LOST IN WAR TO DATE

A U.S. F-105 Thunderchief has been shot down over North Vietnam -- bringing the total of American planes downed over the north to 727. The plane was lost during an attack on the Gia Thuong military storage complex near Hanoi. It was the first attack on the target, which had been on the Pentagon's restricted list.

VIET NAM GROUND ACTION

Only one significant ground action is reported in South Vietnam. Units of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade and North Vietnamese Army regulars clashed in the central highlands about 300 miles north of Saigon. Sixteen U.S. troops were killed and 29 wounded.

BOMB NOT A THREAT

Defense department officials have told a congressional committee that an orbital nuclear bomb system reportedly being developed by Russia should not be considered a terror weapon. Deputy Defense Secretary Paul Nitze said the Soviet's present ballistic missiles could be more destructive than a nuclear weapon fired from orbit. Nitze and others testified before the military applications sub-committee of the Senate-House Committee on atomic energy.

Movie Review

To Sir With Love: Innocuous

"To Sir With Love" is an innocuous and rather dull film in which Sidney Poitier teaches a group of unteachable slum adolescents how to behave like nice middle class adolescents. Technically the film is sound and unimaginative in the best Hollywood tradition. There is, in fact, nothing really wrong with the picture at all except that it is a mediocre piece of entertainment.

Why Sidney Poitier continues to waste his considerable talent on movies like this is beyond me. The last real opportunity he had to show what he is capable of was RAISIN IN THE SUN. Since then he has not given a performance of much worth. LILLIES OF THE FIELD and A PATCH OF BLUE were both highly sentimental commercial ventures but not very good movies. IN THE HEAT OF THE NIGHT was an excellent film, of its kind, but Poitier had the misfortune to be playing opposite Rod Steiger, who walked away with the show. It is high time, it seems to me, that Poitier began to think about whether he wants to be an actor or a star. It is possible, but difficult, to be both and though Poitier has the potential, he seems to be throwing it away.

On the brighter side of things, there are some exciting movies coming to Storrs in the next week or two. The first is PRIVILEGE which, in spite of what the previews say, has gotten mixed reviews. It is directed by Peter Watkins, who suddenly made his reputation last year with THE WAR GAME. I have not seen either film but they will play back to back beginning next week and it will be interesting to see if they are worth all the furor they have caused.

D.A. Pennebaker's film about Bob Dylan will follow THE WAR GAME. It is called DON'T LOOK BACK and is one of the few glimpses that anyone has been permitted to catch of one of the few geniuses of rock and roll.

There is hardly a student in the country who will pay as much for his freshman year of college as he will for his senior year. Tuition, fees, room and board charges are rising so fast and so often that today's state university senior is paying about 15 percent more for his education this year than he did as a freshman in 1964.

The United Student Association (USA) endeavors to propagate and unify student government. In the promotion of U of C politics, the USA acts as a sponsor for interested and qualified candidates who, upon election to office, voice student opinion in many areas of campus life.

As the sponsor, thus the initiator of student leadership, the USA plays a significant and influential role in the college life of all attending the University. It is this important addition to such a society, providing certain perspectives, which aids the development of a balanced education. As such an aid, the United Student Association is dedicated to the equilibrium of the entire student community.

Skull for Class President

I have a friend (come now, it's not that surprising) who is a little out of the ordinary. (That isn't surprising up here either.) But he's not one of the fine arts menagerie, or a SDS-er, or an "outing clubber" by any means. He is merely a skull. That's right, a skull. He communicates with me through mental telepathy, which is often quite frustrating when I am attempting to study. By the way, his name is Brooklyn.

So what? Well, he has decided to run for president of the Class of '70. I was really quite shocked since he holds such a low opinion of politicians and student status-seekers. But, nevertheless, he is quite determined to throw his hat in the ring.

"Are you supported by one of the grand old UConn parties?" I asked him mentally.

"No, unless you count last week's beer blast," he answered (mentally).

"Then you are running independently?"

"Yes, in a way. I need someone to carry my head of course."

"Of course. What do you hope to accomplish?"

"I'm glad you thought of that. If elected, I intend to move all sophomores off campus. I will start a campus bootlegging service and distribute the profits equally among my subjects."

"Voters?"
"Yes, I mean voters. Freudian slip."

Swiss Scientist To Lecture

Dr. Vlado Prelog, one of Switzerland's leading scientists, will discuss "Chemical Topology" in a public lecture tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the Life Science lecture hall.

His lecture, aimed at the non-scientist as well as the scientist, will explore the limitations of the concept of asymmetric atom, the basis of classical stereochemistry.

Sponsored by the local chapter of Sigma Xi, the lecture is held each year in cooperation with the national office of the Society of Scientific Research Society of America.

A native of Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, Dr. Prelog has had an unusual career and has lectured throughout the United States and Europe, receiving numerous honors and prizes from many of the world's scientific societies and institutions.

Four-fifths of the nation's state colleges and universities have raised tuition, fees, room and/or board rates this year.

"That would certainly cut in to the Frat's business, wouldn't it?"

"Definitely. Next, the blue bikes will have to go, and a subway will be installed (with class money, of course) providing transportation all over campus."

"Sounds interesting. When do you think that will be finished and ready for use?"

"Well, since maintenance will have to do it, and it will have to pass through the Senate, I would roughly estimate that when the class of '80 graduates."

"I see," I mumbled as I counted my pennies.

"Parietal hours will be a thing of the past with my class, because we will be off campus."

"How true."

"Yes, yes, of course. Next the SDS will replace the ASG at the HUB thereby eliminating AWS, and oh yes, there will be no need for IPC, Young Republicans, OC, USA, or ISO parties, or BCG. Also, the weekend dances and parties will be replaced by daily protests and vigils (silent or otherwise) from Vietnam to the secession of UConn from the United States. Of course, you see the advantages of the SDS ruling supreme, for then no one will have to think on this campus, and they can make all the decisions. Certainly, Homer can make suggestions if he wants to, but nothing radical."

"Everything does fit in nicely doesn't it? Say, what about the CDC?"

"Oh, we won't need that anymore. I will personally make sure that the "Daily Worker" (for enlightenment), the "Hartford Courant" (for laughs) and the "Enquirer" (for news) be delivered to each room, along with a 250 pound, muscle bound SDS-er to make sure you read them."

"Delightful! By the way, do you think you will be elected?"

"Not unless everyone on this campus is out of his mind."

"I guess your chances are good then."

"I guess so."

So, UConn students everywhere - if you don't give a damn about experience or a brain (Brooklyn's comes out at will), then he's your man. uh, skull. Remember this: he will never say a word -- so what else is new?

OAAS Lecture Postponed

The lecture by Roy Innis of New York's Harlem CORE that was scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 7 at 8 p.m. by the Organization of Afro-American Students has been postponed and rescheduled for Nov. 14 at 8 p.m. This lecture will be held in Vonder Mehden Hall.

The topic for that night will be, "Black Power and Racial Co-existence in America."

Innis is a fiery young man whom "Esquire" magazine in a recent issue thought of as a man on the move - one of the country's local hot shots.

If you want to hear some significant facts about where the "civil rights" movement is headed, and don't mind hearing the plain truth about what's been going on in America to deprecate and degrade the black man - stop by next Tuesday, Nov. 14 at 8 p.m. in Von der Mehden Hall; America still has time.

Intellectual Extremism

This coming year will see bloodshed between pacifists and supporters of the American Government's Vietnam policy, between Militant Negroes and whites, and between virtually all other opposing interest groups in America UNLESS--

Unless they stop convincing themselves of their own infallibility and show a willingness to compromise. Quite obvious today is a tendency among disputing parties to consider their respective points of view the only correct ones and to tune out any ideas that do not adhere to their concepts of universal truth (such attitudes are the stuff that makes today's overzealous idealists into tomorrow's fanatics). When one considers the number of subjects for dispute that exist within our society, he can begin to comprehend the magnitude of the problem.

We call ours a civilized society. Supposedly, we should be able to settle our differences over a conference table with the power of logic instead of resorting to street brawls as the ultimate source of mediation. But somewhere along the line, quite a few people have failed to get the message. We seem to be able to reason together only as long as agreement prevails; as soon as we disagree, we immediately resort to the riot or sit-in to impose our views by force and coercion. Can anyone honestly say that his point of view is so perfect that it cannot be changed in the light of constructive criticism? I do not feel that my ideas cannot be changed. All I ask is that you be equally liberal in giving due consideration to my ideas as I to yours. All I ask is that the Dow demonstrators not be so adamant in their beliefs that they try to force them on me as history's well-meaning but overbearing religious crusaders tried to force their beliefs on primitive races. Most people do not consider themselves primitive, nor do they appreciate being dictated to by a small group of intellectual missionaries, regardless of their philosophical persuasion. I suggest that these modern intellectual missionaries become more moderate in expressing their views and in giving due consideration to the views of others before they find themselves in somebody's pot.

Reflections

The Class Elections will be the big thing on campus, at least for tomorrow. It's a weird scene, a couple of thousand people blandly and blindly marking computer cards that decide the destinies of people they don't even know. This election seems to lack the excitement of the Spring Senate Election, probably because the antiquated class government system actually affects student life very little. But still the people run, and the students vote, and so the election will be the big thing on campus tomorrow.

There are some interesting factors in this election however. The old distinction between the USA and ISO parties has vanished: John Knoll is the only guy I can think of who's running for anything who isn't a Greek (except the Frosh). It's a little different with the girls, but not much - they don't get nominated without fraternity support. . . The USA, in its comeback bid, has tried to go back to its old winning ways: pretty girls who don't know much, by their own admission, but "would like a chance to do something." Dave Schneider, a possible exception to this policy, is the USA candidate for Senior Treasurer, and has stressed in his campaign that he is a finance major running against two English majors. The English majors remind me of a Chancellor of the Exchequer when the British Empire was at its height: he referred to decimal points in the budget as "those damned dots." However, Schneider's ISO opponent Jim Paley has had considerable experience in the Class Council and has earned the reputation of a worker. . . In the final analysis, it is obviously a STUDENT election: a complaint has been brought against Larry Weiner for personally tearing down his opponent's posters. Larry told me last week that the same thing was happening to his posters. Go to it guys. . .

Life goes on regardless. . . A psych major explained his attitude toward an exam to me this way: "I don't understand it, but that's okay because it's an objective test and I don't have to understand it."

Another real issue is the peace movement and campus recruiters. . . Those who object to the demonstrations as being an oppressive move by a small minority demand that the Connecticut Resistance Movement justify itself. Perhaps a quote from Wendell Phillips is relevant: "One on God's side is a majority."

Meanwhile, trivia collectors, run out and get your copy of the Student Senate resolution on the demonstration. . .

"Comes of Age - 1967"

Storrs, Conn. -- Air Force ROTC came of age this year as it celebrated its 21st anniversary of preparing college students to become career Air Force officers. Established on July 27, 1946, as a prime commissioning source of Air Force officers, the program went into effect in September of that year in 78 colleges and universities across the United States.

Initially intended to prepare officers for the reserve forces, as its name implies, Air Force ROTC today is one of the Air Force's major sources of career officers. By July 1967 more than 118,000 officers will have been commissioned through the Air Force ROTC programs. The number of host institutions has grown from 78 to over 170 in its 21-year history.

In 1952 the program was assigned to the Air University at Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama, and at that time the current four-year course of study was adopted. In 1964 the ROTC Vitalization Act was passed giving new life to the program and extending the program by authorizing a Junior ROTC program to be offered in high schools. By September 1967 the Air Force Junior ROTC program will have expanded from 20 to 65 high schools. The Act also provided for the new two-year program that allows transfer and graduate students, as well as junior year undergraduate students, to participate in the program.

An integral part of Air Force ROTC training is the preparation of qualified college students for pilot and navigator training. Out of the 5,896 second lieutenants commissioned through the AF-ROTC program this year, 1,914 will be entering pilot training, while 323 will be going on to navigator training. To better prepare these new fliers Air Force ROTC has a Flight Instruction Program (FIP), authorized by Congress in August, 1956, designed to give these students experience in small aircraft operation as well as a private pilot's license. Since its implementation in the Fall of 1957, 14,861 cadets have graduated from this program.

Twenty-one years of growth of Air Force ROTC have brought its academic acceptance by institutions of higher learning on par with other intellectually challenging courses. Today, commanded by Brig. Gen. Donald F. Blake, the Air Force ROTC program is providing the nation with active professional officers with special competencies in nearly every field. This program will continue to provide a substantial portion of the leadership of the Air Force as educated and trained officers are commissioned each year.

AFROTC

Air Force ROTC began here at the University in July, 1949, as an extension of the Army program, then called the Division of Military Science and Tactics. During the period of 1947-1949 the Air Training program was under the direction of this Army Division. Since 1949 over 800 Air Force Second Lieutenants have been commissioned at Connecticut.

The current enrollment in the Detachment exceeds 200 with 60 in the advanced course. The Detachment is headed by Lt. Col. John W. Rapp and is staffed by three additional officers and three NCO's.

The program offers each cadet a reserve Air Force commission upon graduation and includes a monthly fifty dollar stipend during the two year advanced course. Air Force scholarships are available to qualified cadets. Academic courses offering University credits towards graduation are presented in addition to a Flight Instruction Program offered to those cadets wishing to enter pilot training.

Extra-curricular ROTC activities include the annual Military Ball, an annual dining-in at an Air Force Base, orientation flights to selected Air Force installations, and periodic athletic activities. Also available to Air Force cadets are the Arnold Air Society, an honorary cadet fraternity, and the Pershing Rifles, a combined Army-Air Force organization.

The women's affiliate with the Air Force ROTC is the Angel Flight.

Soccer is a game which requires nimble feet and apparently hard fists, as well.

That's the way it looked over the weekend as brawls broke out in Europe and South America, involving players, fans and officials.

The World Soccer Federation is asking for an inquiry into the world club title game in Montevideo. Five players, three from the Celtic Club of Scotland and two from Argentina's racing club, were sent off the field. Helmeted police had to break up brawls between the teams.

Hungarian referee Josef Gere was sent to a hospital in Vienna after being hit by a bottle thrown by a spectator. That was in a game between Austria and Greece. Gere ran off the field as fans and police slugged it out.

Manager Jimmy Scouler of the Cardiff City team in England said he was punched in the face by a fan after a match.

A Liverpool fan got a month in jail for hitting a cop at a game there.

Boyd Out

The veteran defensive back for the Baltimore Colts, Bob Boyd, will be unable to play for three or four weeks because of a shoulder separation. Boyd was injured in the first quarter of Sunday's game between the Colts and the Green Bay Packers, which Baltimore won, 13 to 10.

Boyd is the fourth Baltimore defensive halfback to be sidelined this year because of injuries. Alvin Haymond, George Harold and Jim Welch all have been out with injuries at various times this fall.

DeVicenzo Out

The British open champion, Roberto De Vicenzo of Argentina, has withdrawn from the World Cup Golf Tournament in Mexico City, beginning on Thursday. He has been replaced by Fidel De Luca who will team up with Florentine Molina as the Argentina entry.

DeVicenzo said he was too tired to compete. He teamed up with Antonio Cerda to win the event in 1953, the first time it was held. In all 37 nations will be represented with Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus representing the United States.

Boston, Mills Competing

The N.A.I.A. announced today that olympic champions Ralph Boston and Billy Mills will compete in the open division in the N.A.I.A. indoor track meet in Kansas City on January 19th and 20th.

Boston will compete in his speciality, the long jump, and Mills will run in the two mile.

Boozier Under Knife

The leading scorer of the American Football League, Emerson Boozier of the New York Jets, underwent surgery Monday on his right knee in New York. He will be out for the rest of the season. Boozier scored 13 touchdowns this year. He was injured Sunday in Kansas City in a game with the Chiefs.

seemed to be a part of UConn's offensive arsenal in scoring from various angles and distances.

UConn's next goal was no exception.

Captain Al Cowles lofted a high, 30 yard boot toward the New Hampshire goal. It seemed of little consequence until the visiting goalie apparently misjudged the ball and it dropped in the net behind him, untouched.

"It was the first goal I've scored in my whole life," said Cowles smiling. From his half-back position he rarely gets a chance to shoot at the goal, being so far out.

UConn scored for the last time with 3 seconds remaining in the 3rd period. A desperation kick off the foot of Ed Gain got past the New Hampshire goalie climaxing UConn's biggest offensive spurge of the year.

Coach John Squires substituted freely in the last period as all but one man saw action.

"I'm afraid this was not enough of a test for our game with Brown this Wednesday," said Squires.

Brown, last year's New England League champions and Ivy League champs and are currently riding atop an undefeated season.

"We can score against Brown, I hope it's one of our better games."

The Winner of the two Fraternity Intramural Softball Leagues are Theta Xi (above) and Tau Kappa Epsilon (below). They will play soon for the Fraternity Championship.

The SHAKE-A-PUDD'N Revolution!

WHAT IS ITS SIGNIFICANCE?

Beverly Basic,
Dept. of Anthropology
Archetypical.

The ritual of the Midnight Pudding Snack is well established in primitive societies. Since Shake-A Pudd'n does not require refrigeration, it lends itself to use in dormitories (surely one of the most primitive societies), thereby fulfilling this basic, instinctual human drive at the precise moment it arises.

Harry Holesome,
Dept. of Health Education
The American Dream come true.

Shake-A Pudd'n combines healthful nutrition, bracing exercise and, above all, Good Clean Fun. An essential part of the Physical Fitness Program.

Sylvia Cimbill,
Dept. of Psychology
Truly Freudian.

Powder and water are mixed in a cup, an obviously mammalian formation, seen on a deeper level as "Mother." One shakes the cup, in a desperate but futile attempt to shake off the inhibiting Superego and free the primitive Id.

Michael Media,
Dept. of Sociology
A true product of the Electric Age.

Shake-A Pudd'n has transformed a fragmented, time-consuming, mechanical task into an almost instantaneous, totally involving experience. Definitely "cool." Although equally good at room temperature.

Francine Factor,
Dept. of History
Of tremendous historical significance.

Had Shake-A Pudd'n been discovered in the 18th Century, the French Revolution would probably never have taken place when it did. Marie Antoinette's famous remark, "Let 'em eat cake," would no doubt have been transformed to "Let 'em eat pudd'n," thereby appeasing the masses for at least another century.

Huskies Trounce Wildcats In Free-Scoring Game

Against an outclassed opponent, the UConn Soccer team drubbed New Hampshire 6 to 0. In a home meet on Parent's Day, UConn broke a two game losing streak in boosting their overall record to 5 wins and 4 losses and evening their Yankee Conference record at 2 and 2. New Hampshire fell to 4 and 8 overall.

The game started out looking anything but a one-sided affair. Play was uncoordinated and uninspired.

Then midway through the first period, Gary Schwarting initiated a fast break with a long lead pass to Matt Kupinski who set up Jack Wright for UConn's first goal.

UConn maintained their offensive domination in the second period with two goals.

John Sahnas, a late starter in the game, tapped in a short, bouncing shot at 3:10.

A couple of minutes later a limping Ferrington Langa was replaced by Ben Blinford. Ben celebrated his return to the lineup by firing in UConn's 3rd goal.

Hustling Pat Mandowa made the play possible by setting up Jack Wright who assisted Blinford on the goal.

This completed the scoring for the first half, giving UConn a decided advantage owing to a punchy offensive attack and a stingy defense led by netminder Don Smith.

The second half started with a bang as John Sahnas booted in an 18 yard goal that bounced before the goalie and eluded the outstretched arm of the goalie.

The unassisted goal, the second by Sahnas, came at 0:15 of the 3rd period.

UConn's offensive attack continued. Weird bounces and inexplicable twists of the ball

Hassell Wins

Bill Hassell of Sherman House was the winner of the Independent Intramural Decathlon. Hassell, along with Glenn Parelou who finished second and also of Sherman House, enabled Sherman House to win the team championship. Although Hassell did not place first in any individual event, he placed second in three events and third in four events out of a possible ten.

George Calkins of Massachusetts House was third in the individual competition.
