Polls Open At Noon For Today's Class Balloting

48 Seeking Posts In Class Election

The following candidates are seeking election as officers and members of their respective executive boards in the class elections being held today.

ISO Senior Candidates

ISO senior class candidates are as follows: President, Richard Cronin; Vice President, George Rangazas; Secretary, Phyllis Mancini, and Treasurer, Paul McMahon. John Davis and James McGuire are candidates for the Executive committee.

Junior class USA candidates are President, Stanley Fried; Vice President, Wendell Ellis; Secretary, Joy Genovese; and Treasurer, John Luther.

Opposing them on the ISO ticket are Sanford (Sandy) Litvak for president, Patricia Tyska for vice president, Patricia Dube for secretary and Irving Hammissen for treasurer.

USA Junior Candidates

Junior class Executive committee candidates on the USA ticket are: Mercedes Perera, Virginia (Ginger) Gennari, Elliot Bohrer, Richard (Dick) Brescia and George Gross.

Their ISO opponents are: Joseph Adams, Allan Rievman, Aud- (Cont. Page 6 Col. 8)

Experts Will Demonstrate Latest Hair Styles Tonight

Latest trends in hair styling will be demonstrated tonight at 8 in the HUB ballroom when Mr. Albert of Albert's beauty studio, Shoppers' Plaza, South Campus, will present a hair demonstration and lecture. In addition to Mr. Albert, the show will also feature hair experts from Ralph and Paul's beauty salon in West Hartford.

A graduate of Miss Ingrid's School of Hair Design New York City, and the American Institute of Hairdressing, Hartford, Mr. Albert worked for many years in Sage-Allen's, Hartford. He came to Uconn in March of 1950 and set up business in a studio over Fred's restaurant. He moved to his present location in the Storrs shopping center in September, 1950.

The beauticians will use two Uconn women and one professional Hartford model in the demonstration. Mrs. Mary Davis, residence counselor of Unit E-1A, will have her hair styled by Mr. Albert, who has taken care of her coiffure for close to five years. Miss Barbara Mossey, Delta Zeta, sub-chairman of the HUB Hospitality committee, and chairman of the event, will have her hair cut by Mr. Paul. The name of the professional model has not yet been released.

Special Vespers Will Be Tonight

A special vespers service honoring the University Christian association members will be held tonight at 7, in the Storrs Congregational church and will be led by the Reverend William Kelly, assistant minister of the church, and George Lindeberg, membership chairman of UCA. The purpose of the service is to restate the ideals of the association for the new members of the group.

Vespers are held at the church every Wednesday night at 7 and all students are invited to attend. Each week, a minister or student of a different protestant denomination officiates.

Procedure Outlined For Class Elections Today

by Marilyn Miller

The winners of this year's class elections among the USA and ISO party will be resolved today when students go to the polls to vote for class officers and executive board members.

Voting spots located at various dormitories on campus and in the HUB will open at noon and will remain open until 7 tonight.

Last Rally Slated For Friday Night

Coach Bob Ingalls and captain Bonnie Amendola will be the guest speakers at the third and final pep rally this season. The rally will be held in the Field House Friday at 7 p. m.

Featured in the program will be the judging of the banners and slogans sponsored by the individual living units. The results of the judging will be added to the results of the first two rallies and the final winner will be announced.

Judging the banners and costumes will be Dr. Stanly Wedberg, head of the bacteriology department, Mr. Kenneth Herrick, instructor in the school of business, and Mrs. Cynthia Snow, assistant professor in Art.

Audrey Delaney, co-chairman of the event has emphasized that all entries must have the name of the living unit somewhere on the banner. She explained that without the identification the judges would not be able to distinguish the units.

The field house program will also include selections by the football marching band and the cheerleaders. James McGuire, Fairfield hall, will be chairman of the field house part of the program.

Donald Jepsen, Theta Chi, chairman of the Student Senate Elections committee, has outlined the voting procedure students will follow when voting. Each student will present his ID card or paid fee bill to the Alpha Gamma Chi or Alpha Phi Omega poll worker who will be on duty. The poll worker will find the house list on which the student is registered and the student will then sign his name above the name typed on the house list. The poll worker will check the registrar's directory for the student's semester standing, after which he will be given the ballot of the class in which he is registered.

Jepsen further added that "if a disagreement arises concerning the student's semester standing, the poll worker will check with the Senate Elections committee."

Fraternity Polls

In the fraternity quadrangle students will vote at Delta Chi and Theta Chi. The following houses will vote at Delta Chi: Beta Epsilon Rho, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Iota Nu Delta, Delta Chi, Lambda Chi Alpha, Beta Sigma Gamma and Phi Sigma Delta.

Houses that will vote at Theta Chi include the following: Eta Lambda Sigma, Theta Chi, Delta Chi Delta, Theta Sigma Chi, Phi Epsilon Pi, Theta Xi, Alpha Sigma Phi, Tau Epsilon Phi and Sigma Chi.

North Campus residents of the following dormitories will vote at Hartford hall, Hartford, New London, Windham, Middlesex, Hur- (Cont'd. p. 6, Col. 1)

Rangazas Denies Assertions That He 'Hurt' Fraternities

by Edward Frede

George Rangazas, senior class vice presidential candidate on the ISO ticket, has denied charges that he was "hurting the fraternity system" by running on the ISO ticket.

Candidate Rangazas, a brother of Sigma Chi Alpha fraternity, flatly denied that "he hasn't hurt, doesn't want to hurt, and will not hurt" the fraternity system. In an interview with the Daily Campus Sunday night, Rangazas asserted that "all this talk of 'breaking Greek unity' hurts student government on campus."

He quickly added at this point that he was not opposed to unity per se, but "opposed to it when it is brought into politics."

In elaborating his point of view, Rangazas made these specific points:

1. Being a member of the Interfraternity council and serving as Rush chairman, "many thought I had betrayed the U.S.A." He asserted that there are "no political ties between the IFC and USA party." What it (IFC) does, the candidate pointed out, is to give "positive help" to the fraternities in rushing, scholastic and social matters.

2. Believing that Richard Cronin, presidential candidate, "could help the class as much if not more than" his opponents, Rangazas said he was running on the ISO ticket.

3. "I can't see why my freedom should be restricted in running from mere fact of being a fraternity man."

4. "Campaigns have been carried on by making two political parties the main issue." Rangazas firmly asserted that "candidates, not parties, should be the issue."

5. "According to my principles, candidates should run to represent the whole class," the vice presidential candidate stated in closing.

Mother Of Campus Editor Succumbs In Auto Accident

Funeral services for Mrs. Dale Twombly, mother of Wells Twombly, Connecticut Daily Campus sports editor, were held yesterday at 2:30 in the First Congregational church of New Hartford.

Mrs. Twombly was killed instantly late Saturday night in Canton when the car in which she was a passenger left the road and crashed into a utility pole.

She was the widow of Albert F. Twombly, who died in 1953, and leaves two other sons, Frederick, 14, and Percy, 12, in addition to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wells, who made their home with her.

Courant Correspondent

Mrs. Twombly served as the New Hartford correspondent for the Hartford Courant for several years. She was currently employed at the Hurlbut branch of the Connecticut Bank and Trust company in Winsted.

A large group of Daily Campus staff members and brothers of Delta Chi fraternity, of which Twombly is a member, paid their respects to the family during visiting hours Monday night at the Shea funeral parlors in New Hartford.

Sympathies Expressed

"On behalf of the entire staff of the Connecticut Daily Campus, I would like to express my deepest sympathies to Wells Twombly on the tragic death of his mother," William Ratchford, editor-in-chief said.

"We offer to him any and all possible support during this time," he said and added that, "I only hope we can be of some assistance to him and his two younger brothers."

Twombly is expected to return to school next week and resume his studies.

Qualified Voters Decide Elections

Campaigning for the various class offices concluded late yesterday afternoon with a new innovation, a political debate between the presidential candidates of the respective classes. What started as a slow moving, uneventful campaign with apparent disinterest on the part of the candidates exploded in the past week into a dynamic, but in most cases sincere political fracas. Most nominated candidates worked vehemently to present themselves and their platforms to the voting public.

The campaign is now entirely out of the hands of the campaigners. They have done their part. The outcome now rests solely with the potential voters. The question now remains, voters, what will you do with your democratic privilege? It will be easy to sit back and criticize and complain if your selection doesn't win. This is your prerogative. This is your prerogative, indeed, provided you have exercised your voting privileges.

Persons who do not take the time or the effort to study the candidates, and then vote accordingly, are all too numerous on the national scene. These non voters are often the biggest political moaners, too. The University of Connecticut is an excellent training ground for the voters present and future, of America. Learn and uphold the democratic tradition, Uconnites. Get out and vote today, each and every one of you. Then, if the elected don't perform up to your expectations you have a right to criticize. You will be the electorate who chose them.

Pivnick Urges Students To Mend Greek-Independent Split

To the editor:

It was a scant five years ago that the political campaigns were characterized by such slogans as: "Fraternity men; vote for OUR way of life, Vote USA", and "Independents: The fraternities don't give a damn about you, Vote ISO". This type of campaign had its effect: it got votes and at the same time split Uconn in two almost fanatic camps: Greeks vs. Independents.

All this was five years ago, and the people who made these rather innane statements have long since left the University. But it wasn't two weeks ago that I heard one person saying to another, "I'd like to vote for him, but he's ISO and I'm pledging."

Lincoln said 'A house divided against itself cannot stand', and that is just as true of a student body as a house. And it is even more true when you think in terms of classes. How can you have a united, co-operating, functioning class when it is split, Greek vs. Independent?

As Dick Cronin pointed out, a split between Independents and Greeks is a fiction. They are about equal in number on campus; they go to the same classes together; they work together all the time in peace and harmony. Why is it impossible to have co-operation within the class?

The ISO has tried to get rid of this ridiculous division between Greeks and Independents by throwing nominations open to ALL, yet we are thwarted by the very people who would benefit most by a removal of the split: the student body.

As long as the students insist upon voting for candidates according to geographical location rather than qualification, class elections are a complete and useless farce. And if the continuation of the split is apparent in the results of Wednesday's election, then I, for one, will do everything in my power to remove student senate support of class elections and class officers.

Yours truly,

Ronald Pivnick

Beta Sigma Gamma has been quite active during the past few weeks. In honor of the brothers, the Xi pledge class recently gave a very successful coffee. Guests were present from Alpha Epsilon Phi, Phi Mu and the Spanish house. A Halloween costume party was also held at the chapter house with a large crowd entering into the spirit of the occasion.

The brothers of Theta Chi were recently guests of the sisters of Kappa Alpha Theta at a coffee given at Theta. The coffee was, in effect, a belated celebration of Theta and Theta Chi's victory at the annual Community Chest Carnival parade last semester.

Another pinning is that of Jean Gellathy, Unit 2-C to Charlie Cari, Sigma Chi Alpha.

Hyman Shepatin and Gerald Blodinger, both brothers of Tau Epsilon Phi, have been appointed Central Treasurer and Assistant Central Treasurer of the Associated Student Government respectively by the Student Senate.

TKE Birthday Party

The TKE chapter house was the scene of a birthday party on Oct. 29. Delta Gamma has been a chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon for three years and the brothers and their dates celebrated in accordance with this anniversary. The party was preceded by a coffee for all the dads of TKE.

Alpha Zeta Omega has also been holding parties and has as new pledges: Ron Jackowitz, Stan Levine, Jerry Koblin, Jerry Gilson, Al Viner and Gerry Grant.

Other new pledges of AZO are: Irving Kurtzman, Mark Shipman, Al Zeligman, Bill Kellner, Bill Wolf and Al Krasnow.

Recent guests at Beta Sig have included Mr. Kenneth G. Wilson, instructor of English, who spoke to the brothers on some aspects of the English language following dinner on Oct. 25, and Kenneth Post and John York, the two Cambridge debaters, who lunched at the house on Oct. 27.

Roy Johnson, '58, was recently pledged to Theta Chi.

On Oct. 25, Mr. and Mrs. John Gleason were dinner guests at Sigma Chi Alpha. Mr. Gleason is Director of Communications at the University.

Dr. Wood To Talk To Sociology Club

"Job opportunities in Criminology" will be discussed by Dr. Arthur Wood at the third meeting of the Sociology club tonight at 8 in HUB 202. An associate professor in the sociology department, Dr. Wood specializes in criminology.

Officers of the club include Lucy Schreiber, president, Ann Budwitz, vice-president, Dette Doe, secretary, Betty Kilmer, corresponding secretary and Clem Hitchcock, treasurer. Dr. Bernard Rosen an instructor in the sociology department is the club's advisor.

This year members plan to go on field trips to observe workers in the field of sociology. Trips to crippled children's clinics, reformatories, prisons and child welfare agencies are tentatively planned.

Niagara, Syracuse Round Out Tough Uconn Basketball Slate

by Mike Tobin, Staff Writer

When Coach Hugh Greer's varsity basketball team takes the floor against American International College two weeks from tonight for the opener of a 25-game schedule, his predominantly senior-sophomore quintet will be embarking on the toughest schedule in the history of the hoop sport here at Uconn.

The blue and white will be playing practically the same teams as last year, with the addition of Niagara and Syracuse, two of the top teams in the East.

According to Coach Greer, most of the teams on this year's slate have been strengthened by some sparkling sophomores as many of these schools had outstanding freshman teams during the 1954-55 season.

Twenty-One Different Teams

Following is a brief run-down of what to expect from the 21 different clubs that the Huskies will face during the regular season:

A.I.C. - Veteran club which has been playing as a unit for three years now. Return of big Richie Kross will help.

New Hampshire - Aided by several sophs from last year's outstanding freshman team and return of ex-GI Bob Gordon.

Yale - Three outstanding performers in veteran Ed Robinson along with newcomers Johnny Lee and 6'10" center Gerry Glynn.

St. Joseph (Pa.) - Veteran ball club with several giants. One of the "real tough" teams scheduled.

Manhattan - Lost sparkplug Jimmy Lake but will again be strong with return of little Johnny O'Connor and Don Paulson.

N.Y.U. - The Violets will be helped by several key sophomores along with veteran sharpshooter Tierney.

Don Burns

Christmas Tourney - Stronger this year with all-veteran UMass and Colby quintets along with a much-improved Harvard five.

Play Holy Cross Twice

Holy Cross - This is always the big one as far as Husky followers are concerned. This year the locals will have two cracks at All-American Tom Heinsohn who will be aided by graduates of last year's outstanding freshmen. The Crusaders are again one of the top hardcourt quintets in the East.

Boston College - Weak last year but may be strengthened by several good rookies.

Rhode Island - Stenhouse and Hellwig have graduated but our arch-rival Kingston neighbors are seeking to beat Connecticut for the first time in four years.

Syracuse - Paced by all-star football player Jimmy Brown, the Orange will feature a 6'9" center for the Greemen to cope with.

Colgate - Always a top basketball school. Much help expected from last year's undefeated freshman team.

Fordham - Also had undefeated frosh five last year. Haynes, Cunningham, and 6'8" center McCadney will try to fill All-American Ed Conlin's sneakers.

Niagara - Perennial Eastern powerhouse. Have lost four of five starters from last year's N.I.T. club.

Maine - Counting on several sophs.

Rutgers - Weak, few veterans.

Northeastern - Completely outclassed last year; little improvement seen.

Massachusetts - Veteran team, lack height.

"C" Notes

Forecast For Huskies May Prove Way Off

by Bill England, Ass't. SPORTS EDITOR

The word that Connecticut's varsity basketball is suppose to be the weakest in years certainly has spread around the state. Two sports writers have already indicated in their respective columns that Uconn hasn't much chance of winning more than 15 games, while another has noted that "American International College will be stronger than most people realize," and the small Springfield, Mass. power "will be in a good condition to knock off the Huskies in their opener in Storrs Dec. 1."

This is certainly a new role for Coach Hugh Greer, who has never had a losing season at Connecticut, and for that matter, anywhere he has ever coached. Even Greer has labeled this season as "a building year," and Uconn students, used to having annual winners, find themselves in an unusual situation. However, quite a few people may be in for a great surprise through the months of December, January, February and March.

Sophs Will Help...

Most hard court fans have forgotten that Connecticut had a pretty fair frosh hoop club last season, and even more important, most have forgotten that Uconn had several ballplayers who may really add some punch to this season's club. In the words of quite a few coaches who watched the Husky Pups in action last year, "Paul Kaspar has more potential than Art Quimby had as a freshman." Kaspar, a 6-4 soph who has shown plenty of speed, spring and rebounding ability in practice, should add some height to the Husky squad, while another second-year man, Billy O'Leary, has proved to be pretty tough under the boards. The latter, a 6-5 giant who has improved his speed, looks natural working around the key, and his shots from both sides of the hoop have hit with high consistency.

If these two sharp-shooting sophomores can jell to full potential, Coach Greer may be in a much better position than most sports writers place him. If Greer has any horses at all, he'll do the most possible with them. And the ballplayers Greer has aren't bad at all, considering most of them had their share in leading Connecticut to a 20-5 record last season.

Kiernan May Surprise...

Ron Bushwell, co-captain and sparkplug of the club, has looked as sharp as ever in pre-season practice sessions. He's already found his shooting eye and he has displayed pin-point accuracy on his passes. Co-captain Gordon Ruddy has looked excellent under the boards, while pepper pot Bob Dube, who was saved by Greer last year for exactly the time when Uconn went into its press defense, has been breaking up plays all over the court in practice. Marco Malone (6-8), Bob Osborne, and Donny Burns are improving steadily, while Red Quinn and Richie Kiernan, a strong pair of juniors, have come a long way since last year and may prove to be the year's biggest surprises. If Kiernan, a 6-3 front court man from Long Island, can come around, his height will help immensely.

So Connecticut, expected to be battered by such clubs as Holy Cross, Niagara, Syracuse, NYU and a number of other powers on the Husky schedule, may prove to be quite a surprise. This back-breaking schedule would be a tough year for Uconn even with Quimby and Ahearn in the lineup, but even without them Hugh Greer's club will prove to be no disgrace either to himself, the team, or to the University of Connecticut.

WRA Enjoys Good Season Under Howard; Uconn Finance Urged By KAT Leader

by Cathy Schweitzer, Heeler

The Women's Recreation Association has done an excellent job so far this year, under the capable leadership of its president, Nancy Howard. Nancy, an affable and vivacious senior, transferred from the University of Wisconsin in her sophomore year. She is a Psychology major and is a sister of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Nancy first became interested in the W.R.A. in her sophomore year, when she was elected representative from 6-A. In her Junior year, she was elected vice-president, and in her senior, president. Although everyone on campus is familiar with the W.R.A., few know its exact functions. Speaking with Nancy gave me an excellent opportunity to find out some of these.

The W.R.A. is completely independent of the University financially. It has made money from such things as the balloon sale at the first home game, the candy sales in the basement of Hawley Armory, and the Uconn blazer sale.

Ten chairmen are elected from the campus each year, and these chairmen take care of the various intermural sports. Also included in the composition of W.R.A. are the presidents of the various sports clubs and the representatives from all the dorms on campus. Before each meeting, Nancy meets with Miss Rogers, who is advisor to the organization.

As parting words, Nancy says, "To expand our functions, we need University finance, more teachers, although co-operation has been great, and more space and equipment."

Connecticut Names Springfield, Rutgers To 1956 Grid Slate; Drop Cross And B.U.

The scarcity of baby-sitters was more than evident at the Uconn-Rhode Island Homecoming football tilt Saturday at Memorial Stadium. Most of the returning alumni brought their juniors along to "watch" the contest, but most of the kids were more interested in the campus, its fraternities, sororities and independent dorms - they were all looking at the school most of them will probably some day attend.

IC4A: Uconn Eleventh, Stieglitz Finishes Fourth

by Mark Hawthorne

The University of Connecticut cross country squad grabbed eleventh place in the country's second largest harrier meet, the IC4A tilt at Van Cortlandt part in New York City last Monday. Lew Stieglitz turned in a terrific performance for the Huskies, taking fourth place in the field of 182 starters, representing 30 schools.

Stieglitz' race was so good that Coach Lloyd Duff has decided to enter him in the NC4A meet, cross country's equivalent to baseball's World Series, which will be held in East Lansing, Mich., on Nov. 28th.

Improvement over last year

Last year Uconn was 16th in the IC4A meet with about 400 points, on Monday it was eleventh with 290. Pitt won this year's contest with 99 points, while Michigan State was second with 114.

Stieglitz' Time - 25:09

The individual winner was Henry Kennedy, a 23-year-old Michigan State sophomore, whose time over the five-mile course was 24:30.3. Ron Delaney was second, for Villanova, and Arnie Sowell of Pitt was third, eleven seconds ahead of Stieglitz, whose clocking was 25:09.

The Uconn team captain, Werner Gibelius was the second Husky finisher, and was 71st. The next Connecticut racers to cross the line were: Adrian Michaud, 74th; Allen Frazier, 77th; and Frank Barnes, 91st.

The University of Connecticut has added Rutgers and Springfield College to its 1956 football schedule, Athletic Director J. Orlean Christian announced today.

Connecticut will open the season with Springfield on December 22 at Storrs.

Both have been on the Uconn schedule previously, Rutgers holding a 2-0 record over Connecticut with games in 1940 and 1941, while Springfield is an old opponent with 20 contests played, the Maroons leading in the series with 10 wins and 8 losses for the Huskies. Two ties have also been recorded.

Rutgers and Springfield will replace Boston University and Holy Cross from the 1955 schedule.

Complete 1956 schedule follows:
September 22 Springfield Home
September 29 Yale Away
October 6 Rutgers Home
October 13 Mass. Away
October 20 Maine Home
October 27 Delaware Home
November 3 New Hamp. Away
November 10 Northeastern Home
November 17 Rhode Island Away

This prearranged schedule will pit the Huskies against two of the more formidable medium-sized elevens in the east. The boys from the banks of the Raritan hold victories this season over both Brown and Muhlenberg, by a 14-12 and 21-0 tally, respectively. The Rutgers combine also numbers such eastern powers as Princeton, Lehigh, Delaware, Lafayette and Penn State, the latter two encountering much difficulty in subduing this stubborn foe.

The Gymnasts of Springfield engage essentially the same foes as the Huskies, having both Rhode Island and New Hampshire, two Uconn Yankee contenders, on their docket also. The maroon dropped the wildcats by an 18-0 count and lost a squeaker to the Rams 20-7. Their record for the 1955 campaign is 5-2, with the other loss being a 7-0 edge at the hands of Northeastern.

The contest with Holy Cross on Saturday will mark another break in the Crusader-Uconn competition, with the Cross holding a 3-0 mastery over the Nutmeggers.

Broadcaster - Athlete Adds Strength To Uconn Eleven Schuster, Naugatuck Senior, Experienced In Varsity Ball

by Dick Brusie, Heeler

He's tall, he's good looking, he's Connecticut's broadcaster-athlete. Of course, we're speaking of none other than George Schuster, Naugatuck's gift to Uconn, and one that the school appreciates no end.

George possesses a keen interest both in radio broadcasting and athletics. Upon entering the University as a transfer student from Fordham in his junior year, he became an active participant in the WHUS heeling program. Having successfully proven his potentialities as an announcer he was given the assignment of broadcasting the Huskies' home football games. However, this fall he decided to resign his position in the press box and try out for the squad.

Played Ball Before

This was not to be a totally new experience for George. For Schuster, a rugged 5'11", 195 lb. senior, had previously played a considerable amount of both high school and collegiate football. During his three years as a regular on the Naugatuck High club, two of which were spent as co-captain of the team, he was labeled as one of the outstanding players because of his terrific spirit and sense of leadership.

Following his graduation from high school he entered Fordham University where he played freshman and varsity football in his first two years. In the interim between his Sophomore and Junior years he entered the Army and, shortly afterwards, began serving the first of his twenty-eight months, most of which were spent overseas, in Germany. Also during this time he served as captain of his unit's regimental team. After receiving his military discharge he decided to continue his college education, so he entered Uconn in the fall of '54. As a result of the ineligibility rule which states that any veteran or transfer student is prohibited from taking part in any varsity sports for a period of one year he was barred from active competition for that year.

Spirited Ballplayer

Here Schuster exhibited his intense enthusiasm for the game by coming out each day and scrimmaging with the club.

George has seen little action on the Husky eleven as yet this fall and therefore hasn't been able to either prove or disprove his capabilities. However, if during the remainder of the current campaign Coach Ingalls needs a replacement, and should call on the spirited Schuster he should be adequately able to bolster the Uconn lineup.

In the West Campus area the following houses will vote at Phi Delta Chi: Phi Delta Chi, Alpha Epsilon Pi, Kappa Psi, Alpha Zeta Omega, Ro Pi Phi, E1-A, E1-B and E4-A.

Phi Mu (4-D) and German house (3-D) will serve as polling places in the South Campus area. The following houses will vote at Phi Mu: 5-B, 2-C, 6-A, 6-B, Delta Epsilon Phi, Phi Mu, Kappa Alpha Theta, Phi Sigma Sigma, Alpha Delta Pi, Delta Zeta and French house. Those voting at German house will be the following: 5-A, 3-A, 3-B, 1-C, 7-A, 7-B, Spanish house, German house, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Epsilon Phi.

Whitney hall will be the voting place for residents of Sprague, Whitney, Holcomb, Grange and Hicks halls.

The Student Union will serve as the polling spot for commuters and residents, of Wood hall and the Quads.

Jepsen also stated that only members of the ISO Executive committee and political representatives of the USA will be allowed access to the voting list.

He also strongly urged students to vote since "Elections are the time when a student can make his voice known. The power of his voice increases directly with the number of votes cast — so cast your vote today."

Psychology Club To Hear Speaker

Mental illness as encountered in a mental institution will be the subject of a talk by Dr. Irving Frank at a meeting of the Psychology club tonight at 8 in HUB 201.

Dr. Frank is clinical psychologist for the Veterans' Administration Mental Hygiene clinic in Hartford and also lectures as part of the graduate program of the clinical division of the Psychology department here.

His discussion will be supplemented by two motion pictures, Schizophrenia Simple Type and Schizophrenia Catatonia. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Dave Johnson asks:

What's involved in production work at Du Pont?

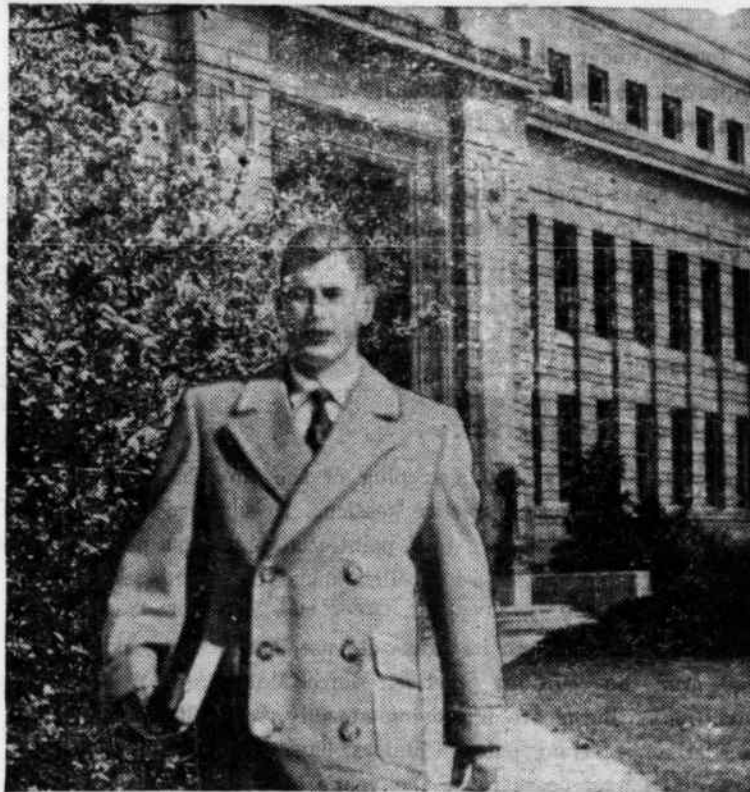

JAMES L. HAMILTON is one of the many young engineers who have been employed by Du Pont since the end of the war. After service in the Navy, Jim got his B.S.Ch.E. from the University of West Virginia in June 1948, and immediately joined Du Pont's Repauno Plant at Gibbstown, N. J. Today, he is Assistant Superintendent of the dimethyl terephthalate area at this plant.

A MORE COMPLETE ANSWER to Dave Johnson's question about production work is given in "The Du Pont Company and the College Graduate." This booklet describes in detail the training, opportunities and responsibilities of engineers who take up this kind of work at Du Pont. Write for your free copy to E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. (Inc.), 2521 Nemours Building, Wilmington, Delaware.

DAVID L. JOHNSON, JR., expects to receive his B.S.Ch.E. from the University of Kansas in 1956. He is very active in campus affairs, president of Alpha Chi Sigma and a member of several honorary engineering fraternities. Dave is interested in learning more about production work in the chemical industry.

Jim Hamilton answers:

Well, Dave, I've been doing production work at Du Pont for about seven years now, and I'm still getting involved in new things. That's what makes the work so interesting—new and challenging problems arise all the time.

To generalize, though, the duties are largely administrative. That's why effectiveness in working with others is one of the prime requirements. Teamwork is important in research and development work, for sure. But it's even more important in production, because you work each day with people having widely different skills and backgrounds.

A production supervisor needs a good understanding of engineering and scientific principles, too. He has to have that to get the best results from complicated equipment—but he doesn't necessarily need the specialized training that goes with research and development work. A real interest in engineering economics and administration is usually more helpful to him here than advanced technical training. The dollar sign's especially important in production work.

It all adds up to this, Dave. If you enjoy teamwork, and have a flair for large-scale, technical equipment, then you'll find production work mighty rewarding.
