An Enjoyable Entertainment and a Good Attendance.

The entertainment given by the 'King's Sons' at the Congregational chapel last evening, was a most enjovable occasion and in spite of unpleasant weather, the room was well filled. Mr. Paulison of New York proved "a host in himself" and his "Original Imitation Songs," "Humorous Sketches" and recitals were admirably given, causing no end of merriment on the part of his audience, who were ready to pronounce him a decided "success," while the selections played on the harmonica were such as showed Mr. Paulison master of this instrument and its capabilties for sweet and pleasing music established beyond a doubt. The Misses Wixon played a "Piano Duet" that was much enjoyed, and Mr. John Treadwell sang a song of rare sweetness, which so delighted all who heard that a repetition would have been most gratifying. The entertainment closed with the selection "Home, Sweet Home," given by Mr. Paulison on the harmonica and was most decan only be altered at the consent of lightfully rendered. Surely, the "King's Sons" have reason to feel much gratified with the success of their first entertainment, and we hope at some future time to have this pleasant occasion repeated.

LAW SETTLING ELECTION DIS-PUTES.

A bill was introduced by Representative Judson in the House yesterday. It provides for a speedy and thorough settlement of such election disputes as may arise. By the terms of this bill such disputes are to be brought to the notice of a Judge of the Superior Court on or before the 5th day of December after the election, and the Judge must hear and determine the case on or before December 22d. An immediate appeal to the Supreme Court is provided for, and this Court must attend to the matter on or before the first Monday in January. The judgment is then to be laid before the General Assembly on the first day of the session, and is to be binding on the General Assembly. The present masterly inactivity the Legislature is a constant reminder of the necessity of a statute which will prove a settler for election disputes, and it is hoped the Judson measure, or something similar to it, will become a

EDITORIAL LETTER.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 3d, '91 DEAR GAZETTE:

Before this shall reach the eyes of the Daily Gazette's hosts of readers the 51st Congress will have become a thing of the past. To-day all is bustle and hurry about the Capitol. The lobbies are jammed with hurrying reporters, attorneys, lobbyists and clients interested in bills doomed to fail, while the poor, overworked enrolling clerks are swamped with appropriation bills of enormous size, and everything is strained to its utmost tension in order to effect a safe, creditable end up of this Congress, which terminates at noon to-morrow by constitutional limitation. The House sat till 1 o'clock a. m. and then adjourned to 10 this forenoon. The Senate continued in session till 2 a.m. and then took a recess to 9.30 this morning.

FRENCH SPOLIATION.

The most important change made by the Senate committee in the General Deficiency appropriation bill, passed to-day, was the addition of the French spoliation claims, carrying an appropriation of $1,304,095, with a proviso that, in case of the bankruptcy of the original sufferers, the awards shall be made on behalf of the next of kin, instead of the assignees.

COPYRIGHT.

Senator Platt and Representative Simmons have worked indefatigably on the Copyright bill and have it in such shape as will be accepted by both houses to-day.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Aurelius J. Meeker awoke here this morning to find the Japan quince and crocus blooms under three inches of snow.

Collector Edmunds, Hon. Wm. E. Disbrow and ex-Senator Catlin, of Bridgeport, and Wm. R. Lockwood of Norwalk, are here.

Representative Miles expects to return to Connecticut immediately after adjournment.

What Miss Spinster Says:

That Mr, and Mrs. George B. St. John have been spending a few days in New York. They visited the American Art Galleries and saw the famous Ives collection. They seemed very enthusiastic, not only over the almost priceless books, but about the objects of art, which are gems of ornamental work unsurpassed in any country.

That Ex-Treasurer Hyatt is very enthusiastic over his Tallapoosa Company prospects.

That this was copied especially for the men. That the pool match between Powers and Clearwater was the greatest game ever played in America. Nine times 15 balls were run from the break; runs of 14 were made three times, 13 and 12 once each, and 11 four times. The score was Powers, 150, Clearwater 146.

That after all it is March that knows how to transact the business of winter. What the old-fashioned winter weather has been trying since November to do, March accomplishes in a twinkling. Maybe the lion of to-day will be a spring lamb four weeks from now.

That Ex-Treasurer Hyatt is a coming millionaire.

That a burning question continues to be whether we shall have steam or stoves in passenger cars.

That after all the real "work of education" about which we hear so much, is the dictionary.

That a thunder storm in winter used to be a rarity. Now skating is a curiosity.

Death Of Mrs. Sherwood. Mrs. Aaron B. Sherwood died at her home in Bridgeport yesterday, of typhoid pneumonia, after an illness of two weeks. Her grandfather was the late Elnathan Edwards, a descendant of Rev. Jonathan Edwards, the famous theologian. She was a prominent member of the South Congregational church, and was always active in all church work. She leaves, besides her husband, a son, H. Clinton Sherwood, superintendent of the Bridgeport Corset company, and a daughter, Mrs. I. W. Birdseye.

"Hey, you there, come here," said a sharp voiced woman from the back steps of a house to a passing tramp. The tramp plowed his way through the new-fallen snow to the steps, think ing the woman had taken pity on him and would supply him with lunch.

"Have you any thing for me lady?" he said, "No, you can go now," said the woman, turning into the house. "I just wanted you to walk in here so you'd break a path out to the gate.' And she shut the door and bolted it. leaving the tramp to improve the path on his way out.—Boston Herald.

ALSO A FORGER.

George U. Hamilton a Fugitive From Justice.

A FORGED CHECK HAS TURNED UP OF SOUTH NORWALK.—THE RAIL-ROAD AUTHORITIES IN PURSUIT OF THE SWINDLER.

Monday's GAZETTE contained a little story respecting a change of station agents at Winnipauk, Mr. Benjamin succeeding George U. Hamilton. It was also stated that the latter was believed to be short in his accounts with the Company. To-day we are enabled to add a chapter to Hamilton's history which may be but a prelude to quite a

In settling his accounts with the Danbury & Norwalk division of the Housatonic system, Hamilton gave a check to the Auditor for $15.17. It was drawn on the First National Bank of South Norwalk, bore the signature of Joseph C. Randle, Winnipauk's postmaster, and was made payable to Hamilton's order. When presented at the bank for payment the check was protested, Mr. Randle having no account with the bank and having, of course, no funds there to his credit, his banking business being done with the Central National Bank of Norwalk.

This state of affairs led to an investigation and to Mr. Randle's declaration that the check was a forgery. The railroad people, being the sufferers, are in pursuit of Hamilton and hope to have him at the bar of justice to answer for his misdeed.

MORE FORGED PAPER.

At a late hour this morning the Ga-ZETTE obtained the details of other criminal performances by Hamilton which indicate beyond a doubt that he did not leave the scene of his labors any too soon. In addition to the forgery of Mr. Randle's name it transpires that he obtained funds on checks bearing the forged signatures of F. A. Young, messenger of the United States Express Company, and Baggage Master Griffin, of the Danbury & Norwalk road. Hamilton also endeavored to get possession of a C. O. D. express package consigned to Comstock Broth-

But even the foregoing was not the extent of his rescalities by any means. It is known that the day after his discharge by the Railroad Company he went to the Winnipauk mills and collected freight bills aggregating fifty or sixty dollars. It is quite probable that the list herewith given will be added to, as Hamilton seems to have gone in upon the principle that he might as well die for a sheep as for a lamb.

Two packages addressed to Hamilton at East Manayunk, Pa., are at the express office at South Norwalk. If the delinquent has deliberately turned his face toward the land of Penn his career of crime may be cut short. If he knows when he is well off, however, he will tarry in New York State, the Rogues' Refuge, "till his beard be grown." TO CONNECTICUT LAW-BREAKERS.

Washington, March 4.—Both the Senate and House were in session all night. All of the appropriation bills, including the Deficiency bill, with the French Spoliation Amendment, were passed. The usual resolution of thanks to the Speaker, was passed by a strict party vote, Speaker Reed making cordial acknowledgment.

New Milford, Conn., March 4.—John May and Mrs Charles A. Seeley, of Torrington, were arrested Monday on a charge of adultery. The couple ran away from the town of Burrville last May and have been living in New Milford ever since. Their whereabouts were unknown until about three weeks ago. They were given a hearing yesterday before Justice Levy, and bound over to the next term of the Superior court at New Milford. Not being able to furnish bonds, the prisoners together with a child, were taken to the Litchfield jail.

Danbury, March 4.-Mr. Dennison, one of the oldest and most respectable residents of the town of Redding, was thrown from a load of hay yesterday, and sustained injuries which caused his death in a few hours. A Very Mysterious Affair.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 4.—Securities to the amount of $589,150, owned by the state of Delaware, are lost, and no one knows how or when they disappeared. State Treasurer Wilbur H. Burnite expected to receive them from ex-State Treas-urer William Herbert, but Mr. Herbert and his son, Frank E. Herbert, who was his father's assistant and bookkeeper, declare that the securities in question were never in their possession. The lost certifi-cates were supposed to be in a box kept on deposit in the Farmers' bank at Dover. This box was removed from the bank by Mr. Herbert during his incumbency, and when examined by his successor, Treas-urer Burnite, was found to be empty. So far as can be learned the contents of the box were last inspected by Governor Reynolds, when he became state treasurer

NO WOMAN NEED: APPLY.

The Chicago Presbytery seems to be wrestling with a most momentous question, it being nothing more nor less than that of opening another door

Shall women be admitted to the official circle as deaconesses? was the question which sent a shiver through the anatomy of many a good brother. It seems that a committee had been previously appointed to consider the overture of the General Assembly respecting the selection of deaconesses. The committee's exhaustive report set forth that a careful search of the Bible and of sacred and profane history failed to show that any such office had been recognized by the early Church.

Unless ancient records are romances time was when it would have been as much as a woman's life was worth to have related her "experience" in prayer meeting, and we need not go very deeply into history to learn that women were the "hewers of wood and the drawers of water" by a large majority. But times have changed since then. The writers of so-called profane history were men, but it is safe to assert that if the women of those days wrote no profane history they no doubt thought it, and often felt like taking a hand in it.

The deacon of to-day who is afraid to salute his good wife as a deaconess, is, to all intents and purposes a worthy descendant of the gentlemen of antiquity who slept on feathers, (if there were any,) while his other half had to hustle with the rest of the herd for barn room. Great days those for women; for the motherhood generally, but we are in the sunlight of the Nineteenth century, and the man who is afraid to compete with woman for worldly honors or emoluments undoubtedly has just cause to fear the result of such competition. On that ground, perhaps, he is more to be pitied than blamed.

A PECULIAR HIDING PLACE.

A Horse Thief Caught in a Cave Under

His Sister's Bed.

CLEVELAND, March 4.—Tom Graham, a horse thief who escaped from the Painsville jail ten days ago, was captured at the home of his father in this city late at night. Believing that Graham was concealed somewhere about his father's premises, somewhere about his lather's premises, Sheriff Ryan surrounded the house with a posse of deputies and then began to search the house. While searching a bedroom occupied by Graham's two sisters, Ryan saw something under the bed in which they were lying that aroused his suspicion, and he invited the young women to leave the room. They positively refused, and the bed with its occupants were lifted bodily to one side.

Underneath the carpet was found a trap door. This was lifted and found to lead to a sort of cave, but a tunnel, about the size of a man's body, led out of it, and while Ryan guarded the entrance a policeman commenced chopping through the dining room floor to find the other end of the tunnel. As he struck the second blow a voice cried out, "Hold on! I will give in!" and Grahan slowly backed himself out into the cave, where Ryan captured him.

NORFOLK, Va., March 4.-Information NORFOLK, Va., March 4.—Information which has just been received from Newport News says that the terrific gale of last Thursday night played havoc on and in the vicinity of the James river. Among the losses reported is that of a large sloop, capsized at the mouth of Warwick river, about ten miles from Newport News, resulting in the loss of the entire crew of sulting in the loss of the entire crew of fourteen men.

At the mouth of Walter's creek, near the James river, a yacht capsized and seven men lost their lives. Two men in a canoe near the same place were out in the gale and no information has been received of them.

It is thought the list, which is already swollen to twenty-three, will reach many more when full reports from the storm swept region are received. It is said dead bodies floating by Newport News yesterday were a common sight.

A Condemned Murderer Escapes. QUINCY, Ills., March 4.-The whole city is excited over the escape of the condemned murderer, Dan Porter, from the county jail. Porter was to have been hanged March 20 for the murder of E. D. Smith. Porter had by some means procured an impression of the locks of the jail doors, and with a knife, broom handle and the metal of a mouth harmonica made dupli-cate keys. He opened his cell door, passed into the corridor, opened that door and then into the jailer's room. There he secured a couple of revolvers, and then he went into the bath room. There he met the sheriff, who was taking a bath, and drove him out at the point of the pistol. Porter then made his escape. Posses have been scouring the country all around Quincy all day, but not the slightest clew to the fugitive has been discovered.

She Made Faces at the Pastor.

RACINE, Wis., March 4.—During the services at the German Congregational church Sunday Mrs. Fred Albrecht made faces and laughed at the pastor, the Rev. H. C. Hanson. The woman was ejected from the church by a trustee. Tuesday morning Mrs. Albrecht issued a warrant for the arrest of the trustee, charging him with assault and battery. He in turn had her arrested for disturbing a religious meeting. Last June Mrs. Albrecht was expelled from the church for having the pastor arrested on a charge of using abusive lan-guage to her, and since then has been in the habit of making faces and sneering at the pastor during the services.

Now He Will Sue for Damages.

CHICAGO, March 4.—James T. Connorton, who killed Michael Haggerty in a Clark street saloon and was acquitted by a jury in the criminal court, has brought suit for $20, 000 damages against the men who he alleges conspired to bring about the fatal affray in which Haggerty was slain and the plain-Collector Erhardt's decision award-tiff was dangerously wounded. The de-graph cartage contract to the lowest Samuel Palmer and James A. Webb. It is asserted by Connorton that the quartet constitute the head of the so-called gamblers' trust and that they wanted to put him out of the way because he had labored against the combine.

Sequel to the Train Robberv.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 4.—About a month ago a train was held up by three men at Alila, and in the fight that followed the fireman of the train was shot dead. The police have succeeded in capturing two of the robbers. One is now in jail at Tulare, and word has just been received of the capture of another at San Luis, Obispo county. The third man is believed to be in this city under medical treatment, having been wounded in the fight with the train hands. Detectives are keeping a close watch upon him.

Not the Victim He Intended.

St. Louis, March 4.—Miss Mary Bohm a young lady living at 1,320 North Tenth street, was shot and fatally wounded while passing in front of a saloon kept by Michael Schwab, at 1,013 O'Fallon The ball struck her in the left eye, and is lodged in her brain. It was fired from a revolver in the hands of John Schultz, and was intended for his brotherin-law. Michael Schwab, with whom he was quarreling.

An Aged Widow Burned to Death.

CHELSEA, Mass., March 4.—Mrs. John F. Drake, an aged widow, was burned to death in her home at 31 Ash street. The body was found on the kitchen floor by a neighbor, who heard the groans of the un-fortunate woman, but who reached her too late to give any succor. It is not known exactly how the fatality was brought about. Mrs. Drake was born in England over seventy years ago.

Fell Overboard and Drowned.

RICHMOND, Va., March 4.—Private information received here from Newport News states that Chief Engineer Edward Gray, of the British steamship Melbourne while walking to a companion ship, the Queensland, lost his footing, fell overboard and was drowned.

Ten Bloody Rounds.

BRAIDWOOD, Ills., March 4.—Con Doyle, of Chicago, and Scotty McDermott, of Streator, fought ten bloody rounds here, when Referee Dixon decided the battle in Doyle's favor. Opinion seems equally divided as to the merits of the decision.

Must Light the Tunnel.

THE KAISER MOLLIFIED.

He Will Probably Withdraw His Alsace-Lorraine Decree.

THE PARNELLITE MISSION

His Deputies Will Follow Closely in the Wake of the McCarthyites, and Will Stump the United States from Canada to the Gulf.

BERLIN, March 4.—The emperor, mollified by more recent representations from his mother and grandmother, has under consideration the withdrawal of the orders sent last week to Alsace-Lorraine for increased stringency on the frontier. That the order was in retaliation for the reported ill treatment of the Empress Frederick there is no doubt, as regulations which the order revoked were not to go into effect until April 1, and therefore no haste was necessary.

From April 1, instead of passports, a system of intimation cards was to come into use, whereby all foreigners coming into the Reichsland to reside should announce their presence to the authorities, and all their changes of residence. For the present this is abrogated, but it is be-lieved in Berlin that the Kaiser will change his mind.

Parnell's American Mission.

LONDON, March 4.—Mr. Parnell is determined to follow up his successes in Ireland by the immediate invasion of America, and he has chosen a corps of deputies well fit-ted to make an impression there. Henry Harrison is the stalwart young member of parliament who interposed between Mr. Morley and a policeman's baton at Tipperary, receiving on his own head the blow intended for the Liberal statesman.

Mr. O'Kelly is a former American journalist. Mr. William Redmond is one of the most aggressive men in the National league, and John O'Connor was intrusted with United Ireland immediately after its capture by Parnell. They will follow close in the wake of the McCarthyites, and stump the United States from Canada to the Gulf.

O'Kelly Confident.

Mr. O'Kelly said yesterday that he had no doubt of the success of their mission. "The heart of America," he said, "like the head of Ireland, is with Parnell, because they know that he is for Ireland as a nation, not Ireland as the football of English party politics. They know the home rule that Parnell wants is real home rule and

Mr. O'Kelly added that he was sorry for his associates who had seceded from Mr. Parnell, and he believed that, with two or three exceptions, they were sorry for them-selves. The union of the party under the old leadership was a question of probably not a long time. Mr. O'Kelly characterized as the height of impudence the attempt of certain English Liberals to dictate who the leader of the Irish party should be or should not be.

LONDON, March 4.—The fireman, Sadler, who was arrested on Feb. 13 last, the day the woman named Frances Coleman, otherwise known as "Carroty Nell," was found murdered in Whitechapel, and who was charged with having murdered her, has been discharged. The police could not collect sufficient evidence to connect him with the crime, which is now definitely placed to the account of the mysterious and un-findable murderer whom the police and public know only under the designation of "Jack the Ripper."

It Looked Like the Ripper's Work.

LONDON, March 4.—What at first promised to be another "Jack the Ripper" sensation was caused this morning by the discovery of a woman's arm and leg, wrapped in canvas, on the bank of the Regent's canal. Search was begun for the body to which the limbs had belonged, but later examinations of the fragments indicate the probability that they are parts of some medical student's "cadaver.

Loss Fully Half a Million. NORTH ADAMS, Mass., March 4.—The upper Jacquard weave shed at Adams, owned by the Renfrew Manufacturing company, was burned. The shop was filled with valuable Jacquard looms and employed 600 hands. The loss on the weave shed, with machinery, stock, etc., is fully half a million. The insurance is placed entirely with the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance association, and will not fully cover the loss. The fire is thought to have been caused by an explosion. The shed was built ten years ago by the Renfrew Mill company, and was used in the manufacture of ginghams and figured damask tablecloths. It ran over 400 Jacquard and 600 ordinary looms. It is the largest fire the town has had for many years, and it is a serious blow to its industries.

Lingo's Trial.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 4.—Wednesday Francis Lingo, the negro who is now imprisoned on the charge of murdering Mrs. Miller, will be tried here for that crime before Judge Garretson. Lingo pleaded not guilty on Saturday through his counsel. Mrs. Miller was a young woman. She was assaulted and brutally murdered in September last in the woods at Marchtown. The body was covered with blood and was horribly mangled. The woman had evidently made a desperate struggle for her life, as the ground where her body was found bore traces of it

Found Their Two Children Dead.

CHICAGO, March 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson, of 447 West Huron street, went to the theatre last night, locking their two children-Hans, aged 9 years, and Mercy, aged 4 years—in the house. During the parents' absence a lamp which had been left burning dimly exploded, and when they came home the children were dead, having been suffocated by smoke.

"Adirondack" Murray's Homestead. New HAVEN, Conn., March 4.—W. H. H. Murray, the famous author of "Adirondack Tales," etc., has purchased the old Murray homestead and farm in Guilford, with which he was compelled to part some years since on account of financial reverses. He will pass the remainder of his life there, doing quiet work and forsaking the lecture

Badly Shaken Up.

ROCKWELL, Ia., March 4.—A train on the Iowa Central was wrecked here, two coaches being hurled down an embankment. The thirty passengers on board were badly shaken up, but only one, Thomas Tuce, of Chicago, was seriously

ROMANCE AND MYSTERY

Dreamland's Revelations Point the Way to a Fortune.

A DEAD HUSBAND'S ADVICE.

In the Widow's Dreams He Told Her of an Estate Which Should Be Hers—A Skeptical Lawyer Makes Some Astonishing Discoveries.

NEW YORK, March 4.—A lawsuit will be begun shortly which involves a strange story of romance and mystery. The plaintiff is a client of Lawyer Benjamin Patterson, of 234 Broadway. Mrs. Grace Bushnell is her name. She is a woman in the prime of life, comely and intelligent. Her home is at Greenbush, near Albany. Lawyer Patterson has friends in Greenbush who recommended him to her for Mrs. Bushnell is the widow of the late John Francis Bushnell, who served in the Ninth New York cavalry during the late war. Bushnell entered the army as a private. At the end of the war he retired with the rank of major. He settled down in upper New York, married the present Mrs. Bushnell, who was his second wife, in 1867, and he died without issue in 1889.

Since the beginning of the year Mrs. Bushnell has been a regular weekly visitor to Lawyer Patterson's office. She does not claim to be a Spiritualist, but certain revelations which she says have been given to her in dreams are tending to make her a stanch believer in the supernatural.

She Dreamed It. Mrs. Bushnell's first visit to Lawyer Patterson occurred on Jan. 4. She introduced herself as the late Maj. Bushnell's widow, and said that she had a vague sort of idea that a large estate at Port Richmond, Staten Island, belonged to her. When Mr. Patterson asked the lady to give her reasons, she said that the only one she had was revealed to her in a dream.

"On New Year's eve," she explained, "I fell asleep while looking into the fire. I dreamed that my husband appeared at my side. He twined his arm about my neck, and folding me to his breast he said: 'Gracie, you are poor and you ought to be rich. There is a big estate in Port Richmond which belongs to you. It belonged to me while I lived, but I never told you about it. I had intended to mention it to you before I died, but I left your world suddenly and could not.""

Mr. Patterson felt very skeptical when he heard this, and told Mrs. Bushnell very candidly that he did not think it worth his while to institute an investigation on the very flimsy basis she offered. He spoke to her kindly and advised her to go home, dream again and get more facts.

Again She Dreamed It. Mrs. Bushnell did dream again. Within a week she was back at the lawyer's office with an elaboration of her first dream. She said that the late Maj. Bushnell had appeared from shadowland once more. In answer to her questions he said that the estate had an estate of about twenty acres, that it was on the river front and that it contained about 300 lots.

But the lawyer continued to remain skeptical and look upon his visitor as the dupe of alleged Spiritualists, which she was not, and a very emotional woman, which she really was. Mrs. Bushnell continued her visits, and although she was unable to gather any more facts about the estate from her ghostly husband she became more and more clamorous in her requests that a search should be made for

Mrs. Bushnell offered a liberal fee as a reward for the work, which fee Mr. Patterson refused, for his client was by no means wealthy. Impressed, however, by the earn $estness\, and\, somewhat\, annoying\, persistence$ of the woman, he caused an investigation

Her Dream Proves True.

Imagine his astonishment on discovering two remarkable facts. In the first place he found that there was such an estate as the one described, and, second, that Mrs. Bushnell had a claim for dower in it. The records of a habeas corpus proceeding pending in this county disclose the fact that the child (a girl), who was supposed to be the heir to this property, was not the daughter of Maj. Bushnell's brother, who was legally entitled to it. The papers in the case show that the child was the daughter of a lady whose husband had deserted her and gone west.

Determined to follow her husband and find him the lady placed her baby girl in charge of a friend, agreeing to pay her a small sum monthly for the little one's support. On her return east, after an absence of two years, the lady was astounded to learn that none of the remittances sent by her had been received by her baby's guardian, and that her little girl had been handed over to a charitable institution as an abandoned child.

The distracted mother, who was now very poor, applied to the charitable institution, and was told that her little one was dead to her forever, having been adopted by a good and wealthy gentleman. It furthermore appears that the mother made strenuous efforts through all the courts to obtain her child on habeas corpus proceedings and failed. Action will now be brought by Lawyer Patterson to establish Mrs. Grace Bushnell's right to the estate in Port Richmond.

A Peculiar Affliction.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 4.—The child of Anton Rudolph, at Oneida, Kan., is in a deplorable condition from the effect of binding raw pork on its neck. The little one was suffering from sore throat, and the parents bound it up with a piece of bacon which was infested with trichinæ. From a slight abrasion in the child's neck grew a fearful sore, which has spread around the neck and over the breast. Dr. Murdock, the attending physician, pronounced it a trichinosis affection.

ALBANY LEGISLATION.

Proceedings in the Senate and in the ALBANY, March 4.—In the senate the following bills passed: Mr. Laughlin's, allowing settlement of water leases in Black Rock basin; Mr. Van Gorder's, increasing salary list in state hospitals from $12,000 to $13,000 for the purpose of paying female physicians; Mr. McNaughton's, appropriating $10,000 for culvert at Adams basin; Mr. McNaughton's, appropriating $3,000 for new roof over armory at Roch ester; Mr. Whipple's, amending the Fredonia charter; Mr. Guenther's, appropriating $15,000 for the bridge over canal at Tonawanda; Mr. Coggeshall's, the drafted men bill of last year.

In the Assembly.

In the assembly—Bills passed: Mr. O'Connor's, allowing the Brooklyn Bridge company to extend its structure, both in New York city and Brooklyn; Mr. Ackers', New York city and Brooklyn; Mr. Ackers', to prevent deception in publishing false pedigrees of horses; Mr. Bradford's, an act encouraging the drainage of agricultural lands; Mr. Smith's, providing for fishways in Cattaraugus creek; Mr. Hunter's, for repairing and building burned parts of Auburn prison; Mr. Ives', providing for additional notaries public. additional notaries public.

Mr. Hildreth's proposed measure to regulate the sale of wine, ale and beer at pub-lic balls and festivals came up. Mr. Foley thought that the bill was unjust to many organizations in New York city who hold balls there in the winter. The bill should be amended, and he accordingly asked that the license be reduced from $25 to $10. The amendment prevailed, and the bill then went on the order of third reading.

Ignatius Donnelly's Warning.

St. Paul, Minn., March 4.—During a debate on the interest bill in the senate Ignatius Donnelly gave notice that the Alliance would in future act independently of both the old parties. Mr. Donnelly had charged that the bankers of Minnesota were using money to get the bill through the legis lature, and several senators had warmly replied to the insinuations of the Shake-spearian iconoclast, when Mr. Donnelly arose white with rage and shouted: "The senators may have all the rest of the session to blackguard me. I tell you the Democrats who came in here on the tidal wave of Alliance fortune will regret the position they have taken, and the Alliance, too, has BOSTON, March 4.—Negotiations as to where the annual Yale-Harvard boat race will be rowed are still pending. The announcement made that New London has been decided upon is entirely premature. As a matter of fact the two colleges have submitted to the New London board of trade the terms on which they will row on the Thames. These terms the New London business men are now considering. If they accept them the races will stay in New London. If they do not agree to them, then the races will go elsewhere.

Great Expectations.

HOUSTON, Tex., March 4.—Several heirs to an immense fortune which, it is said, is left from the estate of Robert Edwards, of Kentucky, have been discovered in Houston. The inheritance involves the right of ownership of land on Broadway, Wall street and around Trinity church, New York city. The property is said to be val-ued at $267,000,000.

The trading in stocks continues limited. Only 68,500 shares changed hands to noon today. The principal trading was in Atchison, Burlington, Northern Pacific preferred, Louisville, Pacific Mail and Rock Island. The opening prices were generally ½ to ½ per cent. higher than they closed last night for the general list, while Pacific Mail was up 1 per cent. and Northern Pacific preferred ½. There were further slight gains in the general list in the early trading, but Pacific Mail was exceptionally weak, and dropped immediately 1½ per cent. to 38½. Toward 11 oʻclock the general market reacted fractionally. In the second hour to noon there was very little trading, and prices sagged from sheer inactivity. Burlington and Louisville were the only stocks traded in. At the close the market continued dull, and prices were at about the closing figures of yesterday. Closing prices:

I assure you that I feel much sympathy for the worthy survivors of the war of either side when I hear that they have been unfortunate, and my disposition to aid an unfortunate Union soldier now, is akin to the feel-wounded. Although we did our best to hurt each other during the war, you know that none were more kind to those who were hurt than they who hurt them. At least such was my experience and Sherman Diamonds to be Sold. A dispatch was received from Pittsburg last night saying that the famous Kh edive diamonds, which were sent to Miss Minnie Sherman by the Khedive of Egypt in 1874 as a wedding present, when she was married to Lieutenant Thomas W. Fitch, were to be sold. These diamonds were sent to Miss Sherman, but General Sherman would not consent to receive them unless they could be distributed among his four daughters. This was done, and Tiffany made four sets of the original set, each of which he valued at $10,000. P. T. Sherman was seen in his home, No. 75 West Seventy-first-st; last night, and asked if it were true that the diamonds belonging to Mrs. Fitch were to be sold.

"I have no knowledge of any intention on the part of Mrs. Fitch to sell her share of the diamonds,"he said. "One of the four shares will be sold, which one has not yet been decided, but if Mrs. Fitch has decided to sell her share, two shares will be sold. The diamonds are not worth $135,000, as has been said only $40,000, and the sale will be entirely private." The diamonds were held by the Custom House authorities when they arrived in this country, but were admitted free of duty by a special act of Congress. The father of the present Khedive of Egypt made the gift.

THE FROG BOY with his CONGRESS OF CABALISTIC WONDERS, a cat with six legs, two bodies, two talls and one head; a dog with three legs; a colt with three legs; pet racoons, tame cinnamon bear, the African koejer and tame deer.
This we can call the Frog-Child, Frog-Man or Frog-Boy. He was born in Kershaw Co., S.
C., in 1868, and is 1½ feet high.
This wonderful phenomenon has appeared in all the great cities. Has been before the public 11 years and exhibited in 26 states, and certainly has pleased the ladies and children everywhere.

ly has pleased the ladies and children everywhere.
We pledge ourselves to the officers of any city if this is not A LIVING WONDER to close the exhibition. We will not hire out to any Dime Museum or Circus for less than $100 a day.
This strange FREAK OF NATURE is accompanied by his parents.
He is of such high moral character that his patronage is derived from ladies and gentlemen of society. Even the clergymen uphold and patronize this wonderful and
