A letter received in South Norwalk last evening savs that on Tuesday of last week while Mr. and Mrs. Aurelius J. Meeker were at Ponce Park, Florida, Mrs. Meeker was taken very ill with neuralgia of the stomach, and no physician being located within fifteen or twenty miles of the place, afriend who happened there at the time went by a special steamer to Daytona for medical aid. The physician drove swiftly down the beach and reaching Ponce Park at 8:30 that evening found the house, being directed by the groans of Mrs. Meeker, whom he found suffering terribly. The writer of the letter says: 'I went to the Park on Wednesday and found her out of pain but dreadfully weak from the effects of the great strain on her nervous system."

"Drive Fast, Paul."

Out toward New Canaan live as worthy an old farmer and his wife as 'ever went anywhere." To use a trite expression each is "all wool and a yard

For the purposes of this narrative we will call these good people Uncle Paul and Aunt Pamilla. While, on general principles, the former is a truly good man, and is a real pillar of the church, he has two weaknesses, or besetting sins, speaking after the manner of men. For a fast horse and limberger cheese respectively, while Aunt Pamilla fairly "abominates" both, her horror of one being fully equal to that of the other.

Uncle Paul, knowing that he has but one life to live, especially with a more or less high-strung woman, and having no desire to sit on barb wire all his days, wisely bought an old pelter of a nag for Aunt Pamilla, which that good lady was wont to exercise over the country roads and in Norwalk when she ventured from home to do her

One day last week, so the writer hereof ("Old Veritas," who writes tow and then for the local newspaper,) is credibly informed, Uncle Paul hooked up two of his best nags, regular Morgans they are said to be, and asked Aunt Pamilla to come to town with him. Pushing her specs up on her forehead the old lady thought "as how" she'd like to if he would promise not to drive fast. To this Uncle Paul readily assented and the start was made in good form. All the way hither, true to his promise, Uncle Paul held on to his excitable steppers and when he turned into Wall street his arms ached as if he'd been sawing wood, and body maple at that.

Arrived nearly opposite the DAILY GAZETTE building Aunt Pamilla got out and started off in the uncertain way peculiar to most women who want to do some shopping without any definite aim in view save getting bargains, while Uncle Paul, left to his own devices, strolled about at will. Going but a short distance he saw some 'Schweitzer Kase" in a window and being overcome by his chronic weakness for that sort of cheese which smells like a morgue, or worse, went in. bought a cake of limberger, started back up town, and deposited the same safely under his wagon seat.

In due time Aunt Pamilla, having tired out most of the dry goods clerks in the borough, hove in sight, was soon seated in the wagon and away this practical couple went toward home. Uncle Paul, remembering his matutinal promise, held his horses in until his bones cracked, while Aunt Pamilla took in the "skenery." There had been but little conversation, and both were went well however, until they were passing a stretch of woodland when up went Aunt Pamilla's nose into "the blue empyrean" and sniff, sniff, sniff were the only sounds that cut into the solemnity of the occasion. Uncle Paul the sly old deacon, wisely held his peace and Aunt Pamilla held her nose, but there were no remarks suitable for publication. At last, after sniffing until after that particular sort of thing had been played out, as it were, Aunt Pamilla fervently ejaculated "Drive fast Paul, there's something dead around here!" If ever a more obedient man was seen than Uncle Paul, (albeit he was almost bursting with his varied emotions,) we have yet to hear about him. No second request of that character was needed; the horses were let out and skimmed toward home at a 2:50 clip. Aunt Pamilla never seemed to mind the speed a particle, so great was her anxiety to escape from Uncle Paul's limberger, which was getting in its work and smelling like "all possessed," and when they reached home she had been effectually cured of her fear of fast riding, but Uncle Paul, after explaining the situation, had to store the cheese in the woodshed.

Indicted for Perjury.

The Grand Jury yesterday filed indictments charging Cassie Helen Brooks with perjury, and Byron W. Cohen, James W. Daskam and Harry W. Belcher with subornation of perjury. The indictment recites that the prisoners attempted to secure the estate of the late millionaire, Lowry A. Robertson, by getting Cassie H. Brooks to swear that she was the widow of the deceased man.

Lawyer John H. Baker, who was also arrested in connection with the case, was discharged, as the Grand Jury dismissed the complaint against him.

Cassie Brooks was taken by Detective Grady from Police Headquarters late in the afternoon and arraigned before Judge Martine in General Sessions. She was then committed to await trial on the indictment. She was turned over by Grady to a court officer, who took her to the tombs.

Endowment Association.

Last evening a public meeting of the North American Endowment Association was held in O. U. A. M. Hall on Water street for the purpose of organization. As the Association has been subject to sharp criticism from various sources, the organizers brought Mr. J. W. Flarity, of Boston, to discuss the plans of the Association and 1ts aims. He stated that it was for the purpose of paying an endowment in the same manner that life insurance companies do, only with the difference of paying the moneys while the persons are living, and not after death as in the case of life insurance companies. He cited from the insurance reports that the average payment into life insurance companies was about $166 for insurance to the amount of $500, and that the North American Endowment worked upon the same plan, the policies maturing in five years. If a member is sick he is paid $5 a week for five weeks, the same to be deducted from the $500 when the policy has matured. The organization is getting quite a foothold in town, and is to be fully organized on Wednesday evening 22d inst. Mr. F. W. Smith was elected local secretary pro tem and the meeting adjourned to the date above stated.

Mr. Hamersley. counsel for State Comptroller Staub, filed in the superior court in Hartford yesterday afternoon an answer to the application of the executive secretary, Austin Brainard, that cause be shown why a writ of mandamus should not issue against Comptroller Staub. The answer denies that Brainard is executive secretary and that Bulkeley is governor, and asserts therefore that no money is due Brainard. No date has yet been fixed for a hearing.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

A Well Known Hatter Struck by The Housatonic Train.

As David Sloan, a hatter residing in Bethel, was stepping from the station platform at South Norwalk, last night, ne was struck by a freight train on the Housatonic road, due about 11 o'clock, eceiving a bad cut on the head, broken ribs, and injuries of minor importance. He was taken into the depot hospital and Dr. Clark summoned, who dressed his wounds and made the sufferer as comfortable as possible. At 8 o'clock this morning he was conscious and was able to talk with relatives and friends, the woman chanced to be and one of who were untiring in their efforts for his relief. Mr. Sloan had been in attendance at the bean bake of Douglas Fowler Post and was on his way to the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. Joseph Brundage, of the borough. He was employed at the hat manufactory of Stevens, Dunning & Co., Mr. Stevens being his son-in-law, and was a commuter between here and Bethel. He is about 73 years of age, a member of James E. Moore Post, of Danbury, a pensioner, and well and favorably known. It is thought that there is a possibility of his recovery. He was taken to the Danbury hospital on the 9:18 train this morning.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The Board of Directors held an adourned meeting Wednesday night and completed plans for the work the coming year.

The fourth anniversary of the Association will be observed next Sunday with a special service for gentlemen in the Opera house at 4 o'clock, when Warner Van Norden, president of the Bank of North America, of New York, will deliver an address. In the evening a union service of all the churches will be held in the Congregational church, at which Mr. Thomas Cochran, of New York, and Rev. W. P. Ellsdon, of Waterbury, will speak.

The entertainment committee will meet to-morrow evening to finish up the business connected with the course just closed.

The New Subway.

The new subway of the New Haven & Hartford railroads that has been building for nearly three years was operated Monday for the first time. A New Canaan Horse Makes Things Lively on Main Street Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon four New Canaan ladies coming into town in a two seated wagon drawn by one horse, had an experience on Main street, between McCormack's blacksmith shop and Low's grocery store that they wouldn't care to repeat. Precisely what started the horse into a run is not known, but it is supposed a street car and rope jumping children had something to do with it. At all events the horse ran and before he was stopped had broken the whiffletree and part of the harness, and thrown one of the ladies out, hurting her internally it was feared. She was taken into the house of Mrs. Malcolm, opposite Mc-Cormack's blacksmith shop, and after recovering somewhat was taken home by rail. Meantime the harness and wagon had been patched up by Mr. McCormack and two of the ladies drove back to New Canaan. In the excitement, the names of the ladies escaped from the memory of the people who live near the scene of the runaway, hence they could not be learned by the DAILY GAZETTE representative this morning.

FIRE ON SMITH'S ISLAND.

The Barn, Bath House and Sheds Go Up in Smoke.

At 1.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon Samuel Armour who with his mother occupies a cottage on Smith's Island and has charge of the light-house, discovered that the grass on the Island was on fire, and that it was rapidly making progress toward the barn and other outbuildings a few hundred feet from the residence of Mrs. Theodore Smith, owner of the island. He immediately set at work with the help of his mother, in extinguishing the flames, and thought he had succeeded, when glancing toward the house he saw that the fire was eating its way through the grass in that direction and gave it his immediate attention, carrying buckets of water and using other means in his power to check it, which he succeeded in doing, but in the meantime the fire in the sedge and grass had communicated with the barn and it was in flames and past all efforts on his part of saving, and at 6 o'clock the barn, bath house and sheds were burned to the ground. Mr. Armour told your reporter this morning that several clammers were on the island and he assigns to some of them the cause of the fire, either through their carelessness or otherwise. A most remarkable statement by Mr. Armour is that of the number of people who were on and about the Island not one volunteered to help him. Mrs. Smith and family are out of town, and the house is unoccupied. Mr. Armour states that it was 1 o'clock this morning before he had entirely extinguished the flames, and that the island was almost completely burned over. He telegraphed Dr. Ledger Smith of New York, the situation this morning. That his untiring efforts saved the house goes without saying.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Clemenceau Case."

This famous play to be given at the Opera house in Norwalk Thursday evening, April 9, received a long, and commendatory notice from the Chicago Evening Post, from which we extract the following: "There is scarcely a week in the theatrical season when there is not a ten times more suggestive display of the female form made by dozens of women on the local stages. And yet the sensation monger-those who gloat over the imaginary salaciousness of this scene and those who affect to be horribly shocked thereat—have built up around 'The Clemenceau Case' a sensational interest which the present season will scarcely wear out."

English Folly Company.

A Rochester (N. Y.) paper says of the company which appears at the Opera house Saturday evening, April 11: "If anybody went to the Opera house last night expecting to spread himself over several seats, he must have been disappointed. The house was more than packed, it was overflowing. The attraction was Rose Hill's English Folly Company; the programme given was of a most excellent order of burlesque and specialty, and the costuming and stage settings were gorgeous."

In the borough election at Princeton N. J., yesterday, Augustus McDonald, democrat, was elected Mayor. The remainder of the ticket went republican.

NORWALK GAZETTE

THURSDAY, APRIL 9, 1891.

Another Watterson Warning. Under "A Word to New York Democrats," Henry Watterson publishes the following sensational editorial arraignment of his party in New York State: "The New York Sun and Herald, and for the matter of that most of the newspapers of the Empire State, have a deal to say about the importance of the vote of that great commonwealth to the democratic party. This is true enough. New York being after a fashion a democratic State, the democratic party has constantly to consider how it may be prevented from turning itself over to the republicans, which the local democratic factions have variously, but invariably threatened every four years. In each of the three last national democratic conventions New York has appeared as a disturbing element. In the graceful. "The truth is that New York, from sheer force of pressure and habit, seems to be incapable of addressing any other argument to the democracy of the country except one composed in equal parts of menace and money. To browbeat and cajole, to threaten and entice is the usual stock in trade of the average New York politician, and the democrats of the West and South are mighty tired conventions of 1876 and 1880 the spectacle presented by New York was dis-

They apprehend the value of the vote of New York as a factor in the general election. They realize its potency in a national convention. As a rule they are not unwilling to buy it, since it can only be had by purchase, provided it does not cost too much. But they don't like to be bullied into this every time a national convention meets to select a national ticket, and it is quite sure that if in 1892 New York attempts this old game it will be found ineffectual, in having played itself out and being thoroughly exposed.

Except in 1876 there has been no election since 1868 when an outside nominee would not have been stronger in the State of New York than an actual nominee who has been either a New Yorker or a quasi New Yorker.

In 1880, Gen. Hancock, a soldier living at the time on Governor's Island, but unused to the arts of political warfare, was easily cheated out of the vote of New York. In 1884 Mr. Cleveland would have lost it except for a chapter of accidents by which he was pulled through literally by the hair of his head. Any outsider would have run stronger, because any candidate except him would have had within New York a united democratic support, whilst the mugwumps, irrevocably committed against Blaine, could have gone nowhere else.

"In a word, as long as New York is the abode of faction, the New York candidate must in the very nature of the case prove a weak candidate. But the democratic managers and politicians of New York may as well make up their minds now as later that if they expect to be considered next time they must wash their dirty linen at home.

"The West and South do not mean to stand any more d-n nonsense. We have had too much of it already.

'Let the New York Sun and the New York Herald and all other New York newspapers, either democratic or with democratic proclivities, put these plainspoken but kindly intended observations in their pipes, clay or cob, as the case may be, and bestow their gentlest respiration upon them. A stitch in time saves nine, and wisdom comes after reflection. Turn over the leaves of your 'Poor Richard's Almanac, gentlemen, and when found stick a pin."

BRIEF MENTION.

At the cabinet meeting the subject of the appointment of a successor to Super-vising Architect Windrim was discussed without any conclusion being reached. It is still believed that a Philadelphia candi date will be appointed.

THE INDEMNITY CLAMOR.

The Italia Says Americans Have but One God, Their Strong Box, and It Should Be Attacked to the Fullest Possible Extent.

ROME, April 9.—The Messagero says that upon the reassembling of the chamber of deputies Premier Rudini will submit the correspondence exchanged between the Italian government and that of the United States with regard to the lynching of Italians in New Orleans.

The paper says that the correspondence will testify to the success achieved by the Italian prime minister in the controversy, and declares that President Harrison's dispatch to King Humbert expressing sympathy with Italy also requested that monarch's aid in the efforts being made to harmonize the interests of the two countries so far as he could act with due regard to his dignity.

King Humbert, in his reply to this letter from President Harrison, is represented as saying that he entirely approved of the conduct of the Italian government, and hoped that an agreement would be arrived at.

An Opportune Incident. In contradiction to the tenor and spirit of The Messagero's story, many well informed people in the Italian capital assert that the recall of Baron Fava was simply precipitated by the lynching incident. The ministry, they insist, wanted reasons for its failure to effect promised reductions in the military and other expenditures of the government, and the complication with the United States was in this instance opportune as giving the ministry some thing with which to go before the parlia ment and the people as an argument in de-fense of its failure to lighten the burdens of the country.

Italia gives it as its opinion that Ameri cans have but one God—their strong box Continuing, the paper urges that it is at this box the Italians must strike for re venge. The largest possible indemnity, i insists, should be demanded. Rising equal to the occasion, Italia concludes by say ing: "On their (the Americans) tongues there is but one word-dollars. Let us take advantage of it."

The Designs for New Coins.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Director Leach, of the United States mint, has issued a circular letter to artists about designs for the new coins. The following are the con-ditions under which designs will be con-sidered: First—They must be presented in the form of models or medallions in plaster, the models to be from 4 to 8 inches in diameter; a separate design to be sub mitted for the obverse and reverse of the silver dollar, and separate designs for the half dollar, quarter dollar and dime. Second—The models must be in what is known as "low relief" suitable for coins Third—The model submitted must be complete, with the denomination of the coin, and only such inscriptions as are required by law, together with the date (year). Fourth—The models must be sub mitted under seal of the director of the mint on or before June 1, 1891. Fifth—An award not to exceed $500 will be made for each design accepted.

Norwalk, Conn.: April 1, 1891.

Our great display of Millinery is the theme of much comment. Those who ought to know say there isn't a better this side of New York. Certainly the work is artistic, elegant and varied, and the price moderate. We make a superb showing of French Flowers, Ribbons, Laces, Aigrettes and Millinery Trimmings of all

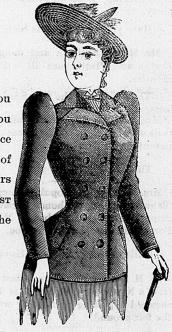

Easter gave the occasion for the introduction of a great group of novelties in Neckwear. London, Paris, New York and Philadelphia, especially the two former, have yielded to you, through us, the richest results of neckwear study. The critical taste of our foreign resident representatives secures the best for our stock. It is this that gives our assortment the eminent recgonition that secures and so easily maintains the first place in the neckwear business of this town. The windows and cases, the decorative fixtures and counter display only a small portion of the collection. The greater part are kept in the original boxes. Many only a half dozen of a shape and pattern, and only one of a color. Is not this exclusive neckwear desirable? We think so.

NEW JACKETS.

Look where you will we warrant you a happy experience here. We brag of our shapes and colors because THEY'RE JUST RIGHT. Prices at the lowest notch.

By common consent New Gloves go with spring. In accord with the custom our stock has been rounded up to rare completeness and remarkable cheapness. The following list has items of matchless interest. Our Paris house is the fountain whence the great glove chances come to us-

The Republican Candidate for Mayor in Chicago Successful.

CO

BY A VERY NARROW MARGIN

His Plurality Is Only About 200-The Woman Vote in Kansas Very Light. Denver Has a Democratic Mayor for the First Time.

CHICAGO, April 9.—The latest figures in dicate the election of Hempstead Washburne (Rep.) for mayor by about 200 plurality. The remainder of the Republican city ticket is also elected. In the aldermanic contests the probabilities are that eleven Republicans and twenty-three Democrats have been chosen. Under these conditions the council will stand forty-three Democrats and twenty-five Republicans.

The election was the most exciting ever witnessed in Chicago, and the Republicar leader, Hempstead Washburne, is the first Republican, save one, elected mayor of Chicago in fifteen years. The Democrats and a formidable split in their ranks to contend with in the independent candidacy of ex-Mayor Carter F. Harrison, but the Republicans were little if any better off in that respect, owing to a "citizens" move-ment headed by Elmer Washburn, exchief of the United States secret service.

The Turning Point.

Both Carter Harrison and Elmer Wash Both Carter Harrison and Elmer Washburn, particularly the former, polled a vote that was amazing to the straight party politicians. Harrison is said to have had the secret support of a large number of the wealthy men of the city who are backing the World's fair. His old time strength with the foreign speaking popution, especially the Germans and Bohemians, returned heavily to him also. Elmer Washburn's vote, while a surprise to the Washburn's vote, while a surprise to the politicians, was something of a disappoint ment to his friends, being confined more closely than was expected to the membership of the American societies.

The turning point in the contest was to a considerable extent the Irish-American vote, and this was exerted in a singular manner. Hempstead Washburne's is the daughter of the president of the Hibernian Bank of Chicago, and large numbers of Irish-Americans, wearying of the fight between the two Democratic leaders, Harrison and Cregier, and believing that Hempstead Washburne was being antogonized by certain elements solely on account of his wife, rallied to his support. A Day of Blood.

The interest shown in the returns surpassed anything ever displayed toward a national election. Madison street and Fifth avenue, where the newspaper bulletins were to be seen, were blocked for hours by thousands of people, yelling themselves hoarse and blowing tin horns till black in the face. Throughout the till black in the face. Throughout the night the corridors of the city hall were thronged to suffocation, while in all the theaters returns were read from the stage. The day was marked by a number of bloody affrays, culminating in several tragedies.

CREGIER CLAIMS IT.

He Insists That He Has Been Elected Mayor.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Mayor Cregier de clared emphatically that he had been re elected "despite the treachery of those who should have been his friends. We have figures," he said, "indicating that the final count will show that the straight Democratic ticket has won. I have most implicit confidence in the outcome. The lega returns will certainly be in our favor."

Comptroller Onahan also gave it as his opinion that the final result would show a Democratic victory. He gave out the following statement for publication: "It is believed Cregier is elected, but it will take the official returns to determine conclumublicans claim to take no sto in the claims of a Democratic plurality as based on the returns of the seven missing precincts received just before noon, and declare that Washburne is elected by at least 700 plurality. They say the Democrats are trying to help the gamblers hedge on their bets.

The Result in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, April 9.—The result of the election in Kausas, as shown from the latest returns, indicate that the following cities and towns were carried by the Re publicans: Topeka, by a small majority Kansas City, by a greatly reduced ma-

Atchison, Ottawa, Clay Centre, Garden City, Lawrence, Holten, Great Bend, Eureka, Beloit, Leavenworth and Wichita were carried by the Democrats, but by a greatly reduced majority. Abilene, Yates Centre and Arkansas City elected the citizens' Alliance tickets. In Dodge City the anti-Prohibition ticket was elected. Ottawa elected candidates from each of the

With the exceptions of Kansas City, Topeka and Leavenworth, the woman vote was very light. They manifested the greatest interest at Topeka, where a propo-sition was submitted to vote $30,000 in bonds for the deficit in the county expenses of the school fund, which received the united support of the women. Out of a total registered vote of 2,740 women, 2,300

A Surprise in Denver.

DENVER, April '9.—Denver today has a Democratic mayor for the first time in her history, and the members of that party are celebrating the event as they have not celebrated since the election of Governor Alva Adams. Returns have been coming in very slowly, and the exact figures cannot be yet announced. The Rocky Mountain News, however, puts Rogers' majority at 1,500, while at The Republican office last night the figures were given at from 3,900 to 5,000. to 5,000.

Returns from various points in the state show that yesterday was something of a Democratic landslide, as the gain of that party will reach 35 per cent. At Central City, the home of Senator Teller, of the four councilmen the Democrats elected all. The entire ticket was elected in Grand Junction. At Colorado Springs the Republicans elected their mayor, but divided the councilmen. Leadville elected a Republican mayor and aldermen.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 9.—The city election passed off quietly and a large vote was polled. Indications are that Weir (Citizens) is elected mayor. The Republicans elect the balance of the city officers. also elect four out of seven councilmen. The remaining three are in doubt.

Democrats Elected in Arkansas. LITTLE Rock, April 9.—All towns in Arkansas elected city officers yesterday.

THE SPRING ILLUCTIONS Returns from Camden, Cotton Plant, Prescott, Clarksville and Benton show that straight Democrats have been elected. In Little Rock there was no opposition to the straight Democratic ticket except in the Third ward, the returns for which will not be in for several days.

A Republican Mayor

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., April 9.—Everett Smith (Rep.) was elected mayor by over 400 majority, a gain of 900 votes for the Republicans. The Republicans also elect a majority of the supervisors and alder

A Democratic Sweep. PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 9.—H. S. Wilson (Dem.), was elected mayor. The Democrats made a clean sweep, also electing the four councilmen. All Republicans Elected. SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 9.—The Republicans elected their whole ticket by a small majority in the municipal election. GOVERNOR FOWLE DEAD.

North Carolina's Brilliant Executive Expires from Heart Failure.

RALEIGH, April 9.—Governor Fowle died suddenly here last night of heart failure. Governor Fowle was considered one of the most brilliant men in the south. Herewas born in Washington, Beaufort county, March 3, 1831, and at the age of fourteen became a pupil of William Bingham, whose school was then the most famous in the state. Two warms beginning of his course.

In 1851 he graduated with distinction and, returning to North Carolina, studied law for two years under the late Richmond M. Pearson, who later became chief justice of the state. He obtained his attorney's license in 1853, and the next year removed to Raleigh. In 1856 he married a daughter of Judge Pearson, who died in 1862. He became widely known as a sound and brilliant leaven and was emiscatle. and brilliant lawyer, and was eminently successful.

Directly upon the breaking out of the civil war he volunteered in an infantry regiment and was made a lieutenant Later he was made a major in the commis sary department, but resigned it and raised a regiment of infantry, the Thirtyfirst North Carolina, and was made a cap tain. He was speedily promoted to a lieutenant colonelcy, and served until the battle of Roanoke Island, where, Feb. 8, 1862, he was captured by Burnside's forces. He was, after a short imprisonment, paroled.

The legislature of 1884-5 asked Presiden Cleveland to appoint him solicitor general. He was nominated for governor by the state convention May 31, 1888, after a prolonged contest with Charles M. Stedman and S. B. Alexander, two of the most pop ular men in the state, for the nomination.

A Big Railroad Boycott.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The board of rulings of the Trunk Line and Central Traffic associations have decided to boycott the Alton road for paying commission. On and after April 15 all tickets of all classes and baggage checks sold and issued by that line will be declined. The only roads east of the Mississippi that refused to join in the boycott were the Ohio and Mississippi and the Columbus and Hocking Valley. If all the roads carry out the boycott a multiply of layerity for the boycott and the columbus and the columbus and the columbus and Hocking Valley. multitude of lawsuits from ejected passengers may be looked for. No doubt the Alton will carry the matter into the courts, but the board of rulings claims that it was sure of its stand before it declared war. It claims the sanction of the interstate commerce commission as to boycotts. •

Drove His Mother to Suicide.

LOUISVILLE, April 9.—Mrs. Florence Long, boarding at 144 East Jefferson street, committed suicide by swallowing an ounce of morphine. When discovered she was lying at full length upon the floor, and in her left hand she held, tightly classed a letter from her son in Teyes. ly clasped, a letter from her son in Texas, which stated that he was a prisoner in the State penitentiary. The letter expressed the deepest contrition for the act which brought about the writer's arrest, and pleaded to the mother for her forgiveness Mrs. Long had been in financial straits but a twenty-five dollar remittance from a sister in New York relieved her tempora rily. Her son in Texas and her sister in New York have been notified of their relative's death.

One Dead the Other Crazy.

RICHMOND, April 9.—Two laborers, who were employed Tuesday in repairing the boiler in the cupola of the city hall, were overcome by the close atmosphere and they were not reported missing until Wednesday morning. A search was made and both were found in the boiler. One of them, named John Belton, was dead. The other was unconscious and after considable work was revived. His mind is apparently affected by the sufferings he went through.

Fine Fruit Prospects.

NYACK, N. Y., April 9.—An examination of the condition of the fruit trees along the lower Hudson this week shows that the prospects are bright for an almost un precedented crop of various kinds of fruit this year. The continued cold weather has prevented the buds from coming out and nothing has therefore suffered from the frost or ice. The fruit growers are greatly encouraged at the outlook.

General Spinola Very Low WASHINGTON, April 9.—General Spinola's condition Wednesday morning caused more apprehension than at any time since his illness. The consultation held was very discouraging. The physicians have succeeded in reducing the fever, but the general is now in an extreme state of exhaustion, and the physicians fear he has not enough vitality to recover.

The Police on Moore's Track.
St. Paul, April 9.—The police of St.

SPECIAL CITY NEWS.

Regular meeting of the W. R. C. tonight.

Minnehaha Division S. of T., will install their recently-elected officers at their next regular meeting.

Several of the female employees at Solman's hat shop are seriously ill at their homes with la grippe.

The camp fire of Douglas Fowler Post, G. A. R., last evening, was largely attended by members of the Post and visiting veterans from other places. Among the latter were Department Commander H. N. Fanton, his Chief of Staff, Christopher Quin, and Police Captain Bevens of New York. A large delegation from Buckingham Post of Norwalk, were also present, and all received a very fraternal welcome, emphasized by rounds of cheers, which were returned with interest by the comrades from Buckingham. Eloquent and able short addresses were made by Commander Tuttle of Douglas Fowler, Department Commander Fanton, Chief of Staff Quin, and Commander Thomas Bradley of Buckingham Post. The Battle of Pork and Beans was then opened, and Comrade Brad. Keith of Buckingham was awarded the prize spoon, (the bowl of which holds a pint and just fits Adjutant Fred. Arnold's mouth,) for having demolished more beans in five minutes than were ever dreamed of in the philosophy of the others present. The meeting was the most successful of its kind ever held by the Post, and one in which its members may justly feel a pardonable pride on account of the honor done the Post by the presence of the distinguished C. V. A. guests.

The San Francisco Ready for Chili. Washington, April 9. — The United States steamer San Francisco will probably sail from Mare Island for Chili today with Admiral Brown, commander of the Pacific station, on board. She will relieve Action station, on board. The Whit is the Pensacola, the flagship of the South Atlantic station, allowing Admiral McCain to return to his proper station on the east coast of South America. The United States is at present represented in Chilian waters by the Baltimore and Pensacola, and if the state of affairs there does not improve the Charleston, now fitting out at San Francisco, will be sent to assist in protecting the interests of citizens of this country in Chili.

A Quartet of German Jokes. "I wish I had the same disease as Mrs. Calamm."

"What's her trouble?" inquired the husband.

"I don't know, but the physicians have ordered that she spend a year or so abroad."

"Why won't you associate with Fleckel?" "Because he was engaged to my wife be-fore I married her. A man that's sharper than I am is no associate for me."

ALBANY LEGISLATION.

Proceedings in the Senate and in the ALBANY, April 9.-In the senate: The committee on finance reported the bill to advance higher education and university extension; also Mr. Robertson's bill regarding the overflow of state lands.

The cities' committee reported Mr. Cooney's, relating to Brooklyn elections; Mr. Riley's, extending Rensselaer street, Troy; Mr. Ahearn's, amending New York sheriff

In the Assembly.

In the assembly: The session opened with the enumeration bill before the house for consideration as a special order. Mr. McClelland, as the leader of the majority, took charge of the bill and moved that it be advanced. Mr. Hildreth, as the princi-pal leader of the Republican minority on the special enumeration committee, amended by offering the Republican substitute proposed by the minority of said committee. A vote was taken on the question of substitution, and it was lost by a party vote of 44 yeas to 50 nays. The majority bill was then advanced.

SENATOR EDMUNDS' SURPRISE.

His Resignation Causes Much Astonish ment at the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Senator George . Edmunds has resigned his position as United States senator, to take effect on Nov. 1, and has so notified by letter the governor of Vermont and Vice President Mortou.

The resignation of Senator Edmunds due, he says, to ill health, necessitating the passing of the winter months in the south. He has a severe throat trouble, which is aggravated by the uncertain and often damp winter climate of Washington. His wife and daughter are also invalids, and lived in the south generally during the cold season.

It is the general opinion in Washington that Secretary Proctor will be a candidate for the vacant senatorship. It is not thought likely by his friends home, however, that he will resign his place in the cabinet to make the canvass.

The resignation has caused much surprise here, because the senator took the pains to deny the rumor when it was published some weeks ago. Yet those close to the Vermont senator knew that he was thinking of this step when he rented his

Our Second Patent Century. Washington, April 9.—Just 100 years ago President George Washington signed an act of congress giving inventors the exclusive right to the disposition of their inventions by letters patent, and Wednesday a representative assemblage of inven tors, scientists, patent lawyers and distinguished officials of the government service, with a large number of laymen and a sprinkling of ladies, some of whom had earned the right to be classed as inventors, met at the Academy of Music in this city, and commemorated the beginning of the second century of the American patent

The Mother Saw It in a Dream. DES MOINES, April 9.-John Winslow, the eighteen-year-old son of I. O. Wins-low, of this city, died Feb. 28 and was buried March 2 in the cemetery at Avon, eight miles from Des Moines. One night last week his mother dreamed that the grave had been robbed. Mr. Winslow made an investigation yesterday and the dream proved to be true. The coffin had been opened and the body removed.
