A MAD WOMAN'S DEED. Mrs. Lochridge Killed Her Three Children and Herself. A TRAGEDY IN TENNESSEE. The Husband Went to Church in the Morning and Returned in the Afternoon to Find the House Barred and His Entire Family Dead.

NASHVILLE, July 21.—Mrs. Pattie Lochridge, wife of Thomas Lochridge, shot her three children and herself about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at her home, three miles south of Spring Hill, Maury county.

Mrs. Lochridge was thirty years of age, her elder child four years old, the second three years old and the third four months old. The murder was done with a double barreled shotgun.

Mr. Lochridge had gone to church, leaving his home in its usual state of quietness. His wife had been complaining for some time past, but on that particular afternoon she was no worse than during the past week.

About 3 o'clock Mr. Lochridge returned and found the house locked up. A Horrible Sight. He forced his way through a window, and at the sight he saw the meaning of the sealed doors and windows burst upon him.

Upon a pallet, nicely arranged, lay his three children dead, and across the room, with her feet turned to theirs, was his wife, their mother. The shotgun, his companion on many a jolly hunt, lay between them.

As near as can be learned from the surroundings Mrs. Lochridge had drawn up her children one by one, placed the gun against their hearts and fired. Then she placed them side by side on a pallet which she had made for the purpose and arranged their dresses neatly about them.

Standing at their feet and probably gazing down upon them, the distracted mother, placed the muzzle of the gun at her own heart and sent her own soul to follow her children.

After killing the first two she must have reloaded the gun, and that she did it shows that she was at least partially calm. How she pulled the trigger when the gun was against her own breast is a mystery, unless she did it with a stick held in her hand and with her foot.

There is a theory that the woman poisoned or chloroformed both herself and the children before she used the gun. Her Last Letter.

The following letter was found in the room with the murdered and suicide: "DEAR TOM—I know you will be shocked when you get back and find what I have done. This is not my first attempt. I took forty drops of laudanum at one time and sixty at another before I was married, and failed to accomplish my purpose, but think I will succeed this time. If Eunice (oldest child) had been at home last Sunday this deed would have been committed then, but she had gone to church. I could not bear to leave her behind. I do wish you could go with us. But for you I would gladly, gladly give up all and go home to heaven.

I sometimes feel that I am a terrible sinner, but now I feel that the good Lord is waiting the door open to welcome me and our little ones. You kept your marriage vows so much more perfect than I have, but you know that my health is bad now. I have been in a bad state of mind for some time. I feel that I am tired of life and must go.

In concluding her letter Mrs. Lochridge gave instructions as to how clothing and articles of jewelry should be distributed. Mrs. Lochridge was a sister of Colonel J. J. Odil, the well known produce merchant of this city.

Latest News from Samoa. MELBOURNE, July 21.—Advices from Samoa state that King Mafetao ordered Chief Mataafa to come to Apia. Mataafa refused to obey this order, declaring that he feared Mafetao would cause him to be arrested. Crowds of malcontents have gathered around Mataafa, and it was feared that they contemplate a raid upon Apia. The authorities consequently took vigorous measures to prevent such a raid, and the German gunboat Sparke, assisting to maintain order. The United States, British and German consuls have issued a proclamation sustaining King Mafetao. The uneasiness which prevailed was removed, and at the last advices Mataafa's followers were paying the taxes due to King Mafetao.

He Was Not a Hanlon. ORANGE, N. J., July 21.—George Hanlon, one of the daring Hanlon brothers, trapeze performers, says the victim of the fatal fall during a performance at Lyons, Ia., last Monday, was not one of his brothers nor was his name Hanlon. His name was William O'Mara. He and Robert Carmody have been traveling as the "Hanlon Brothers." The two young men were pupils of the original Hanlon Brothers twenty years ago. William is living at Cohasset, Mass., Edward at Coa Job, Conn., and George at East Orange. The other three of the original six brothers are dead.
