WHAT MISS SPINSTER SAYS:

That for years and years the pet problem with which society set itself a-wrestling with was woman. She was written up, preached about, figured upon, in fact well nigh crushed with statistics. By and by she rose up and abolished it. By consequence she is on top of the heap, for betwixtsteel, steam, electricity and womenkind, men will shortly be hard put to it to find profitable occupation, that is, unless they are wise enough to accept and adapt themselves to the new order of things. They will do well to remember that 100,000 will do well to remember that 100,000 kitchens yawn perpetual welcome to capable cooks. Experience has shown that men are really much better suited to the work than women. Fame and fortune run half way to meet the man-miliner, the man dressmaker. It is the miliner, the man dressmaker. It is the suggestion of the masculine that makes tailor-made the mark of good gowns. These are things for men to think over. Already woman shoots, rides, drives, rows, swims and smokes, but she has not quite mastered club management and club scandals, and could not put live bait properly on the hook if life depended on it. For all these and a hundred more she will demand a teacher to the manor born, so here will be a chance for the sons of rest. Men who have homes and families will do well to Middle street. have homes and families will do well to keep within their safe anchorage, no matter how glittering the allurements outside. The faint suggestions here made are wholly for the benefit of such as may have upon his hands the burden of himself, to face the situation squarely, and ask himself how he may better it—for women have gone into business for keeps.

That if some people were to do unto others as they would have others do unto them, they would not have a single moment even to write anonymous letters. Oh the rarity of Christian charity!

Last evening, about 6 o'clock a man and two women entered Adams' saloon, on Wall street, and called for drinks. After having several, the man accused the proprietor of stealing 45 cents from one of the women. Quite a lively time followed this charge, and the party was finally ejected from the place and a policeman sent for. Officer Howard responded, but the trio had started down Wort avenue in the direction of South West avenue in the direction of South Norwalk. The officer followed and caught up with the party near Dr. Bald-win's residence, and arrested the man. The woman at this point interfered and the officer had considerable difficulty the officer had considerable difficulty in getting his prisoner to the lock-up. One of the women accompanied the man, but the other woman started for South Norwalk. Later in the evening the prisoner was before Justice Coolidge, charged with breach of the peace. He gave his name as Francis McKeon, and soid he was a professor of Whitand said he was a professor at Whit-lock's school, Wilton, and the woman lock's school, Wilton, and the woman was his wife, employed as waiter at the same place. McKeon, who is a man probably 70 years of ago. was considerably "under the influence" while in court, and when he made his explanation to "His Worship," as he addressed Justice Coolidge, and denied all the charges against him, he presented an appearance that was so much like Pat Rooney, the Irish comedian, that an Rooney, the Irish comedian, that an inexperienced person could not tell the difference, and his flow of oratory staggered the court and spectators alike. The Judge thought that McKeon was guilty and fined him $1 and costs, which he paid. While the party were going down West avenue, the woman fell over some obstructions in front of the new club house building, and sprained her thumb. Officer Howard tock her to Dr. Baldwin's office and the doctor at-Dr. Baldwin's office and the doctor attended to the injured member. The man and woman were staggering around town after the trial until 10.32, when they took the train for Wilton. This morning Principal Whitlock was down from Wilton, looking for the other woman. Wonderful Realism.

Every atom of scenery used in the production of "She Couldn't Marry Three," is specially built for the play. There are over three tons of it; it is worth going miles to see. One of the most notable scenes in the play is a picture of the Court with Court with a picture of the court most notable scenes in the play is a picture of the Cornish Coast, with practical revolving light-house and moonlight on the ocean; also, the view of Carboy's Abbey with crumbling walls and clinging ivy, a scene so beautiful as to baffle description. In the last act of the play is shown an exact representation of Dingley Tunnel, one of the most stupendous and natural rail-road scenes ever produced.

Every one of these novel effects are guaranteed by Manager Hassenforder, and will be seen here in the production of "She Couldn't Marry Three."

Alone on the Prairie. The day was in that transitory state when twilight lingers in the lap of day when twinght lingers in the tap of tay and darkness struggles for the ascendancy. The sun hung in a great red ball of lurid flame betwixt heaven and earth; there was a feeling of profound quiet which seemed to settle on all things animate and inanimate. The hirds the insects the very trees and things animate and manimate. The birds, the insects, the very trees and sprouting plants were for the moment hushed as if in expectancy of some unforeseen, some inexplicable something which seemed to pervade the very atmosphere. A bull frog gurgled softly as he fell back into the limpid water. Suddenly over the brow of a distant hill, there appeared a solitary man, hill, there appeared a solitary man, seated astride a great bay horse; he cast one long sweeping glance around him and then went back over the brow nm and then went back over the brow of the hill again. And that same night over seven hundred people were turned away unable to gain admission to the Opera house where "She Couldn't Mar-ry Three" was being played to the most delighted audience of the season.

Bridgeport's Police Fight.

Bridgeport's Police Fight.

The injunction case brought by Chief Rylands, of Bridgeport, against Captain Pinkerman to prevent him from taking the office of chief of police from which Rylands has been ordered out, was heard yesterday in the superior court at Bridgeport, before Judge Hall. The hearing opened at 10 o'clock in the morning and continued until 5 o'clock in the evening. No decision was reached at that hour and Judge Hall continued the case to next Monday. The testimony introduced was contradictory and some knotty legal points were brought up on both sides. A history of the case from the time the office of chief of police was abolished by the common council, was given by council for the plaintiff, who contended that by the right of law Mr. Rylands was still chief and should be considered so by the court. Mr. Rylands stated that the defendants, Pinkerman and two commissioners, Grand and Rishoe, had used force in trying to prevent him from acting as chief of police. Rylands detailed the scuffle he had in the city court a few days ago to secure possession of the chair provided for the chief of police. In answer to Judge Hall's question, he said he had exercised the duties of chief of police to the best of his ability. He said the men had refused to obey him. Cross-examined he admitted having kept no record of actual expenditures of the polics force The injunction case brought by Chief admitted having kept no record of actual expenditures of the policy force and said he had made no report to the police commissioners.

The attorney for the defendants asked to have the injunction dissolved but Judge Hall refused and continued the case as stated above.

A STILL HUNT FOR FOOD STUFFS Agents of the French Government Qui etly Buying Up Our Preducts.

CHICAGO, Sept. 80.—The Tribune says. It was learned yesterday that for the last three weeks agents of the French govern-ment have been quietly picking up an enormous amount of grain and meats. In meats they have been buying in Virginia couthern Ohio, Kentucky, St. Louis and points along the border the smoked hog products, as the salted products of Chicago are but little known abroad. But it is for flour and wheat that they have given their largest orders, amounting to 2,000,000 bar-rels of flour and 25,000,000 bushels of grain.

An inquiry as to why the French government should be secretly such a buyer ernment should be secretly such a buyer brought out this explanation: The government is in a delicate position in regard to both grain and meat in France. Prices are high and the demand for a removal of tariffs is pressing. Yet the government does not like to directly let down the bars. The threatening aspect of European affairs gives it a good excuse to provision The threatening aspect of European ar-fairs gives it a good excuse to provision itself strongly in advance—preparing for war in time of peace—and it knows as a matter of fact that those who buy latel must pay much higher prices for Ameri can products.

The rest of the club were well shaken up, and many received slight wounds. Mrs. Carter was sent to her home after she had been attended to by a physician. No one was seriously hurt.

Three Days Fighting and Five Hundred Dead Strew the Streets.

SUPPRESSED BY BARILLAS

The President Then Announces Himself Dictator and Proclaims Martial Law-A Beign of Terror Succeeds the Days of Blood.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 30 .- A revolu tion has been precipitated in the republic of Guatemala. A gentleman who left the city of Guatemala on the morning of the 16th inst., and who reached this city on horseback from the Mexican por of Acapulco yesterday, brings informa tion that an outbreak occurred in Guate mala city on the 15th inst., and was still in progress when he left. It appears that the people were celebrating the anniversary of their national holiday and Presi dent Barillas had personally appointed the orators of the day. To this the masses took exception, and when the orators took the rostrum it was the signal for a storm of stones which set them to flight they being chased across the big plaza by a howling mob shouting, "Down with the government; down with despotism and tyranny, die Barillas!"

Stoned at Every Step.

An exciting scene followed and every known Liberal and Barillas partisan was driven from the plaza, being soundly stoned at every step. The news of the riot spread rapidly and soon Barillas threw a battalion of infantry into the large square for the purpose of dispersing the mob. They, with fixed bayonets, at tempted to carry the plaza by assault. They were met with a shower of stones and bullets from revolvers. This unex-pected action of the mob put them to ignominious flight

The uproar was something long to be remembered. Members of the mob shouted. "Let's storm the national palace, kill Barillas and restore a republi-PRESIDENT BARILLAS. ernment. Guatemala should not be ruled by a dictator. Plundering of the national asury must cease." The Meb in Control.

Barillas then ordered artillery into the plaza, and infantry and two cannon to guard his residence. When the guns were turned on the mob there was a general dispersing of them. They discharged their revolvers at the artillery men. They left the plaza, but fought in the side streets, in fact they practically during the picht of fact they practically, during the night of the 15th, held full control of the city. The reports of revolvers and rifles were to be heard all night, and at the hour the gentle-man giving this information left for San Jose de Guatemala to embark for Acapulco fighting was still in progress.

Barillas Dictator. A special to The Anglo-American from Newton, on the line between Guatemala and Mexico, received in this city at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and delivered to that telegraphic station by special courier, brings information that Barillas is master of the situation, having put down the revolt in the city of Gautemala after three days of hard fighting. The arrival of troops from adjoining districts countrilly restored. Barillas to nower eventually restored Barillas to power, and the whole city is now infested with soldiers. Martial law has been declared.

A private dispatch to a prominent merchant in this city, who has business relations in the city of Guatemala, showed to your correspondent last night from Newton, says that fully 500 lives were sacrificed in the three days' fighting, and that President Barillas is still shooting down the participants in the revolt as if they were animals. The dispatch also conveys the information that Barillas has declare himself dictator. A Reign of Terror. The city is under martial law. A reign of terror prevails, the inhabitants being afraid to leave their houses.

A revolt has taken place at Quezaltenango, in which the revolutionary leader is reported to be supported by over 1,000 men. The palace and residence of President Ba rillas are guarded by both infantry and artillery. Barillas does not stir abroad unless guarded by a strong force of cav-

From another account it is learned that Colonel Jobon, by an order of Barillas, killed General Sanchez and was imme diately made, by Barillas, commander of artillery. It followed that a brother of General Sanchez, learning of his assassination, went to the place, which was sursounded by cannon, where Jobon was stationed, and shot and killed him. The press has been reprimanded, and not only the editors, but the proprietors are threatened; but, nevertheless, the newspaper articles continue to be very strong against the government.

Fierce Fire in Philadeiphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—A perfect tempest of flame swept through the inflam mable stock in the oil warehouse of Phil lips & Cunningham, at 136 North Dela ware avenue, and the structure was ablaze from cellar to roof in twenty minutes after another %c. before noon, when the market was firm; receipts, 186,700 bushels; shipments, 214. utmost efforts of the firemen the flames spread to the rag warehouse of Jessup & Moore, adjoining the burning oil store on the north and to the warehouses at 129, 131 and 133 Water street. While the fire was at its height the walls of Jessup & Moore's warehouse fell in, burying eight firemen beneath them. The buried men were got out as quickly as possible. None was killed The loss is roughly estimated at $500,000.

Burning Into the Earth.

JUNEAU, Wis., Sept. 30.—Extensive fires have raged on Horicon marsh, six miles north, during the last week, and have not only destroyed thousands of tons of hay stacked there, but are burning out the sod and making the land valueless for several years to come. The marsh contains about 13,000 acres of land, of which it is esti-mated 12,000 acres have been burned over.

Hon. P. A. Collins, on taking the chair, was loudly cheered. He delivered an address in the course of which he challenged Mr. Lodge and his Re-publican associates to indicate to a curious public the legitimate industry that has state or the wages that are raised after a year's opera-tion of the Mc-W. E. RUSSELL. Kinley bill. The interests of this state were sacrificed because it was necessary to pay the debts of the administration to monopoly. The in-dignant uprising of the people that aston-ished Mr. Lodge and his confederates was the intelligent protest of Massachusetts against the treachery of her Republican congressmen, and her demand for relief will not be abated until the whole tariff shall be reasonably reduced, and until un-taxed coal, crude iron, lumber and wool shall come to revive her injured industries. Mr. Collins' address was mainly, however, confined to state issues.

Unanimously Renominated. Hon. J. E. Russell, of Leicester, then addressed the convention. He was loudly cheered, and his nomination of W. E. Russell for governor was seconded by Hon. Edw. G. Donovan. Governor Russell was thereupon unanimously renominated.

Governor Russell was then introduced and signified his acceptance of the nomination.

Governor Russell's Speech. In the course of his speech of acceptance Governor Russell, after referring to state issues, said:

Of national questions there are three of paramount importance—the tariff, silver and the civil service. On the last we gladly invite a comparison between the present national administration and its predecessor, or the Democratic administration in this state. For the cratic administration in this state. For the first time in some years federal officers are left free to take an active and offensive part in caucuses, conventions and campaigns, and even Republican state officials, appointed by the governor, do not hesitate to become active political partisans. The protests of the national civil service commission against such conduct go unheeded, and the old abuses of compulsory contributions from officials have been revived. In the civil service under Republican adminis-In the civil service under Republican adminis-tration there has been an utter and shameless abandonment of the spirit and purpose of the

We believe that revision and reduction of tariff taxation is the supreme political issue and we again declare that it should be on lines of free raw material and cheapening the cost of the necessaries of life. We confidently believe that this will be a benefit not only to all our people but expecially to New Furderal industries. that this will be a benefit not only to all our peo-ple, but especially to New England industries; the demand of our industries for such reduction has been unheeded in the McKinley bill. We de-clare our purpose, in behalf of our industries and in the people's interest, to fight for this re-duction until the people get their burden of taxation lessened and our industries the bene-fit of their location by receiving through our seaports their raw material free of taxation.

Whitney's Brother in Rascality Sentenced to Six Years' Imprisonment. Buffalo, Sept. 30.—William Gould. in the Albany county penitentiary.
When Gould was brought into court his eyes appeared bloodshot and there was a general look of disorder about his hitherto neatly kept person which was plain evidence of the feeling with which he realizes his position. He was dressed in black broadcloth, and held in his fingers a half smoked cigar, which he nervously chewed.

Judge Coxe told Gould to stand up and Judge Coxe told Gould to stand up and asked if there was anything he wished to ask. "No," replied Gould, feebly, and "No," also said Lawyer Hoyt.

"I think it is proper at this time," said Judge Coxe, addressing the prisoner, "I should say that I concur fully in the verdict which the jury has reached in your case. In literaing to the avidence it seemed. case. In listening to the evidence, it seemed to me that no other verdict was possible and that a verdict of acquittal would have been almost a travesty upon justice. Having said this, nothing further is needed from the court.

"The lesson of this trial is too plain to need any comment from me, and I have no wish by any word of mine to add a single pang to the sorrow and remorse which I know you and others suffer, perhaps even more than you feel at this hour. The sentence of the law is that you be imprisoned in the Albany county penitentiary for a term of six years."

Gould did not apparently flinch when he heard his sentence.

THE CHILIAN SITUATION.

It Is Not Alarming-That Is All the Information Given. WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.-The Chilian situation is not alarming and aside from this single authorative statement made no information on the subject can be obtained. That it continues to command attention however, is attested by the fact that both the state and navy departments are con stantly in receipt of cablegrams from Chili. Acting Secretary Wharton had an audience with the president just before the cabinet met, and upon his return to the state department he was closeted with the Hon. John W. Foster, the department special agent, for some time.

It is understood that the Chilian situation was also considered at the cabinet meeting, which was attended by all the members excepting Secretary Blaine. The Appropriation Exhausted. RUSSIA'S AWFUL PLIGHT

Such Widespread Distress Has Not Been Known for Centuries.

PRASANTS LIVING ON FILTH

Sweepings and Refuse Unfit for Cattle Gladly Baten by the Starving People-Disastrous Fires and a Cattle Plague Ensue.

LONDON, Sept. 30 .- A dispatch from St. Petersburg to The Telegraph describing the situation in Russia arising from the failure of the crops, and detailing harrowing incidents of the famine now prevailing, part of which has already been cabled to the United States, says that not for centuries has such widespread distress been recorded.

The trouble is chiefly due to the government, which at the beginning of the year was aware that a famine was imminent. The authorities delayed taking action to relieve the distress until it was too late. What benefit would have been derived from the prohibition of the exportation of rye was nullified by the action of the government in extending the time for the decree to go into effect.

Fire Adds Its Terrors. In addition to the scarcity of food, which has caused untold suffering, the distress has been intensified by the enormous number of unusually disastrous fires that have occurred throughout the famine stricken districts. In many of the districts entire villages have been destroyed. The inhabitants, weak with lack of food and with no prospect of improving their condition, made no attempt to check the progress of the flames, but stood and watched their dwellings burn.

Some of them fell on their knees and prayed the Almighty to extinguish the fire. Added to these cruel strokes of fortune came the cattle plague, which caused great havoc. Thousands of head of cattle perished and thus many families lost their only means of subsistence.

Existing on Refuse. What little food it is possible for the peasants to obtain is of the vilest description, but so sharp are the pangs of hunger that they gladly eat what at other times they would not touch. In many cases their only food is the sweepings and refuse from the flour mills. In Saratoff the landowners found this refuse so injurious to their cattle that they would not feed it to them. But, though it was not fit for cat-tle to eat, the landowners made bread of it and sold it to the peasants.

Bread made of finely chopped straw and bran mixed with a very small quantity of rye is considered a godsend. In many districts the starving peasantry are not able to procure even these miserable substi-tutes for nourishing food, and are reduced to dire straits to procure anything that will prolong life.

A Bad Sign. BERLIN, Sept. 30.—The Post says: "The fact that the Russian papers are devoid of news about the famine is a bad sign. The intensity of the distress may be judged from the fact that in many places the elementary schools have been closed on account of lack of funds."

The Pope Celebrates Mass. ROME, Sept. 30.—An imposing religious ceremony took place in St. Peter's church. For several days the pope has been receiving bodies of religious pilgrims from various countries, and the city is filled with the devout, many of whom have traveled long distances to pay honor to the earthly head of the Catholic church. When it was announced that the pope in person would celebrate low mass great eagerness was manifested by the pilgrims to attend the services

Long before the doors of the church were opened this morning a great crowd gathered on the piazza in front of the structure awaiting an opportunity to enter. Detachments of troops from the Italian army were stationed about the piazza for the purpose of maintaining order, as it was feared that in the pushing, struggling throng some would meet with accident. When the doors were opened the pilgrims entered the church, all signs of impatience vanishing as they passed the portals. Sixty thousand persons were in the

Sixty Thousand Pilgrims Present. At 8:40 o'clock the pope, seated upon the sedia gestatoria and borne upon the shoulders of members of the papal guard, entered the church, and was carried to his throne at the pontifical altar. He was attired in white vestments and wore upon his head the papal tiara. He carried in each hand fans which resembled palm leaves. These fans are only used at great ceremonials. As the head of the procession entered the church the trumpeters of the Swiss guard heralded the approach of the pope. As the pope was borne along above the heads of the assembled thousands he raised his hands and bestowed his benediction right and left until he reached the altar. Great enthusiasm was shown, men waving their hats and women their handkerchiefs. It is estimated that sixty thouand pilgrims were present in St. Peter's during the celebration of the mass.

London's New Lord Mayor. LONDON, Sept. 30.—David Evans, Esq., who represents Castle Bayard ward in the board of aldermen, has been elected to succeed Sir John Savory as lord mayor of London. The mayor-elect, Mr. Evans, was elected alderman in 1885.

Dr. Jenkes and the End of the World. INDIANAPOLIS, Sept 30.—Dr. Jenkes, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, has been a close student of history as applied to revelation. He professes to have made discoveries which, applied to prophecies, sonvince him beyond a doubt that the end of the world will certainly come within the next ten years. A large element of his church strenuously objected to this summary winding up of all things earthly and Dr. Jenkes has been asked to seek another
