An Appeal to the Charitable.

When the Knight street church was completed, the little band of colored worshipers there found themselves in-volved in a debt of some two hundred dollars over and above what it was possible for them, at that time, to raise, as sible for them, at that time, to raise, as it was additional to the very considerable amount they had themselves contributed and collected from other kind friends. This remaining indebtedness has been carried to the present time, and now it must be paid, and Deacon John D. Taylor is calling on the good people of the town for contributions to that worthwend. One generous genthat worthy end. One generous gen-tleman haspledged him $25, and a noble lady $10 more, but he is still far short of the amount he must raise and we be-speak for Deacon Taylor a generous reception by our citizens, as his cause is a noble one and his needs are great and pressing.

A Political Rumor.

It is rumored in Hartford that the friends of Gov. Hill in Connecticut are trying to carry out a deep laid plan to capture the Connecticut delegates to the next Democratic National convention. The plan is to compel Mr. Davis to retire from the chairmanship of the State committee, and have William H. Talmadge, of Stamford, appointed in his place. Mr. Talmadge is known to be an ardent Hill man, and is said to have deleved, that he would spend have declared that he would spend money freely to defeat Mr. Cleveland, even if he was nominated. It is firmly believed by many that Mr. Eaton and Judge Burdsall are at the bottom of the movement.

It took but a few moments to wash the blood from the scratches on his face and neck, where he had crowded his head through the port hole, and then a sadder but a wiser man, he rushed over to Ward-well's market to relate his blood-curdling experience and escape, but not un-til he had implored Honnecker and all, "For God's sake don't let the DAILY GAZETTE get on to this." ### The Pier to the Saugatuck Bridge Carried Away.

One of the guard piers to the Saugatuek carriage bridge, which some of the papers are speaking of as spile piers, is in fact a pier without spiles sunk to position in the water by a weight of stone—a regular cheat for which a round price was paid in town money. The pier looked well enough and was all right until the stones were displaced. Then the structure floated away, the current taking it down towards the railroad bridge, where it now lies. The pier on the north side of the bridge is of the same character—ready to leave the moment the stones holding it are displaced. This miser-One of the guard piers to the Sauga ready to leave the moment the stones holding it are displaced. Sen. Seymour's Brooklyn Speech. Senator John S. Seymour addressed a large audience in the South Brooklyn Democratic Club House last night, following the Hon. D. A. Boody, the Democratic candidate for Mayor, who resigned his seat in Congress to accept this nomination. Senator Seymour first discussed the tariff as it affected Brooklyn industries, then the World's Fair, then Warner miller's position, predicted the election of Flower by a majority of 30,000, and the election of a Democratic majority in the New York State Sanate.

in the New York State Ssnate.

On the Connecticut situation, we give his speech at length:

"Republican politics are fraught with danger to the general good. Its tendencies are toward few rule. Everywhere, in all states, and in the federal government, its plots, its policy, its constitution-making are all in the direction of securing greater voting strength than belongs to it. In a wide sense, the contest is around the representative principle, we for it and they sentative principle, we for it and they against it. The government of the people, by the people, and for the people, the lofty purpose of the fathers of of the republic, revirified in the lofty utterance of Lincoln, has been degraded into a mean purpose of governgraded into a mean purpose of government of the people, by the few, for the benefit of a part of the few. New states have been created out of populations as few in number as the eight-eenthward in this city, or a county in the country, wherever it was ascertained that their two Senators, and their representative in Congress would be Republican. Of all the pregnant sayings of the masterly platform of principles adopted by your recent State Convention, those respecting the suffrage, the fair representation of the people in the legislative bodies of the country, stand out with the noblest prominence. They have a wider emplication to public affects a wider application to public affairs than any other. And in the whole body of the terrible indictment against the Republican scheme, the strongest is that cantained in the words, "It covertthat cantained in the words, "It covertly lends its influence to the restriction of manhood suffrage." None comes home with greater force to a Democrat in another state. You charge them with depriving you of a congressman from this state, by a false count of the people. You charge them with preventing a re-appropriament of the state venting a re-apportionment of the state in assembly districts, and these charges are true. No language is too strong with which to condemn the set purpose to herd together Democratic voters in districts in order to keep from them their fair representation in the legisla tive body which rules over them. This they have done in this state; this is a wrong you will right in the election. In this part of your contest the Democracy of Connecticut is with you.

Connecticut is a constitutional gerry-mander from one end of the state to the other. Population has long since ceased to be a guide in measuring out constituencies entitled to representation in either branch of the General Assembly.
With us, everything goes by towns.
No town has less than one representative in the lower house, no matter how small it may be; no town has more than two, no matter how large it may be; and some of the smallest also have two. The very smallest town in the state, away up on the Massachusetts line, with a population of 421, including women and children, sends two representatives. The city of Bridgeport with 48,866 inhabitants, the city of Hartford with 53,230, the city of New Haven with 86,045 inhabitants, send only two each. Forty-four small towns of the state, each having a population of less than a thousand inhabitants, and together having a population of but 30,881, send fifty-four members out of the 252 to the general assembly; while the city of Waterlation of the state, together send up but thirty-four members, or less than one-seventh of the entire body. This is the body that appoints governors when no one candidate gets more votes than all the others put together. The people have had nothing to say about the election of a governor up there since 1882, when Thomas M. Waller was elected. The unrepresentative legislature has done the business every time, and appointed a Republican.

Last year Luzon B. Morris, the Democratic candidate for Governor got more votes than all his competitors combined, but under the pretext that the general assembly could revise the election, the Republican branch refused to declare the result for months, and then declared contrary to the returns, while the Republican former Governor, who himself was never elected by the people, holds over by force.

When the Democratic Governor elect takes the case to the courts, the Republicans delay by all known devices, and finally plead that the court has no jurisdiction, after having ostentatiously proclaimed to the world that they were ready and eager to go to the courts at lieve that the courts will take jurisdiction, and decide the case, and were it not that there is an abiding conscioustion, and decide the case, and were it not that there is an abiding consciousness that following that decision there must soon come a time when the people will sit in judgment on these plotters, after searching for her ten years, was a strongly acted scene. Mr. Herrington's Jew, Moses Levi, caught the house and delighted the audience every time

There has been no legislation, no appropriation of money for public purposes, no appointments to office requiring senatorial approval, while this bad work has been going on. But there is one compensating gain for all the loss and disgrace of this contest: There will be a revision of the constitution, re-instat-Mrs. Parnell Improving.

Ira Betts, of Wilton, whose death was recently announced in these columns, received his military title on account of his having been commander of a company of Wiltonian militia more than a half century ago. He used to conduct quite a large hat shop at that period, near his home at South Wilton, on the banks of the Norwall wires. He with the leta LeGrand walk river. He, with the late LeGrand Sturges, it used to be claimed, were the only two practical hatters living who could catch a rabbit, prepare its fur and turn it out a complete and finished hat, curled, bound, lined and trimmed and all complete, with their own hands and without the assistance of any one else, from beginning to completion. Prior to the war, he used to be a regular attendent each Monday night at the session of our Brothers Louge, I. O. O. F. here in Norwalk, and as a sort of con-necting link between the past and present, he was always interesting and in-structive. He was the father of Capt. A. A. Betts, of Norwalk, as we have before stated.

"Lost in a Great City" was produced at the Opera House last evening by the Frost & Fanshawe Co., and proved to be a strong sensational story of high life and low life in the metronolis, well put together. Mr. Fanshawe, in the double role of the Hartley brothers, one who is imprisoned for murder, the other who ferrets out the assassins any time, in any form.

There is a ground swell of deep and determined feeling throughout the state. Were it not that the people bestate. Were it not that the people bestate. GREEN BURNED AT THE STAKE swift and Fearful Punishment Meted Out to the Negro Murderer. QUEEN CITY, Tex., Oct. 28.—The negro Lee Green, who murdered the wife and shild of Farmer Lowe, was arrested near Kildare and hurried, under cover of darkness, to jail at Linden. Subsequently a crowd of 1,000 blacks and whites took him from the jail to the scene of the murder, fastened a trace chain about his neck to hold him in a standing posture and then forty-six negro men piled fagots high up around him, an old negress touched a match to it and in a few minutes his soul passed into eternity, only a few hours after those of his victims.

Mrs. Lowe and child were buried side by side in a common grave. The other shild is doing well and is out of danger.

An Actor Cuts His Throat.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.— A. M. Denison, twenty-five years old, a member of the Kendal company, now playing at the Star theater, in this city, committed suicide in his room at the Hotel Arno by cutting his throat with a razor. Denison came over from England with Mr. and Mrs. Kendal and took part in the performance last night. He had been in a gloomy mood for the past week.

Paterson Now Owns Cleveland's Deer. PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 28.-Joseph Jefferson, the veteran actor, has presented the city of Paterson with five deer for its parks. The deer were formerly owned by ex-President Cleveland, who purchased the tor Mrs. Cleveland while at Red Top

Williams Was Not Murdered.

CONTLAND, N. Y., Oct. 28.—A coroner's jury has decided that Horace Williams, whose body was found in a creek, was not murdered. John Dobbin, who was suspected of having some knowledge of Williams' death, was arrested, but proved an Closing Quotations of the New York Stock Exchange.

New York, Oct. 27.—Money on call loaned at easy rates, namely, 3 per cent. Exchange steady; posted rates, $4.81½@4.81½; actual rates, $4.89½; $4.81 for sixty days and $4.83½@4.83¾ for demand. Governments steady; currency 68, 11 bid; 4s, coupon, 116% bid; extended 2s, registered, 100 bid.

The trading in the stock market this morning was still on a limited scale. The principal trading was in St. Paul, Atchison, Chicago Gas, Omaha preferred and Lake Erie and Western.

Omaha preferred and Lake Erie and Western. The opening was firm, with prices fractionally higher in sympathy with a firm and higher market for American securities abroad. The market for American securities abroad. The first prices were 1/2 to 3/2 per cent. higher than those of last evening, but this strength did not ast, and their earlier advance was soon lost, except in the case of Chicago Gas, which continued strong and made another fractional advance. The market continued weak, and prices declined steadily up to 11 o'clock. Omaha preferred fell 1 per cent., to 93%, and Lake Erie and Western preferred, 13/4 to 63%. The decline in the others was only slight. Delaware and Hudson was the feature of the second hour. It was freely hammered by the bears, and fell rapidly from 182% to 130, causing a further rapidly from 1324 to 130, causing a further shrinkage in prices for the general market. The noon figures were about the lowest of the day. The decline at that hour compared with yesterday's figures ranged from 1/6 to 21/4 per cent. At the close the market was dull. The ales for the morning amounted to 714,100

THE CHILIAN SITUATION

Uncle Sam Will Have Full Reparation and No Nonsense.

THE CABINET IN SESSION.

Secretary Blaine Was Present and Chili's Arrogance Was the Subject Discussed. Another of the Wounded Sailors Dies-Egan's Formal Demand.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.-All the members of the cabinet except Secretary Foster were present at the meeting Tuesday. Secretary Blaine came late. It was the first meeting he has attended for many months. The Chilian situation was under discussion.

It is stated that President Harrison and Secretary Blaine are determined to exact full reparation from Chili and will stand no nonsense. Uncle Sam will be ready to back up his ultimatum, for it is reported that Secretary Tracy furnished the president at cabinet meetings, at the latter's request, with a list of ships which could be gathered in Chilian waters within ninety days. The naval department says that within this time the Southern Pacific squadron could be re-enforced by seven warships.

At the same time there was no disposition to press unduly hard on Chili, but Secretary Blaine is determined to put a stop to this outrage business on Uncle Sam's sailors and has called a "halt." It will be bad for Chili if she does not stop.

The Formal Demand Made. Minister Egan made a formal demand on the Chilian junta at Santiago for an explanation of the killing and wounding of the Baitimore's sailors and reparation for the injuries inflicted.

Another victim has been added to the list of our sailors who were murdered by the Chilian mob. It is reported unofficially to the state department that Coal Heaver William Turnbull, of the Baltimore, has succumbed to his wounds.

He received twenty stabs in the back during the fracas with the Chilians. The condition of David N. Anderson is still precarious, but the other four wounded men are progressing favorably.

The result of the investigation conduct ed by Captain Schley showed that Petty Officer Charles Riggan, of the Baltimore, was riding in a street car when he was brutally assaulted by several Chilians. Riggan resisted, was dragged from the car, and while in the arms of his companions he was killed by a pistol shot fired by one of the infuriated Chilians.

Colonel Wilson's Report on West Point Colonel Wilson, superintendent of the West Point Military academy, has submitted his annual report to the secretary of war. Colonel Wilson reports on Sept. 1, 1891, there were eight professors and fifty-five commissioned officers stationed at the post, and a class of 287 cadets The class is about 17 per cent. less than the maximum authorized under the census of 1880. The new census increases the maximum to 371, and Colonel Wilson recom-mends that this be increased to 401, as he thinks the plant is amply sufficient to turn out a larger number of graduates each

In his last report Colonel Wilson suggested that the cadets should pass a physical examination before reporting to the academy. He now recommends that candidates be required to report for physical examination to the nearest medical officer of the army immediately after receiving their letters of appointment, and should they be pronounced physically disqualified for military duty their appointments can at once be revoked and they will be spared further expense and mortification. Should they be pronounced qualified, they should be admitted without further physical examination, provided they pass the mental

In reporting on the artillery of the post, Colonel Wilson says: "I respectfully invite attention to the report of Sept. 8, 1890, tillery of this post. The condition today remains exactly the same."

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 28.—A deputation of the richest merchants of Moscow came to this city and petitioned the government for permission to organize a society to re-lieve the fearful distress in the famine districts. There is an immense amount of capital at the back of the visiting merchants, and they have an army of volun-teers at work in the stricken districts. The Minister of the Interior has refused to give his consent to the proposed relief organization, and has declared that visitors to the famine districts for similar objects will be promptly arrested. Anti-Jewish riots are reported from various places. In Tchernigoff fifty Jews were killed and hundreds were wounded. The forests are full of Jewish refugees who are dying of starvation. The czar has sent a commis sion to inquire into the facts.

A Mania for Silver Dollars.

MALDEN. Mass., Oct. 28.—Horace B. Thompson, the gate tender, who was found on the Boston and Maine track with his skull broken, died, not having recovered consciousness. In his gatehouse was found a satchel filled with silver dollars, and silver dollars were also found about his clothing. He was quiet in his habits, and always wanted his pay in silver dollars, which he put in a valise and carried about with him. The silver coin found in his possession weighed twenty-seven pounds.

Louisville's Destructive Explosion. LOUISVILLE, Oct. 28.—A boiler in the Louisville Electric Light works exploded last evening, fatally injuring William Adams, fireman, and wrecking the building. Fragments of the boiler were hurled across the alley into the rear of Kauffman & Strauss' dry goods store, firing the building. The store was gutted. Total loss,

His Neck Dislocated at Football. BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 28.-A day or two ago Augustine Paul, a fourteen-year-old lad, who lives at 324 East Fifth street, was playing football and got his neck dislo-cated. The doctors refuse to replace the vertabree for fear of snapping the spinal cord and thus causing instant death.

ALBANY, Oct. 28.—The second division court of appeals handed down a decision affirming the decision in the Tilden will case and declaring the will invalid. The estate when inventoried was upward of disease. Take Dr. Pierce's $6,000,000 and is now believed to be worth $8,000,000, as the valuations made in 1886 were at very conservative figures. So the smallest share that will fall to any contestant is in the neighborhood of $700,000. The estate will now be divided under the statute of distribution that regulates the inheritance of property.

The issue of Mrs. Pelton and of Henry

A. Tilden, the sister and brother of Gov. Tilden, come in for equal shares of the $8,000,000. Mrs. William B. Hazard, whose husband is a clerk in New York, is the only heir on the Pelton side and is thus entitled to $4,000,000. The other $4,000,000 is subject to the claims of the six children of Henry A. Tilden. They are George H. Tilden, Samuel J. Tilden, Jr., Mrs. William B. Whitsley, Mrs. Swan, a widow who lives in New Lebanon; Mrs. Willis S. Paine, of Albany, and Mrs. Schwartz, also of Albany, the youngest daughter, who was married about a year ago.

The opinion is written by Judge Brown, and is concurred in by all of the judges except Judge Bradley, who writes a dis-senting opinion. The opinion takes up thirty-five pages of type written copy and is very exhaustive.

The Free Library Knocked Out. This decision ends one of the most interesting will cases on record. When George H. and Samuel J. Tilden, Jr., the nephews of the late Samuel J. Tilden, announced that they would contest the will of their uncle, the public, and particularly the legal fraternity, were greatly astonished. If Samuel J. Tilden was unable to make a valid will, who could? It was the general opinion that the case would be a short one and that the will would stand intact.

The dissatisfied nephews have fought the executors and trustees from the supreme court to the court of appeals. The case has attracted attention in New York city particularly, for it is understood that if Mr. Tilden's will stood as he meant it to New York would be greatly benefited. Mr. Tilden had made provision in it for giving that city a magnificent free library located in the Tilden mansion, on Gramercy, park. The will also called for the establishment of the "Tilden trust," to be conducted on the same general plan as Cooper Union. But by this decision of the court of appeals, which is final, the will is set aside so far as its clauses relate to the establishment of the free library and the Tilden

The executors of the will appointed by Mr. Tilden are Andrew H. Green, John Bigelow and George W. Smith. The will was originally drawn some years ago by Governor Tilden himself, and submitted by himself to Charles O'Conor. Mr. O'Conor, when he heard the clause read by which Governor Tilden gave a large portion of his fortune to establishing a great free library in New York, expressed the opinion that it was unsatisfactory. Shortly afterward Mr. O'Conor went to Nantucket, on what proved to be his last journey. Governor Tilden sent the will to him to remedy the clause which was weak, but Mr. O'Conor died before this could be done.

The provision which Governor Tilden made for his relatives was $75,000 apiece for the nephews and $150,000 apiece for the nieces. This was considered by them out-rageously small, and they one and all resolved to contest the will with a view of breaking it.

The Weak Point. The fight was on the thirty-fifth section of the will, which provided for the library scheme. This part by itself would prob-ably have stood, but a further provision in the same clause empowered the executors, if for any reason they did not think fit to apply the money to the library scheme, to distribute it to such charitable. educational or scientific institutions as seemed best in their judgment. Neither in this country nor in England has the law ever allowed executors to dispose of money as they saw fit, but only for some specific purpose expressed by the testator. If the purpose of the testator was not clear enough in the judgment of the court, or if, his purpose being clear, the object of his benefactions was not explicitly enough defined, the will has always been broken, as has occurred in the Tilden Robbed and Fired by the Janitor. COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 28.—Some time after midnight a fire broke out in a dangerous neighborhood, at the corner of High and Long streets. For a time it looked as if the Moneypenny block would be destroyed, but the flames were confined to a building occupied by J. C. Cleary's saloon. There is conclusive evidence that the saloon was broken into and robbed by the janitor of the building, who intentionally or accidentally set the place on fire. He was found in his room near by beastly intoxicated, with a number of articles he had taken from the saloon in his possession.

An Innocent Man Pardoned. NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Governor Hill has signed a full pardon for Edward Kohout, who has been in Sing Sing six years for a crime of which he is innocent. Kohout and his brother were convicted of firing a tenement in this city by which four persons lost their lives, and were sentenced to imprisonment for life. Kohout's brother confessed that he and another man were Blew Out the Gas.

Boston, Oct. 28.-James Reardon was found dead and Michael Lardon unconscious in Reardon's room in a boarding house on Harrison avenue. The men had been drinking and one of them blew out the gas. Lardon is at the hospital in a critical condition.

Ohio Catches a Tartar, and Lake Erie

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28.—A special from Conneaut says that a terrible cyclone struck that town shortly after 6 o'clock last evening, destroying about thirty houses and causing a lost of $100,000. The terrific wind storm was accompanied by very little rain.

Ricord's butter tub factory, worth
$50,000, was completely wrecked. The Lake Shore depot was also demolished and wreckage strewn upon the tracks for half a mile, rendering them impassable for several hours. Both the Nickel Plate and Lake Shore telegraph lines are tangled up on the ground, and many fine residences are unroofed and otherwise damaged. It is thought that no lives were northern Ohio and much damage to shipping reported. In Cleveland the velocity of the wind was from thirty to forty miles an hour and Lake Erie was literally turned inside out. Several vessels are reported to have been wrecked, but no definite news has as yet been received concerning them.

Negroes Make Ugly Threats.

BRENHAM, Tex., Oct. 28.-A document vas found posted at a street corner, signed by D. D. Delton, of Baxter county, and Jim Powell, of Grimes county, warning the white people of the intention of the negroes to have a changed condition of affairs Nov. 1, and making the assertion that the change will be such as people will not want to see again. It says the white people have robbed the negroes for six years and calculates the amount at $11,-400,330. They have oppressed the negroes. But forty cents per 100 pounds have been paid for picking cotton, which has kept the negroes so poor they could not leave.
A great many threats are made against the white people generally. As this is a hotbed, trouble is expected.

An Indian Girl Scared to Death. CHADRON, Neb., Oct. 28.—A number of Sioux Indians were in town trading. Among them was a beautiful Indian maiden of seventeen years. Her curiosity led her to look into the window of John Larkins' restaurant, where Calamity Hank, a gambler, was eating. Hank turned upon her, and as a joke raised his arms and with a terrible yell started toward the girl. She turned pale and with a moan dropped on the pavement unconscious. She was taken to her parents' tepee, where she died literally scared to

A Catholic Priest Sued.

Boston, Oct. 28.-Maria Kullberg, a storekeeper in East Boston, sues Rev. Hugh R. O'Donnell, a Catholic priest, to recover $5,000 damages for the ruin of plaintiff's business by a boycott placed on her store by the priest. Mrs. Kullberg refused to send her children to the parochial school, and alleges in her charge that because she did so refuse, defendant from the altar publicly and officially issued an interdict forbidding all his parishioners and his congregation to trade or in any way associate with the plaintiff.

Boston, Oct. 28.-Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Hopkins left last evening on the Shore line train for New York. Trouble has arisen in the preparations for the celebration of Archbishop Kendrick's golden jubilee at St. Louis by an order excluding children attending public schools from participation. It was stated that this had been done owing to want of room to accommodate all the Catholic children in the city, but great dissatisfac-tion has been caused, and the result may be the abandonment of the celebration. The amount of the shortage of Treasurer Doerflinger, of the Alleghany school board,

The Campaign in Cork Likely to Culminate in Serious Riots.

THE FACTIONS WAX BITTER

A Bloody Clash Between the Parnellites and Healyites Only Prevented by a Charge of Mounted Police-Cudgels Everywhere.

CORK, Oct. 28.—The campaign waxes hilarious and exciting. Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien arrived here Tuesday and were promptly seized upon by their enthusiastic followers, who insisted upon unhitching the horses from the carriage in which the leaders were seated. When this had been accomplished Dr. Charles K. D. Tanner, member of parliament for the middle division of the county of Cork, and a priest were shoved, hauled and butted onto the carriage box. A large body guard from Maurice Healy's quarter of the city, all armed with good stout blackthorns, then surrounded the vehicle, which, in the midst of a terrific yell, began its progress toward the assembly rooms. The Healyites, with sticks waving in the air, and uttering stentorian cheers for O'Brien and Dillon, marched in a compact mass in the roadway.

Parnellites Charged by the Police.

On the sidewalks, and side by side with their opponents, half walked, half trotted a perspiring and hard swearing throng of Parnellites, while between the two bodies of marchers went the police, manfully warding off occasional vicious blows of the blackthorns and always preserving the peace. When the procession reached the assembly rooms and the two leaders attempted to address the vast crowd, their voices were at once drowned in yells and cries of "Murderers!" "Traitors!" "Cow-

Finally the Parnellites gathered themselves together for a rush, and were sweeping down upon the Healyites when the mounted police charged them and drove them back.

The city is full of priests and peasants all armed with cudgels. It is almost certain that a serious riot will occur sooner

A Priest's Strong Language.

The sermon preached last Sunday at Kilkenny by Father Fidelis, of the Order of St. Francis, is much commented on in this city and elsewhere. Father Fidelis, on that occasion, among other bitter things, said that Parnell, "who was the most depraved monster who ever lived," was "now swept off the face of the earth." The father also said that the women who were supporting his (Parnell's) cause "were limbs of the devil," and that the local workingmen's club was a "synagogue of

Dynamite in Dublin,

DUBLIN, Oct. 28.—A dynamite bomb was exploded on the street in front of the office of The National Press (anti-Parnellite), and the shock of the explosion, which partially wrecked the office, was felt two miles distant. The watchman at the building had been lured away by a sham street fight. The outrage is attributed to Parnellites, and is very generally condemned. No one was injured.

The National Press says: "The men who laid an infernal machine at our door have been taught for the past ten months by The Freeman's Journal and United Ireland that freedom of opinion will no longer be tolerated, and that every oppos-ing Nationalist may righteously be mobbed and, if necessary, murdered. They are instruments of crime who have been educated by their masters to the cowardly practice of their own precepts of Parnellism. With the death of their creator they have descended to the practices of nihilists and Carbonari.

The disclosures were made by his father, who is secretary and treasirer. For some time he had known some thing was wrong, but only a full investigation of the books showed the extent of William Munson's defalcation. Last night the disgraced father stood in the meeting coom of the association and made known the shortage of his son. The association, which is one of the oldest in the city, will be placed in the hands of a receiver.

Slosson Defeats Schaefer

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The match game at billiards in Chickering hall between "Wizard" Schaefer and "Student" Sloson for $1,000 and the door receipts was decidedly one-sided affair, in which the 'Wizard' cut a sorry figure, his highest run being only 48. Slosson's highest run was 173, and he won the game in the thirtysixth inning with a score of 800 to Schaefer's 392. Winner's average, 22 2-9; loser's average, 11 1-5. The game was not for the champ onship. The two men have now played thirty-three matches, of which Slosson has won seventeen and Schaeter

DRESS GOODS.

It would appear that any advertising of this department is almost a superfluity with us nowadays. And yet in these times when advertising has grown to such an art, and printers' ink is so largely used to attract business, it seems best for us to continue on the old lines, advising the community in a moderate way of some of the attractions and advantages which this large stock offers to consumers. We propose always to adhere to the practice of understating rather than overstating the facts as to the extent and variety of this great stock, and of our constantly enlarging facilities for the proper service of the public in the lines of business to which we devote special attention—first and foremost among which is Dress Goods.

Medium Grade Dress Goods.

We have spoken often of late of the finer class of Dress Goods with which our stock overflows. Quite as many original and stylish effects the shown in the medium grade dress seuffs. Quartermaster General Rudd will inspect the state belongings now in the care of Co. D, 4th regiment, C. N. G., Four cars loaded with potatoes grown way up in Vermont arrived here this morning. They are consigned to parties in the borough. James McAuley who died this morning, was a member of the Finishers' Association and his heirs will receive the funeral benefit of $300.

We have it on good authority that a certain officer of Co. F has signified a willingness to resign if anyone will give him $200 for his uniform.

George Schaub celebrated his birthday, last night, by entertaining the Arion Singing Society. A happy time was had by all who participated.

Rev. Irving Bailey Potter is dead at his home in Danbury. Mr. Potter is well known here among the Adventists. Elder H. H. Tucker, of East Norwalk will officiate at the funeral. He was 68 years of age.

The remains of "Grandma" Benson, mention of whose death at the Bridgeport hospital appeared in yesterday's GAZETTE, will be brought to this city to-day. The funeral will be held from the East Norwalk Methodist church, to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock She was 100 years old on the 14th of this month.

George Schutz, employed at the forming factory in this city, was taken with a fit yesterday afternoon. He was placed in a hack and taken to his home in Rowayton. While getting out of the carriage he was taken with another fit and it required the united exertions of three men to get him into the house. He is somewhat recovered to-day.

Dr. Boutwell's horse was hitched on North Main street last night about 8 o'clock. It became frightened at some-thing, broke the hitch line and ran across the tracks and down South Main street to Quintard avenue, into A. G. Judson's place and over a stone wall, horse and carriage falling on the other side a distance of six feet. Remarkable as it may seem the horse was in no wise injured. The carriage was considerably wrecked.

James McAuley died at his home, corner of Haviland and Water streets, this morning, in the 40th year of his age. He was born in New York, was a hatter by trade and had lived in this city for eighteen years. He married the vidow of the late Richard Hadden, since which time he has been engaged in the hotel business. He had been ill for about one year, but not confined to his bed until the past three weeks. He had many friends who mourn his death.

A young lad whose name we did not A young lad whose name we did not learn, attempted to jump on Lincoln's express wagon near the depot, yesterday afternoon. In so doing he entangled one of his legs in the spokes of the wagon wheel and was thrown to the ground. The driver stopped his horse as quickly as possible, and the lad was taken from his perilous position. He taken from his perilous position. He bravely started to walk off, but his wounded leg failed to support him and he fell to the ground. A few moments later, however, he was able to get into the wagon and went to his home in the Borough. His injuries we have more resulting than the support of the support of the wagon. Borough. His injuries we learn were not of a serious nature, but he will have to wear a new shoe in place of the one torn in the spokes of the wheel.

Haverhill's Offer to Uncle Sam. HAVERHILL, Mass., Oct. 28.—The city government has voted to offer to the United States government a lot in Washington square, owned by the city, on which to build a postoffice. FOREST FIRES BAGE AGAIN.

One Village Wiped Out and Many Persons Reported to Have Perished. GUTHRIE, O. T., Oct. 28.—In the Iowa reservation where the grass was heavy the damage by yesterday's forest fires was very great. A number of people left their houses and wagons, escaping on horse-back, and several families in wagons were caught and lost everything. It is reported that several persons have perished there.

Another fire started in the rank grass along the Cimarron river, thirty miles northwest of here, Saturday night and burned until last night. This fire traveled so fast that everything was swept before it. Fully fifty farmhouses were burned up and much live stock perished. A number of people are missing, and it is almost certain that some of them have died in the flames.

The village of Cimarron was completely wiped out and many of the inhabitants badly burned. They saved their lives by jumping into the river. The mail carrier from Mulhall was caught and fatally burned. The reports from the burned districts are yet very meager, but the damage will be well up toward $100,000, and if a wind should spring up the damage will be terrible.

Alleged Hospital Cruelties NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The Herald pub lishes a shocking story of cruelties said to have been imposed on patients of the Pres-byterian hospital, one of the most prominent places of the kind in the city, by the nurses of that institution. Lawyer Reimensnyder, of Lancaster, Pa., who was recently discharged from the hospital, alleges that he has seen the sick and dying beaten, bound and cursed during his stay at the place. The punishment was usually inflicted by the nurses for restlessness on the part of the patients. In the statement made by Lawyer Reimensnyder he relates the cases of two men suffering from delirium tremens, who were bound to their cots, and who, when unbound, were found to be dead. Mr. Reimensnyder did not himself observe these two cases, but other patients told him of the occurrences. Other patients visited by The Herald reporter confirmed the stories of cruelty. The officials say they will make an investi-

They Saw a Wild Man.

GLADWIN, Mich., Oct. 28.—George W. Frost and W. W. Vivian, both reputable citizens, report having seen a wild man on the banks of the Tittabawessee river, in Gladwin county. The man was nude covered with hair and was a giant in proportions. According to their story must have been at least seven feet high, his arms reaching below his knees and with hands twice the usual size. Mr. Vivian set his bulldog on the wild man, and with one mighty stroke of the mon-strous hand he felled the dog dead. His jumps were measured and found to be from twenty to twenty-three feet long.

A Girl Devoured by a Bear.

SHAWSVILLE, Va., Oct. 28.—Miss Likens went out to gather berries on the mountain side, and not returning, search was instituted for her. A few miles from her home the searchers ran across a large bear, at whose feet the outlines of a woman could be observed. The bear was dispatched, and Miss Likens' body was found terribly mutilated. The unfortunate girl had first been squeezed to death by the bear, and then partly devoured.

Knocked Out by the "Black Pearl." SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—The middleweights—Paddy Gorman, the Australian, and Harris Martin, of Minneapolis, other-wise known as the "Black Pearl"—fought to a finish before the Pacific Athletic club. Before the fourth round was ten seconds old. Gorman fell from a heavy right hander in the jaw and was counted out by the timekeeper, and the referee gave the fight to Martin. The Minneapolis man is considered a wonder.

J. Arthur Pinneo,

J. C. Randle.

County of Fairfield, Town of Norwalk, this 20th day of October, 1891.

I, Town Clerk of said Town, hereby certify, pursuant to the statute in such case provided, that this application endorsed as aforesaid, has been submitted to me, and I further certify that each of said endorsers is an elector or taxpayer in said town, and that a copy of the foregoing application, including the above written endorsement has been filled with me.

Attest, HERBERT R. SMITH,

Clerk of said Town.

Special Friday Announcement.

After November 1st I will reserve Fridays for special work, such as Extracting Teeth, Taking Impressions, Examining Teeth, etc.; will thereby be able to give each caller more time and attention, and will less frequently be obliged to keep the regularly appointed patients waiting in the operating chair.

Cf course will stop to do this work at any time, but as an inducement to call on Friday especially, will Extract the Teeth, using Gas, Vitalized Air, or the Dr. Estebrooke Painless Remedy, all free to those who have the best teeth inserted. If no plate is desired will make no charge for the above anesthetics.

For a limited time will make a good plate, that I can guarantee, for $10.00, where there is no extracting to be done and arrangements are made on Friday.

My reasons for not heretofore using Vitalized Air and Dr. Estebrooke's Painless Remedy for Extracting Teeth, both of which have been on the market several months, was lack of confidence in their efficiency, as I have no desire to experiment with such agents. But Cf course will stop to do this work at in their efficiency, as I have no desire to experiment with such agents. But now that they have been thoroughly tested and prove quite satisfactory will hereafter use them in my practice, together with a new and valuable remedy for obtunding sensitive dentine, which renders the filling of teeth much less painful.
