THE BARNABY MURDER.

The Trial of Dr. Graves to Begin on Tuesday.

EVIDENCE FROM 'FRISCO.

The Noted Case Will Be Brought Before a Court in Precedence to Other Business—Story of the Bottle Sent from Boston—The Counsel Engaged.

DENVER, Nov. 23.—The near approach of the trial of Dr. T. Thatch Graves, of Providence, R. I., for the murder of Mrs. Josephine Barnaby, consummated in this city last April, is awakening the intense interest which followed every detail of the crime in its early development.

Interest in the Case. Perhaps no criminal case has for some time attracted such national interest and curiosity as the Barnaby mystery. Far away to the east coast, in the staid New England town of Providence, was the murder planned and consummated.

Beginning of the Strange Case. It is in San Francisco that the mysteries really begin. There is a quaint story about the unknown woman, an old friend of Mrs. Barnaby, who met her on a street car and recommended a lady physician who was to do wonders in the curing of her chronic spinal trouble.

Important Evidence from 'Frisco.

They say that she was forced to come to Denver, forced by some unknown power which Mrs. Worrel exerted over her. They point to the Chester will as proof of it, with the $10,000 legacy in favor of Mrs. Worrel.

The Story of the Poisoned Bottle.

So much has been conjectured and written at random about that bottle that a brief resume of the circumstances connected with it is necessary to the story. It was mailed in Boston, and it lay in the office of Schermerhorn & Worrel, real estate dealers on Arapahoe street, one of the principal business thoroughfares of the city.

The Opposing Lawyers.

The struggle in court will be extremely bitter. Dr. Graves will be defended by Judge Belford, who is one of the most logical advocates of the west. District Attorney Stevens is a good lawyer and a convincing one before a jury. He is a Providence man, and is well known through that section.

Arrest of Dr. Graves.

May 17, the grand jury indicted Dr. Graves and May 18 he was arrested, arraigned and confined in the county jail on a charge of willful murder. There he stayed until May 27, when the district court allowed him his liberty under bonds of $30,000, which was put up by some of the wealthiest men in Denver.

Rome, Nov. 23.—All the personages who have recently had interviews with the pope, assert that he frequently complains of declining health and strength, and speaks of his death as not being far distant.
