Organization Claims Solution To Race Problems Is 'Repatriation'

(Copr.) E. A. Mokus (1970)
In 1817, an organization called the American Colonization Society was formed. It was claimed by that organization that it was enthusiastically supported by some of the nation's leading citizens of the time.
The purpose of the American Colonization Society was to offer opportunity to Afro-Americans to voluntarily "pursue new and rewarding careers for themselves in the homelands of their ancestors." In other words, the American Colonization Society believed the solution to the black-white race problem here in the United States was the voluntary resettlement in Africa of dissatisfied Negroes. The repatriation philosophy was believed to be the best solution for all concerned in the problems arising from racial friction.

Council Favorable To Accept Offered Land

The Conservation Commission formally requested the Town Council during its work session last Monday night to accept on behalf of the town a 13-acre tract of land off Simon Road for use as a park and playground.

The parcel of land was recently offered to the town to be used for that specific purpose by Mrs. Flora Shirah of East Hartford, formerly of Enfield. Mrs. Shirah offered the deed of the land to the town with the stipulation that the recreation area be dedicated to her mother, Elsie Olive Hulbert Wyse and her son, Lieut. Wingate Hulbert Royce.

The land is 90 per cent woodland with two clearings which could be used for public areas, said a spokesman for the conservation commission.

Councilman Armand Roy said "not to accept it would be foolish," and other council members were in agreement. Indications are that after some minor questions are resolved, the council will vote to accept the offer at a future regular meeting, perhaps the next.

The commission is making plans to acquire other open spaces and it was proposed to have the soil conservationist with the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Arthur Gross, recommend use and planning for the town-owned Dingle off Enfield St. opposite Parker St. The area was used several years ago for recreational purposes but was discontinued. The facilities at that time included a ball field, a swimming pool and a children's playground.

Mallard Retires As Manager Of CB&T's Enfield Bank

Douglas H. Mallard, vice president of the Connecticut Bank and Trust Company and manager of CB&T's Enfield office since 1959, retired on Jan. 1.

Named to succeed Mallard as Enfield branch manager is CBT Vice President Malcolm W. Thompson who has managed Connecticut Bank's Rockville office since 1950.

Mallard, a 1935 graduate of Dartmouth College, joined the staff of the Thompsonville Trust Co. the same year and was named a vice president and a branch manager when that bank merged with the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co. in 1959. Mallard is also a graduate of the Hartford Chapter American Institute of Banking and is a 1942 graduate of the Stonier Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University. "In this way, no one will be asked to solicit from house to house," Mrs. Vosburgh said.

She stressed that in the United States, one family in 10 is touched by the tragedy of an abnormal child. Having achieved the victory over polio, the National Foundation-March of Dimes is putting its tremendous energy and resources into not only helping those afflicted, but also research in the prevention of birth defects.

Naturally, funds are needed for this work. Mrs. Vosburgh asked that each and every resident in Enfield give generously when the envelope reaches them and pass the kit along as quickly as possible.

She has been active as a Brownie Troop leader and is a member of the Harriet Beecher Stowe PTA and Holy Family Women's Guild. Mrs. Vosburgh lives with her husband and three children at 10 Vernon Rd.

At a meeting of the Sewer Authority Tuesday night, it was revealed that the original cost estimate of the extensive town-wide sewer project was underestimated by $1,371,000.

The original estimate of $14,820,000 was made by the consulting engineering firm of Met-cal and Eddy. At Tuesday night's meeting, the engineers came up with a revised figure of $16,191,000. The firm gave as reasons for the higher cost the increase in costs of material and labor, the unexpected time expended in excavation operations due to the type of soil, especially in the southern part of town, and the cost of drainage in the lowlands in that part of town.

One councilman feels, although the money is obtainable through state and federal grants and thus, avoid a referendum for the difference, that "the engineers gave us the business" in making such a low estimate.

Director of Public Works Roger Mullins also feels that a referendum can be avoided if the already approved and coming state and federal grants totaling $3,205,400 can be applied to the overall town-wide sewer program. If this can be done, said Mullins, a referendum will not be necessary for the $1,371,000 to complete the sewer program.

Mullins said the town is studying the problem and will make a report to the Town Council which acts as the sewer authority.

Torre Elected FHS Principal

Anthony A. Torre, acting principal of Enfield High School, was appointed principal of the new Enrico Fermi High School by the Board of Education on Tuesday night.

The appointment is effective early next month. He has been with the Enfield school system since 1959 as a teacher, assistant principal and acting principal. Also, he was chairman of the mathematics department at the high school.

Torre is married and resides at 26 North Street. The Education Board will consider the election of a principal for Enfield High School at its meeting next week.

The board accepted the following resignations: Katherine Michael, EHS Annex, English teacher; Ann R. Riggins, EHS Annex, English teacher; Janet L. Sullivan, Kosciuszko Jr. H.S., French teacher; Mrs. Judy Schindele, Kosciuszko Jr. H.S., home economics teacher; Donald Ferraroni, JFK Jr. H.S., science teacher; and Richard LaFord, EHS, industrial arts teacher.

Judges for the award will be the Rev. M. R. Shanley, chaplain at the State Prison, Supt. of Schools Maurice Smith and E. Payson Smith, publisher of The Enfield Press.

Enfield Receives Housing Code Enforcement Grant

A contract with the State Department of Community Affairs for a $27,845 two-year grant to assist a stepped-up housing code enforcement program, was executed last Friday, announces Town Manager C. Samuel Kisinger.

The grant, which will enable the town to conduct a systematic house-to-house program of dwelling unit inspections and housing code violation corrective action utilizing the service of a full-time Housing Inspector, constitutes two-thirds of the cost of the $42,392 two-year program. The program will be concentrated mainly in the Thompsonville Center area, where the vast majority of the town's substandard housing units are concentrated. The full-time job of carrying out the program will be assigned to Ernest Busch, Housing Inspector in the Building Inspection Division.

The purpose of the hearing will be to give the citizens of Enfield an opportunity to discuss, with their legislators, town officials and DCA officials, their town's involvement with the Department of Community Affairs and the programs it administers.

Discussions and questions about the status and progress of the Community Development Action Plan program are high on the agenda.

Representative Rollin Mettler of Hamden, Chairman of subcommittee V, and other committee members will attend these meetings.

Other hearings throughout the State will be conducted by subcommittee V and will be announced soon. One of the benefits the committee hopes to realize from these hearings is to get guidance for development legislation.

Referendum Expected Soon On Enfield Industrial Park

A referendum is expected to come before voters of Enfield concerning a multi-million dollar bond issue to finance the construction of the proposed Enfield Industrial Park.

Preliminary planning of the park has already begun with the awarding of a contract in the amount of $35,000 to the consulting firm of Brown, Donald and Donald. The planning will include estimates for acquisition costs for land.

The park is planned to include approximately 500 acres of land between Hazard Ave. and South Road, east of Interstate 91.

Total estimated costs for acquiring the property in the area and making improvements is in the $4 to $6 million range with half that amount being subsidized by the state. The other half from a bond issue by the town through a referendum on which voters will decide. The bond issue is expected to be about $3 million.

According to C. Samuel Kisinger, town manager, who is interested in making Enfield an educational, shopping and industrial center, industrial firms have made known their desires to locate plants here.

Although the town is rapidly expanding as a commercial shopping center, several new but small industrial firms have located here from nearby towns during the past year. A new greeting card firm plant settled here earlier in the year along with Walter's Machine Shop, a small manufacturer of airplane precision parts.

Major industry has failed to locate here due to expensive land and the unavailability of both municipal and private industrial parks.

The housing problem in the Thompsonville area has been the subject of concern of the Enfield Citizens Advisory Committee, the citizens group acting in an advisory capacity to the town's CDAP program.

Enfield was eligible for the code enforcement grant because of its participation in the Community Development Action Plan (CDAP) program. The CDAP studies undertaken so far under the program have placed a high priority on the town's housing problems.

In addition to two-thirds of the inspector's salary, the grant will provide a car, typewriter, and office equipment, and supplies. The program will begin March 1.

Snowmobile Hazards

(Special To The Press) The use of snowmobiles in Sunrise Park will be discussed at the meeting of the Conservation Commission Monday, Jan. 12, in the town hall. Charles Gardner, chairman of the commission, has been requested by a group of local operators of snowmobiles for permission to use a trail through the park. He has invited members of the group to meet with the commission to discuss the matter. Park Supt. Roger Loomis has also requested a ruling from the commission on snowmobiles using the town park.

Snowmobiles are becoming a problem in Suffield because of the danger to persons and property, according to Police Chief Frank Sutula.

Complaints have been received by police from property owners who are concerned in regard to liability from injuries inflicted on persons by snowmobiles operating on their property—without permission of the owners.

According to a state law effective Sept. 30, 1969, registration of snowmobiles by anyone under 16 years old is prohibited. Persons between 16 and 21 must file financial responsibility. Parents or legal guardians must approve or request registration of a snowmobile. Registration plates must be displayed on the rear of the snowmobile.

During darkness operation, snowmobiles must display at least one seal beam headlight, but not more than two. When crossing roads, snowmobiles must display a redlight and reflector on each side that is visible for at least 1,000 feet. Red tail lamps are also required.

Ice Skating At Sunrise

Park Supt. Roger C. Loomis announces skating will be permitted during daylight hours on the lake in Sunrise Park when the ice is safe. Ice conditions will be posted at the entrance of the park and also near the lake, he said. An area of the lake will be cleared for skating.

Ice fishing will be permitted on the lake north of the pavilion and away from the skating area.

Professional Appraisals Preferred By State For School Properties

Arrangements have been made by the East Granby-Suffield Regional School Study Committee for professional appraisals of the value of all public school buildings and sites in Suffield and East Granby, according to Laroy Brown, Supt. of Schools for East Granby. Brown said he hoped the appraisal information will be available for the meeting of the regional study committee, Jan. 14, at 8 p. m., in East Granby High School.

Estimated values of each town's present school plants have been discussed previously by the committee, but there was reluctance to spend any money for professional appraisals until the decision on regionalization was closer.

At the last meeting in December the committee decided the school values were needed in determining the equalizing of existing plants for the contribution to be made by each participating town in a region.

Committee member Thomas Coates of Suffield reported at the same meeting, estimated values of East Granby school properties at $2,181,740 and Suffield's at $6,528,532. The estimates included values for buildings, plus a 10 per cent factor for foundations and site work.

The 82.5 acres of land on which East Granby schools are located was valued at $3,000 per acre, while Suffield public school land, totaling 61.09 acres was estimated at $8,000 per acre, based on the use and value of land adjoining the school sites.

East Granby committee members have questioned the low value for the East Granby school properties, noting that during the recent revaluation in the town, such property had been assessed about $1,000 per acre higher.

They also questioned inclusion of the Bridge Street School for $370,000 in the Suffield estimates because Suffield committee members have proposed leaving the Bridge Street School out of the schools planned for use in the event of regionalization. Suffield members have suggested that the Bridge Street School site might be incorporated by the town in the adjacent redevelopment program of Suffield.

East Granby's values for its buildings have been available for some time, but Suffield's to date have had to be estimated using 100 per cent of the replacement cost as determined by insurance coverage and plus certain appreciation and depreciation factors.

East Granby's data came from a recently completed valuation of properties conducted by a professional appraisal firm.

Suffield is engaged in a re-assessment program conducted by the Board of Assessors and authorized by the Board of Selectmen.

The committee has been told that school values from this re-assessment would probably be rejected by the State Board of Education because it is being done by local people rather than an outside independent firm.

YMCA Annual Meeting And Pot Luck Dinner

The annual membership meeting of the Suffield YMCA will be a pot-luck dinner meeting from 6:30 to 8 p. m., Jan. 15, in First Church of Christ, Congregational. The meeting is open to all local Y members including fathers and sons in the Indian Guide program and members of the newly-formed Hi-Y group here. Both the present and new board members are invited. Anyone not notified is asked to call the co-chairmen of the dinner, Mrs. Russell Cobb and Mrs. Donald Richardson.

Those attending are asked to bring food according to their last names — A-G, salads; H-M, main dish; and N-Z, desserts.

A business meeting to elect officers and adopt a budget will follow the dinner and entertainment.

The third in the series of adult sports nights, sponsored by the Y will be held Jan. 13, at 7:30 p. m., in Suffield Academy gym. The public is invited. The fee will be $1.50 per individual and $2 per couple. An added attraction this time will be Rotary-Jaycee volley ball game. Facilities available at the gym include volley ball and basketball courts, physical fitness apparatus, and the pool.

A gymnastic program will be presented Jan. 14 at 7:30 p. m., in McAlister Middle School gym. The public is invited to the demonstration by 100 boys and girls in the classes directed by Mrs. Rebecca Robinson and Charles Thompson.

Representatives from State Headquarters of Selective Service System will meet with junior and senior boys at Suffield High School, Jan. 13, to explain implications of the new lottery system on their career development. Major Frederick H. Russell, Chief of the Manpower Division, will attend the school assembly as representative of Brigadier General Ernest H. Novey, state director.

Planning Com. Favors Purchase

In a letter to Board of Education Chairman Henry Richardson, the Planning Commission reported that by majority vote, it is in favor of the Legion hall purchase which has been proposed by the B. of E.

Planning Commission Chairman Sydney Spink said their primary interest lies with approving the land aspect of the purchase and not with the hall itself. He said the planners have given their blessing with no restrictions as far as the subject of land is concerned. He said however, that planners advised the Board to explore various areas, such as provisions for a septic tank system in the future.

Spink said the Planning Commission also suggested that the Board study pros and cons involved in extended use of the frame structure for classrooms. Spink and committeemen said there should be a thorough examination of the mill pond water rights, since these rights have not been looked into, contingent to the Scantic stream and mill pond.

According to Spink, Somersville Mfg. Co., owner of Legion Hall and its property, has said it will grant all the rights it can. Nevertheless, the Planning Commission has suggested areas of study do not apply to the planning board; their main concern involved the property and they have given approval on that basis.

Before approving the Legion hall purchase, the planning board made certain the fishing and boat launch area would be maintained. They also considered possible use of the Legion hall structures after the classroom need was alleviated.

Having received planning approval of the proposed purchase went before the Board of Selectmen during the Jan. 5 meeting.

The Rotary Club had, at their last meeting, as speaker Lorenzo Lamson, a fellow tobacco grower and trustee at the University of Massachusetts. Mr. Lamson talks on the structure of the administration in a Public or State College and what the function of the Board of Trustees is. He also commented on the overwhelming trend toward college liberalism within the college student body. It is his hope that the pendulum will swing the other way very soon. Some of the many programs required by the student body are going to his stumbling blocks as the competition for taxpayers' money becomes greater. Mr. Lamson was thanked by all the members for a very interesting program.

The five-year Zoning Board position will be filled by Willard F. Pinney in 1974.

The Zoning Board of Appeals will receive Richard Ford for a five-year term to 1974.

The citizens approved the appointment of Leon Dolby to the Planning Commission, replacing Carl O. Anderson, who is now serving as second selectman.

Two appointments were made to the Road Committee: Simon Lipton and Willard Pinney, who will serve until 1973.

The citizens also authorized the Selectmen to accept deeds in behalf of the town on the following streets, when they are completed to the satisfaction of the Planning Board and Selectmen: Gracie, Loubier, McCullough and Colorado Drives.

The meeting also accepted payment from the state to defray appropriations for school construction of $1,080,000 for additions and alterations at the Junior and Senior high schools.

There will be a meeting on the Women's Auxiliary of the Fire Department, Jan. 14, at 8 p.m. at the Fire House. Plans will be made for the annual dance on Feb. 14, that the Auxiliary sponsors each year. It will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Skimobilers Hunt Turkeys

The Skimobile Club sponsored a turkey hunt for members and their families on Sunday afternoon.

President Robert Stebbins had previously hidden three frozen turkeys at the Watershed Dam area, West Stafford. Members began the hunt with a trail ride through Shipnipsit State Forest to West Stafford.

Many members included their families in the fun, by attaching sleds to their skimobiles for their children to ride on. Following the turkey hunt, hot dogs and hamburgers were served at the site of the event.

The club plans a 12-hour endurance race for Jan. 17. Secretary Doris Murray explained the race should take place in the state forest on the Bald Mountain side. She said a majority of the club between 20-25 members are expected to participate. She added however, that this particular event would not be open to the public.

Every Friday night the club sponsors trail rides for any interested skimobile owner. They meet at the fair grounds off Ninth District Road at 7 p.m., and from there follow trails previously marked by the club's president. Skimobile enthusiasts ride the blue trail, through the state forest on up to Hampden, Mass.

'We Care About Kids...'

A scene from "The Son of Robin Hood" coming to the Enfield Cinema as one of the four Children's Movie of the Month program, presented by G. Fox & Company of Hartford and C.M.M. Inc. of New York City.

by Beatrice Parsons

When the bossman said, casually, one recent Wednesday: "G. Fox & Company is giving a press luncheon at the Sonesal Hotel Thursday, and you better get down there — I told them you would," I did.

I didn't know whether it was a sales gimmick to pave the way for the proposed G. Fox store that is coming to the Suburban Mall here in Enfield, or whether they were giving two-week-old puppies away. The purpose of the luncheon was vastly more interesting, because it concerned youngsters.

There is an outfit, out of New York City, that produces and presents The Children's Movie of the Month in areas throughout the country. This is the company name — GMM Inc.

Under the sponsorship of G. Fox, the company has selected 16 neighborhood theatres in this state, among them the Enfield Cinema, in which will be shown a film classic especially for children, once a month, on a Saturday, from February to May.

G. Fox & Company made the announcement at the luncheon to a roomful of newspaper, radio and television representatives. On the outside of the impressive gold colored press kit at each place, was the slogan—We Care About Kids—a phrase guaranteed to intrigue the most blasé reporter.

In February will be seen the Warner Bros. classic, "The Boy and the Laughing Dog," starring Walter Brennan, Phil Harris, Brandon de Wilde, Sidney Poitier, William Hopper and Louise Beavers.

The March picture will be 20th Century-Fox's "The Blue Bird," with Shirley Temple, Spring Byington, Nigel Bruce, Gale Sondergaard, Eddie Collins and Sterling Holloway. Sure it's an "oldie," but it is also a timeless film that is as good today as it was when first presented.

Warner Bros. "Gay Purr-ee," a cartoon, stars the voices of Judy Garland, Robert Goulet, Red Buttons, Hermione Gingold, and Paul Frees.

The last in the series, in May, will be "The Son of Robin Hood" starring David Hedison, June Laverick, David Farrar and Marius Goring. This is a sequel to "Robin Hood."

Harvey Chertok, a former vice president of Warner Bros. Seven Arts, and president of CMM, told the luncheon guests:

"We live in a society where intelligent parents are vitally concerned about broadcasting educational horizons for their children. Why should we expect less from their entertainment? Therefore, we have set as our purpose the introduction of a series of wholesome and enlightening movies that will appeal to a child's extraordinary capacity to learn, to wonder and to laugh."

He added: "Accordingly, for those parents who seek quality entertainment for their children. The Children's Movie of the Month will offer consistently worthwhile cinema experiences, such as these four fine films, which will be presented beginning in February by G. Fox and Company."

Various organizations that are concerned about movies for children have offered their encouragement and support to the CMM program including: The National Catholic Office for Motion Pictures, National Council of Churches of Christ in the USA, individuals associated with the Synagogue Council of America, National Association of Theatre Owners and Motion Picture Association of America.

G. Fox and Company stores in Central Connecticut offer parents an exclusive opportunity to buy subscription tickets good for all four films — child or adult, for only $2.50. Tickets are available at both G. Fox in Hartford and the Petite Couture Shops in Waterbury.

A Fox representative said that tickets left after the subscription sales, will be sold at the theatres in singles, before the performance. For Enfield that will be the Enfield Cinema. It sounds, to Women's World, like a fine program for, when Tommy wants money for movies on one Saturday in each of the four months, Mother won't wonder whether he will see a horror film or something like "The Carpetbagger."

Memories Of Christmas Linger On

Even though the holiday season has passed, Christmas memories still linger on. The photographs on this page happen to be of pre-Christmas activities staged by members of John Maciolek Post, American Legion, and its Auxiliary.

Perhaps it was because the two beautifully decorated windows of the Post headquarters on Church Street are directly across from The Press and so are easily seen, but Women's World thinks they were about the most attractive in town. They were especially beautiful when lighted at night. The carolers in one window, the Nativity scene in the other, were created and arranged by Frank Kozaczka, himself a Legionnaire.

The children are unidentified but they and their friends will know who they are. The young pianist and accordionist entertained at the children's Christmas Party in the Polish hall the Saturday before Christmas.

Santa, surrounded by happy youngsters and three adults, including Post Commander Sophia Podozek holding the tot at right rear, lived up to his reputation by seeing that each child received a gift and goodies.

It seems as though, from the stories that came in to The Press, that every organization in Enfield held a children's Christmas party.

Mrs. Bertram Patchell of 102 Cottage Rd., entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beede Verrill, on their golden wedding anniversary, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Verrill are both natives of Auburn, Maine, and were married on Dec. 3, 1919, at Mamaroneck, N. Y. Mrs. Verrill is the former Miss Clara Anderson.

They have three other children: Albert of Colchester, Mrs. Glenna Leconte of New London, and Mrs. Betty Griffin of Mousup; eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Verrill lived for most of their married life in Auburn but for the past several years have made their home in Canterbury, Conn. Twenty-three guests were present at their anniversary party.

Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Clair S. Watson of 32 Bigelow Ave., observed their Golden Wedding anniversary Saturday evening at a catered dinner for 100 guests in Mt. Carmel Hall.

The former Miss Alice Ryan, of Thompsonville, and Mr. Watson, then of Broad Brook, were married in this town by the late Rev. Sherman Thompson, then pastor of the Broad Brook Congregational Church.

Mrs. Watson told The Press that she still has the story of her wedding as it appeared in the old Thompsonville Press at that time.

Edward Sugden of Broad Brook, who was the best man at their wedding, was present to help them celebrate a half century of married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson have one son, Lawrence W. Watson, of Statesville, S. C., and three grandchildren.

RETURNS TO SCHOOL
Miss Shirley E. Putney, who has been visiting her father, Harry G. Putney of 452 Taylor Rd., over the holidays, returned to the Traphagen School of Fashion in New York City, Monday morning. Miss Putney is majoring in Clothing Construction and Fashion Design.

Ke-r-i-p-e-s! I did it again — got myself into Christmas card trouble. When sending cards I use my address book and check each name as the envelope is addressed. So how come when I went to insert the cards, did I, in three cases, have duplicate envelopes? I'll never know but that left me short, as usual, of the proper sized envelopes, with as many spare cards on hand. So one or two of my good friends received envelopes rather larger than the cards, something like the youngsters who came in this morning all decked out in their police uniforms.

One slight lad just plain had to be hunted for, his coat was so roomy. I muttered, "GI issue," and he grinned all over. It's good this new addition to the Enfield Police Dept. isn't armed. That lad never could find his revolver in his voluminous overcoat or jacket or whatever it's called in police lingo.

This wonderful project of the Police Dept. is a great step in the right direction for filling the communications gap (and how I hate that phrase!) between adult lawmen and juveniles. And the boy probably will grow into his too-large coat.

Never, but never in all my years at this work have I seen so many Christmas parties for children of a community. If any one youngster was forgotten I would be astounded. The parties ranged all the way from the super-duper staged by the Neighborhood Center to those of the veterans' posts, fraternal groups, churches, and women's and men's clubs. There were so many Santa Claus aides around, no wonder the kids were goggle-eyed trying to figure out why they didn't all look alike. I hope the Dads and Moms told them that the Santas they saw were really his helpers. The real Santa is never seen unless one waits to catch him on the roof or coming down the chimney on Christmas Eve. That seldom if ever happens because the Sandman moves in and spirits the tots away to Dreamland long before Santa starts on his rounds from the North Pole.

My sincere appreciation goes to all those readers who sent me cards this year. I really was overwhelmed by the many messages of thanks for publicity given. Shucks, gals, that's my job.

Grandmam muses: "Oh, for the good old days when, if you said: 'Is it a girl or a boy?' you were talking about a new baby."

Mrs. Steven LeRoy Ward Boman-Ward

Miss Judith Rowena Boman of 43 Belle Ave., and Mr. Steven LeRoy Ward, formerly of Tell City, Ind., were married on Saturday, Dec. 20, at six o'clock at the Enfield Congregational Church. The candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert C. Lane.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Carl V. Boman and the late Mr. Boman, was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Albert G. Jackson of Marlboro, Mass. She wore an empire-waisted, A-line gown of white velvet trimmed with lace, with long pointed sleeves and a chapel-length train also of velvet. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was draped from a headpiece of lace and pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and English ivy.

Miss Joyce Znamierowski of Enfield served as maid of honor. She wore an empire-waisted A-line gown of deep blue velvet, and carried a white fur muff trimmed with a single white rose. The bridesmaids, Miss Blythe Boman and Miss Judy Znamierowski, both of Enfield, wore identical gowns of ruby red velvet, and each carried a white muff trimmed with a red rose.

Mr. Arthur Hamel of Windsor served as best man. The ushers were Mr. Ronald Reynolds of Enfield and Mr. Michael Wzorek of Westfield, Mass.

For their wedding trip through New England the bride chose a leopard-skin coat with black accessories, over a matching leopard-skin mini-skirt.

The couple will make their home in Connecticut.

Raiders Get First CDC Win, 61-50

by Tom Grondski

The Enfield High School Basketball team traveled to Bulkley High for its third away game, a contest which sent the Raiders (0-5) against the Bulkley Bulldogs (1-4). The Bulldogs took the court for warm-ups as the P.A. system played Herb Alpert's "A Taste of Honey," but when the action ceased for the evening, it was the Raiders who finally had the taste of honey with its first CDC win, 61-50.

Coach John Skyepeck was elated after the game, and gave praise to the whole unit, and especially to senior co-captain Rick Dressler.

"Dressler was the difference," were the words of Skyepeck in the locker room after the game. Dressler, besides scoring 13 points, was the spark plug of the Raider offense, with his playmaking, and vocal encouragement to his teammates. Skyepeck feels the team has finally jelled, and on its way to more wins.

The first period began with a basket by Pat Korpral of Bulkley, but senior Ron Hay evened it up at 2-2. The Raiders had a small rally when a foul shot by Fred Lauria was followed by hoops by co-captains Dave LaRussa and Dressler, which gave Enfield a 7-2 lead with 2:30 gone in the game. The Vermont Bomber, Ron Hay, really was hot mid-way through the period, hitting on four straight shots, and gave the Raiders a mini-lead of three, 16-13. The lead didn't last, as the Bulldogs ended the period leading 19-18.

The second and third periods were close with neither team having more than a four-point lead. The Raiders nosed out Bulkley to lead at halftime 29-28, then added a point to the lead in the third period to make it 44-42.

In the fourth period Enfield started to move when a tap-in by LaRussa gave the Raiders a five-point lead, with six minutes remaining. Slowly the lead was built up, and with two minutes remaining a foul shot by Dressler gave the Raiders an eight-point margin. Fred Lauria's tap with 50 seconds remaining put the game out of the reach of the Bulldogs, and a Raider foul shot in the remaining part of the game gave the Big Green its first victory, 61-50, before a small pro-Bulkley crowd.

Co-captain LaRussa was the high scorer for Enfield with 15, Dressler was next with his 13, and Ron Hay who had 10 big points in the first period, ended the game with 11. One Bulldog reached double figures, Pat Korpral with 21.

The Green Raiders play an independent game Friday against Agawam, then face Weaver in an away CDC contest on Jan. 13. Agawam comes to Enfield after finishing second to the Raiders last season in the Mass. Valley Wheel and the game promises to be a grudge match. Varsity action begins at 8 p.m.

Ringside Leads In SA League

The Game-of-the-Week was so hard to pick in the Stone Age Basketball League that it was declared a tie. Minimum Security beat Maximum Security 75-74 and Ringside Restaurant beat Enfield Dairy 52-51. Both games were named the Game-of-the-Week. Sam Smith of Minimum Security and Jerry Winger of Ringside Restaurant were co-winners of the Player-of-the-Week title.

Sam Smith scored 23 points on 11 baskets and a foul shot to lead Minimum Security to a 75-74 win over Maximum Security. Weldon Clemons had 20 points and Ralph Cooper netted 17 for the Minimums. Harrell had 21 on 10 baskets and a foul, and Palmer netted 21 on eight baskets and five free throws. The teams were tied at the half with Maximum leading at the one-quarter and the three-quarter marks.

Dave Peterson scored 17 points on eight from the floor and one from the line to lead Ringside Restaurant to a 52-51 win over Enfield Dairy. Tom Tyler chipped in with 15 points on three and nine for Ringside. Jerry Winger of Enfield Dairy was game high scorer with eight baskets and the same number of fouls for 24 points.

VIKINGS AND CHIEFS TO THE END

Yes, dear readers, we did pick both winners last Sunday and things seemed to work out just as we expected they would. We must pat ourselves on the back because no one else has yet.

The Minnesota Vikings really tagged it on the Cleveland Browns but, as we predicted, not by the margin that they beat them the first time they played this year. The final score was 27-7 and it looked as though the Vikings were taking things a little easier in the second half as they led by 24-0 at half time. This was a better game than the 51-3 contest where the Vikings really racked up the Browns.

The Kansas City Chiefs made things more interesting for the fans in their contest with the Oakland Raiders. The Raiders had beaten the Chiefs twice during the regular season and the so-called experts figured the Raiders to do it again by at least four points.

We picked the Chiefs in this one on the basis of the number of points scored by them per game and the number of points per game scored against them. They came out best in both categories so there was really no other way to pick it. The Raiders didn't seem to want to win the game in the fourth quarter as the Chiefs fumbled away the ball repeatedly inside their 20 yard line. The Raiders simply threw the ball right back to them on the next play. This went on until the Chiefs finally grew tired of the turnovers and ran an interception back to the Raiders' 20. The Raiders did threaten once more but it was strictly academic as they lost 17-7.

ON TO THE SUPER-DUPER BOWL

This Sunday we will be treated to the fantastic, glory strewn, million dollar game, prestige game of the year, the Super-Duper-Super Bowl. The Vikings in the early line are 14 point favorites. (Remember last year, remember the Maine, remember the Alamo?)

Last year we suspected that the Jets would come away the winner over an over-confident Colt's combine and we were right. (A friend of mine was given 24 points and the Jets and refused it. Evidently he hadn't read my column). This year though we think that the Vikings are going to take the Chiefs. We have been saying this for the past few weeks and we have seen nothing to change our mind. I can't say how much the Vikings will win by, but I do believe they will win. They had an easier game against the Browns and should be well rested. The Chiefs, on the other hand, had a rough, tough, knock-down, drag-out battle with the Raiders last week and sustained some injuries.

As we said last year though, and this is where we hedge our bet, this is one game for all the marbles, and they are big marbles, and anything can happen. A couple of breaks can turn a game around completely. The Vikings do seem to be a team of destiny, if there is any such thing, and they should continue on their winning ways. We'll use our "Hindsight" next week. All of you other arm-chair-quarterbacks had better stock up and get ready for a good game, because I think it will be just that, a good game.

CLAY HAS NO HOME

Ali or Clay, or whatever else you wish to call him, has no home for his so-called comeback. We feel that this is just. We can't see anyone giving him any breaks at all. He made his bed and now he finds that he put the nails where the mattress should have been.

Other men have been forced to leave the country or go to jail when they refused to enter the armed forces. The rules should apply to everyone alike. Why should he be allowed to make a few more million in a country that he doesn't seem to really appreciate.

We realize that this is only one viewpoint and each individual is certainly entitled to his own ideas on this or any other subject. The fight has been scheduled in a number of cities and cancelled in a number of cities. Closed circuit television seems to want no part of it because they can't commit the expensive equipment without being absolutely certain that the bout will go on as scheduled. No one had been able to guarantee this yet and so they continue to hesitate.

ANOTHER SPORTS SCANDAL?

Arrests are being made in a so-called national betting combine in sports. At this writing we haven't heard any names except Dizzy Dean's and he has turned State's evidence to help the government's case. By the time you read this, names may have come out. Everyone in sports, as well as the fans, are waiting for the other shoe to drop, as the cliché goes. We'll have more on this as it develops, if it develops.

Powder Hill Plan Stops Ski Thefts Wrestling Resumes With Double Purse

Skiers at Powder Hill in Middlefield, are now finding new security for their skis, due to a plan introduced at the area last week. In just one week, area owners Louis Zemel reports that the detection of stolen skis, belonging both to skiers and to their own Rental Shop, has become virtually airtight.

Zemel is so excited by the new plan that he is anxious to share it with other ski areas with the hope that all may adopt it and tremendously reduce the concern about stolen skis, always a serious worry to skiers.

When the skier buys his lift ticket at the Powder Hill ticket office, he is asked what kind of skis he owns and the brand is written on his ticket. When skiers leave, tickets are checked at the exit to be sure that the skis they carry are the same as those identified on their ticket. Obviously, any discrepancy between skis and ticket is immediately suspect. Cash rewards are offered to anyone who assists in the detection of stolen skis. This serves as a special incentive for thorough checking by personnel at the exit gate.

"Customers at Powder Hill are already talking about the effectiveness of the new plan," Zemel said, "and they are expressing a sense of relief that, if their skis should be stolen, they probably won't make it off the area!"

A double purse carryover match will feature the big time wrestling program bouncing back into the Springfield Auditorium Jan. 17, after the holiday layoff.

Grappling for the bonus money will be Killer Kowalski and Victor Rivera, two old enemies who engaged in a controversial brawl the last show of the 1969 season.

Kowalski was awarded a victory after 20 minutes of wild exchanges, but Rivera protested the call by referee Tom McNeely. Promoter Vito Tallarita went right to work on a rematch and the two signed in the middle of the ring for the Jan. 17 showdown.

In the meantime the World Wrestling Federation held up the purse of both wrestlers because of the controversy in which Rivera claimed he, not the Killer, had scored the pin. Now the original purse, plus the new one, will be at stake on a winner-take-all basis.

Tickets for the show, which will have many other stars on the undercard, are available at the Highland Fruit Company, Holyoke, and Phoenix News Rooms, Springfield. Telephone reservations are being accepted at AC 203-745-6972.

Scouting Around

By Alberta Shanler 749-7527

There was no column last week due to the fact that most units do not meet during the school vacation. Scouts were not idle though. A great many of the packs and troops worked very hard collecting money, toys, etc., for those less fortunate than themselves. Most of you, I am sure, had the opportunity to see the "elves" in front of the Food Mart. At times other than during the Christmas holidays, they are actually members of the Police Explorer Post.

Don't forget the Snow Bird, South Windsor Town Camp Area. Jan. 10-11. Registration Jan. 10 at 9 a.m.

Boy Scout Troop 381 sponsored by Council 50 of the Knights of Columbus recently held a Court of Honor. The following awards were presented by the Scoutmaster, Harold Sharron: Rifle and Shotgun Merit Badge and Mile Swim to David Price. First Class to David Stelmat. David Price and Donald Sheak. Second Class to David Sharron, Ted Stelmat and Don Whiteway. Three Year Pins to David Stelmat and David Price. Two Year Pins to Ted Stelmat, David Sharron and Donald Sheak. One Year Pins to Art Edgar and Don Whiteway.

Cub Pack 227 presented the following list of awards at its Dec. meeting: Michael Gerrard, denner; Charles Darby, assistant denner; Carl King, Bear badge, one gold and one silver arrow; Allen Trudeau, denner; Tim O'Konis, assistant denner; Michael Wells, assistant den-ner and Bear badge; James DesLaurier, denner; Gary Hamel, assistant denner; Scott Enderly, denner; Roderick Whittle two year pin and artist; Tom Mullins, two year pin and artist; Mark Webb, two year pin and artist; James Lincoln, two year pin and artist; James Ciriello, two year pin, forester; James Klucznick, two year pin; David Cocchi, artist; Russell Hamel, two year pin, artist and engineer; Billy Grondin, two year pin and artist; Joseph Shields, arrow of light; Francis Pierce, arrow of light; Tracy Keene, Bear badge. Welcomed into the unit as a Bobcat was Randy Keene.

Boy Scout Troop 810, sponsored by the Nathan Hale PTA, has donated eight two-man tents to the newly-organized Troop 818. This Scoutmanship act will allow 818 to take their boys camping sooner than had been expected. Also combining 810 and 818, Mike Legault, Senior Patrol Leader of the older 810, is working with the new troop as an Eagle project. Troop 810 spent the past weekend camping at Camp Pioneer. Troop 818 has appointed Steve Shanler as their Troop Scribe. The new troop meets at the Barnard School Monday evenings from 7 to 8:30 and all new boys will be welcomed.

Marion Brodman 745-3921

Your correspondent may have been a little remiss in that she took two weeks off to devote to her family while the column took a back-seat. However, it's nose back to the grindstone and full speed ahead for '70!

A bit about some holiday service projects that have not been mentioned before:

Brownies, Troop 973, Shaker, made mobiles using yarn covered cutouts, bell mobiles, Santa mobiles, string covered trees and choir girls. These clever little ornaments were used to decorate the library at Nathan Hale school. It was the first time that the library had ever been decorated. These little girls also went to Forbes and Wallace to have breakfast with Santa. In addition to breakfast there was singing, clowns, toys and a souvenir ceramic mug. The Brownies also made gifts for their Moms and Dads.

Troop 14, Enwood, made cookies, brownies and fudge for the prisoners at Osborne Prison. A vote of thanks to Mrs. Hallenback, Mrs. Doe, Mrs. Roth, Mrs. Mahr and Senior Scout Sue McWha who allowed their kitchens to be used for the project.

Cadettes of Troop 503, Enwood, want to thank everyone who patronized their Bake Sale which was held at Finast. And special thanks to Mrs. Zuchli, Dobrozinsky, Proteau, Sheehan, and Denmore who gave of their time to man the booth with the girls, and to all who baked. The sale, I am told, was a huge success.

Junior Women Install Tonight

The Enfield Junior Woman's Club will install officers this evening at 8 o'clock at the Enfield Central Library. Presiding at the candlelight ceremony will be Mrs. R. E. Stevens, president of the Enfield Woman's Club.

Mrs. Henry Walker, president of the Vernon Junior Woman's Club, will pass on the gavel. Other special guests will include Mrs. William P. Meo, president of the Connecticut State Federated Woman's Club, Junior Director, and Mrs. Hugh Collins, assisting Junior Director CSFWC Junior Membership.

A business meeting will conclude the evening and refreshments will be served. All area women interested in joining, who are between the ages of 18 and 40 are invited to attend. Those wishing additional information may call Mrs. Carmine E. Ravenola, 749-9741.

The club members have undertaken a project to aid the Mission Alliance in DaLat, Vietnam. Air Force T Sgt. William M. Mosley stationed there, whose wife lives at 5 Ellis Rd., Enfield, has written home that the children at the mission are in need of clothing and blankets. Members interested in contributing articles may contact Mrs. Robert Pearson at 749-7903.
