

Nigro Expresses His Gratitude

Everyone tries to predict races. Whether the contest is baseball, boxing or politics, predictions are inevitable.

In Enfield the most exciting political contest occurred between Sam Nigro and Joe Vella. Both candidates were competing hard for the Assembly Seat representing the 44th District. On Tuesday, the voters spoke at the polls and overwhelmingly endorsed the Democratic Nigro as their representative. Nigro defeated Vella by 1054 votes.

"The results of this election," said Nigro, "show me that the voters of the 44th District want a competent, full-time representative. The vote reflects their confidence in my political competency, and one promise that I repeated several times during the campaign was that I will represent my constituents all day, every day. I am looking forward to joining the State Assembly and fighting for Enfield."

Nigro was grateful. "I would like to thank all the voters, regardless of their political affiliations, for their endorsement last Tuesday. When either I or my campaign workers went from door to door during the campaign we were well received by the people in the 44th District. The voters asked us many questions and we answered these questions openly and honestly. The results on Tuesday indicates that the voters believed in our answers and my integrity. I will not violate my voters' trust."

On another note, Nigro commented on his campaign organization.

"Dave Fredrick did a masterful job as my campaign manager. He organized all the campaign workers as efficiently as any manager I have seen in politics. There is no doubt in my mind that in the future Dave will contribute his political talents to the town of Enfield."

"The campaign was well run," Fredrick said, "due to the enthusiasm of our workers. John Sanzo was a competent treasurer who always had funds available when they were needed. Bob Campbell and Wanda Lamana were invaluable coordinators in the campaign's administration. Obviously, it's impossible to mention all the individuals who helped. There are legions of people who made this campaign a success."

Arthritis Drive Reaches Midway

A total of $3,000 has been contributed to date to the Arthritis Foundation's Suffield - Enfield - area Arthritis Appeal, according to John A. Washburn, campaign treasurer.

Washburn said, "We were surprised and pleased at the number of people in the area who responded to our call for neighborhood volunteers. Sincere, dedicated people visiting neighbors to enlist their support is the most effective way we've found of combating the nation's number-one crippler." He estimated that more than 9,800 persons in the Suffield-Enfield area suffer with arthritis.

Commenting on the goal of $6,000 set by the foundation's Connecticut chapter, he said, "If we reach this, we're pretty sure of being able to continue our bread-and-butter programs of patient care, education and research in the Capital Region and throughout the State." He noted the existence of University-McCook Hospital's Arthritis Clinic available to residents of north central Connecticut, and a research project underway at Newington Children's Hospital probing the nature of JRA, a severe form of arthritis which attacks children.

"While $6,000 would sustain these programs, we hope to top this goal and be able to expand and improve our services," said Washburn. "With enough support from the public, we could see more patients in the Clinics, subsidize additional research, and expand our counseling, referral and education services." Washburn urged all volunteers who have not yet completed their assignment to do so at their earliest convenience.

Nine Divisions To March In Annual Veteran's Day Parade On Wednesday

The annual Veterans Day parade and ceremonies will be held next Wednesday. The parade will begin at 10 a. m. from the parking lot of the Enfield High School and end at the War Memorial in front of Town Hall where traditional and appropriate memorial services will be held at 11 a. m.

All organizations, units and individuals participating in the parade will assemble in their respective areas at the high school parking lot not later than 9:30 a.m.

The Police Division will consist of the Enfield Police Dept. colors, Chief of Police Walter Skower and members of the police department.

The Escort Division will be made up of the Parade Marshad, Gerald Cote, commander of Amvets Post No. 18; Enfield Veterans Council chairman Liborio DeMaria; commanders of all local veterans organizations and the guest speaker of the day.

Also, the Escort Division will contain Enfield town representatives, the Mayor of Enfield, Frank Mancuso, Town Manager C. Samuel Kissinger and members of the clergy.

Following will be members of the Enfield Town Council, the Drum Line and Company D, 242nd Army Combat Engineer Battalion of the Conn. Army National Guard.

JMH Special Gifts Division Kick-off Planned For Nov. 12

Hugo Trappe, chairman of the Somers Special Gifts Division of the Johnson Memorial Hospital $1,500,000 fund drive, discussed campaign plans with his division majors and captains during a meeting at the Somers Inn this week.

The majors appointed by Trappe are Oris Guyette, Clarence D. Provencher, Burt U. Schnare and Richard Weingartner.

The four division majors have been asked to enlist four team captains each.

Oris Guyette has enlisted as captains, Richard H. Jackson III, Thomas F. Knox, Stanley R. Paduch and James J. McDonnell Jr.

Clarence Provencher has enlisted as captains, Raymond F. Beardslee, Allen R. Doty, James Ferreira and George Merrill.

Burt Schnare has enlisted as captains, James J. Burgess, Stanley J. Mulak and James R. Taylor.

Richard Weingartner has enlisted as captains, Robert E. Cournoyer, Herbert A. Wells, Howard Whitaker and John N. Wyse.

These captains will now enlist four team members each, which will complete the Somers Special Gifts Division.

Plans have been made for a Nov. 12 Kick-off in conjunction with the Enfield Special Gifts Division Kick-off to be held on the same date.

Local MD Drive Period Nov. 8-15

Capt. Francis Beaudreau of District 1, Enfield Volunteer Fire Dept., campaign chairman in Enfield for the Muscular Dystrophy Assn. drive, stated today that more than 600 volunteers will take part in the house-to-house canvas for funds which will be held Nov. 8-15.

More than 240 fire fighters' canisters will be distributed by a special committee of fire fighters to all business outlets in Enfield.

Volunteers may return their kits to Enfield Federal Savings and Loan Co., 660 Enfield St.

In a statement, Beaudreau stated that the funds raised in this annual appeal for MDA are urgently needed to support a world-wide research program seeking a cause and cure for muscular dystrophy, as well as to provide services and equipment for local victims of the disease. He expressed the hope that the citizens of Enfield would respond generously when the volunteers call.

Ugly Rumor Entirely False, Says Police Chief Skower

The rumor that a four-year-old boy was assaulted and died at a local shopping mall is entirely false, said Enfield Police Chief Walter Skower. He made this statement earlier this week following a thorough investigation by the detective bureau.

The rumor began during the New York World's Fair in 1964, spread to Expo '67 in Montreal, Canada, then to a shopping mall in Louisville, Ky., going to the Eastfield Mall in Springfield and finally here to Enfield.

Although there are several versions to the rumor, they all are basically similar and in some instances, the circumstances of the rumor has increased. For instance, here in Enfield, the first story was that a young boy was found in the men's room of the local shopping mall, unconscious from an overdose of narcotics administered to him by some hippie-type individuals. Later, the story was that the boy was criminally assaulted by older boys and finally the story was that he has been assaulted with a knife by perverts and had bled to death.

The rumor is known to have been discussed by employees of the Monson (Mass.) State Hospital and also was discussed by operating room personnel during the performance of surgery in a Springfield hospital.

Chief Skower said the ugly rumor is entirely without foundation. It has also been denied by Springfield, New York and Montreal police.

He wants to assure parents that no such incident occurred, at least not here in Enfield, and he hopes the rumor fades away and dies as well as carriers of it.

Police Exams To Be Held Saturday

by E. A. MOKUS

Applications are still being accepted for the position of patrolman for the Enfield Police Dept., reported Chief Walter J. Skower.

Forms may be picked up at the police department at Town Hall at any time of the day. The examination will be conducted for those interested candidates this Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Police Assembly Room.

The position of a police officer offers young men an outstanding opportunity for a satisfying career in public service. It is a tough and demanding one, said Skower, but its rewards are many, such as personal recognition, financial security, opportunity to complete higher education, spiritual value and a great variety of interesting work assignments. The chief said the work is never dull.

The position's starting salary is $7,044 for a 40-hour week. Other benefits include uniform allowance, paid holidays, vacation and sick leave, overtime, shift premium, extra work program, increment raises, police pension and credit union privileges.

"If you can measure up to the high standards required of an Enfield police officer, we welcome you to our ranks," said Chief Skower.

Unique Publication Devoted To Locating Missing Youth

There are approximately 8,500 weekly newspapers in the United States. Some, such as the Enfield Press, are strictly devoted to news; some are quasi-weeklies; some are shop papers; some specialize in a type of article or subject.

Among the most recently established newspapers is a four-page copyrighted tabloid which is devoted only and entirely to locating missing youth.

The unique newspaper, called "The National Missing Youth Locator," was founded in July by George Stamper, a California furniture wholesaler with no previous newspaper experience.

Stamper says there are 10,000 youths missing each week in the United States, amounting to over a half million yearly. He said he started his unique newspaper because he was concerned about the number of obvious homeless youngsters wandering the streets of the East Bay area of San Francisco.

"I didn't start it as a money-making venture," said Stamper. "We're still not making money but because of the response, we expect to soon."

The newspaper is distributed to more than 5,000 police agencies and nearly 2,000 private investigators throughout the country. The cost for a parent or interested person of a missing youth, is $28.50 for the first insertion, $20 for the second and following insertions. However, Stamper explains that it is usually necessary for more than the initial insertion because police usually keep the locator on their bulletin boards.

The locator requests not merely a good description of the missing youth, but a clear and later photograph. It does not accept applications for youth who have been missing for less than five days because about half of them return within three days.

Included with the locator is an application form designed to help locate the missing youth. It asks such questions, among the usually general queries, as physical defects and visible marks, did the child have any money, friends and their addresses, the child's special interests, arrest record which is held confidential and many other questions.

The locator does not accept a reward for locating a missing youth but if one is offered, it suggests the reward money be donated to a police widow, or other law enforcement benefit fund.

The Oct. 23 issue of The National Missing Youth Locator, depicted photographs and descriptions of 29 missing youth, 23 girls and 6 boys. Their ages ranged from 13 through 18.

Some of the unusual descriptions are: Spaces between the teeth; likes hippies and rock music; seven moles on right side of face; left with hippies.

Gov.-elect Thomas J. Meskill

Biographical Sketch Of Governor-Elect Meskill

As a result of Tuesday's state-wide election, Republican candidate Thomas J. Meskill will be the 82nd man to become Governor of Connecticut on inauguration day, Jan. 9.

The Governor-elect was born Jan. 30, 1928, in New Britain, the son of the late Thomas J. Meskill, a former State Central Committeeman and the former chairman of the Republican Town Committee of New Britain.

The present 6th Congressional District Representative attended local New Britain schools and the St. Thomas Seminary in Bloomfield. He graduated with honors from New Britain Senior High School in 1946 and received his Bachelor of Science degree from Trinity College in Hartford in 1950.

In 1950, Meskill enlisted in the USAF, during the Korean Conflict and in 1951, graduated from Officer's Candidate School.

The New Britain native graduated from the University of Connecticut Law School in 1956, where he served as Editor of Law Review in his senior year. He also studied at the New York University School of Law.

Meskill is a member of the Connecticut Bar Assn., Hartford County Bar Assn., Florida Bar Assn., and the New Britain Bar Assn. He was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States.

In private practice, Meskill is a partner in the law firm of Meskill, Dorsey, Sledzik and Walsh of New Britain and from 1960 to 1962, he was an assistant

Chamber Dinner Dance Nov. 21

On Nov. 21, the Greater Hartford Chamber of Commerce will hold its Harvest Dinner-Dance, at the Mountain Laurel Restaurant.

Chairmen for the event are past president of the Chamber, Francis Burke Jr., and vice president, Anthony Troiano Jr. A special evening is planned for the entire membership and their guests. An open pay bar "get acquainted" hour will begin at 7, followed by dinner at 8 p.m. A delicious dinner is planned with a choice of baked stuffed shrimp or tender london broil. All food courses served in the manner so much enjoyed by all at the Mountain Laurel.

Following the dinner, dancing will be enjoyed by all from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., with music provided for the occasion by a trio. Tickets in two colors (depending on the choice of the main course) will be priced at $6.50 for the individual and $13 per couple. Tickets are on sale at the Chamber office at 9 North Main St., telephone 745-3363.

Alden Avenue Fire

Fire broke out early yesterday morning in the kitchen of the home of Mrs. Ann Waconas at 23 Alden Ave. Prompt action by the Thompsonville Fire Dept. saved the small wooden structure from complete ruin although the kitchen was destroyed. Mrs. Waconas and her three children were in the house at the time of the fire. One daughter, Debbie, 11, suffered a possible broken ankle when she jumped from a second floor window.

THE PREMIUM
HIGH TEST
WITH THE
REGULAR PRICE!

This new car is the best reason not to buy a Volkswagen Beetle.

In a year when every car maker seems to be giving you one reason or another not to buy a Volkswagen Beetle, it might be a good idea to listen to the best reason:

Volkswagen's Super Beetle.

It has almost twice the luggage space as the Beetle of yesteryear.

It has a longer-lasting, more powerful engine.

It has a new suspension system for a smoother ride.

It has a flow-through ventilation system to bring in fresh air when the windows are closed.

The interior is, to be honest, much nicer.

The floor, for example, is fully carpeted.

In all, it has 89 things you could never find on a Beetle.

So of all the claims you'll hear this year by car makers that their cars are "better than a Beetle," there's only one car maker with 25 years experience in small cars to back it up.

Volkswagen.

Historical Gardens Are Relevant To Your Backyard

Today every garden has become more personal and more or less ordered. In the fall and the spring, everyone thinks in terms of their land and what to do about it to prepare for the coming season: to make it more productive, more attractive, colorful and continuously blooming, more individual, and of course, more easily cared for. Although the following notes on the history of ancient gardening may seem irrelevant with the approach of winter, they nonetheless give the reader something to think about over the winter months before he limbers up his "green thumb" at the time of the first thaw. Over the winter, on a cold, chilly, depressing night, what more cheery activity than to browse through the garden magazines, with the following historical thoughts in mind and plan your own small plot, with the creativity of an artist and the technical knowledge of a horticulturist.

All gardens are a product of leisure and a creative art form. By definition, they are the artificial arrangement of cultivated areas into geometric or free patterns to achieve a purely esthetic result.

Landscape architecture is urban in that the most ancient descriptions of gardens indicate that they were orchards or kitchen gardens. The fact that landscape architecture is based on natural elements placed in formal configurations. It is determined by the choice of species and the distribution of cultivated plants. The formal aspect of a garden changes with each season and its appearance throughout history is a miniature of nature itself.

As rural life came to be regarded by the urbanite as the authentic and real life, naturalism, together with a growing acquaintance with Oriental landscape architecture and the related, poetic concept of the picturesque barren land turned in to a flowering "Eden."

With the development of the "English Garden" of the 18th century, the distribution between the wild and cultivated emphasized uncorrupted beauty and reflected the pedagogical, and sociological concept of the enlightened philosophy prevalent in the late 18th century.

Although a great deal is known of gardens during and after the Renaissance but not enough to trace a consecutive narrative of development, ancient gardens are known from a few pictures and plans and many generalized descriptions. In the 15th and 16th centuries, Western man had to relearn the art of gardening as well as much else.

Between the disintegration of the Roman empire and the appearance of modern Europe, gardening as a fine art virtually ceased to exist throughout the greater part of the Western world.

The foundations upon which the Renaissance garden designer worked were physically Roman and spiritually Hellenistic. It has too often been said that the church was a repository of all that was left of learning and skill when the great central structure of society declined.

The monastic gardens with its vegetable patch, its orchard and its herb garden for healing, was a dead end because by the middle of the 13th century, monasticism itself had become a dead end.

Three threads that linked the gardens of the 15th and 16th centuries to the gardens of the ancient world: 1) the influence of the actual ruins in which men lived; 2) the descriptions of ancient gardens, particularly the letters of the younger Pliny; 3) traditionally, through Byzantium and the Moslem kingdoms of Spain.

The world in which the peculiar condition referred to as medievalism was established and was deeply and extensively a Roman world. Consequently, the underlying unseemly influence of Rome was everywhere and no single aspect of Europe was, or indeed is, free from it. The medieval gardens that grew up, were functional and hardly decorative. Utility and aesthetics were strictly subjugated to geometric patterns.

The plan of these gardens were rectangular. In countries such as Egypt where the ground is irrigated by canals, the division determined the garden patterns. It was the influence of ruined buildings rather than of irrigation which was the principal factor in squaring off the earlier European gardens.

Later, sophisticated circular gardens occurred and the earliest European botanic, founded at Padua in 1545, was laid out on a radical principle. Scale was also of great importance in determining the character of medieval gardens.

The medieval European garden was essentially a sanctuary, a place enclosed, but it contained within itself the seed of an unlimited growth outward. This seed was the mount. As in the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, one of the seven wonders of the world, terracing was the natural form of cultivation for the mountain dweller. Upon every terrace were planted trees and shrubs, the growth of which concealed the arched promenade, which ran below the next terrace. The whole effect was of a great tree covered, man-made mountain.

In times of trouble, bulwarks of earth were put up against the ruins of ancient Roman peristyles. The association of man-made hills with gardens has a significance more important than the interest of their origin. They are a sign that the Middle Ages were trying to look beyond the protective walls behind which physically, spiritually and intellectually, the Christian West had succeeded in perceiving itself alive.

Once the protective walls were down, the Middle Ages were at an end and the sensual world without limit stretched out invitingly. The fortress slowly became a villa; the view became more important than the wall. The most consistent feature of the gardens referred to by Pliny and seen during the times of Augustus and the gardens of Vetti at Pompeii, as well as Renaissance Italy, was the raised bed. Like the little town gardens, they only varied within themselves. The Roman garden villa was precisely what one would expect of a wealthy landowner in an opulent and settled community to make of a Greek idea. It has become orderly and personal; it is now a place to which the spirit, relaxed, can retreat from such things to find quiet refreshment.

Modeling your own garden with the above thoughts in mind you can create your own quiet, relaxed, spiritual, retreat oblivious to passing traffic, noisy neighbors, or summertime mosquitoes. You will have planned your own retreat, modelled on your own design — strictly naturalistic, Greek, Roman, Italian, or Oriental — with your own choice of plants, their coloring and their placement, but each with a certain intellectual, historical importance proudly blossoming.

CHILD'S PLAY

ASTRONAUTS ARE TODAY'S HEROES

Our children's heroes are different from those of their older brothers and parents—but the ingredients are basically the same.

In past years, young boys pretended to be detectives, soldiers, cowboys. Now they've turned their eyes skyward to the world of astronauts—right in keeping with the image of daring, courage, intelligence and "good guy" that we parents try to foster.

But, our children want to select their own heroes and the way they've been buying Ideal Toy's S.T.A.R. (Space Travel and Reconnaissance) TEAM space equipment is a good indication the astronauts are today's favorites.

Before man set foot on the moon, space toys weren't all that popular. And, most of them were in the form of "dolls" for boys.

However, with S.T.A.R. TEAM gear, our youngsters actually can be astronauts, rather than playing with them, because this realistic and authentic equipment is worn by the youngsters.

It includes a helmet with headphone and amber gold dome giving the young spaceman the same tinted view of the universe seen by the moon walkers, air cushion space boots, a remote gripper device, ionization nebulizer to "deradiate" moon samples and space equipment belt with anti-gravity tool, signal communicator, life support system and scanner scope.

Around my house, these toys have provided countless hours of imaginative playtime. Now, the latest development for our children is the new S.T.A.R. TEAM club complete with official membership card, ring, jacket patch, space map and map case. Your child can get his membership blank from your local toy dealer. If for some reason it's inconvenient for you to take him to the store, he may become a member by sending $1 with his name and address to S.T.A.R. TEAM Command, P. O. Box 612, Rosemont, Minn. 55068.

SPACE and AERONAUTICS

STACKED KNOWLEDGE

WASHINGTON — Thumbing through some of the technical papers that have come out of the space program, we learned — but should not have been surprised — what a staggering amount of information has been disseminated through America's space and aeronautics research programs.

In its dozen years of existence NASA has accumulated tons of data as a direct result of its worldwide research and development activities — and all of it available to interested parties.

NASA's scientific and technical information system now contains nearly one million documents which are abstracted, indexed and obtainable through modern retrieval and information services.

Just last year, more than 1.6 million copies of publications were distributed. In addition, more than three million microfiche copies (microfilm each carrying images of 60 pages) were sent out. The year 1970 promises to yield more.

This is a remarkable increase in the available knowledge on space and aeronautics in the half century since the late Dr. Robert H. Goddard began his work with rockets. As prophetic and visionary as he was, he could not have foreseen the tons of literature that one day would be stacked on his own carefully kept notebooks.

While knowledge in most scientific fields has multiplied many times in the last half century and particularly in the last 25 years, perhaps no other field has advanced its "state-of-the-art" indexing as progressively and rapidly as space and aeronautics.

Massive Election Hangover

We don't quite understand why the President of the United States feels he must have a completely sympathetic Senate and House of Representatives in order to be effective. The Constitution didn't intend it that way — in fact it is obvious that its framers provided that there be checks and balances against such a situation. They were, at the time, all too conscious of too strong central power in the hands of a President — or of a King.

President Nixon, we think, found it out in this election. He and his political handmaiden, Spiro Agnew, spent an unprecedented amount of time, money and vituperation in trying to convince the electorate that he should be given this power and control. The effort backfired, and as in so many past Nixon political mistakes, actually had the opposite effect.

With the exception of a few scattered victories, the South, Mid- and Far West let him down, forcibly. In retrospect, we should imagine that he realizes that he should have stood in bed. Most Republican candidates who viewed Agnew on their horizon must have shuddered at their chances. To use a cliché, it proved to be the kiss of death.

There has always been in this country a feeling of independence over states' rights — the ability to manage their own local affairs — and against centralized political power in Washington.

The President should be exactly what he was intended to be: a leader. He enjoys plenty of personal power, and an astute ability to use this wisely, perhaps gently, is the mark of a great person. Our history is replete with examples of greatness achieved in spite of a politically hostile Congress.

The people are seldom fooled. It may not happen as rapidly as political parties would wish, but they eventually rally behind, and give their support to, leaders who show themselves to have the country's interest at heart. Nixon and Agnew have spent two years complaining about their opposition, which has blurred the administration's actual accomplishments.

We feel the Nixon administration has made successful progress on behalf of the people. The utterances from the White House however have sounded picayune and childish. The 1968 election was a close one, and by no means a carte blanche mandate. It behooved the President to conduct himself accordingly.

As Nixon and Agnew nurse their painful hangover, we trust they will take some strong, black coffee and get on with the business of government.

One Small Voice

Republican Governor Elected

We have been a sideline spectator and commentator on countless elections — there is one truism common to all: you can't always believe the forecasts, and people are going to vote as they wish, willy-nilly. We wouldn't have it any other way.

If you remember our last week's predictions, you will have noted that we were right 4 out of 6. The two we lost, both local, fell victim to the traditional Democrat majority. If we have any criticism at all, it is that the local Republican party seems to roll over and lie dead before they ever put up a concentrated fight.

On one point we feel encouraged. It had been our stance that the state administration had been too long in power, and deserved to be turned out. They were — and actually against a national trend, and in the face of distressing unemployment (which usually works for the Democrats). As we said last week, we hoped the voters would keep "their collective eye on the ball," and they did.

With the exception of the office of Secretary of State, Tom Meskill carried his team with him into the State Capitol. Gloria Schaffer (D) was already popular because of her statewide TV panel image. We feel she will be an asset rather than a liability to the administrative family.

Voters are usually wise beyond their party affiliations. It is sometimes forgotten, in the zeal for party loyalty, that elections are almost always won by members of the opposite party crossing over to support individual choices. We trust that in America this will always be so.

TEDESCO SENDS REGARDS TO BEA

Mrs. Beatrice Parsons
4110 Pittman Drive
Jacksonville, Florida 32207

Dear Bea:
Many thanks for sending me a picture of my wife. While she has been fairly successful in destroying any picture of herself over six months old, I was delighted to unveil that relic from "the good old days." Of course, some of our most fond memories go back to that period in Enfield's municipal history when each day in City Hall was best described as "wild." It was a very difficult time for the community, and I, frankly, was so in debt to the Thompsonville Press for its consistent examination of municipal issues and, particularly, the strong editorial stand taken. There were times when I am sure that the various public policies were swayed significantly by the public vocalizing of the issue before the Enfield residents. It was a great experience and one which I will never forget. Again, thanks for sending me that additional reminder.

I can't possibly imagine that 71 Church Street will be the same without you. I felt that Payson Smith's comments were most appropriate and revealed some of the feeling which we all hold for you and the work you did so well at the Press. My only question is, how did he ever get you to publish your age? I had always considered you a member of the silent majority branch of the Women's Liberation Movement. Personal age, therefore, should be a factor totally ignored when compared with talent which you have in such generous quantities.

I also want to tell you how particularly pleased I am that you are moving to Jacksonville, Fla. I am pleased mostly because you have not moved to St. Petersburg or some other "southern sun city." I couldn't picture you in that kind of setting, except for the possible exception of publishing an underground geriatric press.

Please accept our best wishes on your retirement and your new life in Florida. It was wonderful hearing from you again, and please keep us on your mailing list so that we may continue to be apprised of your movements.

Very truly yours:
Ted Tedesco,
City Manager,
City of Boulder, Colo.

SAYS COMPLIANCE WITH REPAIRS SLOW

Dear Editor:

This is an open letter to tell the public of Enfield the type of building inspection department you have working for you.

Approximately July 15th Ernest Busch came to our home for a routine inspection of the four apartments in the building. He ordered all repairs to be completed within a month. Some were completed, some weren't.

On Oct. 1st at 1:30 a.m., my husband was at work. I was in bed asleep when the ceiling fell on my stomach. I am six months pregnant!

On October 2nd early in the morning I called the building inspector's office to report this incident. Late in the afternoon Ernest Busch came to our home. He looked at the ceiling and debris plus other electrical outlets which were supposed to be repaired a month ago and were not. He then assured us of immediate action. It is now October 30th and nothing has been done.

Last week my 21 month old baby was sitting on my bed under the hole in the ceiling and dirty, rusty, polluted water fell on his head and back. This water came from the shower upstairs which was supposed to be replaced over a month ago by order of Ernest Busch.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Tirillo,
133 Church Street

PRESCRIPTIONS OVER HALF MILLION

Dear Editor:

On Saturday, Oct. 31, we filled prescription number 500,000 — a half million votes of confidence by the people of Enfield.

In celebration of this event, we filled this prescription free of all costs to the patient. The lucky patient was Jerry Barr of 15 Birchwood Rd., Enfield.

We are grateful to those who have put their trust in us and hope that we continue to merit their confidence.

Yours truly:
Raymond Hurwitz,
Alan Drug Co., Inc.

Chamber Notes

ENFIELD CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Federal Communications Commission has received information that interstate telephone service is being increasingly used for collection of claimed debts in ways that are or may be in violation of applicable tariffs of the telephone companies and criminal statutes.

Practices include calling at odd hours of the day or night; repeated calls; calls to friends, neighbors, relatives, employers and children; calls making a variety of threats; calls asserting falsely that credit ratings will be hurt; calls falsely stating that legal process is about to be served; calls demanding payments for amounts not owed; calls to places of employment; and calls misrepresenting the terms and condition of existing or proposed contracts.

Although many of these calls are placed on a local basis, there is increasing indication that such improper practices also involve use of interstate toll and Wide Area Telephone Service. (WATS)

Upon violation of any of these conditions the telephone company can, by written notice, discontinue service "forthwith."

These tariff regulations are filed with this Commission pursuant to Section 203 of the Communications Act, 47 U.S.C. 203 and are binding on the telephone company and customer alike. Users of the telephone service are also subject to the enforcement proceedings provided for in Section 401 and 411 of the Communication Act.

In addition to the loss of telephone service for violation of the tariffs, Section 223 of the Communication Act makes it a crime to use the telephone in interstate or foreign communication to make "repeated telephone calls, during which conversation ensues, solely to harass any person at the called number" or to knowingly permit "others to use his telephone" for such purposes. Penalties for violation of Section 223 are a fine up to $500 or six months' imprisonment, or both, 47 U.S.C. 223.

The Commission is concerned that some users of telephone service may be unaware of their obligation to refrain from using the service for abusive or harassing calls. It is also concerned that other users may be willfully and repeatedly violating the provision of the tariffs and the applicable statutes, and that the telephone companies are not adequately enforcing their tariffs.

Accordingly, the Commission is issuing this Public Notice in order that the public may be alerted to their legal obligations in the use of the telephone and the penalties for failure to abide thereby.

The Commission has also sent letters to the Bell, General, United and Continental telephone systems requesting them to take positive steps to inform present and potential customers of the requirements of law, and to effectuate a more vigorous enforcement of their tariffs.

Shown above is the new addition to the Trolley Museum in Warehouse Point, a 28-ton fireless locomotive nicknamed the "Thermos Bottle." It was donated to the museum by the Stanley Works of New Britain.

Trolley Museum In Warehouse Point Given Unique Fireless Locomotive

E.A.M.

Now on permanent display at the Trolley Museum on Route 140 in Warehouse Point, is a unique 28-ton fireless steam engine called the Thermos Bottle.

The locomotive was donated to the Connecticut Electric Railway Assn. by the Stanley Works of New Britain. It was built by the H. K. Porter Co. in 1936 and has been used shunting freight cars on a one and a quarter mile length track at the Stanley Works from that time until it was given to the Trolley Museum last month.

The fireless steam engine gets its nickname from its ability to hold steam and hot water for a long period of time. The engine received its power from the company's main boiler as it has no firebox.

The boiler of the locomotive would be half filled with hot water and then steam would be added at about 150 pounds of pressure. As the steam was used, more steam would be created from hot water and used in the engine's low pressure cylinders. The locomotive would be filled with water and steam in the morning which would last until about noontime. While the crew ate lunch, the engine would be recharged. The second charge would last until quitting time.

The rare locomotive was able to haul three loaded or seven empty boxcars.

A set of tracks has been laid to the left of the main entrance of the museum where it is easily seen from the road. It joins three other steam locomotives and more than 30 trolley cars now at the museum.

The Connecticut Electric Railway Assn. owns the right-of-way of the former Rockville branch of the old Hartford and Springfield Street Railway and operates trolleys over a mile and a half of track.

Association chairman William E. Wood of Longmeadow, said all track laying, trolley wire installation and work on the cars is done by volunteers. He said another mile of track is expected to be in operation by next summer.

Wood said among the trolley cars operating on the line are several built by the former Wason Car Co. of Springfield, which was one of the largest trolley car manufacturers during the 1900s.

He also said the association uses Trolley Car Number 2056, a trolley which was acquired from Montreal, Canada. The particular car was originally owned by the Springfield Street Railway Co. and operated on the Sumner Ave. Chicopee line.

The association charges a nominal fee of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children for those who wish to take a ride on one of the operating trolleys. There are also half fare transfers for rides on other type trolleys if used on the same day.

Parking is free. The association also operates a gift shop in a Pullman car which is located to the right of the main entrance.

kos of New Britain and Mrs. Bernard Czernicki of Farmington; five sons: Chester Krajewski and Stanley Krajewski of Enfield, Edmond Krajewski of Windsor, Walter Krajewski of Somers, and Mitchell Krajewski of Suffield, and 17 grandchildren.

The funeral was Saturday, from the Leete Funeral Home. Burial was in St. Adalbert's Cemetery.

Theodore W. Robbins

Theodore W. Robbins, 70, of 7 Thomas St., died Sunday at the Portland Maine Medical Center. Born in Burlington, Mr. Robbins lived in Simsbury, and for the last five years, in Enfield. He was employed by the Aetna Life and Casualty Insurance Co. for 45 years before retiring in 1965 as an underwriter. A member of St. Mark's Masonic Lodge 36 of Simsbury, past master of the Simsbury Grange and the Farmington Valley Pomona Grange, he was a past president of the Hartford Numismatic Association and the New England Numismatic Association. A member of the Enfield Golden Age Club and a trustee of the Enfield Methodist Church, Mr. Robbins was active in Enfield People to People.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Anne Gray Robbins; a son, Theodore Robbins of Farmington; three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Allen of Oakland, New Jersey, Mrs. Gertrude Chatfield of Goleta, California, and Mrs. Mary Watson of Enfield; two brothers, Leonard Robbins of Hartford, and Philip of Brooklyn, N.Y.; eight grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Howard F. Jansma

Mrs. Howard F. Jansma (Dorothy Rappelline), of 162 Jackson Road, died Nov. 1 at Westover Air Force Base Hospital. The wife of retired Chief Petty Officer Howard F. Jansma, she deceased was a member of St. Bernard's Church and the Patrick F. Triggs Auxiliary Post 1501.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Jansma leaves her daughter, Miss Betty Jansma at home, a sister, Mrs. Francis Palmer of Bridgeport, and two brothers, Charles Caneveri of Trumbull, and Frank Caneveri of Milford.

B-S Management Meeting Nov. 10

The next meeting of the Bigelow-Sanford Management Society will be held Nov. 10 at the Mt. Laurel Restaurant at 6 p.m. The guest speaker will be Steven W. Forney, District Representative for the Nalco Chemical Co. of Chicago.

Forney graduated from Iowa State University of Science and Technology with a Bachelor of Science Degree and did graduate work in marketing at the University of Wisconsin.

During graduate studies, he was employed as a lab assistant for the chemistry and physics department working on Ter-nary crystal growth and variable star research.

Upon his graduation he became a Development Engineer with the Atomic Energy Commission, Ames Laboratory, Ames, Iowa, and in that position his responsibilities included the physical testing and product design on new ceramic processes and their controlling systems.

Also included in his duties was the establishment of raw materials specifications, new product design and installation of processes into production.

Now employed by Nalco Chemical Co., Forney is responsible for the Sales Engineering of specialized chemicals and services for industry. Nalco's area in specialized chemicals include boiler and water treatment portable cooling systems, paper making, drainage aids, biocides. Their marketing also includes combustion aids, hot seal plastics, dispersants and anti-foam agents.

Forney is a member of the American Ceramic Society, and the American Chemical Society. His speech will be on pollution control.

Robert P. Thayer, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Thayer of 28 School St., Enfield, has joined the Alpha Rho Upsilon fraternity at Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Maine, where he is a freshman.

Bob Thayer Joins Alpha Rho Upsilon

IS THERE A WAY OUT?

A way out of poverty, illness, unhappiness? Thousands have found the way in the teachings of Christ Jesus, as explained through Christian Science.

They've found that discovering the truth about themselves as the image of God has set them free - free even from those troubles pronounced "hopeless."

Hear Martin Broones, C.S.B., of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, explain how you can find your way out. You and your friends are welcome to his free lecture.

PEE WEE HOCKEY IN ENFIELD????

The question marks are needed because there have not been too many requests for sponsorship of Pee Wee Hockey teams as yet. The Enfield Hockey Association, Inc. was organized on April 1 of this year in the hope of bringing Pee Wee hockey to Enfield. Enough boys from age eight to age twelve have shown enough interest in the program to make the Pee Wee League worth while. The association will be conducting a soap sale in the near future to raise money for the league. I urge the support of all Enfield residents.

This is a worth while cause. Any program conducted to help the youngsters of the area is a worth while project.

Financial backing is needed now to make the league work. Sponsorship by area firms is desired to make the league work. Pee Wee football is enjoyed by a great many people and we are sure that Pee Wee Hockey would add further depth to the youth programs of the town.

So how about it Enfield? Will we have a Pee Wee Hockey program this year? Remove the question marks and make it a certainty. Further information can be obtained from Harry Staples at 749-8922.

LOCAL FANS HAVE LITTLE TO CHEER

Whom do you cheer for these days? On the football scene there is little to cheer about if you root for a local team. The New York Jets are 1-6, the Boston Patriots are 1-6, and the Hartford Knights are 4-5.

Only the New York Giants have a chance and even that is deceiving. They have played the Boston Patriots and the injury-riddled New York Jets in their last two games. They are now 4-3 but what will they do against the more powerful teams? We don't think they will fare as well as they have in their last two starts. They have scored 139 points but have given up 166. The leader of their division, St. Louis, has given up 130 points, but they have scored 180. That makes a difference.

The Minnesota Vikings look like the team to beat as they have only given up 56 points in seven games. That is only an average of eight points per game. I don't see how they managed to lose the one game that they have lost. It must have happened before their defense tightened up.

The Los Angeles Rams have only had 94 points scored against them. They have lost two out seven games. Of course they have only scored 160 points to 184 for the Vikings. The difference is that the Vikings are leading their division while the Rams are in second place behind San Francisco. Not that the Forty-Niners have won more, but because they have tied one game instead of losing it.

It looks at this point as though the Baltimore Colts and Minnesota Vikings will be fighting it out in the Super Bowl, if that is what they are going to call it this year. The Colts seem to just keep right on rolling along. Johnny Unitas has been playing for a hundred years, or does it just seem that way, but he is still connecting with his great passing arm. Of course the line gives him pretty good protection too.

Local hockey fans seem to have a better chance in this sport. The Boston Bruins, champions of the 1969-70 Stanley Cup, still look very strong this year. The only thing that the Bruins can't figure out is why Bobby Orr is not scoring as well as he did a year ago. I don't think they should worry too much as long as they keep on winning.

The New York Rangers are giving their fans a few thrills too as they are tied with Boston for the National Hockey League East Division lead with 15 points each as of Monday night. The Rangers have lost one more game than the Bruins, but it looks as though it could be an interesting season.

The Springfield Kings have had more goals scored against them than they have scored but have managed to maintain a .500 average with five wins and five losses. Even at that they are only two points away from first place. Whether they win or lose though, you can always see a good game in Springfield. The American Hockey League seems to have faster skating and more scoring than the National while the National League seems to have more finesse than the American. Oh well, keep cheering anyhow. It can't hurt.

Kauffman rolled 430, Simone Midneters with 186-477. Mary Fowler 429. Helen Cwikla 166 and Hope Crawford 161. UFO's lead the Kooks by 8½ and the Jaycees by 9½.

June Crouse bowled 187-464. Carole Wilkerson 449. Margaret Beigel 177-443 and Mary Kane 164-435 in the Busy Bee League. No Names led Snoopy's by a half point and Bumble 3's by three points.

Don Evans rolled 567. Ken

Cowles 543. Tony Bak 538. Rich LaFlamme 217. Ed Krawiec 203 and Leo Janik 201 in the Fred Gamache Service League. Fred's Welding leads Brian Realty by 4½ points and F. A. Fuller Agency by five.

Bill Davies hit 223-611. Wally Dumala 221-567 and Joe Orefice 228-574 for the men in the Sunday Nite Mixed. Olga Gale shot 184-491. Helen Divine 177-488. Helen Lamont 478 and Winnie Davies 185 for the girls. Big Deals lead Take Ten by a half point, Gutter Dusters by a point and Four Imps by two points.

Joe Orifice bowled 180-494. Don Emery 475. Bob Goda 439. Bob Pacewicz 199 and Fano Gandolfo 169 for the men in the Monday Night Mixed. Connie Bickford had 166-446. Cathy Gale 407. Barbara Strout 162-392 and Betty Emery 150 for the girls. Fearsome Four leads Mis-Fits and Bess Four by a single point each.

Mary J. Wooten bowled 184-435. Jan Phillips 428. J. Rochon 428. Peggy Kaseloukas 164 and Olga Gale 163 in St. Martha's Women's League. Les Miserable leads Kool Ones and Odd Balls by three points each.

Bob Welsh topped 524 pins. Phil Henshaw 229-509. Dale Underhill and A. Deskosiers 508 each. Joe Iacolino 204 and Bob Peabody 200 in the Holy Family Mixed for the men. Shirley Dube rolled 190-493. Irene Henshaw 178-474. Barbara Landry 439. T. Iacolino 173 and W. Daws 173 for the girls. The Undoubtfuls lead Two Pairs by a point and The Rustlers and MT's by two each.

Dan Hayden was top man in the Sunday Mixed Night Owl with 176-483. Ray Carlson hit 167-471 and Bob Rondeau 174-423 for the men. Connie Bickford bowled 157-439. Nancy Rondeau 156-429 and Teddie 149-400 for the girls. The Rookies lead Alley Cats by 1½ and the Fives by two.

Jim Buczkowski bowled 217-527. Chuck Nichols 187-510. Al Pira 193-476 and Ed Provencher 188-170 in the Burger King Woopers. Kings lead Whalers bby one and Yumbos by two points.

Paul Cormier hit 502. Ken Robinson 501. Joe Hutchinson 501. Tom Egan 201. Tim Michmore 197 and Joe Cusimano 196 for the boys in the Hallmark Mixed League. Terry Ferguson bowled 179-448. Shirley Dube 167-441 and Mary Grenier 170-435 for the girls. Sweet Nothings and The Five Never Give Ins are tied for the lead with 22-10 records. Five Jewels are three points out.

Elaine LaRoche bowled 180-469. Jan Phillips 457. Mary Ann Montstream 446. Rosemarie Goulet 186 and Lucy Small 174 in the Tuesday Morning League. Four Roses leads Holy Rollers by a point and Somers "n" One and Pussycats by three each.

Fermi Loses To Bethel, 42-20

The fans who attended the Fermi High School football game last Saturday at the Enfield Street School actually saw two different football games. They saw a first half performance in which a sharp Bethel High team from Danbury all but ran the Falcons off the field as the halftime score showed Bethel 42, Fermi 6.

The second half was a different story as the local boys regrouped and came roaring back to score 14 points and hold the visitors scoreless.

Bethel started the game fast as they went ahead 28-0 in the first quarter on drives of 60, 56 and 52 yards sandwiched between a 66-yard punt return. They added 14 more points in the second period as they recovered two Fermi fumbles on the 23 and 25 yard lines.

Fermi's score came on a 52-yard drive, with Ed Daly passing to Sean McKewn for the final 12 yards. The point after failed and Bethel led 42-6.

The Falcons did a complete turnaround in the second half as Ken Bourque scored from a yard out capping a 56-yard drive.

The Fermi defense looked great in the second half as they held Bethel to 88 total yards.

Mike Croyle closed out the scoring for Fermi in the fourth period as he took a 30-yard pass from Daly to make the final score Bethel 42, Fermi 20.

Coach Joe Nuccio praised the team for its second half performance and singled out Darrel Elliott, Ed Daly, Ken Bourque, Sean McKewn and Mike Croyle for their fine offensive work.

Named as outstanding defensive players were Scott Pierz, Mark Hollenback, Bill Cormier and Roger Thibideau who really put the pressure on the Bethel runners in the second half.

This week the Fermi Falcons will meet McCann Tech from North Adams, Mass. The game will be played at the Enfield High School field with kickoff slated for 1:30 p. m.

Ramblers Meet Hartford's Best In Semi-Final Game

The Enfield Ramblers, Northern Division champs of the Charter Oak Midget Football League, drew the tough Stowe Village Firefighters of Hartford's North End as their opponents next Sunday in one of two semi-final games.

Stowe Village beat the Vernon Pioneers last Sunday 24-6 to annex the Western Division title of the Charter Oak Midget Football League. Both the Ramblers and Stowe Village are undefeated and the winner of next Sunday's game will play for the championship.

The Enfield - Stowe Village game will be played next Sunday at Pesci Park, Center St., Windsor Locks with kickoff at 1:00 p.m.

All playoff games and the championship game will be played on neutral fields. The other semi-final contest finds the Bolton (Conn.) Rams facing the East Hartford Italian American Club at Vernon, Conn.

All Enfield fans are urged to travel to Windsor Locks next week to cheer their local team to victory. The Ramblers, although very successful in past years have never won a championship and if past performance is any indication, this could be the year. The local boys have scored 312 points in eight games while giving up only 36.

Ramblers 20, Windsor Giants 8
The Enfield Ramblers traveled to Windsor last Sunday and took the measure of the Windsor Giants by a 20-8 score.

The Giants scored first on a well-executed 28-yard pass play as the Enfield A-team couldn't seem to get untracked. Finally Dippel tossed a strike to Mike Tarnowicz for a 25 yard gain down to the Giants 30. Dippel came right back with a 15-yard aerial to John Cusimano for a first down on the 15. Pete Lamagna then took a hand-off to the nine as the B-teams took the field.

B-team quarterback Pete Handley tried Joe Scavotto for two yards before keeping the ball and running for the touchdown. Scavotto ran the points after and it was Ramblers 8, Giants 8.

Windsor couldn't budge the Enfield B-team defense and were forced to kick. Dan O'Shea took the kick down to the Windsor 35 where Handley, Scavotto and O'Shea took turns running the ball down to the 14. Hand-

Players Of The Week

Players of the week named by the Enfield Rambler Head Coach Fred Semanie were Karl Zirolli, left, B-team middle guard, and Billy Petronella, right, A-team middle guard. Both boys were exceptional in Ramblers' 20-8 win over the Windsor Giants.

ENFIELD RAMBLERS 1970 FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

- Sept. 13—Enfield Ramblers 44, Windsor Colts 12
- Sept. 20—Enfield Ramblers 40, Ellington Roadrunners 0
- Sept. 27—Enfield Ramblers 78, East Windsor Rams 0
- Oct. 4—Enfield Ramblers 54, Hebron Rams 0
- Oct. 11—Enfield Ramblers 22, South Windsor Rotary 12
- Oct. 11—Enfield Ramblers 20, East Hartford Moose 6

- Nov. 1—Enfield Ramblers 20, Windsor Giants 8

ley then scooted the remaining 14 yards to paydirt. The extra point was missed and Enfield led 14-8.

Looking real good up front for the B-teams were Karl Zirolli, Billy Ackerman, Glen Marinelli, Jimmy Rager, Henry Wopshall, Brian St. Laurant, Mike Rook and Ernie Douville. The second half was marred by penalties on both sides but the Rambler defense really stood out as Windsor could not penetrate the goal line.

The A-team came on and it was all over but the shouting as Dippel, Rumore, Conte and Lamagna ran and passed the ball to Windsor's nine yard line. Conte then took a Dippel handoff and raced off tackle for the touchdown behind some nice up-front blocking.

Key fumbles were picked up by Rick Olschafskie and Billy Petronella, while Carmen Conte and Chuck Puleri grabbed two interceptions to stall the Giants' attack.

Also outstanding on defense were Greg Wilby and Bill Olschafskie, the latter breaking through on numerous occasions to drop the ball carriers for big losses.

Players of the week named by the coaching staff were A-team guard Billy Petronella and B-team tackle Karl Zirolli. Both boys were outstanding on both offense and defense.

Big K Soccer Team Wins Over Kennedy

The Big K soccer team beat the John F. Kennedy Jr. High School for the second time this year. Mark Cekala, Jay Cekala and John Albano were the scorers for the Big K. The final score was Big K 3 and J.F.K. 1. This made the season record 3-1 for the Big K team.

Illing of Manchester showed a strong soccer team as they outplayed the Big K by a 5-1 score. Although the local boys played a good game the Illing team was just too strong to overcome. David Lucius scored the lone goal for the Big K. Their record now is 3-1.

The Big K football team played a game at Dillon Stadium against Bulkley. Pat Riley passed to Brian Kennedy for a 30 yard touchdown play and the only consolation was that the Bulkley team also scored only one touchdown and missed the conversion. The game ended in a 6-6 tie.

The football team then faced Minnechaug and disaster set in as the Minnechaug eleven gobbled up the Big K by a 28-0 score. The Big K football team now has a record of 0-2-1.

EHS Soccer Team

FHS Soccer Team

EHS Soccer Team Beats Fermi, 7-0

John Blomstrand set a new Enfield High School individual scoring record when he booted in five goals against Enrico Fermi High School's soccer team last Saturday.

The Enfield High School Soccer team defeated Fermi by a 7-0 score. Although Enfield High scored five goals in the first half, Fermi fought back well and held the Raiders to just two goals through the last half. The Raiders have been unbeatable of late as they won their last three games. They haven't been scored on in their last two games.

Steve Talevi, the Enfield High goalie, could have set out the game. He didn't have a chance to touch the ball for the whole game. The Enfield defense was that good.

Coach Bill Teed stated that they had to play a very tough schedule this year with half his team being tenth graders. They gained a great deal of experience this year and should be tops next year.

Teed was just sorry that the season is over and wishes it were just starting now instead of ending. He feels that the way his team is playing they could probably go through a season undefeated.

HLL Baseball Assn. Meets Tomorrow

The Hazardville Little League Baseball Association will hold its monthly meeting this Friday night at eight. The meeting will be held at the Hazardville Firehouse.

EHS Has 3rd Straight Loss

The Enfield High School Raiders lost to Hartford Public High School last Saturday by a score of 74 to 16.

The Owls scored first but the Big Green came right back a minute later and scored on an eight-yard run by Rich Fenton. Fenton then tossed a two-point conversion pass to Bob Bletz to tie the score at eight-all.

Walt Kukulka kicked off and recovered a Hartford fumble on Enfield's 40. Fenton then faded back and drilled a 60-yard scoring strike to Kukulka to put Enfield ahead. Steve Vesce ran in the point after and it was Enfield 16, Hartford 8.

Enfield played well up until the middle of the second period when both their offense and defense seemed to fall apart. The teams went off the field at the half with Hartford leading 44-16.

It was no contest in the second half as Hartford continued to pile it on. The final score was Hartford Public 74, Enfield 16.

This was the Raiders' third straight loss and pushed Hartford into a three-way tie for first place in the C.D.C. Enfield meets another league leader next Saturday when they do battle with the New Britain Hurricanes at New Britain. The Hurricanes were beaten last Saturday by a strong New London football team 33-0.

In other sports, Bill Cantin recently placed fifth in the annual cross country championships at East Hartford's Wickham Park. His time for the 3.1 mile course was 17:23. The winning time was 16:25.

Hunters Club To Meet On Sunday

Who Is The Artist?

The photo above is of an old painting in the office of the Enfield Press which has caused much notice and comment by visitors to the newspaper plant. The creator is unknown and it is wondered if any readers have information concerning the painting.

Bids For Damaged Police Car Sought

Sealed bids for the sale of a police car, damaged in an accident, will be received at the office of the Finance Director, until Nov. 17 at 10 p.m. at which time they will be opened in public by the Director of Finance. Bids received after that time will be considered informal and will be rejected.

Specifications and forms of proposals on which bids must be submitted may be obtained at the office of the Finance Director.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids or to waive defects in same if it be deemed in the best interest of the town, reported Vincent E. Santacroce Director of Finance.

Intermediate School Open House Monday

In observance of National Education Week, Enfield Intermediate School will hold an open house Monday, at 7 p.m.

Presenting the theme "Shape Schools for the 70's," the students and faculty will demonstrate activities involving many of today's educational trends.

The program that will be presented is as follows:

7:15 p.m. — Welcome by Mr. Cerrato, Principal, in the gym.

7:15-8 p.m. — Activities.

8-8:30 — Slide presentation, "Enfield Intermediate Elementary School."

8:30-9 p.m. — PTA meeting in the gym.

9 p.m. — Coffee in the cafeteria.

Paper Drive

The Centurions Drum & Bugle Corps will conduct a town-wide paper drive on the weekend of Nov. 7.

To facilitate pick-up, area residents are requested to bundle and place scrap newspaper and magazines at curb-side. Special pick-up may be arranged by calling 745-3921 or 745-3679. Funds realized from the drive will be used to further progress of the Corps.

Still Room For Driving Course

The first session of the Enfield Safety Council's Defensive Driving Course was attended by 23 enthusiastic persons Oct. 28. There will be two more sessions held, each on Wednesday Nov. 11 and Nov. 18, at the JFK Junior High School on Raffle Road. The time is 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The council announces that there is still room for about 12 additional registrants and will offer a special registration and orientation period prior to next Wednesday's session.

Anyone wanting to join the group can register at 7 p.m. at the school, or call council president Ed Jarmoc, 749-7970 for information.

Science Teachers Study

Four Suffield High School teachers are continuing their own scientific education in order to provide the best possible education for students electing science courses at the local schools.

Arthur Fisher, math-chemistry-physic teacher, is presently enrolled in a program at W.P.I. in Worcester, Mass., sponsored by the National Science Foundation. He was selected from many applicants for the program which will result in a master's degree in natural science. The program is spread over two years and involves two 8-week summer sessions.

Besides traveling to Worcester once a week, Fisher is also attending a workshop for six weeks this fall at Conard High School, West Hartford, on Harvard Project Physics, which provides experience with the humanistic approach to teaching of physics.

Russell Baker, biology teacher, has completed his requirements for his master's degree at Central Conn. State College this past summer. The degree will be awarded at commencement exercises of the college in June of 1971.

Richard Roy, earth science-applied science teacher, has been attending Wesleyan University for the past several summers, working on his M.A.L.S. degree. This program will be completed in the summer of 1971. During the past summer, Roy attended a double credit session in physics. Presently he is teaching environmental sciences and providing a course in basic electronics for students electing applied science. The program was encouraged by the Suffield Board of Education, when they awarded Roy financial support for a five-year home course in RCA electronics.

Paul Thomas, science department chairman and biology teacher was one of 30 applicants selected to attend an 8-week National Science Foundation Institute at Southern Conn. State College this past summer.

The Institute dealt with teaching biology to all ability levels, as proposed by the Biological Science Curriculum Study Committee. The BSCS curricula used at Suffield High School emphasized the "Inquiry" approach to the study of biology. Thomas said, "The 'Inquiry' as a process appears to be receiving more attention today than is the straight 'content' approach, he said, and the involvement of students in their own education requires such a process approach.

Lincoln Named As Delegate

Congressman Thomas J. Meskill has announced the appointment of Richard T. Lincoln as a delegate to the White House Conference on Children to be held Dec. 13-18.

Lincoln is Director of Guidance and Pupil Personnel Services of the Suffield Public Schools.

In making the announcement, Meskill stated, "The purpose of the Conference is to help each of our children attain his full potential for a productive life. I nominated Mr. Lincoln as a delegate because I believe with his background and experience, he can contribute immeasurably to the success of the Conference."

Delegates to the Conference will formulate policy recommendations for the next decade on 10 issues affecting youth: foreign relations; environment; race relations; drugs; education; values, ethics and culture; national service and the draft; legal rights and justice; the economy and employment; and poverty.

The White House Conference on Children is the oldest of the White House Conferences, having been held once each decade since 1909.

The Snowman Who Overstayed

"The Snowman Who Overstayed" was presented by the children in Miss Kotfila's Fifth Grade Creative Dramatic class on Nov. 2 at 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. Parents were invited to attend either performance.

In the cast of the play were Christopher Gay, Helen McAdams, Roger Temple, Suzanne O'Brien, Roger Hadden, Louise Mero, Amy Grant, Kenneth von Eisengrein, Sandra Fetko, Mark Blackmon and Pamela Sokol. The announcer was Mark Green. Scenery was by John Bielanko, Cheryl Lester, Karen Noble, Paula Lucas, Francis Richey and Lisa Rapp.

Costumes were by Stephen Zavisza, Nancy Noble, Gregory Caldwell, Lloyd Steen and John Burton. Program effects were by Byron Andrews and Peter Terlesky.

The chorus included Audrey Lownds, Jeanette Censki, Leona Kulas and Jane Norris.

Suffield YMCA Executive Director Starts Duties Here

Stephen W. Emmons started his duties here this week as the first part-time executive director appointed by the Suffield YMCA. He has an office in an unoccupied classroom in the Educational Building of the Second Baptist Church.

A graduate of Olivet College, Mich., where he majored in psychology and minored in sociology, Emmons is currently working for a master's degree in Community Leadership and Development at Springfield College. He has also had graduate study at the University of Michigan.

Emmons served as Community Program Director, August, 1969-August, 1970, for Flint, Michigan YMCA, where he was responsible for operation of programs and budget for Community Program Dept. His work included the creation, implementation and administration of the "Y" program primarily for the county areas outside of Flint. He also covered public relations and promotion and had a part in the total direction of the Flint YMCA.

As of Nov. 1, Emmons started directing the programs of the Suffield YMCA. On Nov. 2 he met with the executive committee of the Suffield Y and chairmen of the current Y programs, to discuss the local programs and goals.

Sacred Heart Christmas Bazaar

A Christmas Bazaar will be held at Sacred Heart Church Hall Nov. 13 from 4 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 14 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Field Trips For Spaulding School

A schedule of field trips for Spaulding School children has been announced by Principal Edwin Humphrey.

On Wednesday, Nov. 4, the Fourth Grade was scheduled to attend the Wadsworth Athenaeum, Hartford. The Kindergarten was set to visit the Raisbeck Turkey Farm this week, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 4, 5 and 6.

Friday, Nov. 6, the fifth grade will visit Talcott Mountain Science Center, Avon; and on Nov. 10 the fifth grade will visit the new Springfield Newspaper Plant in Springfield.

On Nov. 17 the Third Grade will visit Somers Indian Museum; and the same day the Fifth Grade will visit Plymouth, Mass.

The field trips are part of the social studies, science and language arts programs in grades 3, 4 and 5. In the program the pupils are brought to the place being discussed so first-hand knowledge may be gained.

John Dando Speaks To The Friends

John Dando, moderator for the "What in the World" television panel show, will be the speaker at the annual meeting of the Friends of Kent Memorial Library on Friday, Nov. 13 at the library.

Coffee and dessert will be served at 8 p.m. followed by a brief business meeting and election of officers before the main event of the evening, the talk by Dando.

"The Shaggy Dog" Movie By Class Of '71

The Class of '71 at Suffield High School will sponsor the showing of "The Shaggy Dog" movie and three great cartoons at the high school Nov. 11 from 10 a.m. to 12:30 and 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Refreshments and balloons will be sold. Donation is 50 cents.

This is the last movie the class has sponsored. During the four years of high school the class of '71 has shown four other movies.

Freeman Boy Responding Well To Treatment

Ronald Freeman, 6 1/2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald D. Freeman of Weymouth Road is responding quite well to treatment of his paralysis and extensive brain damage suffered when he was struck down by an automobile in front of his home four years ago. Currently undergoing an innovative treatment involving a series of "patterning," he has made significant progress during just two months of such rehabilitation.

Following his accident, Ronald spent the next four months in Springfield Hospital. During the first two months, he was in a coma; during the following two months, he barely responded to treatment. Despite overwhelming love and endless care, the child was rather slow to respond. His right side was completely paralyzed; his brain was severely damaged; his ability to see any distant objects, to focus on a television six feet away, and his speech were chronically impaired.

Having learned of a new training method, referred to in the profession as "patterning," that had been initiated at a clinic in Philadelphia, the Freemans sought to discover more about the treatment, what it entailed, and what facilities could possibly be regained. The Breisky child, Karen, has undergone the patterning method of rehabilitation, miraculously learned to walk and to speak again.

In furthering their efforts for Ronald, the Freemans contacted Mr. Joseph Noonan of the Indian Lake Academy, an affiliate of the Philadelphia clinic in Worcester. Through a subsequent program of exercises, repeated eight times a day, with the willing assistance of 123 volunteers, Ronald is already showing considerable response to the treatment.

The exercises start with simple swimming exercises. Three volunteers move his limbs for him in order to slowly train his new brain cells to adapt to the impetus of the exercise and to later relate his motion to crawling. He is already able to crawl almost a hundred feet a day. His once paralyzed right foot can now move a little. Hanging from a bar, eye exercises, pull ups and other exercises have furthered his progress.

Ronald has begun to feed himself, speak a few words, and watch television. During the past months his parents have recorded his progress on film. In watching these films, Ronald has realized they are of himself, and his determination to develop has received an added impetus. He wants to walk. He wants to talk and play again.

His progress is indeed amazing. His response is a joy to witness. The volunteers' many hours of help has not been wasted for a moment. The efforts of his parents, relentless hours of struggle and work, and hope for Ronald's future are coming to fruition.

During the next week or two, Ronald's program of exercise will be stepped up. His at home schooling, directed by Mrs. Long of the Madelin E. Palmer pre-school for retarded children, will begin. Ronald already knows colors and numbers, so that the process of teaching him will probably be as gratifying as his program of motor rehabilitation. More volunteers are needed. Five instead of three to conduct his exercise program. Nurses, teachers, homemakers, and high school girls have all volunteered. For the volunteer, the couple of hours a week are not difficult or burdensome. They are most rewarding and so very much appreciated. Anyone who can spare any time, any day of the week, should please call Mrs. Freeman on Weymouth Rd. Ronald's progress has been so fantastic in just two months that it must continue.

Christmas Carnival Bazaar Snowballing To Completion

Holy Family's Christmas Carnival Bazaar preparations are snow-balling along at a jolly pace. The chairman for these carnival-like days is Ades Benoit, and her co-chairman is Sylvia Stanio. The Bazaar will be held in the Holy Family Church hall on Friday, Nov. 13 from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and on Saturday, Nov. 14 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Please leave your superstitions about Friday the 13th behind and do bring your Christmas shopping list along. Here are just a few of the many attractions you will find at our Christmas Carnival Bazaar.

Mrs. Joseph Silvestri (749-0209), will have a tempting array in the Bakery with cakes, pies, cookies, and home baked breads.

Mrs. John Patsky has been sewing diligently on pajama bags, clothespin bags, aprons, and oven mitts.

The almost endless energies of Mrs. John Reardon and Mrs. John McCafferty, will be easy to see in their inventive booth of Christmas Decorations and Notions. They have devised X-mas tree skirts, ornaments, stockings, wreaths, table centerpieces, and wall hangings to assist your holiday merry-making.

The delicate craft of flower-making will delight you at the Floral Booth, where Mrs. John McCarthy is chairman. She and her helpers will be offering flowers made from yarn, material, felt, plastic and tissue paper. Flowers and gift ideas from the tiny to the giant economy size.

Mrs. Robert Goulet is managing the prizes, and she uses a few more attractive items. If anyone has an article they would like to donate, please call her at 745-4159.

Mrs. James Finn and Mrs. Henry McLaughlin will be in the kitchen serving light lunches and snacks so you can plan on eating out if you like.

Mrs. Louis Regini and Mrs. James McGuinness will be the twosome behind the candy counter and whatever they dream up is bound to be toothsome.

The good will and enthusiasm of the Children's Workshop chairman, Mrs. Gilbert Nadeau, seems to have infected all her helpers, and they are busily stacking up lots of surprises for Santa's sack such as: hand-puppets, knitted balls, pin cushions, baby bibs, book markers, stuffed animals and head bands and neck bands for the teenagers.

Who can resist anything hand-made? Mrs. Arthur Proteau, at the head of the Needlecrafts Booth will have on hand men's, women's and children's crocheted vests, as well as a fashionable assortment of scarves and matching hats, along with the customary mittens.

There will also be a Grab-Bag, but Mrs. Robert Varnet would rather keep it's contents secret.

Religious Articles Booth is under the capable supervision of Mrs. Raymond Stanio.

Mrs. William Benoit, chairman of the Canned Foods Booth tells us she and her culinary helpers have preserved many dozen jars of pickles, relishes, jams, and vegetables. Mmm—doesn't that make your mouth water?

Children will be happy to hear that Santa Claus has been invited and he is planning to attend our Christmas Carnival Bazaar on Friday from 6 to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m. Hope to see you there!

YWCA Bazaar

The YWCA Suburban Women's Club will hold its holiday Bazaar at the Super Finest Market on Nov. 20 (6 to 9 p.m.), and Nov. 21 (9 a.m. to 4 p.m.).

Among the many handcrafted items are: crocheted hats and scarves, and a multitude of various holiday decorations. Centerpieces, Christmas ornaments and other festive items will be shown; hanging three dimensional flower arrangements will also be available.

For the children there will be crocheted "Barbie" doll hats and shawls, a variety of stuffed animals, and even Christmas stockings that are already to be filled, other bazaar goodies such as bean bags and other play things. Everyone is cordially invited.

Sandra Burns, Social Editor

Mrs. Robert C. Root

Segler-Root

Miss Linda M. Segler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent E. Segler of Enfield, became the bride of Robert C. Root, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Root, of Bethany, in a ceremony Saturday, Oct. 10 at St. Bernard's Church. The Rev. Dominic J. Valla performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of organza, trimmed with chantilly lace. The gown was designed with a lace stand up collar with clusters of seeded pearls and a bodice of lace below a sheer yoke. It was styled with Victorian sleeves, an empire waist and A-line skirt. The detachable train which extended to a chapel length was edged with scalloped lace. The bride carried a cascade bouquet.

The bride was attended by her sister Mrs. Albert W. Laughlan of Enfield as matron of honor. Her gown was olive green chiffon, trimmed with bands of lace with satin ribbon woven through. The gown was designed with a scoop neckline outlined with lace which extended down the edge of the half panel in the back, long puff sheer sleeves, and lace cuffs, an empire waistline and A-line skirt.

Bridesmaids were Miss Carol

Courville, Miss Cindy Stokowski both of Enfield, and Miss Susan Mearline of Long Island, a cousin of the bride. Miss Deborah Parsons of Seymour, niece of the bridegroom was the junior bridesmaid. The bridesmaids' gowns were apricot and of the same design as the matron of honor. The girls all carried similar colonial bouquets.

Mr. Robert C. Parsons Sr., of Seymour, brother-in-law of the bridegroom served as best man. The ushers were: Albert Laughlan, Paul Zenczak both of Enfield, and John Olson of Beacon Falls, Conn. Robert C. Parsons Jr., of Seymour, nephew of the bridegroom was the ringbearer.

The reception was held at the Elmcrest Country Club in East Longmeadow, after which the couple left for a honeymoon in New Hampshire and Niagara Falls. Upon their return, the couple will reside in the Washington Road Apt., Enfield.

"Mame Arrives This Weekend"

"Mame" is in Enfield! Yes, the smash-hit musical "Mame" is here in Enfield and will be presented this weekend and next at the Enfield High School. "Mame," which is being produced by St. Martha's Players, has been in rehearsal since August, and was previewed at the Osborne State Prison in Somers, last Friday night. The audience gave Mame (Vicki Peterson) a standing ovation.

Vicki is better known in the Springfield area where she now lives. She has done straight drama, many musicals and has even done some directing. Her latest triumph was as Fanny Brice in East Longmeadow's "Funny Girl." The standing ovation Vicki received at Osborne is ample proof of her talent and charm.

J. Thomas Connolly in the role of Beauregard Jackson Pickett Burnside, is no stranger to the stage either. He has done leading roles in most of the country's best known musicals, in addition to most of Gilbert and Sullivan and some opera. Virginia Zdebski as Agnes Gooch does her first comedy role. Ginny is better known as a pianist, but Gooch's Song had the Osborne audience "rolling in the aisles."

In the role of Vera Charles will be Mary Evans. Mary has been in every phase of show biz — from writing to dancing to choreographing. As the alcoholic actress, Mary drew some of Osborne's biggest laughs.

The two Patricks will be played by George (Sparky) Evans III (Young Patrick) and Allen Sylvester (older Patrick). This is the first time out for both boys.

Robert Puddister will appear as the stuffy banker, Babcock, who tries to foil Mame at every turn.

Tickets for this hit show can be obtained from any member of the cast, or by calling 745-6481, 745-8731 or 745-3225. Tickets will also be sold at the door. The show nights are Saturday

Mancuso-Carew

An 11 o'clock ceremony at St. Patrick's Church marked the marriage on Oct. 24 of Miss Nancy Mancuso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Mancuso of 30 Thompson Court, to Paul John Carew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence F. Carew of 51 Carter Drive in Stamford. The Rev. Lawrence Carter, brother of the bridegroom, of St. Joseph Church in Danbury, officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an A-line gown in angel-faced satin with appliques of Rochelle lace. The empire bodice with its high mandarin collar was trimmed with lace and accented with seed pearls. The gown featured long tapered sleeves and an attached Watteau, chapel length train. The bride's shoulder length illusion veil was attached to a leaflet cluster; her bouquet was composed of white roses and stephanotis.

The best man was Brian Carew, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers included Jack Engels, Jack Kelly and James DiPiero. John Wilson, cousin of the bride served as ringbearer.

The bride is employed by Hayden Wayside Furniture, Inc. The bridegroom is a financial analyst with Hamilton Stanlard in Windsor Locks.

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple will reside in Warehouse Point.

Vickie Peterson, who in the title role of Mame, won a standing ovation from the premiere audience at the Osborne State Prison in Somers. All others are free to see this hit musical at the Enfield High School on November 7, 8, 14, and 15 at the Enfield High School 8 p.m.

Home Safe Program Goes Into Effect At Barnard School Mon.

On Wednesday, Oct. 14 the Henry Barnard PTA sponsored the Home Safe Program, more commonly known as the "Block Mothers." The program goes into effect on Monday, Nov. 9 in the Barnard School area.

Mrs. Thomas J. (Katherine) Walter, chairman of the Home Safe Committee, which first introduced the program into the area of the Edgar Parkman School, described the function of the program to the parents attending the meeting.

Often between the home and the school, children have found themselves in a frightening situation resulting from an undesirable adult, bullies, dogs, or an accident. The plan is to have homes along the way in which a child can find refuge. A small red fluorescent sign will be placed in the front window of the "Safe" homes. If you wish your child to receive aid from this program, you will instruct him to go to the marked homes in an emergency.

The volunteers will try to be home during the hours when the children will need them, but they do not have a specific list of duties. They will open their doors to troubled children, helping them in the best way possible, and if a serious situation arises, as in the case of a child molester, the volunteer will call the police.

This program is highly endorsed by Chief Walter Skower of the Enfield Police Department. A list of women volunteers has been submitted to the Police Dept., so that no parents need to be afraid to have their children ask for help at these homes.

The program has been highly successful in other communities as well as several other school areas in this town.

More volunteers are needed; the more volunteers, from each street, the more effective the program will be. If anyone wishes any further information, please contact Mrs. Julia Pepka, 745-6496, captain of the Block Mothers program in the Henry Barnard School area. To date the volunteers, their street and telephone numbers, are as follows:

Geurrandeno-Crawford

St. Patrick's Church was the scene Saturday of the marriage of Miss Donna Geurrandeno, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Geurrandeno, of 54 Pleasant St. to Robert H. Crawford of 3 Sedor St. The Rev. Walter Vichas officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Victorian style gown of silk faced peau satin featuring a Queen Anne collar trimmed with imported Chantilly lace and iridescents. Her illusion mantilla, similarly trimmed with Chantilly lace and seed pearls, was attached to a Camelot cap. White roses and carnations were used together in her Edwardian bouquet. Mrs. Crawford's attendants included her sister, Miss Marie Geurrandeno, maid of honor, and, as bridesmaids, Miss Ellen Jacobs and Mrs. Carol Lewie. The maid of honor wore a lime silk gown with velvet floral trim at the collar and cuffs; the bridesmaids were similarly attired in apricot gowns and carried apricot and yellow roses and carnations.

Following a wedding trip to Camelot, the couple will reside in Suffield.

Church News

Enfield Congregational Church

Parishioners are invited to share their vacation experiences with others on November 14th at Grant Fellowship Hall. The E.C.C. Club will meet at 7 p.m. for a dinner to be followed by a showing of vacation views. Everyone is asked to bring from six to 12 slides and tell about their vacation. You may get an idea for your next vacation.

The Family Life Group will devote its November meetings to crafts.

On Nov. 10th, the group will be making Golden Angels. If you come, please bring coat hangers, wire clippers, old sheets, trimmings (such as lace, brocade, yarn, rope) gold spray, newspapers, scissors, needle and thread.

On November 24, the craft will be making felt ornaments. For this you'll need glue, needle, thread, felt scraps, scissors, cotton batting, trimmings (such as rick rack, lace, sequins, fancy string beads).

If any parishioners would like to come but are not interested in any craft offered by the group, they are invited to bring their own Christmas project and enjoy the fellowship.

If anyone - parishioner, friend or neighbor - has any questions or would like to know more about Congregationalism, come for an evening of discussion of its past present and future. The group will meet at the Grant Fellowship Hall Sunday, Nov. 8th from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. Refreshments will be served. Sponsored by the church diocese, the program is designed for both members and others who would like to explore the "ins and outs" of Congregationalism.

All those interested in joining any of the church choirs are cordially invited to do so.

Nov. 1: Meeting for all church school teachers between services to plan for Advent and Christmas.

Nov. 7: Christian Education Workshop at South Congregational Church, East Hartford, sponsored by Hartford East Assoc. Theme: Communication in various ways - through the arts, non-verbally, multi-media, between youth and adults. The workshops are especially designed for church teachers, but anyone is welcome. At least one car load will be going. Anyone interested, call Fiddle Lane or Ardelle Hamilton. The time is from 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Nov. 7. Bring your own lunch; coffee will be supplied.

Nov. 22: Family Sunday and Thanksgiving Sunday.

Nov. 29: Advent begins. Children will again receive symbols to hang on a "Jesse Tree." Families can find an appropriate branch for this custom.

As Drumbeats goes to press the Junior High are planning a dance for Nov. 13 or 14. Watch for further details.

Sunday, Nov. 8, will be Christian Stewardship Sunday. At the 9:30 or 11:00 o'clock service parishioners help by making and dedicating this pledge in the presence of God and the fellow members and friends of our church.

The 1971 budget is $42,617.50, of which $10,594.00 is to meet our church's indebtedness, and the missions (Christian Outreach) budget is $5,200. Please attend one of these services and help the church reach its goal.

Enfield Congregational Women's Fellowship

The Fellowship is one of 21 organizations who will have tables at the Holiday Happiness Fair, to be held at First Presbyterian Church on Route 5 on November 20th from 2 p. m. to 8 p. m. and on November 21st from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Our Women's Fellowship will have two tables at the fair and Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Richards will co-chair the Home-Made and Handiwork Table.

They would like items such as knitting, aprons, crocheting, fall decorations, Christmas decorations, embroidery, etc. Mrs. Aseslin and Mrs. MacKinnon will co-chair the Food Table. They would like home-made breads, baked beans, cakes, pies, cookies, salads and all kinds of delicious candies.

The host church will have food and beverages for sale.

Executive Board meeting Nov. 3 at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Alan Hall, 31 Quaker La. Tickets will be available soon for the Dec. 5th Ball at $7 per couple which includes a buffet supper and dancing to the music of Harold August's orchestra.

The Women's Fellowship will meet Nov. 9. Dinner at 6:30 p.m. $2.00 prepaid. Worship, business and speaker Dorothy Oldfield on the theme "Love Is." The meeting will be held at the new Terryville Church. Reservations must be in by Nov. 6. President Dorothy Johnson would like a group from the Fellowship to attend and see the exhibits and helpful materials which might be of assistance to the group.

Wyse-Wilson

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Wyse of Enfield announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Charlene M. Wyse, to Everard Leo Willson III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everard Leo Willson Jr., of East Windsor.

Miss Wyse is a graduate of Enfield High School, attended

Women's Fellowship has been working very hard rolling bandages for our Missionary Projects and also working as a workshop for home-made items to be sold at the Fair. There will not be any meeting of the Circle in November due to holiday.

Mark your calendars for our Dec. 15 meeting. Mrs. Thyra Bjorn will give an inspirational talk on the subject of Christmas. All daughters of Junior High age are invited.

Holy Family

The Women's Guild will hold its Christmas Bazaar, Nov. 13 and 14. Anyone willing to donate baked goods is asked to call Barbara Silvestri (745-0209).

The parish variety show, "That's Life" is having auditions tonight and tomorrow night, Nov. 5 and 6 in the church hall at 8 p.m. The advice of many "behind-the-scenes" consultants, as well as "on-stage" performers are needed.

The Boy Scout Troop 819 will be holding a paper drive this weekend, Nov. 7 and 8. Everyone who has saved papers is asked to bring them to the truck in the church parking lot on either day.

The Men's Club sponsors Bingo every Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m. to help the parish fund-raising efforts.

Square Dance Tomorrow

The Enfield Square Dance Club will hold an open dance on Friday, Nov. 6 from 8 to 11 p.m. at the Powder Mill Barn on Hazardville. Featured will be guest caller, South Maple St., Hazardville, Jerry Carmen. Western style dancers are welcome.

Last Saturday evening, 12 couples from the club went on a banner raid to the Sets in Orbit Dance Club in West Springfield. Monthly group visits to other clubs is just one of the activities square dancers enjoy. It's a time to make new and long lasting acquaintances. Square dancing, like few other activities, is one in which adults and teens can participate together. What better way to bridge the gap between parents and their youngsters?

Honeymooning In Bermuda

Four Enfield couples spent their honeymoon at the Elbow Beach Surf Club in Paget, Bermuda, this past week. Pictured left to right are: Dennis Ashworth and his bride, the former Miss Martha Robinson; Kenneth Stauffer and Mrs. Stauffer who was Miss Carmie Reale; Robert Waskiel and his wife, the former Miss Debbie Morse; and the John Montagnas (she was Miss Joy Pentz).

Duane Wilson, played by Bruce Albee, attempts to carry off Veta Louise (Joan Goodrow) while Myrtle Mae (Ruby Vipler) looks on at a recent rehearsal for "Harvey."

Mistaken Identity Basis For "Harvey"

Mistaken identity is the basis for much confusion and comedy in the Enfield Stage Company's forthcoming presentation "Harvey." The employee's at Chumley's Sanitarium can't figure out who has come to commit and who has come to be committed and there lies the basis for this all-time favorite comedy.

ESCO will present "Harvey" on Nov. 20 and 21 at JFK Junior High on Ruffin Rd. Curtain time is 8:15. Tickets are $2.00.

Enfield Street School Book Fair, Nov. 6-13

The annual PTA Book Fair, at the Enfield Street School will be Nov. 6-13, at the Enfield St. School Library, 9:30 to 2:45 p.m. A wide selection of books are available, priced from 10 cents.

Students will be able to see the books for sale on Nov. 4 and 5. Parental approval is required for book purchases. Proceeds will be used to buy new books for the library.

Parents are invited to visit the library during Book Fair Week. Mrs. Jeanne Mullen, Library Chairman, and her committee are looking forward to seeing many new faces at the PTA meeting on Nov. 12, where books will be on sale before and after the meeting.

School Bells To Ring For Eli Whitney Parents

Tables will turn Thursday night, Nov. 12 when parents of children attending Eli Whitney School will head the old school bell and report to their rooms at 7 p.m. sharp. A semi-typical school day will be simulated starting with the playing of the National Anthem, and ending with a brief assembly at the auditorium.

Before final dismissal, parents will have an opportunity to chat with their teachers and friends while enjoying their snacks. Conferences, if desired, can be arranged for a later date. Flyers will be sent home to further explain the evening program.

Coffee and dessert will be supplied through the courtesy of their local PTA.

No parent should be caught skipping school that night for the truant officer will be none other than their own child.

children $1.00, and can be purchased now by calling Elaine Nason at 749-8688.

Girl Scouting

Marion Brodman 745-3921

Election day has come and gone. Our Girl Scouts are still busy with troop organization elections of their own, the results of many comprise our news for this week.

In Enwood Service Unit, Junior Troop 917 elected the following leaders: Green Tambourines, Cathy Kurley; Double Deckers, Donna Wells; Sunflower Girls, Lawrence Schoenrock. Deborah Bousquet was elected treasurer and Donna Wells, as Scribe. The troop which is led by Mrs. Roland Cote, with co-leader, Mrs. Carol Schoenrock, made contributions to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund at a Halloween party in honor of our founder's birthday.

Junior Troop 14 elected Ellen McWha, Elizabeth Crowell, Susan Van Orden, Dawn Sidway as patrol leaders. The full troop of 32 girls is divided into three interest groups: sewing, cooking and troop dramatics. To quote Scribe Cindy Hallenback, "... there is much fun. It begins with our leader Mrs. Crowell, and assistants Mrs. Gates and Mrs. Sidway."

Riverview Cadette Troop 437 elections resulted in the following selection of patrol leaders, and assistants: Fabulous Five: Liz Ely and Susan Garvey; Mod Squad, Cindy Hubble and Debbie Hayford; Watchamacallits, Linda Nixon and Jill Harrington; Cadettes, Lori Pulaski and Janet Turcotte. Troop Scribe is Cathy Clark and SUSAN Bousquet is treasurer.

On Oct. 27 the troop, which is led by Mrs. Dorothy Jute, assisted by Mrs. Ann Snyder, had a Halloween party. Prizes were awarded in the following categories: Prettiest, Liz Ely; Most Original, Cathy Clark; Spookiest, Judy Snyder and Stephanie Smith. Lori Pulaski won the newspaper race, Judy Turcotte won the Orange and Black game and Debbie Hayford won on drawings. All is not just fun and games for the girls as they are also busy working, as a Troop, on requirements for their "My Government" badge.

In Shaker Service Unit, a new Junior Troop under the leadership of Mmes. Chase, Valuckas and Welsh elected Nadine Calsetta as Scribe, Mary Valuckas, treasurer; and Corinne Pingley as troop reporter. The troop, which meet at St. Mary's Episcopal Church invited their mothers to attend their first meeting

Holiday Happiness Fair

The Holiday Happiness Bazaar, Nov. 20-21, is not an ordinary bazaar. Community groups are also using it to interest the town in the work that their organization is doing.

Each group will have a display of its own and each will be labeled. In addition, a program will be available that will give a description and details concerning each of the groups represented there.

Twenty-four groups will participate.

Everyone is invited to come whether they be interested in the bazaar items or in the groups exhibiting, their function and their activities other than the Happiness Bazaar.

which was held in mid-October. Junior Troop 141 with co-leaders Mrs. Loyd Johnson and Mrs. Robert Davis went to Mt. Tom for a picnic and hike. The girls, who are working on "Gypsy" badge, hiked up Goats Peak where they climbed the tower. Scribe, Jeanne Laliberte, says the view was breathtaking in spite of a fog. Upon their descent the girls learned to tie knots and had a square knot race. Needless to say, the girls had a most enjoyable day.

In Brainard Service Unit, Brownie Troop 947 had a double pin ceremony on Nov. 3. The following girls were invested and received their Brownie pins: Kathy Golec, Annette McCollum, Nancy Hover, Kathy Hover, Elaine Dunn, Brenda Stewart, Colleen Armstrong and Cora Seelye. Girls who received their one-year membership Stars were: Linda Demoro, Carol Markert, Lisa McGee, Gail Nicholson, Kimberly O'Donnell, Wendy Silvia, Cathy Smith, Darla Symons and Doreen Ward. Parents were invited and refreshments were served. The troop, which is led by Mrs. Symons and Mrs. Markert, appeared on WTTIC's Ranger Station on Oct. 20. On Oct. 27, at St. Martha's, the girls had a Halloween party. Rev. Matthew Brady acted as judge and selected the following costumes as winners: first, Wendy Silvia; second, Brenda Stewart; third, Cathy Smith.

Mrs. Donald Munro, Council Field Executive, will be at the Neighborhood Center on Nov. 11 from 2 to 4 p.m. with information and help for leaders who wish to avail themselves of her service. With advance notice (preferably one week), Mrs. Munro will bring material and supplies from the Council office. Leaders should make requests for such materials by calling Mrs. Munro at 522-0163.

Homemakers to Meet

The Enfield Homemakers' Club will have its monthly meeting on Nov. 10. Bea Daly of 20 Glendale Road will be hostess; Nancy Hoffman, will be co-hostess.

The group will work on lap robes. All attending are asked to bring a cotton blanket, blanket binding, scissors, and a needle and thread.

Notable YWCA Projects

The YWCA Suburban Women's Club will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday, Nov. 10 at 8:15 p.m. at the CL&P Co auditorium, Route 5, Enfield. Following the business meeting, the members will join in a bazaar workshop. A variety of projects will be available to work on and to view. Refreshments will be served.

Christmas card catalogs will be on display and orders will be taken.

The YWCA Holiday Bazaar will be held Friday, Nov. 20 (6 to 9 p.m.), and Saturday, Nov. 21 (9 a.m. to 4 p.m.), at the Super Finast, Enfield Mall. Many handmade articles especially suited for the coming holidays will be on sale. Chairman of the bazaar is Mrs. Carmen Scalia.

The club will also participate in the Holiday Happiness Fair to be held on the same dates at First Presbyterian Church, Route 5, Enfield.

A square dance is planned for Dec. 9 at Powder Mill Barn, North Maple St., Hazardville. Tickets are $5 per couple and may be obtained from Mrs. Philip Hollis at 745-5385. The dance is open to the public.

Ecological Fashions

"Come to Earth: An Ecology Fashion and Variety Show" will be held in the Lincoln Laurel Hall of Sage-Allen's Hartford store on Nov. 12 at 7 p.m. Sponsored in conjunction with Seventeen magazine, the co-ed fashion show will feature fashion for both young men and women to benefit S.A.V.E. All proceeds will go to Seventeen Acts for a Viable Environment in furthering and financially assisting the community projects.

Tickets are available at the Enfield Sage-Allen store all this week and next. On Saturday two Enfield girls, Cheryl LaBlanc and Karen Lesnick will be in the Junior Village to give further information about the show and to sell tickets. The tickets are 50 cents for students; $1.00 for adults.

"Hollidaze" Bazaar

Plans for St. Mary's Episcopal Church all-parish "Hollidaze" bazaar, are in final stages after a year and a half of preparation, according to co-chairman Mrs. Gerald Gilbert and Mrs. Phillip Sherwin.

An event of this magnitude involves a great deal of organizing and hard work, as Mrs. Sherwin can attest to. Mother of three and full-time home economics teacher, June Sherwin has devoted considerable time and energy in coordinating all the bazaar activities.

Janet Gilbert, besides being bazaar co-chairman, is also the chairman of the "Yule Shop," which will offer a wide range of beautiful and unusual Christmas wreaths, arrangements, tree ornaments and a host of delightful items for Christmas displays and gifts. Janet has spent many hours working on hand-made items to ensure an adequate supply of unique gift articles for bazaar shoppers. The date is Nov. 21 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Plan to come early and stay late. You will enjoy browsing through the many shops full of marvelous gift ideas.

Discussion On Congregationalism

The diaconate of the Enfield Congregational Church will hold an informative talk and discussion on Congregationalism. The topics will be Congregationalism Past, Present and Future. After the talk, a discussion period will follow.

All members, friends and anyone interested in learning about the Congregational Church are invited to attend and ask questions. The discussion will be held in Grant Fellowship Hall at the Congregational Church on Enfield St., Sunday, Nov. 8, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Boy Scout Troop 819

To Hold Paper Drive

Boy Scout Troop 819 will hold a paper drive Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 7 and 8, at Holy Family Church. A truck will be available in the parking lot both days to receive newspapers.

19th English Wallpaper Styles

English Wallpaper: A Most Influential Style

With so many styles of wallpaper being available to the professional and the "do-it-yourselfer," a room or alcove can be made most individual and eye appealing. Some people may prefer the "mod" designs with their bold "day-glo" colors; others may tend toward the stripes and geometric patterns. Still others may prefer the traditional: the English, the French, or the Italian baroque mannerisms apparent in each of their respective designs.

To better understand the manner in which today's reproduction wallpapers should be used, consider their historical development, and especially, the intent, or specific purpose, that induced their popularity and development.

Since the traditional English style has been so influential in today's world, and adapted into many facets of American design, after the Revolution and throughout the 19th and early 20th centuries, the development of English wallpaper is an interesting subject to consider.

During the early Georgian times, English wallpaper first began to become popular.

After 1740-45, wallpaper was used for interior wall decoration. It was hung from cornice to wainscot and at first was imported from the East, being mainly of Chinese origin. It was sent in strips of about four feet, several of which made a complete picture landscape or garden. Painted or stenciled, early English productions attempted to imitate the more expensive damask or cut velvet hanging of formal floral design.

After 1745, printed patterns were in use. John B. Jackson of Battersea, was a pioneer in this field. He published a report of his experimental work in 1754 giving information of his wood block printing method. Many of his designs were imitations of classical sculptured figures, made in monochrome, for those who could not afford the marble realities. Later, wallpaper designs were of landscapes, floral patterns and imitations of later landscape paintings by such artists as the Italian Canaletto, the Frenchmen, Poussin and Lorraine.

Wallpaper, the newest medium, was used more and more during later Georgian times. Chinese papers were still imported and many were copied in England. Such papers usually showed scenes from Chinese life, such as the planting and cultivation of tea, or gaily decorated boats on water. Other designs accented floral arrangements with bamboo shoots and other plants. In both cases, the whole scheme was generally planned to continue unbroken lines around the room.

At Battersea Jackson continued his designs of classical figures and reproductions of paintings or all-over floral patterns. These were based on French Rococo motifs and others on Adam styles of decoration. Often, wallpaper covered the whole wall from cornice to dado, all around the room, including the plain door frames. Only a thin line showed where the door actually opened. The papers were still mounted on canvas onto a wood frame, attached to the wall by wooden wedges, so that new paper could be put up without destroying the old. The papers were more highly valued than today and many have been preserved for us, as they were not subject to the damp and dirt from the walls.

Wallpaper was made in small sheets until about 1800. Later it was made into longer strips, then into rolls.

During the 19th century English wallpaper patterns began to develop in a more consistent style. Small nosegay designs blossomed into arrangements blossomed into arrangements which were printed on the wallpaper roll as a single motif that spread all the way across the roll. The result: large bouquets (as wide as two feet in diameter) hung diagonally across the wall.

Later the bouquets grew tendrils and soon turned into vines that would over the walls in regular intervals. During the 1850s birds were often added to the scene; the designs became lighter, more "feathery" in feeling. Landscape scenes became more popular and reminiscent of the French "toile" designs (provincial designs showing country showing gentlemen and their ladies as well peasants working at their occupation) printed in one color with a large pattern repeat.

During the late 19th century, floral and landscape patterns became equally popular. Today many wallpaper manufacturing companies are featuring designs that have recently been developed in England and reproduced in England and imported to the United States. They are sometimes "mod"; sometimes, floral; sometimes photographic reprints of still life or scenes or landscapes. Regardless of their diversification, all English wall papers testify to their heritage, reaching as far back as the early Georgian times.

Spring Bulb Galaxy Starts With Fall Planting

Fall is bulb planting time. The ground is warm from the summer sun and most gardeners are not as pressed for time as in the spring.

With planning, a gardener can provide blooms from March to May of the following spring.

Select a location with good drainage and sunlight. Muddy or soggy soil can rot bulbs, and lack of sunlight can leave plants with spindly pale foliage. Keep the bulbs away from the wind. Wind and rain can rip and tear flowers. Don't shade them from the sunlight, however.

Make sure the soil is properly fertilized. Almost any soil can be made lighter by mixing humus like leaf mold or peat plus fine gravel. The process of mixing improved elements should be done in advance to allow mixture to settle.

The depth of planting depends on the size of the bulb and the type of soil. Tulips are usually planted about five inches deep, narcissus bulbs usually six inches deep and jonquils about four inches deep. Plan your groupings by color. A mass of color is more dramatic than a spotty mixture.

This is one fall chore that will repay you with a cheerful burst of color in the spring.

DRESS PANTRY

With the advent of the holiday season nearly upon us, the wise homemaker will plan ahead on her pre-holiday baking. With a little advance thought and less preparation, the following recipes can be quickly and simply put together. Before the washing is out of the machine and the children home from school, your cookie jar will be overflowing!

Each of the following recipes is from a different country. Each has a distant flavor reminiscent of its ancestral kitchens.

The recipes fall into the categories of the everpopular drop cookies, rolled cookies, bars, squares, concoctions, and refrigerated cookies. Some are plain; some are decorated. As an added bonus, all of the recipes use simple ingredients — each with a unique result — readily available. In fact, most of the necessary items are probably already on your kitchen shelf.

Florentine Holiday Flowers

6 eggs
4½ tablespoons sugar
Flour
Confectioner's sugar
Combine eggs and flour. Beat until well mixed. Add enough flour to form a stiff dough-like consistency. Divide dough into sections.

Roll quite thin; cut into strips of varying widths. Twist, bend, shape into flower petals, wrap strips together and press to hold floral shape. Cook quickly in hot oil. Remove when lightly browned with confectioners' sugar. Yield: 6 dozen.

Viennese Macaroons

½ cup sugar
½ cup butter
2 tablespoons heavy cream
2 well beaten eggs
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon baking powder
4 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup flour
1 cup coconut

6 vanilla wafers, crushed
First, cream the butter and sugar together. Add the cream, the vanilla, and the eggs. Combine and sift the dry ingredients together. Add. Lastly, add the coconut and the vanilla wafers to the mixture.

Drop by teaspoonfuls and place about 1½ inches apart onto a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 8 to 10 minutes. Remove when slightly brown on the top. Yield: 3 dozen.

Milanese Walnut Cookies

½ cup butter
4 cups sugar
8 eggs
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
Dash of salt
2½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon lemon flavored extract
½ cup rich milk
4 cups black walnuts

Do not grease the cookie sheet. Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs. Combine all the dry ingredients and sift. Add alternately to the mixture with the lemon extract and the milk. Add the black walnuts.

Bake in a 375 degree oven. Remove when slightly brown around the edges. Remove from pan immediately. If necessary, reheat in oven to more easily remove the last few cookies.

Czechoslovakian Strawberry Bars

2 sticks margarine
1 cup sugar
2 egg yolks
2 cups flour
1 cup pecans
½ cup strawberry jam
Grease a square baking pan. Pre-heat oven at 375 degrees. Cream the butter and the sugar together. Add remaining ingredients except the strawberry jam. Divide the mixture in half. Spread half of the mixture in the square pan. Crush the strawberry jam and spread on top of the bottom layer. Spread remaining mixture on the top. Bake 1 hour. Cut when cool. Yield: 2 dozen.

Chinese "Chews"

3 tablespoons brown sugar
1½ cups flour
¾ cup butter
Grease a 10 inch square baking pan. Pre-heat oven at 300 degrees. Cream all ingredients together to make the crust. Pat mixture into the pan and bake for 10 minutes.

While the crust is baking prepare the topping:

2 beaten eggs
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup coconut
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup cut-up dates

Sift dry ingredients. Add to the beaten eggs. Fold in the dates, nuts and the coconut. Sprinkle over the baked mixture. Reduce the oven temperature to 275 degrees. Cook for 25 minutes.

Meanwhile, prepare the frosting:

Juice of 1 lemon
1 cup confectioner's sugar
Soft butter or cream

Mix lemon juice and sugar. Add enough cream or butter to thicken to a spreadable consistency. When bars have cooled, frost and cut in squares. Yield: 16 bars.

Benefit Dance Saturday

Tickets are still obtainable for the benefit dance to be held on Nov. 7 from 9 to 1 a.m. at St. Joseph's School auditorium. The proceeds will be used to help defray expenses for the Christmas party to be given public school children, grades 1 to 6, attending CCD classes on Saturday a.m. at St. Patrick Church.

Mr. Paul Mayville, chairman for tickets announced today that Mrs. Wendell Grigely and Mrs. Alan Thompson can be reached as well as Mrs. Robert Keller for reservations. With the harvest season at its peak, the same theme will be carried out for decorations under the chairman, Mrs. Timothy Murphy, Mrs. John O'Connor Jr., and Mrs. Joseph Colletti. For more information, phone Mrs. Albert Gates at 745-5761. Donations of $3 per couple will be accepted. Conrad Kuhms' band will provide the music.

American Legion Juniors Installed

"Good Old Days" Dance For Retarded Children

The "Good Old Days" dance being sponsored by the Enfield Assn. for Retarded Children will have Dick Stevens, an Enfield resident, as the auctioneer accepting the highest bids on the decorated lunch box that each couple is to bring.

The dance is being held on Nov. 14 at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Washington Road. There are still tickets available for only a $1.00 donation. For tickets call Mrs. R. Freeman at 745-0967. It is going to be a very lively auction with our own Dick Stevens in charge of things.

Helen Bergenty, Republican candidate for county sheriff and Rosario Vella, Republican candidate for representative for the 44th District, spoke to the group. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Dec. 1, at 7:30, at the Enfield Central Library, Middle Road.

Creative Arts Activities

The Enfield Congregational Church Creative Arts Group has begun its fall season. The last meeting was led by Nancy Harmon Iacolino doing pen and ink drawing.

On Nov. 6, the group will experiment with acrylic paints. The group convenes between 7:30 and 8 p.m. on the 1st and 3rd Fridays of the month. Leadership is shared, depending on "who knows how to do what." New members are always welcome. A donation of 25 cents per person at each meeting is requested to cover the cost of art supplies. Children and young people are welcome gratis. The group is for anyone interested in trying new ways of creating and for all ages, from the 6th grade up, for girls and boys, men and women.

Within the near future a trip to an art museum is planned.

Musical Program At High School

The faculty and administration of Enfield High School will hold an Open House on Thursday evening, Nov. 12 at 7 p.m. A musical program is planned and will be followed by short informative talks by the heads of varied specialized areas such as the athletic director and music supervisor for all schools in Enfield.

During the evening, parents will follow their child's entire daily schedule. This will give them an opportunity to visit with teachers, ask questions and observe at first hand the varied and extensive educational offerings of Enfield High School.

The evening will be concluded with refreshments served in the cafeteria. At this time, parents and teachers will have an opportunity to mingle freely and informally.

18th Annual VNA Holly Ball

The Cation Room of the Willow Glen in East Longmeadow will be the setting for this year's 18th annual Holly Ball dinner dance on Dec. 11. The affair, which is one of the area's best-attended social events, is sponsored by the Visiting Nurse Assn. of Somers. Any proceeds above the actual cost of the affair will go to the VNA.

Tickets are $18 per couple, and $23 per couple for Patrons and Patronesses. A full-course, sit-down dinner will be served at 8:30 p.m., preceded by a cocktail and happy hour starting at 7:30. After-dinner dancing will be to the music of Conrad Kuhn and also another band yet to be announced.

Invitations will be mailed to all those who have contributed to the VNA fund drive. The affair also is open to all local residents and friends. Reservations may be made by mail - including check - to the committee chairman, Mrs. Michael J. Roman, P. O. Box 162, Somers, Conn. 06071. Reservations must be received no later than Dec. 4.

The committee assisting Mrs. Roman is: Mrs. Gilbert Rivard, tickets, invitations and programs; Mrs. Frank Stopa, president of the VNA, table assignments; Mrs. Kenneth Leff, floral centerpieces; Mrs. Robert Clark, corsages, boutonnières; Mrs. William Hall, publicity.

Educational Booklet Offered

Booklets distributed by the American Legion Service for young people "Need a Lift?" discusses educational opportunities, careers, loans, scholarships, and employment.

These booklets have been placed in the Central Library, in the Enfield High School Library and guidance department as well as in the Suffield High and library. All are welcome to go to these areas and browse through the booklets with the compliments of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 80.

Consumer Votes

CONSUMER EDUCATION MONTH

Consumer Education Month is one of the many guises that November wears. Even though November is spotlighted, the other 11 months of the year are just as important for continued consumer education and protection.

We are all consumers in the market place looking for the best buy. Buymanship is an art as well as a skill. It has been defined as "getting the most value for your dollar." Hence, a "best buy" is considered as the best quality and appropriate quantity of goods and services which satisfy the needs and wants of the consumer.

As an example - in a typical shopping trip to the average grocery store, we are confronted with about 7 to 10 thousand food products! It is the consumer who, through his purchases, determines which items will remain on the store shelves. The most popular items stay and the others come and go.

No other food offers so much all-around nourishment for your whole family as fresh milk. Drink it. Cook with it. Add up its benefits. It is a concentrated package of nutrients: protein, calcium, riboflavin, phosphorus, vitamin D, vitamin A and thiamine. Milk has great flavor, is a convenience food - and its versatility is unmatched by any other one food; it is a basic ingredient in countless recipes! It is a daily investment in health.

ORINASE

There is no thought that Orinase will be removed from the market and the Food and Drug Administration does not endorse the implication that Orinase is a cause of heart disease, according to Dr. William N. Hubbard, Jr., Vice - President and General Manager of the Pharmaceutical Division of The Upjohn Company.

"In view of the widespread alarm among diabetics caused by inaccurate or incomplete news reports concerning the effectiveness and safety of Orinase, Dr. Charles D. Edwards, the Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration has no thought of any action beyond informing physicians of the results of the study and suggesting appropriate labeling changes. There has been no thought of removing the drug from the market. The implication that Orinase causes heart disease did not originate with the FDA and is not supported by them."

"Dr. Hubbard stated, 'We welcome the Commissioner's statement and hope that it will help allay the fears of those who were unnecessarily alarmed by misleading press reports of the University Group Diabetes Program. The many inherent short-comings of that study make radical changes in the treatment of diabetes on its findings alone quite unjustified.'"

AIC Honor Society Inducts Enfield Residents

The national honor society at American International College, Alpha Chi, has invited 122 candidates to the induction dinner, which will be held Sunday evening, Nov. 8 in the Campus Center Auditorium at 7:30.

Founded in 1922, Alpha Chi has chapters at colleges and universities throughout the country. The honor society promotes and recognizes scholarship, and stimulates interest through monthly meetings featuring a variety of speakers and special discussions.

Eligibility for membership in Alpha Chi is based upon class rank. A student must be in the upper 10 per cent of the junior or senior class, and must be an honor student.

Enfield candidates for induction into Alpha Chi are: Mrs. Doris Coughlin, 31 Sharren Ln., Ronald S. Kalva, 22 Mathewson Ave., and Susan C. Ragno, 2 Woodlawn St.

Rubella Inoculation Clinic

Local medical director, Dr. Bernard Dignam, and the Enfield Visiting Nurse Assn. announce a Rubella (German measles) inoculation clinic to be held on Sunday, Nov. 8 at the Kosciuszko Junior High School on Elm St. from 1 to 4 p.m.

There will be no charge for the inoculation. Rubella inoculations will be given to school children from kindergarten to fifth grade (ages 5-11 years). Permission slips will be sent home with each school child. These forms must be returned on the day of the clinic. Each child must be accompanied by an adult.

Sheridan Of Bigelow-Sanford Attends Safety Institute

Paul N. Sheridan, right, safety supervisor for Bigelow-Sanford, receives certificate from Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies' assistant vice president and manager-national and business risks service, Roy B. Hendon, after successfully completing four day Safety Management Institute at the firm's Boston home office.

Paul N. Sheridan, safety supervisor for Bigelow-Sanford, was among a group of 12 safety management personnel from all parts of the nation, who recently attended a four-day Safety Management Institute in the Boston area.

The institute, held a Liberty Mutual Insurance Co.'s Boston home office, was designed to instruct the representatives of the 10 companies in management concepts essential to effective loss prevention.

Up to the present time, mechanical and environmental safety measures have been effective in cutting down the number of industrial accidents. However, with today's everchanging world of business, this is not enough.

It is for this reason that safety management, which takes into account the engineering, educational and human relations factors in the cause and prevention of industrial accidents, is so important.

The most significant part of the course deals with the relationship between human behavior and industrial accidents.

"More than 95 per cent of all industrial accidents have personal causes," says Paul Colson, policy training services director for Liberty Mutual.

"Our goal is to give the safety manager both the understanding of why these accidents happen and the knowledge of how they can be avoided."

The institute, under the direction of Liberty Mutual's experienced safety management discussion leaders, employs the most modern teaching methods, including lectures, discussions, visual aids, demonstrations and work shops.

Sheridan is a resident of 9 Cedar St., Enfield.

Mallard Retires From Conn. B&T

Everett A. Mallard of Ellington has retired from the Connecticut Bank & Trust Co., after 36 years of service.

Mallard began his banking career with the Thompsonville Trust Co. in 1934 and was elected as assistant treasurer in 1942. In 1946, he was elected treasurer and trust officer and was appointed to the board of directors. When the Thompsonville Trust Co. merged with CBT in 1959, he was named assistant vice president, trust officer and assistant office manager.

He is a graduate of Enfield High School, Bentley School of Accounting and Finance, and the American Institute of Banking.

Mallard served as director of the Enfield Chamber of Commerce and as trustee and chairman of the Finance Committee of the Enfield Cemetery Assn. He was active on the Enfield Redevelopment Agency until he moved from Enfield to Ellington in 1968.

Mr. and Mrs. Mallard, the former Ann Crombie of East Longmeadow, have two children Russell A. of Wappingers Falls, and Bradford E. Mallard of Enfield.

At Youth Conference

Sister Mary Bernadette, second from left, a member of the faculty at Our Lady of the Angels Academy, and Margaret Anne Golas, a senior at OLA, look over a model of a nuclear steam system during the 1970 National Youth Conference on the Atom, held recently in Chicago. Dr. Peter L. Lopresti of the Connecticut State Department of Education and James F. Malerba of the Connecticut Light and Power Co., look on. The Connecticut delegates attended the Conference as guests of CL&P.

Eight Area Students Attend Economics Teachers' Confab

"Environmental Living in the 70's," was the subject of the eighth biennial Home Economics Teachers' Conference sponsored by the Conn. Light & Power Co. and attended by more than 300 home economics instructors from throughout the state. The meeting was held on Oct. 21 at the company's general offices in Berlin.

Peter Stern, vice president, Northeast Utilities and Roger Masquelier, Westinghouse Corp. discussed environmental problems and their effect on electric utilities.

Stern, an Environmental Planner for the NU System of which CL&P is a part, spoke on the careful consideration the company is giving to planned generation facilities with regard to land use aesthetics, control of air and water pollution. Stern added that the company is making provisions to comply with recent state regulations to curb sulfur content from generating plants.

Roger Masquelier, manager of Utility Sales from Westinghouse, spoke on "Demotic De-nouement," or the role of environmentalism in the home. The relationship of you to a better environment can begin in the home, he said, because of the great amount of pollution that actually emanates there. For example, garbage, once merely placed in a plain bag and discarded, can now be handled far more conveniently and healthfully through the use of new "Compactor" garbage and refuse disposal systems. New electrostatic precipitators can greatly alleviate air pollution in the home and make home living more enjoyable. The greater use of electricity is actually bettering our lives, giving us more time for leisure living and participation in social and political activities in our towns, he said. The self-cleaning oven and frost free refrigerators have given the homemaker new freedom to become more involved in the community and helping to plan for its greater future tomorrow, he said.

The program was hosted by Dorothy Sprafke, CL&P Home Service Supervisor, and the general welcome was by Robert Bromage, vice president, sales, for CL&P.

In addition to the environmental segments, the teachers saw the latest in kitchen developments including new cookware, smaller, more compact kitchen appliances and the new electric trash compactor. The NU-produced film, "The Mountain and the Sea," was also shown. This film demonstrates how the NU-System is carefully planning its new generating facilities to provide adequate environmental, and aesthetic protection as well as providing recreational facilities.

Those attending the session from this area include Marion G. Cassidy, Louise Theofilos, Monica Harnois, Nancy Chaloux, Eleanor Muska, Enfield; Dorothy Spaulding, Gloria Fuller, Suffield; Patricia Snape, Somers.

All to the Good

by U. S. Senator Abe Ribicoff

According to the slang of American politics, a "lame duck" is a politician who has been defeated for or chosen not to seek re-election.

The phrase is also applied to an entire legislative body meeting immediately after an election.

So Nov. 16, when the 91st (1969-70) Congress returns it will be referred to as a lame duck session, the first one in 20 years. It could be a busy session. There is unfinished work to be done.

The nation's health and welfare will be very much on the Senate's mind, for example.

The spirited debate surrounding the Administration's welfare reform proposal — the Family Assistance Plan — will probably continue.

The Senate Finance Committee gave tentative approval to parts of the proposal, but then only on a test-run basis.

It now appears, however, that the Committee, of which I am a member, may reconsider the measure. It is also likely that the full Senate may take up the proposal.

The Family Assistance Plan would do away with the government's biggest single welfare program — Aid for Dependent Children.

Replacing it would be a minimum income plan for the poor with special emphasis upon job training for the unskilled and unemployed and economic incentives for the working poor.

Regarding Social Security benefits, the Senate Finance Committee approved a 10 per cent increase. This action must still receive the approval of the Senate. Then a compromise would have to be worked out with the House which has given its OK to a different version of the legislation.

There are several important appropriation bills awaiting final action, including funds for Housing and Urban Development and Independent Offices (which the President vetoed), Supersonic Transport or SST, foreign assistance, military construction, Labor and Health, Education and Welfare and Department of Defense.

Two proposed constitutional amendments, electoral reform, and equal rights for women, suffered setbacks before the postponement but may have a better chance in the post-election session.

A trade bill which includes several protectionist provisions was passed by the House Ways and Means Committee in August and will be an early order of business on the House floor.

An identical version of the House trade bill was tentatively tacked on the Social Security bill. It too must go before the full Senate.

It is apparent then that much work remains to be completed. As I said in my last column, I have a feeling the post-election session will continue well into December.

WEEKLY
 FIRE REPORT
 Gary Pira

Continued dryness attributed to a rash of minor grass, brush and leave fires for area fire-fighters during the past week. (Fires listed are of the above type unless noted otherwise.)

Oct. 28 - Enfield firemen re- sponded to Spear Ave. at 6:55 p.m.; Conlin and South Rd. at 9:27; Hazardville Truck 4 was dispatched to School St. at 6:51; 9:32, three Hazardville units quickly responded to a re- ported house fire at 15 Green Manor Road. Responding fire- fighters found nothing amiss at that address and the call was deemed false.

Oct. 26, 5:16 a.m. - North Thompsonville firefighters were called to the John Hedberg residence, 59 Varno Lane, when a smoky odor was detected throughout the dwelling. Fire- fighters traced the emission to an overheated blower on the furnace. There was no fire nor any damage. North Thompson- ville firemen went out later in the day for small brush fires: 8:01 p.m. on Brainerd Rd., and at 11:02 to Booth Road.

The Army Green

Good old Yankee ingenuity has done it again.

A case in point concerns the men of one of the units of the 4th Infantry Division stationed in Vietnam. It seems that the muggy weather was turning the thoughts of many of the men longingly back to that "Old Swimming Hole."

Well, thanks to the engineers of the Division, the men now have one of their own - a swim- ming hole, that is. Two loud ex- plosions just outside camp an- nounced the beginning of the new recreation area.

When the soldiers arrived on the scene, they found a hole 25 feet in diameter and five feet deep, rapidly filling with mudy water. Not much of a swim- ming hole, but the engineers weren't done yet. They cleared the water, built a dam, and even constructed a diving dock.

Ever since, there has been standing room only around the "Old Swimming Hole."

Wind Power

Speaking of ingenuity, the Army engineers can't take all the credit in the 4th Infantry Division. Thanks to a combina- tion of that same Yankee ingenu- ity and Dutch ancestry, the soldiers of the division probab- ly have the cleanest clothes in Vietnam, and the easiest time keeping them that way.

The hero of this story is First Sergeant Raymond Smith, who has invented a windmill pow- ered washing machine. Using only four ammunition boxes, a bag of nails, a trash can and a few other scraps, the sergeant has assured the men of his camp

Scouting Around

By Alberta Shanler
749-7527

A candlelit ceremony was held on Oct. 28 by Cub Pack 185 to welcome 16 bobcats to the unit.

Receiving their pins were David Lazewicz, Mark Curley, William Toomey, Kevin Powers, Kevin Blake, Jeffrey Murray, Gerard Isabelle, Maurice Beauchesne, Michael Flanders, Philip Smith, Eugene Kozash, Nicholas Giacomo, Richard Blauhe, Michael Bowers, Joseph Donahue and Steven Stahis.

Two silver arrows were presented to Tim McIntosh and one arrow to Joey Bridge. Roger Sheak received his Bear badge. Baseball patches were awarded to 18 Cubs by their manager, Al McIntosh.

Receiving his Webelos award and graduating into Boy Scout Troop 185 was Michael Isabelle. The Webelos opened the meeting during which time Dens 2 and 3 presented skits on magic. Den 1 had the closing. The pack which is led by Bob Campbell attended the UConn vs. Boston U. football game at UConn last Saturday.

Cub Pack 818 held its first meeting of the season on Oct. 26 with the theme of Halloween. Cugs were all in costume and prizes were awarded. First prize to Den 6 and second to Den 4. A skit entitled "Mental Telepathy," was acted by Den 4.

Awards are as follows:
Silver arrow to Jeff Foley, Bear to Kenneth Olsen, Denner stripe to Jim Robbins and Asst. Denner to Steve Haglund and Ken Bower. Gregory Anderson graduated into Webelos and received his colors.

The trip of the month was to Old Newgate Prison in Granby. Scouts came back with rocks from the copper mine which later became the site of the prison. Most of the dens held individual Halloween parties last week and are now conducting their pack candy sale fund drive.

Cub Pack 82 held its meeting of the month at the Eli Whitney School Oct. 28 where the Cubs and parents were treated to the magic of Ron Morrison. Webelos leader George Naylor led the group in a flag ceremony. The Cubby award went to Mrs. Poflak's Den 6. Skits were presented by Dens 1 and 2. It was announced that additional help is needed in the administration of the unit in order to keep going. This is a very active unit and it would be most unfortunate if they had to cease operations due to lack of cooperation from the parents of the boys involved. We hope to report next month that they now have more than enough help.

Awards and badges were as follows:
Bob Cat pins to Ward Keegan, Steven Bowers, Sean Welch, David Pelletier, Harry Bennett, Frank DeProngo, Michael Lupi, Kenneth Poflak, Gregg Ingraham, Robbin Allen, David Harris, Mark Cervone and Larry Colletti. Wolf badges to Douglas Klim, William Deford and Craig Roth.

Gold and silver arrows to: Craig Roth and Thomas Aube; gold to Timothy Naylor and two silver arrows to James Whitney. Bear badge to Bryan Sayles. Denner stripe to Michael Leger of Den 1. Asst. denner to James Whitney also of Den 1. One-year pins to Frank Niedzielski, David Morgan, Tim Naylor and William Morin. Two-year pin went to Larry Whitney.

Webelos: John Borowski, artist; Steve Owen, sportsman; Murray Staples, sportsman; Jerry Lovell, sportsman; Grant Ellis, sportsman, athlete outdoorsman and aquanaut; Joseph Chiveney, sportsman and athlete; Bruce Thibodeau, athlete and sportsman and Robert Robbins, artist and athlete. Robert Robbins was awarded his Arrow of Light.

It appears that Cub Pack 108 now has a newspaper on unit activities. We received a copy this week and found it most interesting. Some of the highlights are as follows:
The month's theme is Magicians and the Cubs are learning magic tricks. They are also buying and creating masks for their Horrible Parade. Something rather novel, 108 has been sponsoring a slave market (hear that Abe) and the Cubs hope to be able to contribute $2 each for chores or services. Den 7 is leading to date.

Gold medal winner for Cub Olympics went to Mark Ottman. Silver medal was awarded to

Mike Sidorsky and the bronze to Scott Fieldhouse. Welcomed into the unit were Jean Melancon as Pack Committee Chairman, Carol Kohler, Den Mother of Den 9, Bob Varnet, Webelos leader for Den 1 and Harry Lanouette for Den 4. Leaving the unit were Roger Kelting and Joan Girard. Graduating into Boy Scouts were Tony Brozowski, Billy Tidwell and Tommy Walton. Going on to Webelos, were Daryl Blesner, Paul Gaylor and Eric Brososky. Perfect attendance award to Mark Ottman. Stephen Kohler of Den 9 saw President Nixon in Hartford and was close enough to touch his car. On Oct. 30 the Cubs went to Riverside for roller skating and on Nov. 14 will travel to UConn.

A report received from James Bannock, district vice chairman tells us that the 1972 Wood Badge course may be attended by telling Ed Peckham, District Training Chairman. He can be reached in Tolland at 875-2000. Briefly, the Wood Badge course is a training of a very intensive and informative nature run by the best men possible for every section of the course. The men learn by the patrol method and meet from all over the New England area. Wood Badge is not an honor society, but rather is made up of dedicated Scouters working together for a continually better program.

The Fall Camporee held last weekend was attended by 350 Scouts.

Roundtable on Nov. 10 at Ellington High School from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Cubbers training at Enfield Library to resume soon. Contact Ben Smith at 745-6549 for dates.

New camping chairman for district is Sonny Kranmas, 623-5252.

New advancement chairman is Charles Warren, 647-9893.

Final reminder on the dinner dance and awards night, Nov. 14.

December is kick off for Lake of Isles Camp season, 1971.

District still has need for two more men in the advancement program from the Enfield, Ellington, and Hazardville area.

raising applications from Enfield Cubbers training at Enfield filed with James Bannock, 29 Harvest Rd., Enfield. Questions may be referred to him at 745-7716. District is also interested in forming a finance committee. All persons interested may contact Bannock.

It is a must that all fund raising applications be filed prior to selling by Troops, Packs, Post and any Unit connected auxiliary. This is a national scouting requirement under the name of B.S.A. If a unit sells out of turn it hinders the group who followed the rules. We would hope that our leaders will not condone such an act or allow their Scouts to be a party to it.

Christmas Rose Bazaar Approaches

A three-day Christmas Rose Bazaar will be held at St. Andrew's Church at 28 Prospect St., on the following dates: Nov. 12 and 13 from 5 to 9 p.m. and on Saturday from 1 to 8 p.m. A chicken barbecue will be served on the 14th (Saturday), at 5 p.m., and 6:30 p.m. Reservations should be made early with Mrs. Lena O'Connor, 749-8015 or Mrs. Bea Lucas, 745-8559.

House To House Canvas Begins Monday

The Enfield Sabers will begin their annual house to house canvas throughout town on Monday, Nov. 9. This is their main fund-raising campaign. The group is a non-profit youth organization, that has been in existence for 16 years and consists of 100 local boys and girls who are kept very busy 52 weeks a year. The generosity of local residents has been a great help in the past. It is hoped that the people of Enfield will again assist the corps in meeting its ever-increasing expenses.
