Ted Tedesco

Tedesco's nomination began during the summer of 1969 when Boulder experienced an influx of young transients (hippies). This influx generated much community hostility and substantial effort was made to avoid direct confrontation. However, Tedesco realized that a positive program must be undertaken if the community was to avoid large scale confrontations during 1970.

Two major areas of concern were identified: (1) poor com-

CCM Opposed To Governor's Edict Cutting Off DCA Funds

The Connecticut Conference of Mayors has asked Governor Meskill to meet with a special committee of mayors and first selectmen to discuss the Governor's "alarming" and "disastrous" order cutting off approvals of funding by the Department of Community Affairs.

A copy of the letter, signed by the president of the conference, Hugu C. Curran, follows: Dear Governor Meskill:

The Connecticut Conference of Mayors is alarmed at your order cutting off approvals of applications for State funds for vital programs administered by the Department of Community Affairs.

The effects of your order will be disastrous upon Connecticut's cities and towns and upon their people. Summer youth programs, housing for low- and moderate-income families, manpower development programs, housing code enforcement, and summer recreation and community education programs, are just some of those which will be immediately affected by your order to not approve any new programs and in effect to kill the DCA-funded programs.

Town Manager Answers Pertinent Questions Concerning Industrial Park

By C. Samuel Kissinger
Next Tuesday, between the hours of 6 a.m. to 8 p.m., the citizens of our community will be voting on the proposed Enfield Memorial Industrial Park.

During recent days several citizens have contacted me concerning the cost of this project. Will this project affect the present tax rate, or for that matter, future tax sales? Why should the town develop this project, etc.? I would like to answer these and several other questions.

Q. Where is the park?
A. The 500-acre tract is located east of I-91, between South Road and Hazard Avenue.

Q. What will the industrial park mean to you?

A. It will create more local jobs, stabilize the tax rate and provide for planned industrial growth.

Q. Why is the town developing the park?

A. Private enterprise has been unable to assemble the 94 separate land parcels or to provide drainage of the land or construct adequate utilities and roads to service any industrial prospect.

Q. Why can the town develop the area?

A. There will be single ownership, stable land prices, proper drainage of the land, utilities and roads to service the entire area.

Q. What is the estimated total cost of the project?

Miss Enfield Pageant Contest Now Officially Under Way

Every young girl dreams of becoming Miss America. The girl who is selected Miss Enfield Pageant Queen could be the next Miss America.

Now is the time to decide for any young lady in the Enfield area who qualifies, Larry Moore, pageant general chairman, said in calling for candidates to enter the pageant.

Moore also announced that the pageant will be conducted the Saturday night of June 5 from 8 to 11 p.m. at the Enfield High School.

He called for civic and social organizations in the area to sponsor candidates and he called for individual young ladies to submit their own names as entries.

Applications can be obtained at the Central Library on Middle Road, on Monday evenings between 6:30 and 9 p.m. from Ray Vella or you can call Ray at 745-6392.

To qualify, a young lady must be between the ages of 18 and 28 on September 1, must graduate from high school by September 1, and must never have been married.

Talent will be considered in judging and each contestant should possess some quality of talent, either trained or potential. In discussing the talent qualification, Moore stressed that the range is varied and that no girl must necessarily be trained in any specific field.

He pointed out that many entrants in previous pageants did

April 14 Set For Special Election

A special election will be held April 14 to elect a representative for the 44th Assembly District, a vacancy caused by the recent death of Sabath Nigro.

The 44th District is comprised of Enfield voting districts 1A, 1B, 3A and 3B. The area involved is the eastern section of Enfield roughly bounded by Brook Rd., Route I-91 to Post Rd., eastward to Raffia Rd., north to Hazard Ave. to Freshwater Brook, north along Washington Rd. to the Mass. state line.

The polling places are:
District 1A, Enfield Street School; District 1B, Edgar Parkman School; District 3A, Hazardville Memorial School; and District 3B, Nathan Hale School.

The polls will open at 6 p.m. and will close at 8 p.m. There will be no primary. Under state law, the election will have to be between the two town committee nominees.

Although no one has announced an interest in seeking the nomination in either parties, there is speculation that Rosario Vella will seek the Republican party nomination and that there will be a two-way fight for the Democratic nomination with Town Attorney John Adams and Mayor Frank Mancuso vying for the position.

Martin Joins List Of Town Officials Backing Ind. Park

Wendell Martin, Democratic councilman at large from 2 Storrs Road, has added his voice to the number of councilmen who have publicly urged passage by the residents and property owners of Enfield of the Enfield Industrial Park next Tuesday.

"We shall solve the city's problem by leaving the city," Henry Ford once said and promptly provided the means to do so. True to Ford's dictum, industry in the past two decades has fled to outlying areas, leaving a population seeking serenity in suburbia. Of course, high city rentals, urban blight, transportation difficulties for workers have also caused industries to leave the metropolis," said Martin.

"Enfield proposes the development of a 500 acre industrial park on I-91, a main north-south artery," continued the at large Democrat.

"The park will offer all facilities, drainage, service roads and be in close proximity to a large regional shopping center and also two shopping areas. The park will not only have industrial sites but areas for businesses which will serve the park such as banks, restaurants, service facilities, etc.," said the three-term councilman.

"Most of the concerns that have located in industrial parks have been either small or medium sized branches of large concerns," continued Martin. "Usually the local labor supply satisfies the bulk of their needs"

Weicker Supports Increase In S.S.

"Too many senior Americans who have worked all their lives have been rewarded with a financial nightmare in their retirement," U.S. Senator Lowell P. Weicker, Jr. said as he voted for an increase in Social Security benefits.

"We cannot stand by while our senior citizens are squeezed by rising prices and a nation whose activism for today and the future tends to forget the builders of the past that are living today and now need the help they so freely gave to others.

"As I have worked to get the young generation meaningfully involved in the democratic process so the time has come to use that process compassionately.

"This bill, passed by the U.S. Senate today, provides a 10 per cent hike in Social Security benefits that is retroactive to January 1, 1971. It provides for a minimum monthly benefit payment of $100 and it increases the allowable earning from $1600 to $2400 - This is little enough for people who sacrificed so much," Sen. Weicker said.

Town Officials Praise "Pollution Pouncers"

Officials of the town of Enfield have expressed high praise for the nine organizations which have joined the Women's Club in a "pounce-on pollution campaign."

Concerned organizations such as the Junior Women's Club, Jaycee Wives, St. Mary's Episcopal Church, First Presbyterian Church, the Y.W.C.A.'s Women's Group, the 4-H Club, the Girl Scouts, and several Boy Scout troops and Cub Scout packs, have joined their efforts toward a common end of helping to curb pollution.

The Pounce-on Pollution Committee is asking the residents of Enfield to help by bringing their bottles to the white house at the corner of Hazard Avenue and Water Sts. so that the Committee can bring them to various recycling plants. The collection dates will be every Saturday from March 13 - through April 10 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The Town of Enfield has extended its help by offering the use of town trucks on April 17 to carry the bottles to the recycling plants.

Through the concerted efforts against pollution any profits derived from the return of bottles to the recycling plants will be used to purchase trees and to enhance the aesthetic nature of the community. The Town of Enfield extends its sincere appreciation and gratitude to the members of this community whose civic pride has made Enfield an All-America City.

Mrs. Grasso Seeks "Women's Coalition" In U.S. Congress

Believing in the effectiveness of a "women's coalition" in the Congress, Sixth District U. S. Representative Ella T. Grasso (D.-Conn.) announced that she has written a letter to the uncommitted women in the House urging their support for a bill to give all unmarried individuals the full tax benefits of income splitting now enjoyed by married individuals filing joint returns.

At the urging of "that incredible woman Vivien Kellems of Connecticut", Mrs. Grasso wrote to Florence Dwyer of New Jersey, Martha Griffiths of Michigan, Julia Hansen of Washington, Patsy Mink of Hawaii, Charlotte Reid of Illinois, and Leonor Sullivan of Missouri suggesting that "the unified support of the women in this Congress can . . . be an effective force in providing the impetus needed to move this legislation to early and favorable action in the House."

Representative Grasso was an early co-sponsor of H.R. 852 which would allow persons with identical taxable incomes to be taxed at the same rate, regardless of their marital status. Under the present rate structure, Mrs. Grasso said, a divorcee or widow with three dependents, using the head of household schedules, pays a higher tax rate than a married couple with no children.

"This year, because of the Tax Reform Act, taxes paid by single persons can be only 20 per cent higher than taxes paid by married persons with the same taxable income. The gap has narrowed, but there is no justification for any difference."

Heavy Practice Engages Sabers

The Enfield Sabers Drum and Bugle Corps is currently in the process of preparing for the 1971 field competition season. The Sabers horn section under the direction of Hy Dreitzer, has up-dated last seasons musical repertoire. The corps 1971 repertoire will include "On Broadway", "God of Our Fathers", "What is This Thing Called Love", "Make me Smile", and one other selection to be announced at a later date. The Sabers are also proud to announce that our National Anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner", has been included in the corps' repertoire, though it will not be used in field competition. The Sabers' percussion section under the instruction of Don Quinn, promises some surprises for the coming season. Among additions to the drum segment, will be a Timp-Tom-Trio (Three drums carried by one player).

Tackling the immense job of making the superb musicianship of the Sabers stand out while on the march is Al Koch. In an effort to accomplish this feat the local unit has scheduled an 8-hour outdoor rehearsal for March 28 (weather permitting). According to Larry Girard, Sr., corps director; an outside rehearsal this early in the year will be a tremendous asset to the corps in its battle to be a top contender. Girard points out that most championship units practice in football field size armories or in air-plane hangers. Since none are available in Enfield, the Sabers will be forced to take the hard road and practice outside.

Applications are always being accepted by the Sabers from young people living in the Greater Enfield area who want to become part of a true championship team. Rehearsals are held for the age group 8 to 13 years on Mondays at the Parkman School on Weymouth Rd. from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. and Wednesdays at Hazardville Memorial School on Maple St. during the same hours. The regular rehearsal schedule for the 13 to 21 year age group is as follows: Mondays, full corps, J. F. Kennedy Jr. High School, 7 to 10 p.m.; Wednesday, color guard only, Hazardville Memorial School, 8:30 to 10 p.m.; and Thursdays, horns and drums only, Crandall School on Brainard Rd., 7 to 10 p.m.

Area MD Collects Total Of $1,700

Francis Boudreau, chairman of the Greater Enfield area campaign of Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, reported that the recent fund raising effort realized a total of $1,700 from the house to house canvas, canisters, and mail.

Boudreau expresses his appreciation to all those who participated in the drive, to the local fire departments for their cooperation and help and to the Enfield area residents whose generous response made the drive a success.

Funds raised in this annual appeal will be used to provide services to local victims of muscular dystrophy and related diseases. These services include wheel chairs, lifts, braces, therapy, periodic examinations, summer camping, etc.

Wesley B. Austin, of the Hartford National Bank & Trust Co. served as treasurer for the Greater Enfield area campaign.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

FEELS POLICE DISCRIMINATE AGAINST YOUTH

Dear Editor,
 At 16 years of age our youngsters are considered adults court-wise. I was brought up to respect authority and tried to pass it on. I got respect in return.
 When minors are stopped by certain of our police officers, are they treated equally as an adult? Many violations go unnoticed when a grownup is driving, but a teenager behind the wheel become an immediate suspect.
 Even some of our Jr. Police seem to use their position advantageously, which is sad because the program has great potential.
 This lack of mutual respect is causing dissension in our young.

Treated properly perhaps this could be avoided. For every confused teenager, there is at least one unstable adult.
 Seeing we are now an All-American City, improvements should be made in our Police Dept.
 We do have some excellent officers on our force, but then again we have many calloused, indifferent ones. Can we afford this?
 I feel all police personnel from the top down should be tested to see if they are doing their job fairly, and to the best interest of our citizens. There are too many well qualified people available who could fill their shoes most adequately.

 The $1400 cost of this equipment was realized through the hard work of a few of the parents at various events such as bake sales, tag sales and the sale of refreshments during the summer games.

 Mothers of baseball playing boys interested in helping the Women's Auxiliary are asked to please join the Auxiliary. All interested parents are cordially invited to attend the next Auxiliary meeting, April 13, at 8:00 p.m., in the Holy Family Church hall, Simond Rd., Enfield.

WHY CONTINUE TO LOSE INDUSTRY?

Dear Editor,
 I am Harold T. Long, an Enfield Councilman, and am definitely in favor of the proposed new Industrial Park.
 In the past Enfield hasn't had anything to offer to prospective industries.
 I feel we have lost industry to Suffield and Windsor Locks, and this has meant several thousand jobs that we might have had, as well as the tax benefits these industries would have provided.

 I feel we would have done this a long time ago, but since we didn't, now is the time to do it.
 Harold T. Long
 256 Pearl St.

WANTS MAJORITY TO SPEAK OUT

Dear Editor:
 To John Carney, who wants to overthrow Pres. Nixon because he is a "Christian" and does not believe in war, I would say we got this free country by force of arms in 1776! Something Carney doesn't believe in. Under George III of England, colonists were merely slaves, could not trade with other countries, and were taxed heavily, with no representation in Parliament. Through force of arms, we won our independence, and freedom of speech and press, which Carney finds quite handy!
 Next, has Carney looked at a map of the world lately? If all of southeast Asia falls to the Communists, the Philippines and Australia will go next. Millions of people who now enjoy freedom of speech and press, can work where they want, own property, can worship as they please, would become slaves of Communist imperialism. Nobody can deny that Communists are expansionists, having annexed all neighboring countries that could not resist.

 As to Carney's quoting the Bible, does he know the Christian religion is "out" in Communist countries? In Russia, Carney could not have such a letter published. If parents teach religion to their children, the children will be taken from them. Bibles are not for sale in Russian or Chinese bookstores.
 Now to Carney's assertion that Ho Chi Minh "would have won" if elections had been held in 1954. You can't hold a free election where guerrillas are operating. The Viet Cong could impose such terror on the country that there would be no opposition to their chosen candidate. They can do it here! They can get control of polling places - or, failing that, bomb or burn the records, so that it would appear they had won.
 Will readers please address all replies to the Enfield Press, keep this out in the open, and stick to the issues! I'm using a pen name so that opponents will have to debate the issues, rather than resort to personal attacks. Thank you.

Enfield firefighters have a series of events scheduled to celebrate their 75th anniversary this year. The first of these will be a joint affair in conjunction with the annual ball April 24.
 Ticket information is available from any Enfield fireman. The Bobby Kaye orchestra will provide the music.

Longer days . . . rising temperatures . . . the change-over from heavy, closely-knit clothing to wearing apparel of lighter weight, more loosely-woven fabrics . . . Along with these signs of spring warns the National Fire Protection Assn., may go an increase in the hazards of clothing fires.
 Children are especially susceptible. Give your youngsters some protection from clothing fires by dressing them in sturdy playclothes of tightly-woven materials such as denim, suggests the NFPA. These fabrics ignite and burn less readily than those of lighter weight and looser weave.

New Supernumeries And Cadets Sworn In By Police Commission

The Police Commission has sworn in six new supernumeries and six new police cadets, according to Police Chief Frank Sutula.

The supernumeries are Glenn A. Neilson, James V. Horanzky, Richard Potemski, Chester Demko, William Mandirola and John B. Gogulski.

The cadets are Randy C. Bottomley, Edward J. Ridel, James B. Graham, Keith D. Engleke, Russell G. MacIntyre and Charles E. Hinckley. They join three cadets appointed last year.

The supernumeries and cadets were all appointed January 12 by the commission, except Gogulski who was appointed a year and a half ago, but went into military service.

All the supernumeries and cadets have been receiving training since their appointment, at first two nights a week and now one night.

They have had instructors from the County Detective Office, Enfield Police, Circuit Court 13 officials and a narcotics agent from the regional squad, the chief said.

Seminarians To Present "Ceremony In Darkness And Light"

A dramatic and beautiful program will be presented by the seminarians of St. Alphonsus College Sunday, March 21 at 8 p.m. in the college chapel. This is the second of three Lenten services sponsored by the Suffield Council of Churches. The Redemptorist seminary is a member of the council, as well as all the churches in town.

Entitled "Ceremony in Darkness and Light", the service of prayers, song and readings will be centered around the theme "Christian Hope Through The Passion and Resurrection of CHRIST."

Part I, "Darkness" will symbolize the hopelessness of the Passion of Christ; and Part II, "Light" will symbolize the hope of the Resurrection. A liturgical chant "Light", and the Light Prayer in Part II, have both been written specifically for the occasion.

The students will read passages from the Gospels, and the College Choir, the organ, synthesizer, trumpet and guitars will provide the musical setting and accompaniment.

Father Max Pauli, CSSR, will be the host priest for the program.

He's really a true friend if he never bores or bothers.

The Rev. Joseph Hurley, CSSR, Rector of the college, invites all townspeople to attend and participate in the unusual program.

Trolley Museum To Be Film Shooting Location

Young people with a yearning to get themselves screen-tested in an actual television film can make it come true. That is the word from Dolph Franklin, director of The Guild, producers of Limited Edition films that have a viewpoint, an advocacy, and are of literary nature.

The Guild has set aside open time for shooting young people of any age who believe in themselves—at least, to the tune of a small, albeit quite small, sum. So this time, interested youngsters will have to gently tap their bank account or get a career-development mini-loan.

Says Franklin: "Our plan is to produce a series of extremely low-cost, shoestring, holes-in-the-sole films. Imaginatively edited, even a conglomerate of script-linked screen tests can become dynamic artistry. At least, we are going to make a try at it."

"We will explore and question the state of the human condition. Our object is to make relevance traverse rough philosophic territory, be witty and irreverent when necessary."

The properties would be long long-shots for distribution anywhere at all. But the participants can be sure of getting themselves filmed by a professional crew in a superbly equipped studio or on location, being seen in a theatrical setting somewhere in midtown Manhattan, and of getting cast-of-characters credit and footage of themselves to own, cherish and dream on.

It is suggested that interested parties contact Dolph Franklin. His office is in the penthouse suite at 16 West 55th Street, New York City.

The location shooting is planned for the Trolley Museum at an unannounced future date.

United Methodist Women Meet Tuesday

being carried on under the auspices of The Hartford Foundation for Public Giving.

A short business meeting will be held by Mrs. Robert Murphy, president, and her officers. The worship will be under the leadership of Mrs. Richard Young and Mrs. Donald Warren. Music will be in the form of contemporary compositions and will be presented by Miss Beverly Bauer. The greeters for the evening will be Mrs. Jack Rienks and Mrs. James Miller. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. George Gates and Mrs. Vernon Reed and their committee. All are welcome.

West Pointers Will Visit Area In May

Sixth District Representative Ella T. Grasso announced that the United States Military Academy is sponsoring an Educator Visit Program from May 25 for approximately forty secondary school guidance counselors from Connecticut and Rhode Island. It is anticipated that there will be representation from secondary schools in the Sixth District.

The purpose of the program is to inform the selected counselors of the scope of the academic and military programs offered, the nomination and appointment process, the required standards for admission as well as the magnitude and nature of the current expansion program at the Academy.

Commenting on the program, Mrs. Grasso said: "This method of better informing secondary school counselors will greatly assist the Congress as well as the Military Academy in causing greater numbers of outstanding men to seek admission."

Johnson Heads YMCA Membership Campaign

Village Players Choose Comedy

The newly formed theater group from the town of Somers has caught on. The Village Players are well on their way in their first production "Generation" by William Goodhart. "Amazing, simply amazing how many people (of all ages) are interested in us and offering varied talents to make this thing 'GO', a member of the executive board commented.

The Village Players have chosen a comedy by Eilliam Goodhart for their first production — a very funny play about a very contemporary fact of life! The play opened on Broadway in 1965 with Henry Fonda playing a lead role.

It is interesting to note how the theater group happened to choose this particular play. Although the playreading committee had thumbed through and read a great many works, they had not reached a decision. At the first workshop meeting, one of the members, Irene Sutcliffe, directing for the first time in her life, chose a few scenes from "Generation." Coaxing her amiable husband Bill to fill in at the last moment in the first role Henry Fonda handled so ably in New York; and beautifully assisted by Jennifer Long and Mike Reilly, Irene witnessed the immediate audience reaction she expected: laughs, laughs and more laughs! The playreading committee and the entire membership voted on the spot: "Generation" was to be the first production.

Tryouts for roles in the play are scheduled for Friday, March 19 in the Town Hall at 8:00 p.m. Two and possibly three professional directors, not members of the players

Teacher Tenure Under Fire, Senator Says

Teacher tenure is under fire in the state legislature. Senator Lucy Hammer told the Suffield Republican Women's Club at a recent meeting here.

A teacher in Connecticut can receive tenure after three years of teaching. Tenure gives a teacher a "lifetime assurance of a job," regardless of his teaching ability, the senator said. This makes it difficult for a town to fire a teacher, she added.

Teachers unions do not help the towns in tenure disputes and strikes Senator Hammer said. They fight for a teacher no matter what his qualifications and teaching record are, she maintained.

The senator, who is a nine term veteran legislator and ranking Republican member of the legislature's Education Committee, believes some changes, such as periodic evaluation of teachers, might be made in the tenure system. The problem, she said, is to keep the extremists from tearing the tenure system apart.

Teachers unions claim teachers have a right to strike like any other labor group. However, they also want to keep tenure which gives them the assurance of a job, unlike other groups, she pointed out.

The people in the state legislature, even the most liberal, do not like teachers strikes, the legislator said. She suggested that if there is a teachers strike instigated by a teachers union that the union be penalized by not allowing it to be representative for the teachers for two years.

Education is in trouble in the state and nation because rising costs to support it are causing

Activities And Learning Experiences At The Enfield Day Care Center Are Outstanding

The Enfield Day Care Center will hold a formal opening on Sunday at the Hazardville Methodist Church.

The Day Care Center which has been in operation since the 26th of October is open five days a week, 52 weeks a year between 7 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Financed through a state grant of $55,000, approved on Oct. 21 and contributions from local organizations and money received from the fees, Mrs. Dorothy Allen, head of the town's Social Services Dept., indicated that the State Dept. of Community Affairs (DCA) has set aside an equal amount of money for next year. The town has matched the DCA appropriation with approximately $46,000 in "in-kind services," including facilities and administrative assistance.

The Day Care Center determines the fees to be paid on the basis of the individual's ability to pay. No parent, however, pays more than what it actually costs to keep his child at the Center. The amount of the fee is whatever part of the "cost fee" a parent can pay.

Located at the Hazardville United Methodist Church, Hazard Ave., the Center is non-sectarian, provides qualified personnel, and complete insurance coverage. To attend the child must be three years old and toilet trained.

The Day Care Center presently has 36 students enrolled under the direction and guidance of a teacher and a teacher's aide.

The program has many experiences and services that will help in a child's development. These include educational programs to take advantage of the child's best learning years, a health program to include medical services, and a nutrition program to provide well-balanced meals. It is important that day care does not become just another single experience in the child's life so parents are included in every part of the program and their co-operation is asked in continuing the program in the home. To assure the good health of each child, the following services are available: medical and dental check-ups for all children upon admission; daily health checks of all children by VNA; periodic clinic and immunization programs; psychiatric and child development counseling available to parents and staff.

Mid-morning and mid-afternoon snacks are served. The mid-afternoon snack follows the children's nap. The hot lunch is a nutritionally, well-balanced meal; menus for the week are posted one week in advance.

Parents have an active voice in the services and operation of the Enfield Day Care Center.

Door To Door Container Collection

Members of the Junior Methodist Youth Fellowship (MYF) of the United Methodist Church of Hazardville will conduct a door-to-door campaign in the Hazardville area for the collection of glass containers in conjunction with the town wide "Pounce on Polluters" project. This collection will take place on Mar. 28 from 4-6 p.m.

Twin Mothers Meeting Tonight

The Twins Mothers Club of Greater Hartford will hold their regular monthly meeting on Thursday, March 18th at 8:15 p.m. at Christ The King Lutheran Church, 465 Park Ave., Windsor, Conn.

The program for the evening will be a Stanley Party. The business meeting will follow.

For information concerning the club please contact Mrs. Richard C. Kaupin at 749-7530.

Some of them are members of the board of trustees which closely watches over the children's progress and development.

Those children that have or might have perceptual or emotional problems in the future have special activities included into their program to aid them. In addition the services of a psychiatrist are available to test and treat the handicapped child.

The division of children into three groups, according to their age, significantly enriches their learning abilities and manual skills. Progress is almost unlimited; at the same time, the children are closely observed to be sure that they are absorbing the material with which they are presented.

The Day Care Center provides a well-rounded educational and activities program for those attending, and certainly, significantly adds to the social services made possible by the town's support and through the skill and enthusiasm of its director, Miss Kimberly Karkos.

Children learn with others of their own age to become more proficient in a great variety of activities.

Children join together in all sorts of learning experiences and developmental skills. The educational program presented is outstanding; the nutrition and health programs are also exceptional.

Children at the Enfield Day Care Center learn to cooperate and play together. Activities are considerably varied and supervision watchful.

Prepare Your Lawn

All flowers look prettier seen across a smooth stretch of grass. And nothing is more generally admired and appreciated by all who pass than a well-graded, smoothly mowed lawn of thick, weed-free, grass that shows no worn spots.

Sounds impossible to achieve? Read on.

Every house needs a broad, nearly flat area at its base. Otherwise hilltop houses seem ready to slip off their perches. Valley sites may mean flooded basements. Make necessary grade changes before starting to plant anywhere about the foundation.

Where the grades in the lawn change avoid sharp angles to eliminate scalping your lawn. The slope should be short enough so you can mow it while standing at the top of the bank. For the slightly sloped lawn the best mower should be lightweight and easy-running.

To Renovate An Old Lawn The permanently good looking lawn is the well-drained

one. Surface water must not stand in puddles or pools after a long rain.

If your lawn is not sufficiently elevated to provide good drainage, lines of drain tile should be laid. Please note, however, if the topsoil has a layer of gravel beneath this use of drain tile should not be necessary.

Sodding and Seeding Where soil bakes hard every year and grass is sparse and anemic, spade the soil six inches deep and work in 2 inches of peatmoss. Compost or humus may be used instead.

Rake it smooth and seed. To level down a bumpy lawn to make it easier to mow, rake humus - rich top - dressing into the small hollows but don't cover the grass more than 1/2 inch deep at any one time or it may smother. If the hollow is deeper, loosen the soil, fill, and plant new seed. Or peel back the sod, fill, and roll the sod back into place. If good sod is available, patching is often the best way to repair small bare spots.

Pricking Before re-seeding hard-spots, loosen and open the soil with a spiked tamp, to give the seed a chance to catch. To make a very simple tamp, drive 16-penny spikes through a 2-inch plank and attach it to an old broom handle.

Armoires Solve Space Problems

Su Casa, Spanish collection by Stanley Furniture Co., includes an armoire along with dresser and commode. Almost every bedroom collection in every style now includes an armoire storage piece.

One of history's most romantic pieces of furniture is being revived to solve a major housing problem today.

Space is the problem; armoires are the solution.

Basically a tall, roomy storage cupboard, an armoire of some description was probably born of necessity right along with the first tables and chairs. Through the centuries it has housed medieval arms, the dowries of Renaissance brides, served as closets when there were none and provided storage in every age.

The need for functional storage has certainly never been greater than today. When the astronauts turned the cameras on our planet, the limitations of our global village were dramatically made real. Homemakers deal with the reality of space limitations every day. We may be acquiring more and more things, but there are also more and more of us — and less room to put both people and possessions.

Manufacturers and designers are allied with the homemaker in the battle against diminishing living space. The ability to provide functional storage is second only to beauty in the development of new furniture lines.

It is not surprising, then, that almost every new collection introduced within the past two years has included at least one armoire. They are included in the most moderately priced line as well as the most expensive, in groups for children's rooms and in scaled-down apartment furniture.

Armoires have proven themselves at home in every style category, from the boldest, most experimental modern to the reminiscent period collections. Frequently it is the armoire that makes the strongest design statement in a given line. Their size alone, varying from massive to mini, gives the designer freedom to explore a theme.

It is in this piece of furniture that one gets the full impact of exotic woods, elaborately carved doors, intricate embellishments . . . tableaux, mirrors, chinoiserie, silkscreening, contrasted woods, paints with single, double, even triple stripping — the list of design elements seen in armoires on the market today is endless.

Armoires do vary in size, but they are always among the largest pieces in a collection. Whether they have imposing proportions or have been trimmed down to accommodate a small room, they not only store things but make use of wall space in the process, reaching up rather than out.

Encased in that beauty, however it is interpreted, is organized, functional service. Some compartments are built-in tie-racks, shirt-sweater drawers, jewelry trays — organizing space right down to the last handkerchief. The majority include some drawers and a variety of adjustable shelves and partitions for individual arrangements.

Flexibility is as valuable a function in an armoire. Few furniture items can, if carefully selected, change their purpose and personality so well. An armoire is by no means married to one room. It might begin as a bedroom clothes storage, be adapted to a family room for television or home entertainment equipment and grace a hall or living room for miscellaneous storage in some future home.

Because armoires are usually among the most expensive items in any line, even so-called budget groupings, they should be selected with an eye toward their maximum flexibility. Not every armoire moves gracefully out of the bedroom. A young couple, anticipating a growing family and several homes in a lifetime, will find the choice of an armoire that can adapt to many services one of the wisest home furnishings investments they can make.

Cast For "Man Of LaMancha" Enthusiastically Rehearse

"Our neighbors must really wonder what is going on in this house," Tom Connolly remarked recently. "My wife, Scotty, is practicing Arab dancing at all hours, and I'm wandering in and out of the house in a gray beard and a suit of armor. I'm sure we provide plenty of material for speculation."

Actually, the reason for such goings-on is simple — both Tom and Scotty have roles in the St. Martha Players production of "Man of La Mancha." Scotty has the role of Fermina, Moorish dancer, and Tom has the title role of Cervantes Don Quixote.

"The most difficult thing about this role," Tom said, "is that it is really three separate roles: Cervantes, and his character, Alonso Quijana, who becomes Don Quixote. Also, one must switch roles at the drop of a musical cue."

Though Tom has pronounced Quixote, his most demanding role, physically and emotionally, it is far from his first major role. In Boston, his home, he was extremely active in the theatre. He has played most of the lead roles in Rodgers and Hammerstein's best musicals. He has done opera and performed straight drama and non-musical comedy. With the Players, he has appeared as Billy Bigelow in "Carousel," and, most recently, as Beauregard Jackson Pickett Burnside in "Mame."

Asked about the Players' production of "Man of La Mancha," Tom spoke at length.

"This is a great production, from costumes and staging to all the people involved. George LaVoice, our director, is extremely talented, has great insight, and can really get the

Students Perform For Eli Whitney PTA

With voices hushed, and lights dimmed, the curtain in the Eli Whitney Auditorium rose Wednesday evening, March 10 on a setting of the King of England's throne room in the days prior to the American Revolution.

The play, "Benjamin Franklin and the King" was presented before the Eli Whitney School P.T.A. by the fifth grade reading class under the direction of their teacher, Gary Harris. It was originally intended to be shown to the upper grade students, however, the hours and energies spent, and the obvious conscientious effort displayed by these children in presenting this play, deserved far more recognition and appreciation, and were therefore asked to give an encore performance before their P.T.A.

The leading characters, Benjamin Franklin, King George and Lord North were played by Michael Donnelly, Thomas Kelly and Jeremy Lovell respectively. Supporting roles of Mother, Pitt, and Sir Tobias went to Susan Van Orden, Dan Thorogood, and Ronald Christolm.

The cast also included Coreen Pingley, Diana Ireland and Dan Taylor as counselors; Sandra McGarvey as chamberlain; Pamela Murszka and Christine Haertel as footmen; Rebecca Breton as messenger; and Wendy Dolinsky, Philip Nichols and Nancy Blanchard as lords. Nancy Davis played a dual role as lord and narrator.

The technical department included Kathy Gallicchio and Barbara Hughes as prompters, Brenda Bagley, James Broderick, Mildred Caruso Earl Ellis, Sandra Fisher, Lori Floros, Cheryl Goldberg, Laura Green, Gary Guillerault, Stacy Pollard and Michele Shean.

Holy Family's Variety Show: A Tongue-In-Cheek Critique

Leon L'Hereux
Holy Family Parish invites you to join them in a Spring Frolic; it is sure to make you either laugh or cry... One thing we request though... please don't bring with you, as in Shakespearian Days, any old apples or tomatoes, hidden up your sleeves!
Although no parts of it were filmed, on location in Spain, and the cast, thankfully, does not number in the thousands, it is, truthfully, a delightful cross between: "LAUGH - IN" and "THE ORIGINAL AMATEUR HOUR", and holds more than a few surprises! There are vignettes of the "Show Biz" of yesteryear, when vaudeville was in its hey-day, and there is a trace of that wonderful time when Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers held you captive, as they danced their way into your hearts. We think you will be impressed by the budding talent of one of our own Enfield High School seniors, Leon L'Hereux, of 28 Vernon Road, who plays the organ remarkably well, and plans to continue his musical studies, which are presently under the direction of Louis Rinaldi, of Windsor Locks.

Of course, as in every show, there were obstacles to overcome, and rehearsals where everything seemed to go wrong. There was a particularly bad night, when our belabored but

Before Growth Starts

Feeding
It is a good idea to use four pounds of plant food for every 100 square feet of lawn to thicken a thin lawn, spread the plant food along with the grass seed. New grass is shallow rooted and often doesn't stand up through a long, hot summer in competition with older, deep-rooted grass.

Choosing Seed
For the average lawn in this area, Kentucky Bluegrass provides a good cover and grows quickly. Additional suggested grasses might include red-top, Rhode Island bent, German bent, English rye grass (the growth of which is extremely rapid) timothy, and white clover.

Feeding The Lawn
All lawns need a good supply of nitrogen all the time they are in growth. The best time of year to supply this need is in the late winter or very early spring, at least a week or two before normal growth begins.

If you feed your lawn shortly before the growth begins, the food will have been dissolved and washed down to the roots by the time the grass needs it.

Early feeding while the grass is still dormant, also eliminates temporary browning of tender new grass, which sometimes results from applying certain plant foods later in the year. If your lawn is level and a light layer of snow is still on the ground, you can spread the plant food on top of the snow. On slopes, though, the water from melting snow may carry off and waste plant food.

Any one of the well-known, general purpose plant foods is suitable for use on lawns. By reading the instructions on the package you will receive the recommended rates of application.

It may be worthwhile to note that you can purchase a special lawn food which contains a higher percentage of nitrogen. This may be more expensive, but since you are, in turn able to use less, the extra cost will be absorbed.

Similarly if you use a concentrated plant food which is dissolved in water and applied as liquid, you will use less bulk. In applying any high-nitrogen content food, be very, very sure to follow the manufacturer's suggested directions exactly as they are stated.

Spread dry plant food on a day when the grass is dry and then give the lawn a good sprinkling or soaking with the hose to wash the food off the grass and into the soil.

Tangy Tomato Appetizer
Guests and family will enjoy sipping this while waiting for dinner to be served.

1 can (1 pt. 2 fl. oz.) tomato juice, or vegetable juice cocktail.

1 can condensed consommé, or beef broth.

1 tablespoon canned lemon juice.

1 teaspoon bottled thick meat sauce.

Dash hot pepper sauce. Commercial sour cream (optional). Chopped chives (optional).

Combine tomato juice, consommé, lemon juice, meat sauce and hot pepper sauce; chill. Pour in juice glasses or mugs. Top each with a spoonful of sour cream and a sprinkling of chives. Four to six servings.

Clam Tomato Appetizer: Use a bottle (8 fl. oz.) clam juice instead of consommé. Top with a few pieces of diced avocado, if desired.

Tomato-Kraut Appetizer: Use 1 cup canned sauerkraut juice instead of consommé. Top with chopped parsley or dill, if desired.

Crab Artichoke Appetizer
Use a second artichoke as a centerpiece for an elegant appetizer tray.

1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon minced green onion

1 can (5 to 7 oz.) crab meat
1 artichoke

Mix mayonnaise, mustard, Worcestershire sauce and onion. Add drained flaked crab meat; mix and chill. Cook artichoke in salted water about 30 minutes, until tender. Chill. Pull off artichoke leaves and top the meaty tip of each leaf with a small amount of the crab meat mixture. Arrange on serving tray. Makes 15 to 20 hors d'oeuvres.

Shrimp or Lobster Appetizer: Use a can (4 1/2 to 5 oz.) shrimp or lobster, drained and cut in pieces, instead of crab meat.

Relish Snack Assortment

Put eggplant, green pepper, coarsely chopped onion, crushed garlic and oil in a skillet. Cover and cook gently 10 minutes, stirring from time to time. 1,500,000 Lire.

That's a lot of lire for a car. But that's a lot of car for the lire.

It's one of the most meticulously built sports cars in the world.

The classic body was designed where many great sports cars are designed: Turin, Italy. By the famous Ghia Studios.

It's built by one of Europe's oldest custom coachmakers: Karmann of Osnabrück.

Only a limited number are made each day. Mainly because it takes interminably long to shape the body.

So intricate are some of Ghia's lines that machines can't form them. So Karmann employs sculptors to finish the body. By hand.

It's welded, burnished, smoothed, painted, sanded and rubbed. By hand.

And only when it passes hundreds of inspections does it get together with the chassis. Which is a beauty in itself.

Torsion bar suspension. Double-jointed rear axles. Four-speed sync box. Front disc brakes. Rear-mounted magnesium engine. Air-cooled. Utterly dependable. Economical. (About 26 mpg.)

All that will cost you a good 1,500,000 lire. Or 2575 American dollars.*

For a Volkswagen Karmann Ghia. That's not a lot of dollars for a car.

But that's a lot of car for the dollars.

FHS Registration Now Under Way

Since December 1970, the administration and faculty of Enrico Fermi High School have been planning and anticipating the new and different Course of Studies offered for 1971-72 at Fermi High School. Students now may select from over 150 courses.

This extensive selection has been developed to offer an individualized program to each student which fits his needs and plans for the future. This new program is tied to the philosophy of Fermi High School as stated in the Program of Studies booklet which every student received and every parent should read. The entire program stresses the PLUS THREE-FOR FERMI - Individuality, Self-direction and Flexibility.

On March 1, 2 and 3, the present Juniors and Sophomores at Fermi took part in the official registration. The procedure paralleled college registration in that students reported by homerooms to the cafeteria, picked up an official form and selected 5/4 to 6/4 credits. While students filled out the registration form, teachers from all departments and guidance counselors were available to answer questions about the Program of Studies.

On March 8 counselors and teachers from Fermi visited Kosciuszko Junior High School and joined with the junior high counselors to register all ninth graders going on to Fermi High School next year. On March 9, registrations took place at Kennedy Junior High for those students who will also be attending Fermi next year.

Any student anticipating attending Enrico Fermi High School next year, who for various reasons will not be included in the formal registration, should contact the guidance office as soon as possible to complete the official registration.

Town To Sponsor Dog Rabies Clinic

The Town of Enfield, through the efforts of Canine Control Officer, Fred Provencher, Dr. L. Fournier, veterinarian, and the local Health Department will sponsor a rabies clinic for dogs on April 18 at the Town Hall parking lot between 2 to 4 p.m.

There will be a nominal charge of two dollars to defray the cost of the vaccine. The vaccine will be administered by Dr. Fournier.

The Health Department strongly urges all owners to take advantage of this clinic and have their pets vaccinated against this disease.

Rabies is an infectious disease caused by a virus which affects the central nervous system of warm blooded animals and bats. Once symptoms develop, the disease is always fatal, except in bats.

Although primarily a disease of animals, rabies can spread to human beings. It is spread by the bite of an infected animal or transmission of the animal's saliva into an open wound or cut.

Prevention of transmission lies primarily in control of the disease in dogs through effective vaccines.

In case of rain, the clinic will be held the following Sunday, April 25.
