School Closings, Layoffs Advised

Close two elementary schools. Eliminate 44 jobs. Double up bus runs. Maintain services at the same level as this year.

That's what Enfield's superintendent of schools has recommended to the Board of Education but about a thousand parents don't like the ideas.

Neither does the superintendent.

In what is probably the best-attended school board meeting ever, about 300 parents told administrators they don't want schools closed, they don't want teachers laid off and they want better services for their youngsters. They presented petitions bearing some 1,000 signatures to support their demands.

The meeting was moved from the board's conference room to the gymnasium of Henry Barnard School to accommodate the crowd.

Superintendent Dr. Louis Mager doesn't consider these parental objections a challenge to his recommendations — he considers them support for better education in Enfield.

Dr. Mager is trying to live within the budget set by the Town Council.

Councilmen last month approved an appropriation of $12.75 million for Enfield schools. That's a 4 per cent increase over this year's budget and administrators say it just isn't enough to give local students the kind of education they should have.

The administrator said he feels his proposals are not the best things that could happen to Enfield schools but are intended "to minimize the toll" of budget cuts.

Closing the schools, he said, "disrupts the neighborhood school concept, increases student-teacher ratios and means more students will have to be bused to classes.

In his message to school board members, Dr. Mager recommended "with considerable misgiving and concern" the elimination of 44 positions in the school system.

Affected are two elementary principals, nearly 30 elementary teachers, two secretaries, a school nurse, eight custodians, an assistant supervisor of school facilities, a learning disabilities teacher, a reading specialist and a bilingual instructor.

Dr. Mager said most of those employees will be laid off; a few will be retiring and some resigning.

Guidance services will have to be reduced, the position of coordinator of athletics will not be funded, students will have to wait longer because bus runs will be doubled up, and current programs and services cannot be expanded.

Nathan Hale and A.D. Higgins schools are to be closed and elementary students reassigned to other schools. Higgins, though, would be used as an adult education center.

In his summary to the school board, Dr. Mager raised questions as to how much longer the system can properly function without substantial increases in funding.

Dr. Mager asked:

"Is it to be the destiny of this school

Four Cited For Service By Jaycees

A college president, a policeman and a social worker will be honored by Enfield Jaycees at a banquet Friday at the American Legion Hall on Enfield St.

Dr. Daniel McLaughlin, president of Asnuntuck Community College, is to receive the Outstanding Educator Award, Patrolman Herbert Foy is to receive the Outstanding Law Enforcement Award and Evelyn Baron of the Enfield Assn. for Retarded and Handicapped Citizens (EARHC) is to receive the Distinguished Service Award.

In addition, Jaycees will present a posthumous award to builder S. Leger Starr who donated land to the town for recreational areas and supported many town activities.

Citations will be presented during the annual Jaycees Installation Banquet which begins at 6:30 p.m.

Dr. McLaughlin will be cited for encouraging programs not found at other college campuses.

These include community gardens here and in Suffield, a food cooperative, a women's center, senior volunteer activities, educational and cultural services.

Patrolman Foy has been in the field of law enforcement 22 years and is one of the few qualified paramedics in this region. Foy helped coordinate a program on alcoholism which won national honors, and organize an educational program concerning shoplifting.

Evelyn Baron's association at EARHC has grown from a part-time job to full-time involvement promoting and providing programs for retarded and handicapped persons in Enfield.

Her position involves overall administration and responsibility for social workers, fund raising, parent advocate in school issues, community relations and acting as the catalyst for new programs.

To be installed Jaycee officers are Michael Grady, president; Charles McGinnis, internal vice president; Len Churnetski, external vice president; Peter Falk, secretary and Steve Zamorski, treasurer.

Power Firm Seeks 10% Rate Hike

Electric power and gas company officials intend to seek a 10 per cent rate increase according to papers filed with the Public Utilities Control Authority in Hartford.

According to Lelan F. Sillin Jr., chairman and president of Northeast Utilities, the company wants to raise rates by 10 per cent for the Connecticut Light and Power Co. Such an increase would raise an additional $40 million a year, he said.

Sillin said the company has not sought a rate hike in more than two years and noted the new request is below the level of general inflation during this period.

Northeast Utilities is the parent firm for CL&P and the Hartford Electric Light Company (HELCO). HELCO is to seek an 8 per cent rate increase which would raise nearly $18 million a year.

The power firms need the increase, Sillin said, because of continuing inflationary pressures and to improve financial conditions of the companies. He claims the hikes are needed despite progress made in reducing capital expenditure and controlling operating costs.

Sillin said the increase is also needed "to restore and strengthen" the credit of CL&P and HELCO, to improve the quality of their securities and to make Northeast Utilities itself more attractive to investors.

The executive said that although it may seem the interests of consumers and investors are divergent, they are inseparable.

"Without a continuing supply of investment dollars we cannot render effective service. Unless customers are willing to pay adequate rates it will be impossible to generate earnings sufficient to attract the needed investment dollars and reduce the cost of capital," Sillin said.

Town Removes Vesce Goods By Court Order

Having failed to remove his personal property from two buildings on Young Avenue taken from Albert Vesce by eminent domain for urban renewal by the deadline of June 1, an army of law and town officials converged on the buildings Monday and in a day-long operation, removed the property. Led by Hartford County Deputy Sheriff Theodore J. Plamondon, Jr., a fleet of wreckers, town trucks, including a payloader and several policemen, town and urban renewal officials, took part in the operation, actively or by observation. Andrew Melechinsky, local Constitutionalist, was there in support of Vesce's cause as was a son and a daughter, and several sympathetic bystanders, including Ralph Lombardi. Melechinsky, over a bullhorn, decried to those taking part in the removal proceedings as "those who are sworn to uphold the law, are breaking the law." Melechinsky served or attempted to serve the participants with "citizen's arrest warrants", of which he had many in his possession. Albert Vesce did not say or do much on his part but it was a sad day in his life and he looked sad and forlorn.

Ralph Lombardi, a Vesce sympathiser; Deputy Sheriff Plamondon; Constable Ray Garini; Vesce and Police Sgt. Gus Theophiles (obscured) discuss situation while Melechinsky stands by with handful of "citizen's arrest warrants".

Wrecker removes first of Vesce's three old cars to the town yard on Moody Road. Cars were in such a state of deterioration, they had to be placed on dollies. Camper with sign belongs to Melechinsky.

Town highway dept. workers load truck with old fenders, radiators, tables, pipes, etc., from small garage for transportation to town yard. Second of the three old cars was first towed from within.

Health Dept. Urges Sewers

The North Central District Health Department conducted a sanitary survey of properties located on Oliver Road from I-91 west to No. 48 Oliver Road at the request of property owners.

The survey revealed that the majority of the properties are currently having severe septic system malfunctions. Repairs have been made several times on most of the properties, but have failed shortly after.

Soil types vary from high water table Scantic and Walpole soils to very impervious clay Buxton soils. Extension of leachfields in these soils will not solve their problem.

The public sewer is within one tenth of a mile of these properties.

It is the recommendation of this department that the public sewer be extended to service these properties.

Angelo In His Garden

Gardening Is This Senior Citizen's Summer Pasttime

By ERNEST A. MOKUS
Angelo Noto of 16 Asnuntuck St., Enfield, has been growing a garden in the same location for the past 35 years. His garden is on Cottage Green, approximately 100 yards from his home.

As he is retired, having retired 40 years ago as a wireman in the former Bigelow Sanford Carpet Co., where he worked forty years, he spends most of his time in his garden. Consequently and amazingly, it is absolutely devoid of a single weed.

This year, Angelo's garden is smaller than last and previous years because he is aging. His garden contains about four dozen tomato plants, three and a half dozen onions, a dozen peppers, one and a half dozen eggplants, two dozen cauliflowers, a kale plant "that grows every spring", three 15-foot long rows of butter beans and a dozen horse bean plants.

When asked what horse beans are, he replied, "They are good to eat."

In order for Angelo to get to his garden from his home, he traverses the 100 yards using an old, rusty lawnmower as a perambulator.

You see, Angelo is 96 years old.

Bill Richer, a neighbor of Angelo's, who also has a part of the same plot of land for his garden, said it amazes him to see Angelo using the lawnmower because it seems harder to use than to walk, it being so tight with rust. Bill has had his garden for the past five years. His main vegetable is tomatoes of which he has about 125 plants. When not working in their gardens, both men can often be seen in lawn chairs in front of Richer's home at 26 Asnuntuck St., chatting the time away.

The land on which both men have their gardens is owned by Neil Sloan of Cottage Green. He permits them use of it as he does not have a green thumb.

The congenial old gentleman has spent most of his life in Enfield. He was born in a small town near Palermo, Italy, Sept. 14, 1880 and came to this country in 1902. Shortly after arriving in Enfield, he began working in Bigelow where, he said, his starting pay was $4.75 a week.

Angelo has two sisters, Mrs. Mary Deni, 91, of Holyoke, Mass., and Frances Noto, 89, still of Italy.

He has five daughters. They are, Mrs. Catherine Filossie, a widow, of 1 Woodside Park, Enfield; Mrs. Charles Lamana, Jr. of 97 Windsor St., Enfield; Mrs. Joseph Michaud of 46 Green Valley Dr., Enfield; and Mary Noto and Sadie Noto, both of whom reside with him and who take care of him.

Also, he has 14 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren.

Sorry, No Fish Derby

The annual fishing derby, usually held in May at Freshwater Pond and sponsored by the John Maciolek American Legion Post 154, was not held this year because of the intermittent lowering of the pond during the spring.

Gas For Our Go

Some scientists say that all the energy needs of the world can be met by burning only one-tenth of the annual growth of wood.

If this is true, we would have an ample supply of energy when the oil wells run dry and the coal fields are dug to death.

Alcohol can be made from wood, but the hitch is that the process is very expensive.

Oil, even at present prices, is cheap by comparison. But if it continues to climb, it could reach the point where alcohol would be competitive.

Or the cost of production could be lowered by improving the process. This, perhaps, is the most promising prospect. Progress was recently reported in this area.

Scientists working for Mobil Oil Corp. revealed that they have developed a simple, one-step process for converting wood alcohol to high-grade gasoline.

They also noted that solid wastes from wood and plant crops could be used as a source of wood alcohol. There are other benefits, too.

Logging debris in the nation's forests piles up at the rate of 25 million tons a year. That would make a lot of alcohol.

Besides this debris is a breeding ground for tree diseases. Forest fires occur seven times more frequently from this debris than in uncut areas.

Logging debris is disposed of now by burning, which contributes to air pollution. If the price is right, timber companies would naturally prefer to ship the waste off to the alcohol mill.

Big oil companies have more than a passing interest in alternate sources of energy. Opinions differ as to when, but there is general agreement that fossil fuels will some day be used up.

On that score they need not be in a big rush to streamline the wood alcohol process, except there is always the risk that someone else will uncork the magic method.

Economic and competitive realities, more than political or environmental palaver, will determine the eventual outcome.

So as long as the sun shines and the rains fall and the trees grow, we'll always have gas for our go go.

Today is June 10, the 162 day of 1976 with 204 remaining.

There will be a full moon tomorrow night.

On this date:

In 1610, the first Dutch settlers in America landed on Manhattan Island.

In 1776, the Continental Congress in Philadelphia named a committee to draft the American Declaration of Independence.

In 1892, a Republican National convention in Minneapolis renominated Benjamin Harrison for president.

In 1898, the United States invaded Cuba in the Spanish-American War.

In 1940, Italy declared war on France and Britain.

In 1942, the Nazi Gestapo killed the 173 male residents of Lidice, Czechoslovakia, to retaliate for the assassination of a German official.

In 1945, General Dwight Eisenhower received the Soviet Union's highest award, the Order of Victory.

Eleven years ago Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board said his warnings about the national economy was not responsible for a drop in prices on Wall Street. Martin said, "I'm in the position of having advocated safe driving and now am accused of causing all the accidents."

Six years ago... At least 100 persons were killed in fighting between government forces and guerrillas in Jordan.

Two years ago President Nixon notified the House Judiciary Committee that he must draw the line and refuse to provide additional Watergate evidence.

Today's birthdays: Britain's Prince Philip is 55; former Astronaut James McDivitt is 47.

Bicentennial footnote: In the first days of the Revolutionary War, the Continental Congress in Philadelphia asked New England Colonies to provide powder to the Massachusetts army.

Sabers Thank All

To The Editor:

The members of the Enfield Sabers Bugle and Drum Corps would like to thank all the people of Enfield that have supported us. We also express our sincere thanks to the members of the John Maciolek Post for being our sponsor.

This Bicentennial year for our country marks our 24th year of bringing pleasure to the many people who have seen and heard us. It is with pride and community spirit that we serve you, the people of Enfield, and we will do our very best to continue this tradition for many years to come.

We will always have the feeling that this is the community where we want to belong, and that we are here for your enjoyment. Again, thank you.

Youth Problems

To The Editor:

I am a youth of this town, and I would like to say, what do the people of this town expect from us?

I am mainly talking about the problems at the Raffia Shopping Center. But it's not just a problem at the shopping center. It's a problem everywhere.

Where can the youths of this town go to hang around? Why is it when a person does something wrong everyone is blamed. Is drugs the problem? I don't think so. What's really wrong with smoking pot and drinking beer. What's wrong with getting high. Who can say what's right and what's wrong?

Will violence get rid of the problem. I don't think so. If they could break our arms and legs, I'm sure we could break their arms and legs, too. But where will that really get any of us — except maybe in a hospital.

It's not a problem that could be solved over night, and it can't be solved by one person either. It must be a group decision, with the youths. The last thing I would like to say is this. Soon the youths of today are going to be the parents of tomorrow — then what will things be like?

Save Forest Park

To The Editor:

Please urge our citizens to write Massachusetts legislators and commissioners requesting the preservation and maintenance of nearby Forest Park. Beautiful Forest Park has provided a rest haven from stress and financial pressures. People of all ages and backgrounds enjoy the beauties of nature found there, as well as sports and recreational activities. However, preservation of these beautiful facilities requires adequate working personnel and cooperation of the public.

Write leaders to respond favorably when allotting funds for Forest Park. Summer jobs are desperately needed by many and this would help. I have heard the remark Forest Park is a luxurious frill in these times of economic difficulties; however, rested, spiritually refreshed people can cope with their stressful daily routines much more efficiently and Forest Park always refreshes and energizes. WE LOVE FOREST PARK.

Innocent By-stander

By DICK HARTFORD

I am more than a little weary of people who live by labels.

They are those with knowledge so shallow that they think with their heels, not their head.

They brand all public officials as "politicians" and all other public servants as "bureaucrats." Ipso Facto... all politicians are crooks and all bureaucrats are lazy bums.

It just ain't so. Public servants, elected or otherwise, are no worse, nor no better, than the rest of us... and sometimes even the best of us are pretty sorry messes... we're human.

Except me and thee... and sometimes I suspect thee...

What really bugs me about these Living Labels... they are usually successful — even rich, or well off in coin of the realm... and therefore they are the chief beneficiaries of the system they belittle.

About the only time they give any consideration to public affairs is when they give half an ear to the guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon... or vote or put cash on a candidate.

Then they have the poor grace to insult his — the guest speaker's intelligence — with stupid questions.

I say stupid because had they really listened to what the speaker said, they would have known that he had already, answered the question.

I often wonder how long this system of ours can endure the ignorance and indifference of the main beneficiaries who are not paying their fair share. Nor do they really comprehend the verities.

And what do I mean by fair share?

Well, Gerry Stevens GOP House leader said it very nicely the other day when he told businessmen that the time is long gone when they can satisfy their debt by just paying dues to their trade association and many don't even do that.

Big deal! Their competition... their enemies... are more involved.

Want proof?

All you need is to listen to their own testimony... Labor has all the advantages... ucomp, etc... The business climate is bad... very bad-self-defeating... Who made it bad...? Business...? Against itself...? Non-sense... no way...!

And it happened through the political process... by the numbers.

Sorry mess. We don't make decisions, judgments by quality. We make them by the numbers... quantity.

That is supposed to be democracy.

The wonder is that it has lived so long.

Sewer Hook Ups

Moody Road from Park

Street to Taylor Road intersection and including three residential properties east of that intersection.

Taylor Road south of the intersection with Moody to serve seven residences.

Print Shop Road for the full length and including the large, new LEGO manufacturing plant.

Miscia Maintains Par 71 To Win Chamber Tourney

Mike Miscia of Mr. Formal of Enfield shot a par 71 to win the 6th annual All-America City Golf Tournament Monday at Twin Hills Country Club.

The tournament, which drew 127 golfers from the area, was sponsored by the Greater Enfield Chamber of Commerce.

Miscia was followed in the low gross figure by Ron Osborne at 74 and Herb Smith at 76.

Low net scores were posted by Hank Bankowski and Roy Morris, both at 71, and John Hall one stroke behind.

Miscia also had the longest drive; he put the ball nearly 315 yards from the tee.

Getting closest to the hole from the tee were Tim Conley on No. 3, Harry Holmes on No. 9, Ron Ostafin on No. 13 and Jack Toolan on No. 18.

Area businessmen, chamber members and their friends played under sometimes threatening skies at the Longmeadow course.

Following the tournament, players attended a dinner at the clubhouse where top golfers were awarded prizes donated by area businesses. Miscia's name will be engraved on a trophy which remains on permanent display at the Chamber office.

Tournament co-chairmen were Tony Remenik of Metropolitan Life and Mac McCuin of Southern New England Telephone.

Photographer Richard Berozsky readies shot as others in his foursome watch. From left are David French and Walter Trott of G. Fox, and Jack Jaqua of J.C. Penney.

St. Patrick's Council Elects Officers

The Parish Council of St. Patrick's Church met last Wednesday at St. Joseph's School auditorium to hold their annual elections. President Edward H. Furey opened the meeting. A prayer service was held which had been prepared by the Sisters of Mercy. New members of the council were introduced as well as the new pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Rev. William Bray.

The election of officers was held by the council and resulted in Edward H. Furey being elected to a second term; Francis Rago, vice-president; and Vincy Basile, secretary.

Each of the seven standing committees reported on their activities including: Ecumenical, Education, Finance, Information, Liturgy, Social Action and Plant and Property Committee. Finance Chairman, Thomas McGovern reported extensively on the budget and fund raising projects. Mary Malley, Education chairman reported that the school budget had been finalized for the coming year by her committee. Father Bray explained the repair work concluded recently at the rectory as well as the extensive work done on the church steps.

City Calls For Cooperation

'Aggressive' Recruiting Promised By Mc Divitt

By MARGARET HAYDEN
Staff Reporter

The 29 towns in the Capitol Region can work together on at least some critical, mutual problems and lobby for better state and national laws to improve economic conditions and the tax system.

This was the consensus of the majority of business and political leaders at a meeting Friday called to ask the support of newspapers, radio and television in promoting regional economic growth and to inform the media of the results of a meeting in Middlebury three weeks ago, which excluded the press.

Both meetings were sponsored by the Greater Hartford Chamber of Commerce and supported by the Capitol Region Council of Governments and Greater Hartford Process Inc.

The first meeting was called to establish better communication and understanding between the City of Hartford and the 13 suburban towns whose federal funding under General Revenue Sharing was placed in jeopardy by a legal suit by the city.

The towns are Enfield, Bloomfield, East Hartford, Farmington, Glastonbury, Manchester, Newington, South Windsor, Vernon, West Hartford, Wethersfield, Windsor and Windsor Locks.

Most of the towns also face possible loss of federal funds because of charges of discriminating hiring practice made by the state Human Rights and Opportunities Commission.

Outspoken Hartford Councilman Nicholas Carbone called for the suburbs to provide housing and jobs for the inner city's blacks, Puerto Ricans and poor people.

"Sixty-one percent of city residents are below the poverty level," he said, stressing that the city was a port of entry for Puerto Ricans and poor people from other states and countries. "It's impossible for the city to save itself," he said noting its economic problems increased by its high population of low-income families.

After the meeting, Enfield Town Manager William McDivitt told The Enfield Press that emotion generated by the Hartford suit had created suspicion.

McDivitt said he will try to fill town vacancies with resident minorities, then look for minority persons from elsewhere to meet the recommended 13 per cent quota. There is only a two per cent minority population in town, he said. "As part of our affirmative action program, we will recruit more aggressively than we have in the past," he said.

Peter Libassi, president of Greater Hartford Process, appealed to the suburbs to help city residents by working to change federal and state taxing and funding to benefit those who need it most.

"Sixty percent of those moving into Hartford have low incomes and 66 percent of those moving out have high incomes," he said. Half of Hartford's residents depend on welfare, unemployment compensation or social security. The decline of the city can bring the suburbs down with it."

Also calling for a united effort for legislation to help the region was Senate Minority Leader Lewis Rome. "We need more communication and less confrontation," he said. He asked for a cooperative effort for legislation to improve transportation and the welfare and tax systems. "If 29 towns come as one, legislators can't turn their backs," he said.

Arthur Lumsden, president of Greater Hartford Chamber of Commerce, said the whole region is sliding downhill. "I wonder if it has to get worse before we rally together," he said.

Lumsden and others, concerned by the loss of business and industry, called for a regional vocational training program to prepare region residents for available jobs, a stronger CROCOG, a regional legislative caucus, and a state take-over of town welfare.

Rotary Auction

The Suffield Rotary Club Auction will be held at the Hatheway Barn, South Main St. on June 19, starting at 10 a.m. In case of rain, the auction will be held inside the barn.

The auction has been an annual fund-raising event for the Rotary Club which uses all proceeds to benefit its scholarship fund.

Donation of merchandise for the auction would be greatly appreciated. If you have items to be picked, call 668-5612, or any Rotarian.

Consultant Sought

The Suffield Conservation Commission is seeking a consultant to replace Jonathan Freeman who will be resigning effective July 1.

Freeman, who is a Suffield Vocational Agriculture teacher, was hired on a part-time basis by the commission. His duties have emphasized on-site study of properties whose owners have sought approval for development under inland wetlands regulations.

The commission wants to replace Freeman. Qualifications for the job include training in and familiarity with soil type identification, as well as general conservation training or experience.

The position will continue to be a part-time one. Anyone interested should apply in writing to the Conservation Commission, Town Hall, Suffield.

Freeman is going on for graduate study. His resignation and the resignation of commission member, Dr. Richard Colo, were accepted with regret by the commission at its meeting June 1.

Education Task Force

The Suffield Board of Selectmen has named four persons to the new Community Education Task Force. Voters at a special town meeting April 29 authorized selectmen to appoint a six-person task force to "investigate the needs of the community in the broad area of community education" with a report due by November 1.

The four named to the task force are Neil Haemer, Carol Childs, Patricia Stewart and Jeanne Hoffacker. The selectmen said other appointments will be made soon.

Bandstand '76 Explanation

In a Suffield article on Bandstand '76 in the Enfield Press May 27 it was stated that the Suffield Rotary Club was one of the organizations "opposing" the Bandstand '76 project. A spokesman said the Rotary Club is not opposed to the project. He explained that the Rotary Club rejected "sponsoring" Bandstand '76, as a "club project," but left it up to the Rotarians as "individuals to contribute to Bandstand '76 as they pleased. He added several had done so.

New Landfill Rules Approved

The Suffield Solid Waste Disposal Committee has established a set of regulations for the use of the town's newly-approved Mountain Road landfill owned by William Kement. The regulations will remain the same for both the interim and permanent site operations.

Here are the regulations: Refuse being transported to the land fill area must be adequately covered to prevent scattering litter on the roads.

Upon entering the site, persons shall dump refuse in areas designated by the attendant.

Wood, other than tree stumps, will be limited to pieces four feet in length and six inches in diameter.

Hazardous waste, hospital waste and certain industrial waste will not be accepted by order of the state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP). Arrangements can be made with the DEP to dispose of such material.

Cans and drums will be accepted if they are open to insure no material is left in the container.

Demolition building materials or stumps from areas outside of Suffield are prohibited.

Tires from Town residents will be accepted free of charge; however tire outlets, recappers or commercial users must have tires shredded.

Anyone disposing of refuse on the site after hours will be suspended from using the facility.

Grass clippings, leaves, brush and mulch will be accepted.

Tree stumps will be accepted at the site from town residents and-or property owner only if: They originated on land owned by the resident and-or property owner; are not the result of the clearing of land for a subdivision or development of three or more parcels of land; or are not the result of the construction of, or widening of, a public street or highway within the boundaries of the town.

Grant Could Aid Minibus Bus Fund

First Selectman Chester A. Kuras said a report of possible matching federal funds to maintain the town's minibus should "spur" contributions during the present minibus fund drive.

A letter recently went out to residents urging them to contribute toward funding of the minibus, which costs about $7,800 annually, including salaries, to operate. The bus serves the town's senior citizens, the handicapped and the disabled. At the time the letter was sent, no grants were thought available.

Town grantsman William Brylinsky feels confident now there is a good possibility of $3,900 before the end of fiscal 1975-76, and $4,850 more for fiscal 1976-77.

Kuras said the federal funds and the local funds drive "compliment" each other. Funds raised through the local drive, he said would likely go toward matching the federal grants which both are 50-50 matching grants.

If the grant does not come through, he said, funds collected locally will support the minibus, which went into service in 1974 and provides transportation to doctors offices, clinics, shopping areas and work shops on a regular basis. More than 100 persons have taken advantage of the bus service yearly. Contributions are also needed to go for a new bus when needed.

Scott Rasmussen, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Rasmussen, a member of the Air Force ROTC, of 25 Armstrong Rd., received a medal and a U.S. Savings Bond from the Col. Jeremiah Wadsworth Branch, Conn. Society, Sons of the American Revolution for patriotism.

Tobacco Farms Co. Sale

Tobacco Farms Co. has reached an agreement for sale of 1,600 acres of land in West Suffield, and Agawam and Southwick, Mass. to the Sixty Trust of Providence, R.I., its mortgage lender. The announcement was made June 1 by Raymond Roncari of Windsor Locks, who owned Tobacco Farms with Roy Conyers of Manchester and Environmental Systems of Los Angeles. The Tobacco Farms Company owned properties formerly owned by Hatheway Steane Tobacco Company.

Tobacco Farms Co., under settlement agreement terms, will transfer to the Sixty Trust substantially all of the real estate in exchange for an undisclosed cash payment, Roncari said. In addition, Tobacco Farms will retain a parcel of land and an interest in all of the personal property and farm equipment located on the property, Roncari said, but didn't disclose the size or location of the parcel.

Transfer of the property to the Sixty Trust will be accomplished either by deed in lieu of foreclosure, or by an agreed-upon stipulated judgment, Roncari said. Final documents and stipulations are expected to be exchanged within two months.

The company has nearly 900 acres in Suffield and attempted several times to develop parcels of it, since its purchase in August 1973.

One proposal was a "village at Ebb's Corner" to consist of 90 acres of house lots, 53 of the acres in open space. This won Conservation Commission approval under inland wetlands regulations, but never was taken to the Zoning and Planning Commissions and other agencies for further approvals.

Another proposal made in February 1975 was for a 12-lot subdivision on War-nertown Road, to be known as an agri-village, with one-to-three acre house lots. This proposal also never was carried out.

In the fall of 1975 a symposium was conducted at the company's Warnertown Road headquarters to which leading state and New England environmentalists, agronomists and town officials were invited, to discuss possible agricultural uses for the land, but no action was taken.

Much of the Suffield acreage is leased to tobacco, turf farming and other agricultural uses.

First Selectman Chester A. Kuras has repeated his concern over the land and his desire to see it put to agricultural use.

The Sixty Trust, which is the agent for the $3 million mortgage and handles the Textron Company pension fund in Providence, began foreclosure proceedings this mid-winter.

Tobacco Farms Company owes the town $44,544 in back taxes, not including interest, Tax Collector Harold Remington said.

Board of Ed Action

At a recent meeting of the Suffield Board of Education, the board: requested the Superintendent to review the Foreign Language program in grades 7-12 giving pros and cons, cost factors, percentage of students enrolled and report back to the Board in October 1976; tabled action on hiring a half-time music teacher and a teacher aide at Bridge Street School until the Board meeting June 8; authorized the new positions in the budget with the exception of the half-time music teacher and the teacher aide at Bridge St. School; removed the freeze on hiring enacted by the Board on April 6, 1976, authorized the filling of existing vacancies, and eliminated the positions of an English teacher at McAlister Middle School and .60 of a Foreign Language teacher at Suffield High School; and accepted the job descriptions as presented with changes of the following: language, speech and hearing clinician, learning disabilities specialist and school nurse.

Also, they, accepted the 1976-77 school calendar with early released days designated; accepted the resignation of Miss Karen Goulet; approved the expenditure of $930 for psychological services; approved the dropping of some courses for the 1976-77 school year due to the low enrollment; tabled a decision on Biology II until June 8; awarded the contract to replace the West Suffield boiler to Krupa Plumbing; and approved the purchase of Capital Outlay items from Instant Lottery funds.

Miss Patricia Coope of West Suffield has been inducted into Kappa Pi, an international honorary art fraternity at Keuka College. Miss Coope is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Coope of 203 South Stone St. and a member of the Class of 1978.

CELTICS CHAMPS AGAIN

The Boston Celtics are champions of the National Basketball Association for the 13th time in 14 tries over the past 20 years and it will take some time to top that record.

The Celtics were not figured to win the championship this year since they were not considered to have as strong a team as in past years. But win they did and they did it in fine style with one of the best games ever played in the N.B.A. playoffs. That was the triple overtime win against the Phoenix Suns which the Celtics finally won.

Just as it seemed the game was over and the Celtics would win the Suns came back time and again and made some near incredible shots to send the game into another overtime. It had to be the most thrilling basketball game I had ever seen.

The Celtics blew a 22 point lead that they held earlier in the game and then kept building it back again to six or seven points but the Suns never quit and kept coming back time after time. It seemed that they would eventually have to emerge the winners but it didn't happen that way and the Celtic bench proved strong enough again to hold back the charge and take a 3-2 lead in games.

The seventh game was anti-climactic as the Celts won by seven but only after being pressed by the Suns again late in the game. The Celtics are champs. The Suns are also in their own right.

Motorcycle Act At Stafford Saturday

Evil Knievel move over... Rex Blackwell is out to steal your thunder. Saturday night the fans at the Stafford Springs Motor Speedway will get the opportunity to witness the newest stunt in the Motorcycle industry. As part of the regular racing program at the Connecticut half-miler, Rex Blackwell will attempt to jump a motorcycle ramp to ramp. The stunt is similar in that respect to the jump that the legendary Evil Knievel performs, but that's where the similarity ends. Instead of cars, buses, or pickup trucks, Blackwell puts a different type of machine between his ramps. When the daredevil soars off his approach ramp Saturday night, he will jump over a full size helicopter, and to make matters more heart-stopping, the chopper will be throttled wide open with the prop blades spinning.

Girls Senior League Softball

Troiano Oil Company defeated Able Appliance 9-2 behind the excellent pitching of Mary Martinez. Linda Cunningham and Laurie Tarr assisted in winning with their hitting. Patty Staveski, Janet Scholber and Carol Schober did a good job fielding for Able Appliance.

Smyth Dairy Bar lost to Gonyea Hardware 21-14. Leslie Young pitched for the winning Gonyea team with Leslie hitting five for five with two home runs. Three singles and one triple were hit by Julie Munson while Cathy Bearce gave a good performance. Sandy Mitchell, Mary Smyth, Susan Telesky and Patti Barr all contributed home runs for Smyth Dairy while Mary Smyth did the pitching.

Signups Saturday

The Enfield Lancers Sports Association would like to inform all boys between the ages of 13-18 about their Junior Pony Football Team sign-ups. This will be held on June 12, from 9-12 at Powder Hollow.

Also, girls interested in cheerleading will be able to apply at this time. For additional information on cheerleaders, contact Mrs. Joan Fredericks at 745-3843.

Senior Citizens Guild

Many of our local senior citizens are joining the Senior Citizens Guild. The organization has been established to catalogue senior citizens abilities into a directory form for use by other Guild members.

The system works as follows. Regardless of the type of ability, a registered member may, for example, ask another Guild member to do some handy work at his or her home. (Supplies are purchased with the recipient's money.)

In turn, he or she may offer domestic or any other type of skill. There are many other possibilities.

Penn Grad

Michael A. DiGregorio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. DiGregorio, 30 Oxford Dr., Enfield, recently received his Master's Degree in Accounting from the Wharton Graduate Division of the University of Pennsylvania. He had previously qualified for his Bachelor of Science in Economics Degree, also with a major in Accounting, in December, 1975. He will begin work with the Boston branch of Touche, Ross, & Co., an international public accounting firm, in September.

The seniors will benefit in two ways. They will get work done that they may not be able to perform themselves and they will save money.

The really important thing is you will be helping one another.

Each member will be issued six half hour certificates for up to three hours of services should they not be able to trade services with a participating member directly.

Seniors who wish to join may contact Linda Kiner at 745-1603 or Jay Walpole at 745-6047.

Increased Bus Service

Bus rides for 10 cents a week? Door-to-door pick-up? Five days a week service? These are not just dreams from the past. This is real, 1976 prices and services. Enfield Senior Citizens can ride their buses week days for this very low price. It's all made possible through the busing program developed by the Senior Citizens Bus Transportation Committee under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Allen, Director, Social Services.

A second vehicle has just been added to make the service better. The buses need more riders. The Enfield bus service is door-to-door. The second bus will be available afternoons and all day Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Call Mrs. Mary Ellen Whaples at dial-a-ride 741-0622 for scheduling. The buses may be used for any type of in-town errand, appointment, or recreation. More riders are urgently needed to justify the use of the second vehicle. So don't hesitate to call for transportation. Membership for Enfielders 60 and over is only $5 a year. Enjoying getting out call 741-0622. The Bus Committee is looking for persons with PUC License interested in driving the Senior Citizen Bus. Call week days 741-0622.

Tennis Court Policy

The Park and Recreation Department wishes to firm up its policy on the use of the town's 11 tennis courts.

Six of these courts are located at Fermi High School and while school is in progress through the third week in June, these courts are used for recreational as well as varsity play between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. The remainder of the time and on weekends, the courts are available to the public on a first come, first serve basis. This free time should be limited to one hour when someone is waiting for the court.

The two courts at the rear of the Enfield Street School are subject to reservation on Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 8 a.m. to noon for organized groups who wish to conduct a tennis program. Again, court use is limited to one hour and reservations should be made through Angelo Lamagna at 745-2291. The rest of the week the courts are used for open tennis.

Two courts at Mark Twain School on South Road also have a Tuesday and Thursday morning reservation from 8 a.m. to noon and during the school year, these courts are used by Enfield High School varsity each afternoon from 2 to 4. The remainder of the open tennis schedule is subject to the one hour limitation.

The single court in Hazardville at the corner of Hazard Avenue and Elm Street has no reservations and is used on a strictly first come, first serve basis.

"A year from now will we be entertainign the idea of class size at the elementary level that will average out to be 30-31 teachers as opposed to what is now projected for 1976-77 of approximately 26 1/2 to 1?"

"Is it the destiny of this school system to find itself with jammed classrooms, limited programs and numbers of empty schools — vacant and serving no useful purpose?"

Dr. Mager urged that these questions become topics for board discussion "in the immediate or foreseeable future."

VFW Convention This Weekend

Thomas C. "Pete" Walker of New London, Connecticut, National Commander-in-Chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, will represent the national organization at the 56th Annual State VFW Convention to be held in Hartford June 11, 12 and 13, according to an announcement by State VFW Commander Warren B. Wilson of Guilford.

The VFW Convention Committee headed by Past State Commander Frank J. Lavender of Fairfield and comprising top leaders from Connecticut's VFW units has coordinated arrangements for the 56th annual three-day convention which will convene in the capitol city on Friday, June 11.

More than two thousand delegates and alternates representing Connecticut's 32,000 Plus VFW members from 126 Posts will assemble in Hartford to participate in the convention's business sessions which will consider resolutions dealing with veterans affairs and local, state and national issues. Chairman Lavender announced highlights of the three-day conclave

State Commander's and State President's Dance to honor heads of allied veterans organizations, the Saturday morning awards breakfast, the military parade in downtown Hartford of VFW and Auxiliary units on Saturday afternoon, followed by the annual convention banquet in the evening, and the election and installation of the new VFW State Officers on Sunday.

Taxpayer's Group Is Being Formed

The Concerned Taxpayers Group, a new citizens organization, is in the process of being formed in Enfield. The second organizational meeting was held recently at the home of its chairman, Beth Post.

The Concerned Taxpayers Group is committed to the concept of the neighborhood school. It believes that both students and parents benefit from a school that is located close to home. The present student-teacher ratio should, it feels, also be maintained; which it cannot be if schools are closed.

It is not in favor of a tax increase; just a re-adjustment in priorities. It feels that education should be more highly regarded by our elected officials.

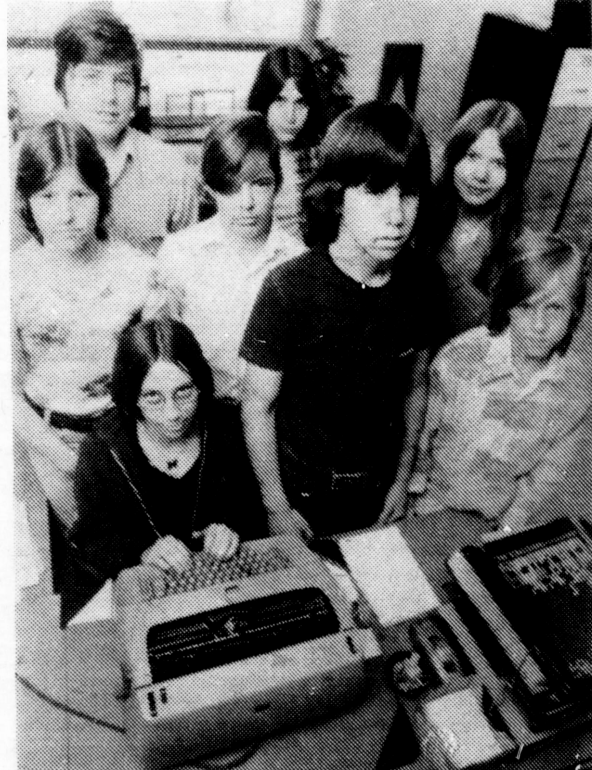

People or groups interested in joining or working with the group on this issue should contact Beth Post at 741-0253, Lou Terranova at 741-0868 or Carol Stearns at 745-3468.
