A sewer is being laid up Pleasant street, from the corner of Main, for the purpose of carrying off the flow from several sink drains which now empty into the street. JOLLIFICATION AT MUSIC HALL.
ILLUMINATION, MUSIC, SPEECHES AND SUPPER.
A large and happy meeting of the citizens of Enfield and invited guests from neighboring towns, irrespective of political party affiliations, gathered at Music hall, on Friday evening, Nov. 11th, in honor of the election of Dr. Rial Strickland as State Senator from the Third Senatorial district.
Early in the evening the Thompsonville and Hazardville brass bands, after playing several choice selections, on the beautiful grounds in front of the Doctor's fine residence, which was splendidly illuminated, accompanied him with the committee of escort to the hall. Here, a large audience presided over by Dr. Chester Johnson, awaited the coming of the Senator elect. Messrs. R. B. Morrison, Asa Lewis, Albert Austin, George Douglass, Col. Hathaway, Henry Abbe and J. W. Johnson occupied seats upon the stage.
As the Doctor entered the hall he was greeted with hearty cheers which continued until he reached the stage, and was presented to the audience by the chairman, in a neat and highly appropriate speech. He congratulated the Doctor and the meeting on the fact that the position was unthought and unthought, and this made the result of the election all the more honorable and gratifying.
Senator Strickland responded in a well conceived and happily expressed address, thanking the audience for their kind and flattering reception, and assuring the citizens of the town that their vote for him was appreciated and the remembrance of it would be cherished to his dying hour. His nature was such that he could not be what is called a strictly party man, and, in the discharge of his new and untried duties, he should favor no measure which, in his judgment, did not tend to promote the best interests of the state. He closed his remarks by expressing the wish that all might become Senators, or something better, amid the rousing demonstrations of gratification by the delighted assemblage.
Speeches of congratulation and jollification, explanation and gratification were made by invitation of the chairman by Messrs. Albert Austin, S. A. Booth, George Douglass, Col. Hathaway, J. W. Johnson and Henry Abbe, interspersed with music from the bands.
On the conclusion of the exercises in Music hall, all were invited to partake of refreshments prepared for them in the Town hall. Hot oysters, crackers, sandwiches, cakes, cheese, hot coffee, and cigars were served in abundance and a laying in of a two years' supply was jokingly urged. This was supposed to point to the Doctor's re-election at that time and to indicate that he was not a one-term man. At a seasonable hour the meeting "adjourned for two years."

"Lay off your overcoat or you won't feel it when you go out," said the landlord of a Western inn to a guest who was sitting by the fire. "That's what I'm afraid of," returned the man. "The last time I was here I laid off my overcoat. I didn't feel it when I went out, and I haven't felt it since."

OBITUARY.
DANIEL BARNUM.
Taken from the Brooklyn Eagle of Nov. 15th.
Daniel Barnum, an old and well known citizen, died of heart disease at his residence in this city, yesterday, at the advanced age of 83 years. In his earlier manhood he was largely interested in the manufacture of iron in Connecticut and New York, but having developed great inventive genius he abandoned regular business pursuits and devoted his life to the invention of life and labor saving appliances, covering the whole field of steam engineering and mining, manufacturing and sewing machinery. As early as 1845 Congress made appropriations for testing and applying his inventions to the Naval service. About the year 1855 he built the steamboat Economy, to demonstrate the advantages of his improvements in compound engine, and ran her between New York and Coney Island, landing at what is now Norton's Point. His inventions led to prolonged and hard-fought litigations, in which he disputed with Woodworth the latter's claims to the planing machine and with Barr and Wells the originality of invention in the belt body forming machines. Both resulted in compromises after much had been done in settling the rules of law and practice in patent cases. For many years the deceased was a leading expert in patent cases, and was associated from time to time with all the patent lawyers of national reputation in the most important cases in this country. He leaves an aged widow, three daughters and three sons, Isaac W. Barnum and Edmund B. Barnum of this city, and the Rev. F. S. Barnum, of Westchester Presbytery.

Mr. Bano Suttle has given his house on Cooper Hill St., a fresh coat of paint. Color, white, with red blinds. Work done by Pierce. Mr. Albert Winnevisser has fitted up a commodious shop, on the premises of his mother, on West Main St., for the purpose of manufacturing cigars.

The organ at the Advent chapel, rented for the past year of E. C. Allen, has been replaced by a large melodeon, the use of which has been donated by Mr. Cady of Thompsonville. Mrs. David Peeler, who went to Vermont last spring, and has since been living in Somers for some time, has returned again and taken a tenement of Mr. Chapin on East Main St.

A news office and confectionery and cigar store has recently been opened by Robert Stinson. It presents quite an attractive appearance. THE THOMPSONVILLE PRESS will be for sale at Mr. Stinson's every Friday morning.

Mr. J. D. Map's gives to-night (Thursday) the third of a series of twelve lessons, in writing, in the High school room, to a class so large that tables have to be brought in, for want of desk room. He evidently understands his business, and also the necessity of good order, which he evinces a decided disposition to maintain. Such men deserve success.

Elder S. P. Hayward, pastor of the Advent church, gave an interesting discourse last Sunday, from Mark 10: 49 and 50, arguing that all sinners are blind, and that it is their duty to rise up at once, throw off their garments of unbelief, tradition, morality, fearfulness, procastination, etc., and seek sight and salvation. He seems to be thoroughly alive to the interests of the cause he has espoused, and also to understand the necessity of first gaining the confidence and respect of the people whom he would reach, in the endeavor to do which, if we may judge from the "speech of people" in this village, he has been eminently successful.

SOMERSVILLE. Mr. Chauncey Hurlburt is painting his house. The Mission Band hold their next meeting with Miss Nellie Little, Saturday the 19th.

The schools of this place closed last Friday. Those not absent or tardy were Lena Spencer, Grace Gowdy and Lucy Ayer. Those perfect in spelling were Lena Spencer, Emma Dow, Lizzie Billings and Grace Gowdy. Those who only missed one word during the term were Lucy Ayer and Susie Percival. The teachers, Miss Ida A. Champlin and Miss Alice Abbe, were liked very much; Miss Champlin teaching the grammar school and Miss Abbe the primary.

LONGMEADOW. Our group of churches consisting of Hope, Sanford and South of Springfield and Congregational church of East Longmeadow held the first fellowship meeting of the season with us Nov. 9th. Sermon by Rev. Mr. Reed of Hope church; remarks by Rev. Dr. Schaeffer, missionary in Austria, and others, both pastors and laymen.

KING STREET. Rev. Robert Brown, who delivered the lecture on the chart, at the late camp-meeting, will preach in the school house, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

WARHOUSE POINT. The drum corps will give a ball, with drill, at the American House, Thanksgiving eve. A grand time is expected.

SUFFIELD. Rev. Charles Willcutt preached at the Baptist church, Sunday morning. When a man sighs over having to tie a hard knot in his horse's tail, it is a sign that he has lost his appetite—for mud pies.

The South St. school closed last Friday, and the teachers have left town; Miss Devey having gone to her home in North Granby, and Miss Hatheway visiting friends in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. O. A. Jones, the leading usher at the Baptist church, was missed from his accustomed place on Sunday morning. Subsequently it was learned that he had "passed by on the other side." We hope that he was handsomely soothered, as are those who follow him up the aisle of his field of action.

The recent rains have had an influence on the wells, and the "lords of creation" rejoice, for now, when "my lady" says she must have a pail of water, he doesn't have to take a pedestrian tour of half a mile to get it. Oh, no! he can now stand with his hands in his pockets and smile sympathetically while she draws the sparkling liquid from the well near home.

ZION'S HILL. The schools here closed their fall term last week for a two weeks' vacation. Mrs. Belle Seymour and Emma Milbury of Chicago are visiting at their old home here.

Timothy Miskel is building an addition to his house which will be a great improvement to his place both inside and out. The farmers are finishing up their fall work and getting ready for winter. Some tobacco has been taken down and proves to be of very good quality.

WEST SUFFIELD. The third lecture of a course will be delivered by Rev. H. W. Eldredge of South Deerfield, Mass. Subject: "Cheerfulness, vs. Grumbling."

RAINBOW. The fall term of school closes this week Friday. Mr. Harvey Snow is grading the grounds in front of the church, in a workmanlike manner.

Mr. William Looby sold his place at auction last Tuesday. Tooby of Hartford was the auctioneer and Mr. Crowley was the lucky purchaser at twelve hundred dollars.

GRANBY. Henry Gillett is building a large addition to his barn. Loomis Bros. have a large wild-cat on exhibition at their store, which was caught in Granby, Mass.

John Hogan has made decided improvements on his house, raising it up, covering over, and putting in new windows. The recent rains have been thankfully received. Wells and springs are well replenished and the mills are running on full time.

M. A. Griffin is improving his barn with a new covering of boards, preparatory to painting, and is expecting also to make some improvements on his house. Many of the farmers have taken down a portion of their tobacco and generally report a fine crop. A few sales are reported to M. A. Griffin, at private terms.

While Lewis Elmore and wife were returning from Hartford, Monday evening, Nov. 7th, their carriage was overturned and Mrs. Elmore received serious injury, while Mr. E. escaped unhurt.

Rev. D. N. Griffin and wife of Burlington have been visiting at their father's, Mr. Richardson Griffin, the past week. Mr. Griffin is making preparations, in company with Mr. J. G. Viets, for supplying their houses and barns with running water brought from a spring on Mr. Viets' farm.

NORTH GRANBY. Milo Gilbert is seriously sick with typhoid-malarial fever. George Tyler has gathered about 175 bushels of winter apples.

Several young converts united with the First Presbyterian church last Sunday. One of our representatives, Mr. A. G. Harger, chorister at the Universalist church, goes to the Legislature from North Granby; the other, Mr. George R. Case, from West Granby.

COPPER HILL. An effort is being made to organize a singing school here. We notice bustling preparations going on for Thanksgiving day.

Our district school will open after Thanksgiving day. Mrs. Henry Viets has been appointed teacher.

Last Friday Mr. S. E. Gower visited this place and distributed his hand-bills stating that he had opened a shop in West Suffield, on the premises of Mr. H. Proph-et, where he intended conducting the business of making and repairing boots and shoes. Mr. Gower and his young wife came here last month, from England, and they will make this country their home. We are glad to see the youth and the industry of England come here, and we hope that this young couple will meet with encouragement and make many friends.

The fortnightly sociable of the M. E. church of this place was held last Thursday, at the residence of Mr. John LeFleur. The guests were very numerous, about 50 in all. Mr. and Mrs. LeFleur are yet in the "honey-moon" of their married life and they were greatly pleased in entertaining so many members of the society. Mrs. LeFleur presided with womanly grace and a good disposition, and all her arrangements were pleasingly and satisfactorily gotten up. The guests were delighted and all returned home with smiling faces.

WINDSOR LOCKS. Next Wednesday night being the night before Thanksgiving, the stores will not close at 6.45 as is their usual custom in this place. ALSO BIDWELL'S IMPROVED COMBINED STEP LADDER & WASH BENCH.

AS A STEP LADDER it is the best offered to the public. It possesses many advantages over others, both in use and construction. The shelf is acknowledged by all to be a very important feature. It is indispensable to the housekeeper in cleaning house, to the farmer in picking fruit, to the painter and mason while working on walls and ceilings. It is easily converted into a strong Wash Bench, holding two large tubs, or three small ones. It is not a complicated article, but so simple that anyone can operate it with perfect ease.

No water is sweeter or purer than that drawn by "The old oaken bucket, the iron bound bucket, The moss covered bucket, that hung in the well."

There have been numerous attempts during the last few years to imitate or substitute something in place of this well known WATER DRAWER, but it is confidently believed none has yet been found, which for simplicity of construction, cheapness in price and durability, compares with this in general favor and convenience. It would seem that its long use and approval would be sufficient guarantee of its superiority.

THE NEWS.

Gleanings in New England.

Terrible Position.
Austin McLean of New Haven, one of the best of our countrymen, has been found in a terrible position. He was found in a ditch, with a picket fence directly under him, and a couple of miles from his home. It is supposed that he had fallen from the ground with a rope.

Tough Story.
Dr. David Gray and George Deming of Hartford, Ct., the veteran fox hunters, with several "Sport" men, were out last week at their favorite pastime, in the woods of the northern part of the state. At River-ton, they say, the dogs started a fox, and they two days and a night, finally getting wind and gave up the chase, one of them being so disgusted that he returned to his home, arriving a day in advance of the hunters.

Romance and Reality.
Last spring one of the owners of the whaling schooner Delia Hodgkins of New London went to Hartford, Ct., and advertised for young men to go on a pleasant summer whaling voyage. There was a large number of applicants, and the advertisement and young fellows were advertised in making note of the affair incidentally for several months. The vessel was a large whaler's life, and several of the youngsters suddenly concluded to stay at home, and the crew that went on board did not lose any time, excepting rather more of adventure than they would have cared for.

Helping Mother.
I never shall forget a lesson learned by my sister and myself in early girlhood. We were the elder of a large family, and as father was not rich, mother did the work for all of us. She was one of those domestic burden-bearers who never consider their burden so heavy but that they can add another trial; and, like many another good and unselfish but unwise mother, she allowed us our own way, and spoiled us through indulgence; and as we had often heard her say she would rather do a thing herself than take the trouble to teach us how, we felt as if we were actually conferring a favor upon her by letting things alone.

Helping Mother.
I never shall forget a lesson learned by my sister and myself in early girlhood. We were the elder of a large family, and as father was not rich, mother did the work for all of us. She was one of those domestic burden-bearers who never consider their burden so heavy but that they can add another trial; and, like many another good and unselfish but unwise mother, she allowed us our own way, and spoiled us through indulgence; and as we had often heard her say she would rather do a thing herself than take the trouble to teach us how, we felt as if we were actually conferring a favor upon her by letting things alone.
