LOCAL NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Barnum's coming.

May baskets are still in order.

The frame to John Kelly's new house was raised yesterday.

A new boiler-house has been built at Mathewson's brewery.

An addition is being built to Mr. Fiedler's house, on Alder avenue.

Meeting of steam fire engine company No. 1, at Engine hall, to-night.

At the temperance concert, given by the Methodist Sunday-school, last Sunday evening, people were turned away for want of room. Those who attended were highly entertained.

The question has been asked, "Isn't the Board of Health, or some one, going to attend to cleaning out the brook before the weather becomes so warm that it will be dangerous to do it?"

Mr. Edward Killam is having a cement walk put in front and also one leading around the south side of his house on Pearl street, adding greatly to the beauty of his place, and a decided improvement.

Mr. Geo. H. Barber, who prides himself in keeping things neat and tidy, has had those ornamental evergreen trees in front of his fine residence on Maple street treated to what the boys would call a "pineapple clip" this week.

A new medical work, compiled expressly for family use, comprising 250 pages, entitled "The Disease Detector," by Rev. Preston Sweet, of Springfield, is now in the hands of the printer, and will be ready to place before the public soon.

The store in Hunter's block, recently occupied by C. B. Stodder, has been leased for a few days by a firm for the purpose of disposing of a bankrupt stock of ready-made clothing. Their advertisement appears in the Reading Notices to-day.

Mr. Joseph Duncan, a former resident of this place, died at his home in New York, yesterday. His remains will be brought to this place for interment. The funeral takes place at the United Presbyterian church, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Last Sunday Rev. Alpheus Winters, Secretary of the State Temperance board, was in town on his annual visit and delivered a temperance sermon in the First Presbyterian church in the forenoon and at the United Presbyterian church in the evening.

ple, besides some from farther off places, joined with the townfolk in that charming rural feast, which has so many characteristics to make one think of those English May gatherings on the green which the poets and romancers have made us so familiar with. Herrick's invitation song, "Come, my Corinna, let us go a-Maying," and others of that fine lyrical day, would hum in one's ears as the groups around the chapel came into view, and the pervading feeling of festivity made the hospitable common homelike. The flower-decked tables, the deft and happy service of the pretty girls and gracious matrons of Longmeadow, the excellent bill of fare with its many ornate variations, and the substantial comfort and nourishment of the repast—and altogether, with the music of the Southland band, made up a festive occasion which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Gleanings in New England.

Noted Divorce Case.

The Sprague divorce case was heard by the late Judge Potter at Providence, R. I. No decree has yet been entered. The clerk's docket contains the following entry relative to the case heard: "Petition amended by striking out. Decree to be entered." A fair inference would be that the court granted the petition contingent upon its amendment, and gave notice that a decree should be entered. Mrs. Sprague's counsel having accepted this construction of the entry, will prepare a form of decree which will be submitted to one of the judges of the supreme court at Kingston at its reopening in the latter part of May.

Emerson Dead.

After a week and a day's prostration, which threatened to end fatally from the beginning, Ralph Waldo Emerson, poet, philosopher and author, passed quietly away recently at Concord, Mass. Ralph Waldo Emerson was born in Boston, May 25, 1803. He was the son of a Boston minister, Rev. Peter Emerson, somewhat noted for his literary attainments, and came of a stock that for seven generations, back to Peter Bulkley—one of the founders of Concord—had a minister in every family. He was a pupil in the Boston Latin school and graduated at Harvard without any distinguishing honors or attracting attention to any of those qualities which were to make his name famous wherever English literature was read. His first volume was published in 1826. It was of small size and of the subject of "Nature." That, together with an oration entitled "Man Thinking," delivered before the Phi Beta Kappa in 1827, an address to the senior class of the Cambridge divinity college in 1838 and a treatise on "The Method of Nature," issued in 1841, attracted public attention, and encouraged the author to address the reading community through the press. In 1856 he published "English Traits," and in 1860, "The Conduct of Life." "May Day and Other Pieces," poems, were issued in 1867, and "Society and Solitude" in 1870. His prose works, complete, were revised and reprinted in 1869. Mr. Emerson was one of the most eminent and influential of lyceum lecturers. Slavery, woman's rights and other topics of public interest have received his especial attention and study.

Good Boy.

One of the brightest boys graduated from Hartford, Ct., high school, is Eddie Lee, who has supported himself by office-boy work and saved over $200 with which to enter Harvard next fall. Such well-directed energy will win Mister Lee $300 a year in Harvard scholarships and keep him independently square with the world throughout his course.

Suicide of a Soldier.

Frederick Coland of Chelsea, Me., committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart with a revolver. His body was found in a patch of woods in the vicinity of Togus with two bullet holes in the left breast. He was 52 years of age, and served in company F, 19th Maine, during the war. He was not an inmate of the soldiers' home, having been discharged from the institution in 1865.

Plucky Woman.

At Kent, Ct., a burglar entered the residence of two sisters, Mrs. Judd and Miss Swift, went direct to Miss Swift's bedroom, flashed a dark lantern in her face, and demanded money.

A COMMITTEE of the board of aldermen at Boston report in favor of an additional appropriation of $1,500,000 for improved sewerage.

REV. PHILLIPS BROOKS of Boston will not let his church pay him a salary during his vacation in Europe.

CHARLES S. ARCHER, in a suit against the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company, for injuries sustained by being struck by a train, recovered a verdict of $10,000 against the company.

DAVIS & SARGENT'S annual drive of logs bound to Lowell, Mass., is passing over Livermore falls, at Plymouth, N. H. It started in Woodstock, Thornton, etc., about 20 miles north head waters of the Pemigewasset river recently. It is about 2,000,000 small r in number, but larger in quality than usual. Numerous additions of about 1,600,000 feet will be made farther down. About 50 men are employed on the drive.

THE La Moille, Vt. county court commenced its regular semi-annual session recently, Judge Powers presiding. Upon the call of the jury docket, upon which were 19 assignments, not one case "stood fire." The new business is very small; the county jail is empty, and the business of the term only occupied a day.

THE A. & W. Sprague manufacturing company recovered recently in the supreme court at Providence, R. I., a verdict of $861,883 against the Sprague mowing machine company on account of a loan.

THE Rhode Island Legislature elected after seven ballots George M. Carpenter, Jr., of Providence associate justice of the supreme court, succeeding the late Judge Potter. The joint committee on woman suffrage recommend postponement of the question to the next session.

W. C. POLAND & SON have entered a suit for $300,000 damages against the city of Boston, alleging a breach of contract. The firm, who abandoned their contract to build section 3 of the outfall sewer, claim that they were forced to do so by unnecessary changes which the city engineer made in the plans.

The Old and New Worlds

Indian Murders.

A Shakespeare, N. M., dispatch received from Stein's pass, reports that the town of Gualleystville, in Arizona, just over the New Mexico line, was burned and completely destroyed by the Indians. Thirty-five white people were killed. The Indians scattered into small bands and made for the Chiricahua mountains. Twenty people have been killed by Indians at Clifton and on the road from Clifton to the Gila river. Reports are current that Neua and some renegade Apaches from Mesaleros' reservation at San Carlos have joined in inciting an outbreak. The Indians are well armed, and well supplied with ammunition. Gen. Tuero is now marching north from Janos with 200 Mexican troops to attack Indians now going south into the Chiricahua mountains.

Desperation of Convicts.

Five convicts made a desperate attempt to escape from the provincial penitentiary at St. Vincent de Paul at Montreal, P. Q. They tied up the warden in charge, and then started. The warden got the use of one hand and fired several shots, which brought the guards to his assistance. A pursuit was then begun, and in two hours the fugitives were overtaken, when a fight ensued, which ended in their capture. Warden Plouffe was fatally wounded in the

THE steamer City of Sanford was burned about five miles above Jacksonville, Fla., a few days since, and nine persons perished.

ADVICES from Port au Prince state that 12 per cent. of the population of that city have died of small-pox. The disease is now abating. At Jacmel there are still 25 deaths daily.

LIEUT. DANENHOWER, with others of the crew of the Jeannette, arrived at Orenburg, Russia, recently. He journeys to St. Petersburg by the train.

EIGHT hundred and eighty-four immigrants from London, who had paid their passage to a swindler named Ward, and were left penniless at London, reached New York a few days ago, the British government having paid their passage. Seven died on the voyage from previous starvation.

KING THEEBAW of Burmah has put to death an inferior wife, two half-sisters, the chancellor of the exchequer and 50 of their relatives.

THIRTY-FIVE miners were killed and several badly burned by an explosion in the Black Horse colliery at Sunderland, Eng., recently. Four bodies have been recovered.

A MOB at Camborne, Cornwall, incited by ill-feeling against the Irish miners, wrecked the houses of the Irishmen and a Catholic church.

THERE is intense suffering on the Labrador coast. Several people have died of starvation. Indians from the woods having no means of subsistence have swarmed down upon settlers.

Matters in Washington.

Timber Destroyed.

The secretary of the interior, in response to a Senate resolution, states that the troops stationed at army posts on and near Indian reservations destroy so much wood each year that, unless they are checked, in the course of a few years there will not be a tree left for firewood, and that other fuel will have to be supplied for the Indians or they must be removed. He recommends the abandonment of Forts Yates, Bennett and Hale, Dakota. He thinks they do harm rather than good.

Netherlands Exhibition.

A bill in the interest of commerce generally was passed by the Senate which appropriates $7000, to be expended in the discretion of the secretary of state, for the purpose of effecting the proper representation of the United States at the general colonial and export trade exhibition to be held in Amsterdam next year, the government of the Netherlands having extended us a cordial invitation to take part in the exposition.

Aid for the Jews.

Representative Belford of Colorado had an interview with the President recently, in reference to the persecution of the Jews in Russia. He explained the character and extent of the outrages referred to, and urged the President to use his kind offices in behalf of the persecuted Hebrews. In reply to Judge Belford, the President said that he felt deeply interested in their case and was determined to do everything that could be done with propriety to induce the Russian government to extend the fullest protection to this class of its subjects. He had within the past few days addressed a communication to our representative at St. Petersburg, directing him to invite the attention of the czar to these reported atrocities, and to express the abhorrence that was felt in this country in relation to their perpetration.

LIEUT. DANENHOWER, with others of the crew of the Jeannette, arrived at Orenburg, Russia, recently. He journeys to St. Petersburg by the train.

EIGHT hundred and eighty-four immigrants from London, who had paid their passage to a swindler named Ward, and were left penniless at London, reached New York a few days ago, the British government having paid their passage. Seven died on the voyage from previous starvation.

KING THEBRAW of Burmah has put to death an inferior wife, two half-sisters, the chancellor of the exchequer and 50 of their relatives.

THIRTY-FIVE miners were killed and several badly burned by an explosion in the Black Horse colliery at Sunderland, Eng., recently. Four bodies have been recovered.

A MOB at Camborne, Cornwall, incited by ill-feeling against the Irish miners, wrecked the houses of the Irishmen and a Catholic church.

THERE is intense suffering on the Labrador coast. Several people have died of starvation. Indians from the woods having no means of subsistence have swarmed down upon settlers.

Matters in Washington.

Timber Destroyed.

The secretary of the interior, in response to a Senate resolution, states that the troops stationed at army posts on and near Indian reservations destroy so much wood each year that, unless they are checked, in the course of a few years there will not be a tree left for firewood, and that other fuel will have to be supplied for the Indians or they must be removed. He recommends the abandonment of Posts Yates, Bennett and Hale, Dakota. He thinks they do harm rather than good.

Netherlands Exhibition.

A bill in the interest of commerce generally was passed by the Senate which appropriates $7000, to be expended in the discretion of the secretary of state, for the purpose of effecting the proper representation of the United States at the general colonial and export trade exhibition to be held in Amsterdam next year, the government of the Netherlands having extended us a cordial invitation to take part in the exposition.

Aid for the Jews.

Representative Belford of Colorado had an interview with the President recently in reference to the persecution of the Jews in Russia. He explained the character and extent of the outrages referred to, and urged the President to use his kind offices in behalf of the persecuted Hebrews. In reply to Judge Belford, the President said that he felt deeply interested in their case and was determined to do everything that could be done with propriety to induce the Russian government to extend the fullest protection to this class of its subjects. He had within the past few days addressed a communication to our representative in St. Petersburg, asking him to invite the

CURES FITS.

NEVER FAILS.
NERVINE

The only known Specific Remedy for Epileptic Fits.

SAMARITAN NERVINE

Cures Epileptic Fits, Spasms, Convulsions, St. Vitus Dance, Vertigo, Hysterics, Insanity, Apoplexy, Paralysis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases. This infallible remedy will positively eradicate every species of Nervous Derangement, and drive them away from whence they came, never to return again. It utterly destroys the germs of disease by neutralizing the hereditary taint or poison in the system, and thoroughly eradicates the disease, and utterly destroys the cause.

SAMARITAN NERVINE

Cures Female Weakness, General Debility, Leucorrhoea or Whites, Painful Menstruation, Ulceration of the Uterus, Internal Heat, Gravel, Inflammation of the Bladder, Irritability of the Bladder. For Wakefulness at night, there is no better remedy. During the change of life no Female should be without it. It quiets the Nervous System, and gives rest, comfort, and nature's sweet sleep.

SAMARITAN NERVINE

Cures Alcoholism, Drunkenness and the habit of Opium Eating. These degrading habits are by far the worst evils that have ever befallen suffering humanity. Thousands die annually from these noxious drugs. The drunkard drinks liquor not because he likes it, but for the pleasure of drinking and treating his friends, little thinking that he is on his road to ruin. Like the Opium Eater, he first uses the drug in small quantities as a harmless antidote. The soothing influence of the drug takes strong hold upon its victim, leading him on to his own destruction. The habits of Opium Eating and Liquor Drinking are precisely what eating is to alimentiveness, as over-eating first inflames the stomach, which redoubles its cravings until it paralyzes both the stomach and appetite. So every drink of liquor or dose of opium, instead of satisfying, only adds to its fierce fires, until it consumes the vital force and then itself. Like the gluttonous tape-worm, it cries "Give, give, give!" but never enough until its own rapacity devours itself. Samaritan Nervine gives instant relief in all such cases. It produces sleep, quiets the nerves, builds up the nervous system, and restores body and mind to a healthy condition.

H. WARNER, M. D.

DR. WARNER

Enlightens mankind in true medical science, and we force all quacks, impostors, and all dispensers of mineral poisons into other occupations, and all patent nostrums and advertised medicines into oblivion. Alexander, Caesar, Napoleon and Wellington were natural generals; Homer, Shakespeare, Milton, Byron, natural poets; Demosthenes and Cicero natural orators; Archimedes was a natural mechanic; Blind Tom a natural musician; the Learned Blacksmith a natural linguist; Webster a natural lawyer.

DR. WARNER

IS A NATURAL PHYSICIAN,

Educated in the great book of nature. Innumerable patients testify to his wonderful cures.

He asks few or no questions, tells the patients all of their symptoms and every bad feeling, as well as the cause of their sickness; if curable, tells them so, and if intrusted with the case soon cures it. The Doctor performs the cure by the use of Electricity, Animal Magnetism, and the use of the Resuscitator and Vegetable Medicines.

No Mercury, Arsenic, Strychnia, Nux Vomica, Iron, Quinine, and such like medicines given. Even though you have tried all other modes of treatment, and all other physicians have failed to cure you, go and see him.

CURED BY DR. WARNER.

I wish to state for the benefit of others that I have been a great sufferer from weakness, with a severe pain in my left side and through my kidneys, have been under the care of a number of physicians, all to no purpose, until the 16th of last April, when I put myself under the care of Dr. Warner, and he has entirely cured me; am now as well as I ever was in my life. Will be pleased to give any lady that chooses to call on me further particulars, and earnestly desire any one afflicted as I was to see Dr. Warner at once, for he will do you good.

NEWS AND GOSSIP.

ENFIELD STREET.

William Pearl has been shingling his barn.

George K. Prior is at British Columbia, railroading.

The drum corps—now numbered among our institutions—are to go to Warehouse Point, at the solicitation of the Warehouse Point corps, to-night. Thanks for even this relief.

An Early Rose potato has been left at Sheldon's, weight 1 lb. 6 oz., raised by Daniel French, on Henry Allen's farm, King street. Mr. French proposes to plant a barrel of potatoes this spring of the above brand, size and weight.

The Hartford East Conference held its last meeting for the season in East Hartford on Wednesday. A most interesting session was held. Addresses were given by Rev. Dr. Scudder of Glastonbury and Rev. H. W. Pope of North Manchester. The sermon was preached by Rev. G. W. Winch.

About 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning the heretofore usual quiet of the neighborhood in the southern part of the street was considerably exercised by the cry of "murder." From houses and workshop people rushed, pell mell, into the street. The very air seemed heavy with the smell of blood. A first-class earthquake could scarcely have created greater commotion than that unearthly house-top "wail of despair." And it was not until Sheldon, with his ready wit and forethought, ordered out the drum corps that the good people could be induced to breathe free again, the earth to revolve, and everything assume its wonted quiet and tranquility. There has been nothing like it since the "big wind in Ireland."

WALLOP.

Rev. G. W. Winch will preach in the school house at this place, next Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Mr. John Abbe is the owner of two calves, one of which weighed at birth 133 lbs. and the other 111 lbs.

JABBOK.

We clip the following from the Nashua, N. H. Telegraph. "Miss Ellen L. Hills, of North Pelham, passed through this city on Wednesday, on her way to South Africa as teacher for a term of three years. She took the noon train on the Nashua and Worcester railroad, stopping at Worcester, Warren, and Springfield, Mass., and New Haven, Conn., arrived in New York ready to sail on Saturday."

next Monday by Druggist Lindsey, of Thompsonville, who has spared no pains in fitting it up with all modern improvements. It will be as complete and attractive a drug store as can be found in any country village. Mr. C. E. Woodward, who is well and favorably known in this vicinity, will be in charge and attend to the compounding of prescriptions. The public will be welcome to examine the goods upon the day of the opening and as often thereafter as is convenient. This store is connected by telephone with Lindsey's main store at Thompsonville, also with all other points on the line.

SUFFIELD.

Mr. Church, the blacksmith, has sold out his business to Mr. Cobb.

Hon. Silas W. Clark has gone to Columbus, N. Y., to purchase cattle.

Mr. Allen Wilson and Delia, daughter of Oliver Sikes, were married to-day.

The Rev. Mr. Eaton, of Westfield, Mass., occupied the Baptist pulpit on Sunday.

A new market is to be established, it understood, at Endress's old corner store, by A. N. Graves.

Mr. Charles G. King and son, of Monson, Mass., are at home for a few days, at Mr. D. T. Rice's.

Mrs. J. R. West and Mrs. A. H. Thompson, of Hampden, Mass., were in town last week, at Mr. O. A. Jones'.

The Center district held its last meeting of the season Saturday evening and adjourned until the first Wednesday in November.

We suppose the children are all now saving their pennies, for P. T. Barnum is coming to Springfield with his big show June 7th.

Mr. Hesden J. King has sold his place to a Mr. Fuller of Westfield, Mass. His personal property was sold at auction this Thursday afternoon.

The 55th birthday of Mrs. M. S. Sheldon, widow of Julius C. Sheldon, was lately celebrated by a gathering of her numerous relatives and friends.

Mr. Newton Homeroy has been laying a new brick walk in front of his residence which is very beneficial to the public. We wish others would do likewise.

Miss Jane Smith while coming from a neighbor's one day last week caught her foot in a defective board in the piazza floor, fell and sprained her wrist.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fuller celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary on the 25th. About 75 friends responded to invitations and all enjoyed the evening very much. We wish them long life and prosperity.

The remains of Elias B. Hulfish, a prominent Mason, and until recently a resident of this town, were brought from Windsor on Sunday, and buried in the old cemetery with Masonic honors. Mr. Hulfish was the oldest Mason in the state.

Many have been already reminded, by the ringing of their door-bells, that the

DOUONOCK.

Mr. S. L. Smith has taken the farm of the late Mr. Ryan on shares, and will work it the coming year.

Report has it, that work has begun on the Valley extension at Hartford. We hope the report is correct but—but.

Judging from the great number of teams on the street yesterday, we should think that business was pretty good at the livery stables.

Mr. L. R. Lord and wife are at New York where she (Mrs. L.) had an ovarian tumor successfully removed. She is doing as well as can be expected, although she is quite low.

E. S. Clark, finding his accommodations too limited for his fast increasing business in packing and re-sweating tobacco, is about to remove his business to Hartford. Mr. E. S. Loomis, his foreman, will remove his family to the latter place, and take charge of the concern.

EAST WINDSOR.

Several of our farmers have finished planting potatoes and are now preparing the land for corn.

N. S. Osborn will soon have a cargo of plaster at his mill, for fertilizing purposes.

T. Ellsworth is about to build a large tobacco shed.

WINDSOR.

Elias B. Hulfish, 81 years old, a citizen of Suffield for over fifty years, died here last week and was buried in Suffield on Sunday.

WINDSOR LOCKS.

Watters Brothers, of Longmeadow, commenced work on Mrs. Elizabeth Smith's house to-day. The main building will be enlarged and an L with a piazza added.

Children at Church.

The Portland Advertiser publishes a sermon by Rev. F. E. Clark, Congregationalist, in which he states that he put the following questions to about 50 representative men in different churches:

1. Whether in early life you were required to attend church regularly? 2. If so, did such compulsion render church-going irksome or repulsive to you? The questions were answered by 45. Of that number 42 were required to go to church when young, and two were not required, but went; forty-two did not find attendance irksome or repulsive; one did consider it irksome, but not repulsive, one considered it irksome, but not on account of the compulsion, and one did not go. The testimony of these forty-five Christian men was almost unanimous to the effect that required attendance at church had no tendency to repel them from it. Those parents are making a fatal mistake who do not use the means necessary to form the fixed habit of Sabbath observance and of presence in the house of God. It need not be made a painful or reluctant duty,

HOME NEWS.

Having a Splendid Time under Peculiar Circumstances.

When Mr. Stover returned from his six-weeks' trip to the Pacific coast he kissed his wife tenderly, and when they sat down together by the table in the library, he said to her fondly:

"Well, darling, how have things gone at home here, while I have been away?"

"Splendidly!" said Mrs. Stover. "We missed you, of course. But we got along nicely, without trouble or disturbance."

"That is cheering. No accidents of any kind?"

"Oh, no! We had a charming time. Well, that is—of course you heard about Perkins, the man who came to paint the house? Well, you knew he was up at the top of a long ladder one day, painting the cornice of the roof. While he was there, Johnny brought home a new bull dog, and tied him to the foot of the ladder, and went away. When Mr. Perkins tried to come down, the dog would not let him. Mr. Perkins called for Johnny, but Johnny had gone down to the creek fishing, and all the rest of us were afraid of the dog. So Mr. Perkins got up on the roof, and pulled the ladder up, intending to untie the string and let the dog drop. But he pulled the ladder so far up that the dog swung around on the roof and broke the string, and began to chase Mr. Perkins."

"What did Perkins do then?"

"Why then Mr. Perkins tried to slide down the water-spout, but it gave way, and he fell and broke his leg, and he has been in the hospital ever since."

"But with that exception, all went well in my absence, did it?"

"Oh, yes; as nicely as we could have wished. We had a most delightful time."

"How did the dog get down?"

"The dog? Oh, I forgot to tell you. Why, when Johnny came home he said he would get the dog down, so he went up on the roof, through the trap-door, to where the dog was sitting by the chimney, howling. Johnny put one end of the ladder on the ground, and thought he would carry the dog down. The animal seemed to get unreasonably excited during the journey, for he bit Johnny eleven times before he reached the earth, and the dear boy has been lying very ill ever since. We are fearing hydrophobia. But if it hadn't been for that I think I should have had the lovely kid while you were away."

"But the dog, was he really mad?"

"I do not exactly know. Mr. Jones, the next day, brought me a letter to see

"No, I believe that was all. I have some papers here for you, though," said Mrs. Stover, feeling in her pocket. "Here is Mr. Perkins's claim for damages, eight hundred dollars; here's Mr. Jones's suit for two thousand dollars' damages; here's a letter from mother, saying she is going to disinherit us, and Mr. Jones's man has been here eight times, asking for fifty dollars for rescuing Johnny and the baby. Nothing else has happened, I think."

Mr. Stover rose, and went out-of-doors to think. His general impression seemed to be that Mrs. Stover had a talent for finding enjoyment under difficulties.

CURIOUS PROPOSITION.

A German reformer has discovered that the chief impediment to the progress of the race is personal ambition, which can only be got rid of by a general renunciation of names all the world over. Men, however, must have some distinctive designation; so, taking a hint from the practice in vogue at big hotels, he proposes that numbers should take the place of names; every individual being numbered and registered in the district in which he or she lives. He would have a renumbering every twelve months, by which the acquiring of undue predominance by any one number would be effectually prevented, and the reformation of bad characters much facilitated; since, as no stigma could attach to a number which might this year be borne by a thief, and next year by a philosopher, no one need despair of regaining the esteem of his fellow-men.

DEADHEADISM.

A lawyer had a case against a railroad company involving over $100,000. He had spent a full year in preparing his argument on it. He believed he had a sure thing, if the court would hear all his points. But the court—a district court—announced in advance that he could only have half an hour to deliver his argument. And the case was thereupon immediately decided in favor of the railroad. It was Saturday afternoon, and the court went home over the very railroad whose case had just been so unceremoniously disposed of—and every one of the three judges exhibited to the conductor an annual free pass over that road. The squelched lawyer paid his fare at three cents a mile, and felt that he had not had a fair share of the sympathy of the court.

BRASS CLEANING.

The government method prescribed for cleaning brass, and in use at all the United States arsenals, is claimed to be the best in the world. The plan is to make a mixture of one part common nitric acid and one-half part sulphuric acid in a stone jar, having also ready

HE DID NOT MINCE MATTERS.

A representative of the Lynn, (Mass.) Item, in a late ramble throughout that city, gathered, among other scraps of interest and information, the following: The first place visited by the reporter was the fruit store of Mr. J. Levett, No. 67 Market street, in response to a rumor that the proprietor had been cured of the rheumatism by the great remedy. Mr. Levett not being in, the reporter had a talk with his son. Mr. Levett stated that his father had been cured of an exceedingly bad attack of rheumatism by the St. Jacobs Oil. He had the disease in his right arm and shoulder, which became perfectly helpless after being affected a few hours. His pain was so great that he could not rest in comfort or attend to business with any degree of satisfaction. After enduring this sort of thing for some time, he purchased a bottle of the Great German Remedy and began to apply it. He did not mince matters at all, but just used the Oil for all it was worth. After pursuing this mode of treatment for three days the pain was banished and his father was in a perfectly healthy condition. He has never since felt any rheumatic pain.

Conversation enriches the understanding, but solitude is the school of genius.

Horace B. Dick, Esq., associate editor of the Delaware Co. Republican, Chester, Pa., was cured by St. Jacobs Oil of very severe injuries resulting from a fall. His arm appeared to be paralyzed, but the Oil cured him.—Philadelphia Ledger.

GENERAL DEBILITY.

Debility is a term used to denote a deficiency of blood. The nutritive constituents of the blood are in less than their regular proportion, while the watery part is in excess. Debility is of frequent occurrence. It is incident to a variety of diseases. The lower limbs are apt to be swollen. The patient is feeble and cannot bear much exertion. The circulation is irregular, but almost always weak. Palpitation of the heart is a very common symptom. Violent emotion often throws the heart into the most tumultuous action. The vital functions are languidly performed. The muscular strength is diminished; fatigue follows moderate or slight exercise. The breathing, though quiet when at rest, becomes hurried and even painfully agitated under exertion, as in running, ascending heights, etc. The nervous system is often greatly disordered. Vertigo, dizziness, and a feeling of faintness are very common. Violent and obstinate neuralgic pains in the head, side and breast, or other parts of the body, are also frequent attendants upon the disease. The secretions are sometimes diminished. In females the menses are almost always either suspended or very partially performed. The bile is scanty, and costiveness, with unhealthy evacuations from the bowels, and dyspeptic state of the stomach, are extremely common symptoms.

IN DREAMLAND.

The Interpreter of Dreams an Important Office in Old Times.

The Premonitions of Many a Soldier.

Several instances are recorded in the Bible in which the future was made known by dreams, and the interpretation of dreams was sometimes an important part of the prophet's mission. In ancient Greece it was believed that dreams came from the great Jupiter, the king of gods. In ancient Egypt and Babylon, the interpretation of the monarch's dreams was an important state office, and was intrusted to a college of wise men. In consulting the Greek and Roman oracles, it was common, after performing sacred rites, to sleep in the temple, so that the information desired might be made known in dreams. Ancient philosophers wrote treatises upon the interpretation of dreams, as even Bacon seems to have believed that something might be learned from them. In modern times, however, very little attention is given to dreams, and they are generally dismissed from the mind with only a passing thought. The popular saying, "As idle as a dream," well expresses the sentiment of people generally in regard to this kind of phenomenon. This popular estimate of the nature of dreams is undoubtedly a just one as regards dreams generally. Yet it is possible that there may be exceptions. Some dreams may have a meaning which it is important that the dreamer should interpret aright, and understand its import.

The mind, sometimes, in sleep can do which it failed to do when awake. A difficult mathematical problem which, during the working hours, had baffled efforts for its solution, is sometimes solved with ease during sleep. Ralph Waldo Emerson says of dreams: "A willful man reads his dreams for his self-knowledge, yet not the details, but the quality. What part does he play in them—a cheerful, manly part, or a poor, driveling part? However monstrous and grotesque their apparitions, they have a substantial truth. The same remark may be extended to the omens and coincidences which may have astonished us. Of all it is true that the reason of them is always latent in the individual. As the poet said: 'These whimsical pictures, so much as they originate from us, may well have an analogy with our whole life and fate.' The soul contains in itself the event that shall presently befall it; for the event is only the actualizing of its thought. It is no wonder that particular dreams and presentiments should fall out and be prophetic. The fallacy consists in selecting insignificant hints when all are in fact with the same sense."

Some very remarkable instances occurred in which...

killed in the action, and would almost immediately mount a dark bay horse with a white nose. Within five minutes both horse and rider would be killed by a shell. This dream was related to more than a score of comrades fully two days before the fight. Early in the action the sergeant's horse was struck square in the forehead by a bullet, and dropped dead in his tracks. It was scarcely three minutes before a white-nosed horse, carrying a blood-stained saddle, galloped up to the sergeant and halted. He remembered the dream, and refused to mount the animal, and soon after picked up a black horse. The white-nosed animal was mounted by a second corporal in another regiment, and horse and rider were torn to fragments by a shell in full sight of four companies of the Sixth." In the last instance, apparently, the life of the sergeant was saved by heeding the admonition of the dream. The writer who narrated this and other similar instances, adds, that "there was a time when a soldier's dream saved Gen. Kilpatrick's life; when a dream changed Custer's plans for three days; when a dream prevented Gen. Tolbert's camp from a surprise and capture; and when a dream gave Gen. Sheridan more accurate knowledge of Early's forces than all the scouts."

Numerous other instances of prophetic dreams might be narrated, but enough has been adduced to show that there is something worthy of considerable attention in some dreams, however trivial the greater part of them may be. The prophetic revelations made through dreams in ancient times are perhaps sometimes repeated in these modern times.

SELLING A FARM.

A SCOTCH EMIGRANT'S EXPERIENCE.

Angus McDonald was a farmer from Charlotteburg county Glengarry, who arrived in Winnipeg a few days ago. Angus, in his own estimation and in the estimation of his friends, was a shrewd man. He was hardly in the place before an old acquaintance of his ran up against him, slapped him on the back in a friendly way, and said:

"I'm glad you've come up. I was just going to send for you." After their greetings, he continued: "By the way, Angus, you own a farm out near Minnassned."

"Yes," "How much will you take for it?" "I don't know," said Angus. "I thought of settling on it myself."

"Well, I'll tell you what; I'll give you $6000 for it."

Angus thought before leaving Glengarry that if he got $2000 for it he would be doing well, but he was now in the land of booms and so he asked for $6500.

"Well, here's $50 on the bargain and

FASHION NOTES.

Colored stockings are more worn than ever.

Mahogany color is the rival of terra cotta and copper.

There is a rage for polka-dotted neckchiefs. The dots are large.

In Paris children's stockings must match their dresses.

Knit Jersey suits will be much worn by small boys at the sea-side.

Amvia is the name given to a new and lovely shade of yellowish pink.

Long stocking mitts will be much worn with light costumes in midsummer.

The designs and colorings of new stockings are artistic in the highest degree.

China crape shawls, black and white, never go out of vogue for elderly women.

There is a great variety in hats that will be worn by girls of from 8 to 12 years of age.

Fruit and flower designs in close printed patterns appear on new lisle thread stockings.

Black silk and black lisle thread stockings are considered the acme of taste for street wear.

Embroidery in the form of small red rosebuds appears on colored and ecru Balbriggan hosiery.

Dark and black straw hats will be much worn with all sorts of costumes, including very bright colored ones.

Boys wear long ribbed cotton hose in dark colors, to match the color of their knee breeches or short trousers.

Sailor suits of navy blue flannel for girls' wear are trimmed with military gold braid and small round gold buttons.

Among the growing innovations in modern fashions is the wearing of velvet in all seasons, not excepting midsummer.

Diamonds, circles, and dots of various sizes are embroidered in bright-colored silks on dark hosiery for young girls.

Rose color and terra cotta, maroon and copper color are favorite combinations of color in late importations of hosiery.

Bouquets and garlands of showy artificial flowers and large bows of ribbon ornament the tops of carriage and coaching parasols.

Combinations of red and black, maroon and terra cotta, greyhound blue and water blue appear in hats, bonnets, and in children's garments.

Little children of six years and under will wear next summer hats with wide round brims, turned up in front, and on them an ostrich plume or medium-sized fancy feather.

The World's Epileptic Institute.

While passing through St. Joseph, and having heard a great deal about the World's Epileptic Institute located here, I concluded to pay the celebrated institution a short visit. We were met by Dr. Richmond, the proprietor, who has gained a reputation as broad as the land. He is a rather small, yet prepossessing man, of very affable and gentlemanly manners. He gave us a hearty welcome, and took great pains in showing us through his palatial and mammoth institution. It is a five-story building, 200x180 feet, with basement, and contains over three hundred rooms, and can accommodate five hundred patients, and each and every room is furnished in the most elegant and lavish manner. But we will begin at the office, which is a large room furnished with rosewood furniture throughout. In the office are thousands of photographs of those who have been benefited by the Nervine. The walls are elegantly papered, and are profusely decorated with rich and costly pictures, relieved here and there by busts in stone and bronze of eminent men of this and other countries. In connection with the institute is a mammoth printing house and bindery, occupying six or seven large rooms, and a score of presses are kept running night and day, turning out work for the doctor. The office is one of the finest and most complete in the west, and he has the rooms decorated, carpeted and trimmed up with as much care and luxury as is his own private office. On the first floor of this mammoth building is the doctor's private office, the printing department, bindery, tank-room, packing, bottling, and consultation rooms, barber shop, drug store, etc., all of which are fitted up regardless of expense. The second floor has the hotel office, dining, billiard and cooking rooms, many guest chambers, and several parlors. The third and fourth floors are all rooms, all of which are furnished with Brussels carpets and the finest furniture. The billiard room has six tables, all of which are free to the guests of the house and their friends. The bath room is large and neat, and is also free to guests. The entire building is surrounded on the east and south by an elegant five-acre park, in which are lovely trees, beds of rich and rare plants, gravel walks and drives, delicious arbors, and a most beautiful summer-house. There are also a number of fountains that add wonderfully to the beauty of the park, which is truly one of the most lovely and attractive in the western country, and the institute has no equal for luxury and comfort in the world. Everything is perfection, and the visitor is at once charmed with the entire place and its surroundings. An idea of the immensity of the doctor's business may be given when we say that on the day we visited the institute he showed us to his express-room, and we saw the expressman take goods labeled to the following places, to say nothing of hundreds of orders from all quarters of America: Lyons, France; Geneva, Switzerland; Madrid, Spain; Brussels, Belgium; Cape Town, Africa; Shanghai, China; Yokohama, Japan; Bombay, India; Melbourne, Australia. The doctor employs hundreds of men and women in his institute in the several branches, aside from the immense force required to conduct the hotel. It is worth a visit, and Dr. Richmond extends to all a cordial invitation to come and see him. He and his wonderful medical discovery have given to St. Joseph a good name all over the habitable globe.

AMERICAN CANNON.

The naval maneuvers in Germany this year will include new experiments with the Hotchkiss revolving cannon, the invention of an American, who has large foundries for making the cannon near Berlin and Paris. The German fleet will be mounted with 278 of them, 268 of which have been acquired within the last two years. Experiments are also to be made with the employment of the electric light in the case of night attacks by torpedo boats.

The business thermometer never errs. Many of the extensive business houses, manufactories, and railroads will not employ men who hang around saloons. They consider their services detrimental to their business, and when old age and sickness overtakes those saloon disciples, the working people first support and then bury them.
