

ENFIELD STREET.

Hitchcock Bros. are painting the Misses Ingraham's house.

Mrs. William Clark and mother are spending a few days in Shelton.

The scales in front of the post-office will be ready for use next week.

Mrs. Eveline Goltz of Jacksonville, Ill., is visiting Mrs. Sophronia Parsons.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dwight is visiting her sons in New Britain and Waterbury.

Chester Allen, who is attending Wesleyan Academy, Wilbraham, Mass., passed Sunday at home.

Mrs. James Harper is spending a few days in town before leaving for her daughter's home in Chicago.

Senator O. H. Platt of New London will address the citizens of Enfield at Franklin hall, Thompsonville, this evening, in behalf of the political interests of the United States.

Rev. and Mrs. A. Hazeltine left for Fort Wayne, Ind., their new home, last Tuesday. Mr. Hazeltine has lately been preaching at East Granville, Mass., and while there accepted a call to become pastor of a church in Fort Wayne.

Among those whom we welcome back from their summer vacation we would note Dr. H. A. Grant and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Reynolds, Mrs. John Mathewson, Mrs. John Parsons, Mrs. Wolcott Abbe and Mrs. A. E. Potter.

There will be a drummers' reunion at Enfield street Saturday evening. Several drum corps from out of town are expected to be present and parade through Main street from H. C. Woodward's to J. N. Allen's. The people along the line are requested to illuminate their houses.

Last Saturday James A. Allen, a salesman in Carter & Cooley's dry goods store, Springfield, fell a distance of twelve feet from a rear door in the store into an open hatchway. Very serious results were feared but it is now thought that he may recover. Mr. Allen was formerly of this place.

The Helping Hands invite all ladies who are willing to lend a hand at quilting to come to the chapel parlor, Thursday afternoon, Oct. 2d. In the evening all are invited to the old-fashioned supper, at which baked beans, pumpkin pie and Indian pudding will be served. Supper 15 cents. The proceeds to be devoted to the "Morning Star" fund.

KING STREET. Horace Patton, while digging a well last week, struck a spring after digging about fifteen feet, which at this season of the year assures a bountiful supply of water.

After the usual anxieties of the first few days, losing of tickets, etc., the several New Britainites of this place are enjoying the privileges of that place in obtaining an education.

Work is being pushed rapidly forward toward completing and graveling the road from the northern part of the district to the Bement school-house hill, which will make when done a first-class main road through the town.

WALLOP. The Gleaners will meet with Mrs. Hayes, Saturday, Oct. 4th.

HAZARDVILLE. A Blaine and Logan club was organized here last week.

Sigel Winesher has returned from his vacation, hale and hearty.

The circus came Tuesday according to advertisement. We still survive.

The work of hardening Main street still continues, to the great improvement of the road bed.

Mrs. Geo. Simpson has returned from Vermont. Mr. Simpson remains a few days to look after some cattle which he may bring with him this time instead of horses.

Hon. J. R. Buck and Hon. Valentine B. Chamberlain will address the citizens of Enfield on the "Political Questions of the Campaign," at Institute hall, Friday evening, at 8 o'clock.

During the thunder shower of Tuesday morning a partridge, evidently thinking that the law was "off," and in desperate haste to get out of the range of what he supposed to be the discharge of muskets, (by the way, it did sound more like a musket than it did like thunder), flew against Mr. A. Landschultz's building with such force as to kill it instantly. It was picked up in the morning and hung up in front of the post office for people to see during the day. This is the second partridge that has met a like fate in the village within a short time.

The Windsor nine were up here recently to play the Hazardvilles and met the same fate which usually befalls those who come here to play the national game with our boys, the score being 18 to 4 in favor of the Hazardvilles. The Hazardville pitcher lost a finger nail during the game, which is claimed to have given the other side one or two points, but he was plucky enough to continue pitching until the end of the game. They were victorious as usual at Windsor last Saturday. This was their closing game for the season and they have disbanded.

We had quite an excitement here the other day over a very large watermelon which was presented to certain parties in the morning. The melon was carefully examined in what was supposed to be a safe place, with the design of having a safe place, with it as an after dinner relish, but when dinner time arrived, and the melon, it had disappeared going for the melon, it had disappeared and diligent search failed to discover its whereabouts. The search was abandoned until after a while when it was recovered for some time with no better success. Finally, just in time to prevent the affair being put into the hands of a detective, another party produced the melon, and all hands finally enjoyed the relish to a greater degree probably than they would have done, but for the escape over it.

Miss Rachel Harrison, who died last week, was the daughter of Eleazer Harrison, late of this place. She formerly followed the business of dressmaking in this village, and as a dressmaker she was a success. Later she went to Thompsonville to take charge of the trimming department of the Burial Case Co., where she continued until about a year ago, on account of her failing health, her physician then ordered a change of climate and she went to Colorado, where she remained until about two months ago, when, finding the climate there produced no favorable results, she returned home. Since that time she failed rapidly and during the last month had been a great sufferer. She leaves a mother and one brother here, and a brother out West, where he has been for a number of years.

SCITICO. Report says there is soon to be a new grocery store in this place.

Miss Harriet Spencer of Rockville is visiting at her brother's, Wells Spencer.

Thieves are again at work in this neighborhood. Some one visited the cellar of George Taylor last Friday night and took about 40 lbs. of pork, also the same night a lot of beans from James Boggs's garden.

Thomas Taylor met with an accident last Wednesday afternoon in Storrs' paper mill which nearly cost him his life. He was at the time putting paper across the machine when his sleeve caught between one of the rolls and press felts, his feet slipped from under him and he was left to the mercy of the only one in the room, Howard Taylor, a lad of 14, who shut down and went for help. Mr. Taylor was found in an almost unconscious condition, with one arm drawn in and his head in close proximity to the instrument of death. His arm was badly crushed and bruised but no bones were broken. He is improving and there is hope that he has sustained no serious and lasting injury.

MELROSE. J. A. Thompson started his cider mill Tuesday for the first time this season, making the first cheese.

The funeral of Mrs. Marilla Allen was largely attended from her home Sunday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Robinson of Hazardville officiating. As a kind and affectionate mother and a loving neighbor she will be sadly missed.

EAST WINDSOR. Our people will caucus at Arcade hall, Scenic, Friday evening, Oct. 3d, at 7 1/2 o'clock, to nominate candidates for town officers.

The Hartford East conference of Congregational churches held meetings at this place yesterday and to-day. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. F. R. Wait, of Hockanum.

SOMERS. Joseph Pierce has 10 acres of corn from which he expects to harvest 1000 bushels of ears.

The people are busy preparing for the fair next Tuesday, and hope to make it the best ever held in the town.

The democratic campaign opened Monday with a flag-raising and speech by Henry Root, of New York. Tuesday night the republicans had a flag-raising and O. H. Platt held the floor.

BROAD BROOK. The rain of Tuesday morning came very acceptably, it having been a long felt want.

The republican meeting at Warehouse Point was well attended by Broad Brook citizens Monday evening.

The Moss family gave a musical concert in Broad Brook hall on Saturday evening which drew a large audience, and every one went away with the feeling that they had received their money's worth.

The frost of last week did no great injury to the tobacco crop, as has been stated in some of the papers, most of it having been harvested. Two or three very late pieces were caught out and nearly ruined. Corn fodder was badly damaged, which, on account of the scarcity of hay, will be sadly felt. Potatoes are turning out well in most instances, while fruit is a total failure.

SUFFIELD. There was a goodly number from here that attended the fair at Meriden.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fuller have been spending a few days at Westbrook.

Mr. Isaac Jones, of Wisconsin, and Mrs. Shufeldt, from Albany, are visiting at J. S. Gardner's.

Hon. O. H. Platt will address the people upon the issues of the campaign at Town hall Friday evening, Oct. 3d.

Miss Calla Mather returned home last Saturday, after an absence of twelve weeks among the hills in Vermont.

E. N. Spaulding's horse received a kick from another horse, the other day, which renders the animal unfit for use for the present.

The neighbors and friends of J. W. Hinckley showed their sympathy for him in his illness by cutting up three acres of corn for him last Saturday.

The town officers meet Oct. 6th, and are getting their reports ready therefor. A new survey, defining highways and boundaries, will doubtless be recommended at the meeting.

O. A. Jones and family spent last week with Mrs. D. W. Beebe, a friend of Mrs. Jones, at Meriden, attending the fair, and also visiting many of the principal manufacturers and also the reform school, and had a pleasant time.

Mrs. T. W. Kinney and daughter have gone to Essex, Vt. Mrs. K. expects to meet a brother there from Oregon whom she has not seen for thirty years, and together visit the home and friends of their younger days. Her friends here wish her a pleasant journey.

The 2d Baptist society met at the church last Tuesday to elect officers for the ensuing year. They re-elected the old officers, and adjourned the meeting till next Tuesday at 1 p. m., when they will sell the seats and transact any other business that may come before the meeting.

The relatives of Mr. A. J. Easton gathered at their home on Wednesday, and presented them with a beautiful easy chair and hanging lamp, the occasion being the 33d anniversary of their marriage. The party left their best wishes with them, and that long years of prosperity and happiness may be theirs to enjoy.

Farmers are busy cutting corn these days, and all are pleased with the prospect of a bountiful crop. Halsey Wright has fifteen or twenty acres which is very heavy. Mr. Wright has commenced taking in apples at his mill, paying ten cents per bushel. Most of the farmers find on looking around that they have got more apples than they expected.

Great preparations are being made for the ninth annual cattle show and fair next Wednesday and Thursday. Premium-list catalogues have been printed, and are in the hands of the secretary. Trotting aces and bicycle races, will be among the attractive features on Sheldon park the second day. The society are ambitious to excel all previous exhibitions.

At the library meeting Monday evening a committee was appointed to draw up a code of by-laws for the government of the association. The committee consisted of Prof. H. M. Smith, Prof. P. Kelly, and Rev. H. L. Kelsey. The committee will make their report at the next meeting, which takes place to-morrow (Friday) evening. It is quite requisite that every subscriber should be present.

The selectmen and school board held a joint session last Saturday, and reports of school work made. An appropriation of $5,700 was voted for next year's schools, and the standard of teachers was recommended to be raised, although no changes were made in the present corps. It was voted to ask that the district committee be left unchanged, and Geo. F. Kendall was instructed to prepare the year's report for publication. The school districts, which have not been defined since 1794, are now being surveyed and mapped, and the lines marked. A report to the town-meeting will show the area and acreage of each district, with location of the school-house and the distance from it of each dwelling-house.

A daughter of Palmer Gallup, of Mystic, Ct., has been visiting her old home and friends in Suffield. Mr. Gallup was a resident in Crooked Lane district, and teacher in the school over forty years ago, and little later on at the Literary Institute. As a teacher in mathematics he had no superior. As a man he was very much respected, and in every relation of his life ever candid, grave, and dignified. One of the most sublime eulogies to his memory was given by Julius F. Sikes, Jan. 24th, 1883, at the dedication exercises of Central hall. The lady remarked to a friend, with whom she was visiting, that there was only one living in the North-east district to-day who originally set out the maple trees that so beautifully border their thoroughfare, and that is Mr. A. A. Eastwood.

GRANBY. A. M. Clark comes out with a new horse purchased of Eugene Goddard.

Murry Newton has been afflicted with a very bad felon for several days.

Mrs. Frank Hayes has moved from J. N. Loomis's house, taking up her abode in Springfield, Mass.

DEATH OF REV. A. L. LOVELAND. After a brief but painful illness, Rev. A. L. Loveland, our pastor, brother and friend, passed quietly beyond the scenes of this life, where he has filled so prominent a place, "to that mysterious realm, where each shall take his chamber in the silent halls of death." And it may truly and appropriately be said that "sustained and soothed by an infatigable trust," he approached his grave "like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

He was in every sense a self-made man. Having in his boyhood to cope with poverty, he went manfully forward, seeking to gain a livelihood and secure an education at the same time, and by dint of perseverance and hard work, succeeded in both endeavors. He was a natural orator, and his ready command of language, combined with a retentive memory and wide range of thought, rendered him an eloquent and finished speaker. He was a man of no ordinary ability and possessed talents which, in a larger sphere and broader field, would have commanded appreciation and attained distinction and prominence. But he chose a more humble walk in life and was content to win the esteem of his neighbors in this quiet New England town, which was the scene of his earliest efforts in the ministry. That he succeeded is attested by the sorrow so universally expressed at his loss, which is keenly felt by all who knew him.

He was one of the foremost men of the place and his death leaves a vacancy which cannot well be filled. He bore a reputation and leaves a name of which his friends and family may well be proud. He leaves a devoted and accomplished wife and one son, who have the sympathy of the entire community in their great affliction.

He was a pioneer in that broad and universal faith, so liberal and all-embracing, and the members of the little flock of which he was the leader and teacher feel their bereavement no less than his immediate friends; but they have the consolation of knowing that he died as he had lived, firm in that faith in which he had labored so long and faithfully.

COPPER HILL. Our Sunday-school is preparing for a harvest concert to be held on the evening of Sunday, Oct. 5th. Friends are cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Warner of Warnersville started Tuesday for Canada and Michigan, for a visit among their friends. We wish them a pleasant time and a safe return.

Sunday was a pleasant day for attending church and our congregation was somewhat larger than usual. Our pastor preached in the morning on "The Days of Heaven upon the Earth," and in the afternoon on "The two Results of Preaching the Gospel," as stated by St. Paul in 2 Cor., 2:16. Next Sabbath (if pleasant) the Rev. C. H. Walters of Southwick, Mass., is expected to preach here in exchange with our minister.

WAREHOUSE POINT. Dr. Lightfoot's new house is nearly finished.

Senator O. H. Platt entertained the public on the political isms of the day at the American hall on Monday evening.

Open-air services are held each Sabbath afternoon on the school-house green, under the direction of Rev. W. H. Turkington.

The marriage ceremony of Miss Nettie Thompson to a gentleman, a former resident of this place, was solemnized Monday evening.

A choral society has been formed, under the direction of Prof. Geo. E. Thorp, of Thompsonville, and will convene this (Thursday) for rehearsal.

Geo. B. Barnes claims to have the largest acreage of tobacco ever grown by one man in New England. Fifty acres here and thirty more at Hatfield, Mass.

DO NOT MOVE BLINDLY.—Go carefully in purchasing medicine. Many advertised remedies can work great injury—are worse than none. Burdock Blood Bitters are purely a vegetable preparation—the smallest child can take them. They kill disease and cure the patient in a safe and kindly way.

POQUONOCK.

Farmers are digging their potatoes and the yield is fully up to the average. They are selling for 50 cts. per bushel.

C. N. Griswold has bought of W. A. Thrall the milk route together with the good will of the same, and will furnish pure, new milk to those in need of it.

M. E. Westcott, of the firm of Westcott Bros., was taken suddenly sick last week Wednesday night with pneumonia, but with skillful treatment and good nursing is slowly recovering.

The body of Sylvester Cook was found lying by the roadside about a mile from his house Saturday night, where he had last been after some corn, in company with his small boy. The boy came back and told his mother that his father was sick, and the neighbors on going to the place found that he had been dead some time. It was found that the inquest that died in a fit, as he had been subject to.

"It shall be unlawful for any person to hurt or pursue, kill, destroy, or attempt to kill any woodcock, quail, gray squirrel, or ruffed grouse (commonly called partridge) between the first day of January and the first day of October, and every person so offending, shall for each offence (the killing or destroying or having in possession of each bird shall be deemed a separate offence) be fined not more than twenty-five dollars, provided that a person shall be imprisoned exceeding twenty-five days for failure to pay any fine imposed under the provisions of this section."

A Seasonable "Ad."

The chilly blasts of winter are nigh, and already the Fall purchaser is abroad in the land.

He is an intelligent man and does not hesitate to make his purchases because it is Presidential year, and consequently a little dull.

Quite the contrary, he knows that owing to those very financial troubles several manufacturers have been forced into insolvency, thus enabling dealers who can buy for cash to invest to the common advantage both of themselves and their customers.

And the peculiar feature about the Fall purchaser this year is that no matter what article in the House-Furnishing Line he is in need of, or how many stores he enters in search of it, he invariably finds everything to his satisfaction at the North Main Street House-Furnishing Establishment.

And why shouldn't he!

Is not ours the very best establishment of its kind in this neighborhood?

Are we not the Central Headquarters for everything in our line between Hartford and Springfield?

Do we not lead in amount of stock? Do we not lead in beauty of style? Do we not lead in variety of assortment? Do we not lead in low prices? Do we not lead in quantity of goods sold? Do we not lead in quality of material? Do we not lead in extent of territory? In fact, do we not lead in everything?

I guess we do, and the main object of this little advertisement is to tell the people in a modest way that we mean to KEEP ON LEADING.

The foregoing may seem very broad assertions, but we invite every person to investigate them for himself. We can back them up with plain facts at the store.

This week we have received a large addition to our stock of Parlor and Chamber Furniture; several new Stoves of the most approved patterns, and an immense quantity of goods which lack of time will not permit us to mention.

Before making your Fall purchase look over our stock. Examine our goods carefully. Inquire as to our prices. Compare them with the prices of other dealers for the same quality of grades, and we are certain that your impartial judgment will lead you to select your goods at the North Main Street House-Furnishing Establishment, where the stock is large, the styles novel, the variety choice, and the prices right.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM MULLIGAN,

5 North Main St., - Thompsonville, Ct.
