Who Saved Me From The Wolves.

By JENNIE K. LUDLOW.

A cold, dreary evening, the rain falling in great deluges against the logs of our tiny western home...

Then I went about doing what little household work was, singing at my spin...

The deep gray shadows of twilight crept with silent, noiseless feet through the wind-blown rain...

Ray got up and shook himself vigorously. I picked more logs on the glowing embers and fanned the flames into a brisk and fantastic dance...

"Oh, dear! If I only could remember that duty comes before pleasure in the rules laid down for man...

"See, how old fellow," I said, holding up my finger and shaking my head gravely at him...

THE PHYSICIAN GIVING ME HORSE GREASE'S ADVICE.

By JENNIE K. LUDLOW.

you had let other people's business alone and minded your own, you'd not have to do it.

"What is the matter with everything?" "What is the matter with everything?" I asked myself...

"He said 'mad'!" I cried aloud, shrieking back behind the trembling horses. "And he is outside!"

"Do not be afraid! You are safe now. Sit down, and you will feel better presently."

"What do you mean?" "What do you mean?" "What do you mean?" he asked...

"From $30 or $40 to $45." "And what for $90?" "Oh, dear! You are crazy now. When I was a young man you could get a cow for $15; the best for $20. Open the best for $30, and down to $40. We were choice of our calves. We could not afford to kill our cows and oxen; it cost too much to buy them."

THE ADMIRATION OF THE WORLD.

By JENNIE K. LUDLOW.

The stranger's blue-gray eyes looked up at me, a mixed expression of surprise and amazement...

"You are hard on Miss Dora," he said. "I ought to be 't' raitored. 'There I set reading till it grew so dark I could not have told Adam from Jehoshaphat if they had come to the door together, while you were here."

"How do you do it?" "How do you do it?" "How do you do it?" he asked...

Burglars broke into George Lark's carpenter shop, in Danbury, early Saturday morning, gaining entrance to the building through a window at the second story. They proceeded to the second story, on which the office is situated, and got into that by prying off the lock. They next examined the safe, and having, in some mysterious and unexplained way discovered the lock combination, opened the door without the use of powder or jimmy. From a drawer inside they forced the bolt, with which it was held secure, and took therefrom about $5,000 in bills, and succeeded in getting out of the building without the least suspicion of the authorities.

—DeKlyn is now manufacturing his own confectionery.

S. Johnston, Charles Smith, O. W. Raymond.

The Stamford fire is certainly energetic. The night of the burning of John Fitch Haymond's barn in Saugatek they ran out their apparatus under the impression that the fire was in Stamford. Last Sunday night the glare from Auntie's burning mills in Silver Mine caused them to make the same error. Well, being too careful is better than not being careful enough.

At the adjourned meeting of delegates from the Baptist Sunday schools in Fairfield county, held in the First Baptist church, Bridgeport, Monday, it was voted to organize a "Fairfield County Bible School Union," to be composed of the Baptist schools in the county. Mr. John W. Scott of South Norwalk, was elected secretary; Mr. J. L. Amesbury of Norwalk treasurer and Rev. Mr. Gongora one of the executive committees.

Rev. S. B. S. Bissell informs us that it was thirty years ago on the 1st of November, when he retired from the pastorate of the first church of Greenwich and entered the service of the American Sunday School Union, in which he has continued to this day excepting an interval of five years, when he was secretary of the Consolidated railroad, and has never received a scratch.

Some two or three weeks ago a young colored lad or not over eleven or twelve years of age, was in town soliciting subscriptions for the building of a mission church in Stamford. He succeeded in raising quite a large sum by means of five and ten cent contributions. He had a long story and rattled it off with a complacent ease. From here he went towards Bridgeport and after victimizing a number of people in that place was discovered perched in a convenient position on the depot platform pulling for dear life on a big cigar. His luggage had disappeared, and he was the picture of impudence. When addressed he denied that he had solicited money, or knew anything about Stamford or a church there, and proved the latter part of the assertion by the volubility with which he related the story of his life and his adventures. Moral!—Look out for pious boys.

BRANCHVILLE.

Ground was broken yesterday at Branchville for the foundation of the mill to be erected by the Hydro-Pneumatic Oil Co., for the reduction of quartz and feldspar. The mill, 150x60 feet, is to be a frame building with solid bed for the crushers, and it is expected that the building and machinery will be in working order by February 1. There are three boilers to be put in the mill of 75 horse power capacity each, and one of the crushers put in as soon as the mill is enclosed. The capacity of the new reducer is 20 tons per day, and more will be added as soon as it can be got to the mill. The mill is to be a large and constantly increasing. This new enterprise will be a material aid in the way of coal freight up and crushed quartz and feldspar down the Danbury and Norwalk railroad.

REDDING.

The bridge at the depot has been repaired, and the defoliated shaliness is in now.

Mr. Augustus Whitlock is re-roofing his school.

Mr. Tanner, the gentleman who was said to have committed suicide, is unlike Mr. Halloway's fortune. He has "made up."

RIDGEFIELD.

Sheriff Crosby was in town Friday night.

Coroner Holt of Bridgeport, was in town over Sunday.

The Ladies Missionary society's meeting was well attended, and was considered of very interesting.

Joe Rockwell and Chancy Lodes represented Jared N. Olmsted and Redolph Northrop, Democrats, at the nominees for representatives.

Mr. J. W. Rockwell of the Elm-shaded cottage, Ridgefield, sails for Florida to take charge of the "Lake Side Hotel" at Crescent City, in that state. This hotel commands a view of Lake Crescent, a large and beautiful sheet of water and Crescent city is one of the most healthy and desirable winter resorts in Florida.

Another Norwalk Woman Dead.

Mrs. Arvilla Thompson, the divorced wife of Edward Thompson a former proprietor of the Connecticut hotel, and daughter of D. Banks Morhouse formerly landlord at the Danbury Hotel, died suddenly in New Haven Wednesday. A number of suspicious circumstances about the case led to the report that a murder had been committed but after a thorough examination the coroner decided that such was not the case. Mr. Morhouse was notified and immediately came to New Haven and took charge of his daughter's remains, which he yesterday caused to be removed to Westport for burial. Mrs. Thompson will be well remembered here where she once had many acquaintances and friends. Her age was 47. She will receive sincere sympathy in this, not the least of her family troubles.

Friday morning, Medical Examiner White of New Haven, and his assistant, Dr. Elliott, came to the conclusion that Mrs. Thompson, came to her death from Bright's disease of the kidneys.

Senator Baker's friends now have an opportunity to see a much reduced car placed on pledges made by Mr. Hyatt. He gave Mr. Baker assurance just as strong as he did Governor Bigelow, that he would refrain from all partisan effort, while holding the office of State Commissioner. This he did not only verbally but in writing, as scores of Republicans know, for he himself repeated these assurances of proper behavior.

Mrs. Dr. Forsyth of Providence, R. I., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. Day of this place.

Mr. B. Schaffer will leave tomorrow for Brooklyn, where she will spend the winter.

A number went from this place to St. Paul's church, Norwalk, Sunday to hear Bishop Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius M. Fitch of Danbury, N. Y., are visiting his father, Wm. J. Fitch, Esq.

The Ladies Aid Society of Christ church will meet to-morrow evening at the residence of Andrew C. Nash.

The Sewing Society of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. H. P. Barr, Thursday afternoon and evening at which time a cake sale will also be held.

The funeral of Mrs. George R. Cushman was attended from 7 o'clock to 10 o'clock, Sunday afternoon. The remains were taken yesterday to Westbury, L. I., for interment.

Instructions to G. N. G. Offgren.

General orders No. 10, issued Thursday by Adjutant-General Cook, give instructions to National Guard commanders which provide: That there shall be no change or alterations in armory buildings without the authority of the governor.

Last Sunday night the average Democratic vote can see and appreciate and if it results in diminishing his vote, it may be a very proper and natural consequence which will reflect credit upon the good sense of the district at large.—Bridgeport Standard.

Best at Last.

The funeral of the late Wm. Randall Smith was very largely attended on Thursday, at the residence of his son, John F. Smith, in Stamford. The service was held in the church in Stamford. Members of the Fairfield County Fair were present in great numbers. The services were conducted most impressively by Rev. Mr. Everett.

On Wednesday morning, the remains were borne to Greenwood for final sepulchre. In no case has so large a concourse shown regard for a deceased citizen and friend since the funeral of Judge Butler.

The Grady case.

Grand Juror Coolidge on Wednesday received an anonymous letter implicating several well-known parties in the death of Mrs. Godfrey. The letter will receive immediate attention if the writer of the epistle will make himself known to the Grand Juror. Coolidge does not feel called upon to give the statements any credence.

An Inconspicuous Victim.

The "notorious maniac for office" manifested by Bank Commissioner Hyatt, in accepting the nomination for senator in the Thirteenth district from the Democrats is being used, very properly, among the best portion of the people of his district against him. It is a manifest and unpropitious sign even the average Democratic voter can see and appreciate and if it results in diminishing his vote, it may be a very proper and natural consequence which will reflect credit upon the good sense of the district at large.—Bridgeport Standard.

Another Norwalk Woman Dead.

Mrs. Arvilla Thompson, the divorced wife of Edward Thompson a former proprietor of the Connecticut hotel, and daughter of D. Banks Morhouse formerly landlord at the Danbury Hotel, died suddenly in New Haven Wednesday. A number of suspicious circumstances about the case led to the report that a murder had been committed but after a thorough examination the coroner decided that such was not the case. Mr. Morhouse was notified and immediately came to New Haven and took charge of his daughter's remains, which he yesterday caused to be removed to Westport for burial. Mrs. Thompson will be well remembered here where she once had many acquaintances and friends. Her age was 47. She will receive sincere sympathy in this, not the least of her family troubles.

Friday morning, Medical Examiner White of New Haven, and his assistant, Dr. Elliott, came to the conclusion that Mrs. Thompson, came to her death from Bright's disease of the kidneys.

Senator Baker's friends now have an opportunity to see a much reduced car placed on pledges made by Mr. Hyatt. He gave Mr. Baker assurance just as strong as he did Governor Bigelow, that he would refrain from all partisan effort, while holding the office of State Commissioner. This he did not only verbally but in writing, as scores of Republicans know, for he himself repeated these assurances of proper behavior.

Mrs. Dr. Forsyth of Providence, R. I., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. Day of this place.

Mr. B. Schaffer will leave tomorrow for Brooklyn, where she will spend the winter.

A number went from this place to St. Paul's church, Norwalk, Sunday to hear Bishop Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius M. Fitch of Danbury, N. Y., are visiting his father, Wm. J. Fitch, Esq.

The Ladies Aid Society of Christ church will meet to-morrow evening at the residence of Andrew C. Nash.

The Sewing Society of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. H. P. Barr, Thursday afternoon and evening at which time a cake sale will also be held.

The funeral of Mrs. George R. Cushman was attended from 7 o'clock to 10 o'clock, Sunday afternoon. The remains were taken yesterday to Westbury, L. I., for interment.

Instructions to G. N. G. Offgren.

General orders No. 10, issued Thursday by Adjutant-General Cook, give instructions to National Guard commanders which provide: That there shall be no change or alterations in armory buildings without the authority of the governor.

Last Sunday night the average Democratic vote can see and appreciate and if it results in diminishing his vote, it may be a very proper and natural consequence which will reflect credit upon the good sense of the district at large.—Bridgeport Standard.

Best at Last.

The funeral of the late Wm. Randall Smith was very largely attended on Thursday, at the residence of his son, John F. Smith, in Stamford. The service was held in the church in Stamford. Members of the Fairfield County Fair were present in great numbers. The services were conducted most impressively by Rev. Mr. Everett.

On Wednesday morning, the remains were borne to Greenwood for final sepulchre. In no case has so large a concourse shown regard for a deceased citizen and friend since the funeral of Judge Butler.

The Grady case.

Grand Juror Coolidge on Wednesday received an anonymous letter implicating several well-known parties in the death of Mrs. Godfrey. The letter will receive immediate attention if the writer of the epistle will make himself known to the Grand Juror. Coolidge does not feel called upon to give the statements any credence.

An Inconspicuous Victim.

The "notorious maniac for office" manifested by Bank Commissioner Hyatt, in accepting the nomination for senator in the Thirteenth district from the Democrats is being used, very properly, among the best portion of the people of his district against him. It is a manifest and unpropitious sign even the average Democratic voter can see and appreciate and if it results in diminishing his vote, it may be a very proper and natural consequence which will reflect credit upon the good sense of the district at large.—Bridgeport Standard.

BAD, BAD, BAD BLOOD. Some blood is bad because it is poor and weak. Some is bad because it contains impurities. Some men have such bad blood that the wonder is it does not poison the mosquitoes who come to bite them.

The efforts of expert chemists to produce a preparation of iron which can be assimilated with the blood have resulted in that perfect preparation which is an important part of Brown's Iron Bitters. It is the only one which freely enters into the blood.
