

NORWALK GAZETTE. A. H. BYINGTON, EDITOR. J. RODNEY, JR., ASSOCIATE. Wednesday, Nov. 14 1888.

VICTORY COMPLETE. Since our last issue the poems of a victory more august and glorious than any ever crowning a political triumph have thrilled the loyal hearts of the nation...

Again the election of Morton gives to the nation a dignified, generous, able and courtly Christian gentleman to preside over the American senate. He who, when "gaunt famine with her shrivelled lips" was sweeping thousands of starving poor to their graves in unhappy Ireland...

But far above the personal triumph of our candidates is the promise or prophecy of the break in the solid south. God reverently and devoutly be praised for this august result. It means a greater prosperity and power, a stronger and more glorious Union of the States, and the eternal perpetuation of Liberty throughout the land.

"They Go Fishing." That brace of gay and festive and strictly truthful journalists, John Rodney and the Rev. and John Wade of the "Herald" are told, now realize their joys and sorrows, the money won and lost and the hopes realized and blasted by the late election, by taking another day off and going a-fishing.

Chamberlain and Misses. The poet at Birmingham, Eng., has this announcement: "Chamberlain has concluded a separate and private treaty, one which happily requires no ratification by a political body—a treaty of marriage—the lady being Miss Mary Edouette. It was understood that no formal or public announcement of the engagement should be made until shortly before the marriage."

A Lesson Worth Learning. Those who were so greatly surprised by the result of the election in Brooklyn may gain light by examining the neighborhood where the democratic forces were defeated. These neighborhoods are peopled by skilled mechanics who earn from $15 to $25 a week by working in factories of various sorts.

A Life Scholarship. In the Yale Business College the holder to perpetual membership in the institution and to all the privileges of the prescribed business course. A special card is announced for the school year of 1888. Early application will be understood.

It will be noted in the democratic candidate for governor Cleveland would have been beaten by 30,000 votes more than he is.

Wedding Bells. A most impressive and beautiful wedding ceremony was the marriage of H. B. Rogers, Esq., to Miss Edna Hoy, last Thursday afternoon. Large numbers of friends from many places were in attendance and the wedding gifts were exceptionally liberal.

Golden-Weed. The joyous wedding bells rang out their cheeriest and blippiest peals on Monday evening last at a pleasant social gathering in Stamford, where Rev. Samuel Scoville presided through the matrimonial services, uniting Samuel N. Goldy, youngest son of Henry H. Goldy, Esq., and Miss Minnie Louise Weed, only daughter of the late William Weed, all of Stamford.

American Institute Fair. The attention of all interested in the best exhibition which the American Institute has given for a number of years, is well bestowed by a visit to the exhibition hall at 62d st. and 2d ave., New York, where the 57th annual fair is in progress.

A New Road from Danbury to New York. The Ridgefield and New York Railroad, a new line of road between Danbury, Conn., and New York, where the terminus will be at the foot of East Forty-fourth street. The new line will be run through Ridgefield, Poundridge and North Greenwiche.

Little Women. As a rule, possessed of happy dispositions, but when these sweet dispositions become soured by the long train of distressing features peculiar to female complaints, it is a sad and painful condition.

List of Patents. List of Patents issued from the United States Patent Office for the week ending Nov. 6th, 1888, for the State of Connecticut, granted to the office of JOHN E. EARLE, Solicitor of Patents, New Haven, Conn.

Removal. H. removed from the Sherrill Building, on the corner of Main and Water streets, where he will be glad to receive and promptly attend to all orders in his line of business.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10, 1888. A gloomy lot of Democrats, sad-eyed and white-lidged, trace the streets of this city, and a correspondingly happy smiling lot of Republicans. At the office of the Secretary of the Interior the anxious and dejected waiters gave up the matter at 12 o'clock on the night of the 6th.

NO Return Checks Issued to Moss-Bank Democrats. By order of THE AMERICAN PEOPLE. N. B.—The holder of this coupon, after a lapse of one year if voided for by three bona-fide subscribers, may on usual conditions of public subscription give a chance to reform.

GRAND POPULAR EXCURSION ON THE INDEPENDENT STEAMER "UP SALT RIVER," ON THE INDEPENDENT STEAMER "FREE TRADE," ON THE INDEPENDENT STEAMER "FREE TRADE," ON THE INDEPENDENT STEAMER "FREE TRADE."

GOOD FOR One Dish of "Crow" SERVED TO ORDER. BANDANA NAPKINS. GOOD FOR Thirteen Democratic Drinks (One Pint Each) of Georgia "Mountain Dew" or Kentucky Bourbon "Moonshine Whiskey."

PRICELESS AND PEERLESS. Something About Violins—Famous Instruments and Cheap Fiddles. "Anything new in the way of discoveries?" inquired the amateur.

The members of Pioneer hook and ladder company contemplate holding a fair soon. Read the announcement of Mr. J. H. Willett, merchant tailor, in another column.

The covering is being put on Sutherland's grocery and tenement building on Cross street. The democratic Stamford News suspended its daily edition immediately after election.

A safe robbery of about $160 on Monday, at Holmes' feed store on Main street, is reported. The prohibition vote in New York in 1886 was 36,000, in 1887, 41,800, and in 1888 only 27,500.

There were republican jubilation parades in Westport, East Norwalk and Southport on Monday evening. The Missionary Society of St. Paul's church, have postponed their Tea party until further notice.

Ben. Harrison's certificate of election to the Presidency is a four years' insurance policy for American prosperity. Jim Wood, of the Standard, sports a brain new silk hat, the result of a "teetotal smart guess" on the election.

Don't fail to attend the young ladies' entertainment and supper at the Congregational lecture room, Nov. 20 and 21. Read "Mr. Barnes of New York" as having an exceptional run at that most beautiful and elaborate of all New York theatres, the "Broadway."

The Yale Corporation elected Wm. W. Farnam, of New Haven, Treasurer of the University, in the place of Henry C. Kingsley, deceased. The Hartford Times savagely scores Mr. Bazeman's method of corrupting the ballot in Connecticut by the free use of money at elections.

The Napoleon Bouton, the new four-masted center-board schooner, built by Howard H. Hanson, was launched at "Fair Haven" last week. "Capt. John Duxson is particularly happy. He wrote for old Tippecanoe in 1840, and for his grandson, Gen. Harrison, in 1888, and his cardinals were both times.

Mr. Cleveland can now tell whether the tonies who encouraged him in a wrong course, or the independent demagogue who warned him against it, were his best friends. President-elect Harrison's failure to carry Connecticut has compelled Will. J. Merritt, of the Pioneer hook and ladder company, to sacrifice a bewitching black moustache.

A large number of the Masons of St. John's Lodge called on Brother Wm. R. Johnson Thursday evening to pay their fraternal respects in honor of his sixtieth birthday. Dr. Schwab, the oculist, will be at the Norwalk Hotel on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, 20th and 21st inst., instead of a week later as formerly announced.

Mr. Asahel Earle left Saturday with his wife and child for their home in Colorado. Mr. E.'s parents accompanied him to New York, and then safely in a Central railroad sleeper. Detective Frank Taylor, of Bridgeport, has begun writing a book since the election to be entitled "Political Predictions or Where Were We Then. Where Are We Now and How Did We Get There?"

The Seymour Times, a democratic paper, after working hard and conscientiously for the election of Cleveland, gave up the ghost last week, and expired with the despairing cry, "Cleveland's in the soup." So far as can be seen from the returns General James Langdon Curtis, of this city, the Presidential nominee of the election party, did not receive a single vote. It is alleged, however, by one of his friends in New York that five votes were polled for him in one election district. It is so it is a shame to count him out as such an outrageous fashion.

It is reported that the result of the election was "cracked" with breakfast and clean-your-teeth-with-cassia soap were not considered burning issues in this campaign. A couple of Norwalk's amateur politicians, just before the recent election, in order to settle a dispute regarding the regular term for which our reform post master was appointed left it to the goddess post master himself to decide. "Well," said that dignitary confidently, "as a general thing it is for four years, but," with an assuring smile that was child-like and bland, "in this case it will be at least eight."

There was an exciting time at the winter quarters of Barnum's circus in Bridgeport Friday, and George A. ... of the employees, narrowly escaped with his life. The cage was so poised that it became overturned by a sudden rush of the animals and pinioned Alton underneath at the mercy of the beasts. The laughter of the hyenas attracted another workman, but he was unable to help Alton till he called two of his friends, who were at the death of the circus. During this period Alton's skull was injured, and he was taken to the hospital, and died.

Foreman Kilbroy, of the GAZETTE jobbing and composing rooms, is raising white whiskers for the next democratic president, while Editor Rodemeyer's incoherent babble, caused the slaughter of all his hireling advertisements.

P. W. Bates is setting up the beautiful monument he has executed for the late Rev. Daniel T. Wood and wife at the cemetery, N. Y. It is substantially copied after that in memory of Gen. O. S. Perry, in our cemetery.

Wesley Lyon, Sr., brother of Editor Lyon, of South Norwalk, died at his home in New York, Thursday, in the 60th year of his age. The funeral will be held to-day, and the remains will be taken to Westport for interment.

Richard Rhodes, a 14 year old pupil at C. M. Pratt's millinery school, whose home is in the 48th street, New York, fell from a trapeze bar in the gymnasium on Monday evening and was severely, though not seriously injured about the back.

The colored Old Fellows have just given a fair, lasting three nights in their lodge room over the GAZETTE office, and judging from the number of people going up and down stairs, and the echoes of their hilarious merriment, the campaign for the whole winter building, that was a big success.

The sad news comes to us of the death of Mrs. Frank C. Conant, wife of Mr. C. C. Conant of South Norwalk, which occurred on Monday evening, of heart trouble. Only a few days before, they lost a bright child, and in this second bereavement the sincere sympathy of the whole community goes out to Mr. Conant.

It is not true that the democratic banner is not hauled in because the great unwhipped party has strength enough left to pull it in. The generally accepted explanation is that it has been turned over to "Grover" O. E. Wilson to compensate him for cash advanced before election, and he is who hasn't the strength.

"Smithy," the telephone man, was about $130 on election. Mons. Hoyt, who was elected, says that he has not a cent in his pocket. John Hoyt captures a couple of dollars, Frank W. Wood smiles over about $1,400. Newsdealer Benedict goes about $900, and several other local capitalists make stakes of greater or less amounts.—Record.

Look out for "The Grasshopper" at the Y. M. C. A., Monday evening, Nov. 19th. Mrs. Sally Scribner of this city, celebrated her 94th birthday Nov. 6th. There were seventeen present, including children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She was kindly remembered with tokens of love by all. Mrs. Scribner is a woman of rare intellect and taste, and she has been the leading event of the day.—Sentinel.

We take pleasure in recommending to our readers the wares of the O. & O. Tea company, advertised in another column. Their teas are of the finest quality and flavor as we know, and a personal trial, and those who use them once will not be without them.

Mrs. Ellen Cooper of Portland, Conn., was murdered on Monday morning, and her husband is suspected to be the murderer and is under arrest. The victim's head had been chopped off with an axe. Jealousy was supposed to have been the cause of the murder.

The ladies of the South Wilton Methodist church will hold a harvest supper at the residence of Mr. Nelson Hartford, in South Wilton, this (Wednesday) evening. There should be a large attendance as a most enjoyable time is always guaranteed by the ladies of the South Wilton ladies.

—Grand concert by Harvard Male Quartette and Susic Duet, Y. M. C. A., Monday evening, Nov. 19th. The democratic have lost the Presidency, but are stronger than ever in the country as a whole.—Stamford News.

The above is evidently a misprint. What Neighbor Sawyer wants to say is that the democrats are more deeply than ever in a hole. —Mr. Willet the new draper and tailor who has taken the old editorial rooms of the GAZETTE and just vacated by the Norwalk Republican Club, is now ready for a share of the public patronage and those who know Mr. Willet assure us he is a thoroughly experienced and very superior talent.

Daniel Phillips, of Lovell, Lewis county, voted for Madison in 1808, and has voted at every presidential election since. He cast his twentieth presidential ballot on Tuesday, voting for Harrison. He voted for Harrison's grandnephew in 1840. Mr. Phillips is over one hundred years old.

Oystermen in the harbor of Norwalk, Westport and Southport are complaining with those of Bridgeport and Stamford of the deprivations of oyster pirates on their beds. It is said they are exasperated enough to join in any movement to arm men who will freely use guns and buck shot to protect their property.

The charming article by Mr. John R. Clapin, "A drive through the Connecticut hills," begins in the October number of the American Magazine, will be continued in the next number; and, both in text and illustrations, will exhibit delightful glimpses of the romantic scenery which helps to make poetical "the land of steady habits."

The Young Men's Christian Association has arranged for a course of five entertainments which it offers to the public for one dollar. The extremely low price places it within the reach of everybody, and the talent and popularity of the entertainments is vouchsafed for as strictly A. 1. The opening concert by the Harvard Male Quartette, assisted by Miss Susie Drew, will be given on next Monday evening, November 19th.

As a result of Harrison's election, Sanford and Son's carpet mills at Amsterdam, N. Y., started up Monday on full time for an unlimited period. These mills have not been running since the late election last December. They employ over 2,000 hands. The knitting mills are making preparations to soon run on full time. The business outlook is bright.

Boom! boom! business boom! Listen to the rattle of the spindles and the loom! Listen to the music when the wheels go round! Freighting raw material from prisons to the ground. Making each American wilderness to bloom. Business, business, business boom.

A Port Chester minister is to preach a sermon on "Is Hell a Myth?" Since the election a goodly number of democrats in office assert that it is a stern reality.

The grand jury in their presentment at Philadelphia the other day, certified to the efficiency of high license as a curb to drinking and disorderly conduct. In October, 1887, under the high license law, which then curbed the city, the average inmates committed for vagrancy and drunkenness was 1,180, in October this year it was 862. It is a fact that high restrictive license always decreases arrests.

Miss Emma Hannigan, formerly of Norwalk, was married in Brooklyn on Wednesday at the residence of Mr. C. C. Luckey, 397 Flatbush avenue, to Mr. Jos. Rutter, of that city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Adams, of the Sands street M. E. church. The bridesmaid was Miss Annie G. Collins, formerly of Norwalk, now of Danbury; groomsmen, Charles C. Luckey. The affair was attended by a number of Norwalk friends who report it a felicitous event.

The New York Sun explains that Amos Cummings and Truman Merriman drop out of congress simply because they are unable or unwilling to pay the price of a renomination. "It takes thousands of dollars," says the Sun, "to run for congress in any district in this city. No man who has not money himself, or who cannot command it through friends, can think of being elected." And said it, but too true, that about the same condition of things seems to exist about everywhere outside the solid south.

Several workmen were injured by a falling scaffolding at the top of a three story building at Stamford Saturday. Builders' safety there was great carelessness in erecting the scaffolding. There were on it at the time, Stephen Willetts of New Canaan, the contractor for the work, and five workmen—Stephen B. Jones, John Mead, and three others were more or less injured. Every one of several ribs crushed and will die. The injuries of the two Italians will also probably prove fatal. McGinness was hurt in various parts of the body, but will probably recover. Contractor Willetts was much bruised and cut.

William Doyle, who so ferociously assailed Judge of Police John Lockwood last week, and whom John laid out with his club, was taken to Bridgeport jail on Tuesday in default of $200 bonds to await trial in the February term of the superior court. It will be remembered that the assault was attempted in front of the GAZETTE building, while the republican marching club was starting out to the music of drum corps. On the way to jail the chief good-naturedly, but with a serious expression, said to the prisoner: "See here, Doyle, I don't care anything about your getting the drum corps out so you could thrash me to lively music, but I don't think it right to beat me with the bill for more than I owe. I can do my own drumming, as you found out." Doyle implored Lockwood not to mock his misery, and the couple went to the jail in silence.

WESTPORT. Mr. Platt Bennett, of Compo, is reported as dangerously ill. The ladies of Christ church have decided to hold a fair at the church parlors in December.

Mr. William Wood, aged 80, who came to this town in 1828, is quite ill at his residence. He was unable to go to the polls Tuesday.

A number of ladies from both Episcopal churches will attend the monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Methodist church on Thursday afternoon.

Albert Faber, who has for a long time been studying law with ex Congressman Levi Warner, of Norwalk, has been appointed to a position in the New York county house.

After hearing of that 15,000 plurality in favor of Harrison in New York City, the light was taken on the east side, but left the two poles, which had supported it, standing naked and alone.

The proposition made in this column to start a movement to ask congress for an appropriation to deepen the canal through Great Marsh meets with favor, and can be made a success if prompt measures at the right time be taken.

The remains of Wesley Lyon, who died Thursday in his 60th year in New York, were brought here Saturday and buried in Willow Brook cemetery. Deceased was a lawyer formerly residing in Westport. He was a graduate of Yale and married the daughter of E. A. Williams. He had been a citizen of New York about twelve years.

One former resident of the town, W. L. Douglas, of Washington, D. C., came here to vote last week. He put in a ballot for Harrison, and was not challenged as he had been a resident of New York.

It is rumored that an application to the superior court for an order to open the polling boxes for a recount of the state tickets cast Tuesday has been successful, and that the work will be done this week. While it is conceded the count was correctly made Tuesday, the issue prevails among ardent democrats that the counters in tallying tickets forgot to package up either 28 or 32 democratic tickets in those of the republican side, thus giving the election of congressman to Miles instead of Seymour. Republicans are willing a recount should be made, confident that the closest examination of ballots and tallies will not change the result as declared by the tallying.

The wealthy Saugaugus lady reading in the N. Y. Times, during a month before election, of the offers of men all over to bet large sums on Cleveland, and that no taking could be found, became disgusted. Having strong republican proclivities she addressed the Times, stating that she had $5,000 in 7 per cent government bonds with which she stood ready to cover a like amount from any person the paper chose to designate or send, that General Harrison would be the next president. The Times did not print the letter, nor did it send any of its boasted wealth riskers to meet the lady. A brother of hers in New Haven, hearing of the incident, indignantly wrote that he would back her against the Times with $20,000 additional.

The street parade this Monday evening by the republicans was a splendid affair. Heine's band, of South Norwalk, and a club from that city were in line. Fully 60 citizens, some of them full bodied democrats, swelled the ranks. It was escorted by Mr. H. H. Staples, who voted for president in 1824, Capt. H. P. Burr, Gen. Charles Olmstead, Senator E. J. Hill and others. George B. Smith, leader of the Saugaugus contingent, rode a horse the whole distance. Among those whose dwellings or places of business were illuminated by the electric light were, Westport, Mr. W. C. Staples, St. Paul's High School, Capt. W. C. Staples, Edward H. Nash, J. C. Jones, F. H. Nash, while the houses of Capt. F. H. Burr, James Jessup and D. L. Woodworth were spoken of as the most elegantly and appropriately decorated and illuminated of any seen on the line.

Mr. Walter Nichols, manager of the Long Beach beach resort, near Bridgeport, has signified his intention of using the New York World on account of a sensational Bridgeport dispatch published in that paper on Sunday, Nov. 4th, regarding the marriage of Miss Carrie Nichols to Mr. Louis B. Crane, of New York, which, according to the dispatch took place at two o'clock in the morning and which was alleged to have been written up in a way that compromised not only the contracting parties, but the relatives of Miss Nichols, including Mr. Walter Nichols who is to bring the suit. The dispatch in question states that the young couple first met last summer at Meadows End, near Milford, on the sea shore, whereas so far from this being the case, both Miss Crane, along with her other sisters, and Mr. Crane and his brother John, all been regular winter and summer guests at the popular Warner House in Canaan, Litchfield county for several years past, where the pair became acquainted a number of seasons ago. Mr. Nichols says to the Bridgeport Post: "I propose to ascertain if the law will allow these special correspondents to attack the reputation and social standing of people in this city and cause them trouble and loss of friends for the sake of a few paltry dollars which the correspondent may get out of any sensational story which he may maliciously write up."

SOUTH-NORWALK. The most notable and attractive decoration made on the night of the rejoicing in South Norwalk, none were more elaborate and appropriate than that in front of the residence of Joseph Scribner in Cross street, where amid the illumination and star spangled banners, that venerable old man, who has lived long and rejoicing in the great republican victory.

An earnest and enthusiastic Gospel temperance meeting was held on Sunday afternoon, at Temple of Honor Hall, receiving the memories and good results of the old reform club. As no active measures have been made to reclaim the inebriate, since its dissolution.

There are men anxiously waiting for the 27th, of November to come, when Forman Dunsmuir's commission expires. No man appointed however expects to hold the office more than 3 or 4 months under the republican administration.

NEW-CANAAN. Election came and gone, and there are, as the result of it, no broken heads or hearts.

Sylvester Wood, a shoemaker in this town, recently employed by Frank Ayres, was struck and killed by the lightning express at Stamford Thursday.

Mr. Martha A. Raymond, wife of Mr. Arza Raymond, agent for Adams Express company in this village, received injuries by a fall from a wagon while en route Monday evening, the 5th inst. Deceased was a member of the M. E. church, from which she remains were borne to their last resting place on Thursday. She was held in the highest esteem by all who knew her, and her husband has the sympathy of the entire community.

Dr. Clarence Brownson made a gallant bid for the democratic ticket for the legislature. He came within a dozen votes of snatching the prize from one of the most popular candidates the republicans had in their power to nominate.

For the first time in sixty years New Canaan will have a representative in the senate at Hartford. Mr. Benjamin P. Mead is the honored candidate, a republican in politics, but having got together with more than a hundred majority to spare. Mr. Mead has already served in this town in several offices, and represented it ably in the Assembly, and to every position he has brought the calmness, dignity and bearing of a statesman, but to add to the effects of his long and successful career, respected by all parties, and a good square man.

Those having any business with the First National Bank are familiar with the tall figure and ruddy countenance of the bookkeeper, Mr. Andrew Jones. He it is that the republican ticket, Mr. Jones is a quiet man, but when he opens his mouth he says something. He has already been tried as town clerk for a good many years, is a Grand Army man with scars, and we all like him.

There was no disorder on election day. Of a total poll of 656, 613 votes were cast. Mr. P. Purdy acted as moderator. The prohibitions voted for were, respectively, 28 and 32. Their respective ticket secured 21 votes, and their nominee for the senate less than that. Some of the prohibitions scratched their representative, voting for the democratic nominee, and quite a number went to democratic headquarters to get returns.

Mr. H. B. Rogers, of the firm of H. B. Rogers & Co., and Mr. Edwin Hoyt, eldest son of Mr. Edwin Hoyt, of Stephen Hoyt's Sons, were married at the residence of the bride's parents on Thursday afternoon, at half-past four, by Rev. F. E. Hopkins. The bride wore a complete and beautiful bridal costume. There were over a hundred guests in attendance, including many of the friends and society of both of Norwalk. The families of both the contracting parties were also fully represented. A very large number of presents, expressive of the esteem in which the bride and groom are held, and indicative of the taste and culture of those who presented them, were displayed. A hour and a half of the most beautiful music, after which Mr. Rogers and his beautiful wife bade adieu for a wedding journey. An orchestra furnished excellent music throughout the evening. The arrangements throughout were in perfect taste.

There was some little attempt at bluff on election day, but when it was discovered that two can sometimes read as well as one, there was a confidence. Mr. Calvin E. Brice must think New Canaan a very important place. Telegrams bearing his signature were displayed as early as 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, declaring that New York was all right. But, of course, Brice did this, and the best is too poor for us.

Republicans depended on the telephone for election returns, and, as usual, they found that they had no returns. The argument is that you can get the least out of it when you want it most.

Next Tuesday evening (it will be last night when this is read) there is to be a funeral at Raymond's Hall. The deceased is the republican party, whose virtues will be extolled, and whose vices will be held up as a warning to future generations. After which will be a chance to see the features of the beloved G. O. P., and presto! see how much life there is in it even now. Then there is to be a wake, and all of every party are invited. Tables will be spread and loaded bountifully, and a brass band will do its level best. The American eagle will scream for Liberty, Liberty and protection. The Press parrot will shake its feathers, scratch its peck, but shake the eagle's eye, remember the 6th of November, and swallow its chestnut. Bonfires will cast a lurid glare upon these rural scenes, and we shall all feel young again.

REDDING. Thursday forenoon Noah Lee and his housekeeper were prosecuted by Mr. Burke, prosecuting attorney, before Justice Duncombs for selling liquor last Sunday. Both parties were convicted. Lee was fined one dollar, and the housekeeper was fined about $28, which was paid, and Mr. Lee about $90, in default of which he was taken to Danbury jail.

Victim of His Wife's Extravagance. "Seems to me that you are always wanting money," Mary Jones said to her 75 cents yesterday. "Do you think I am a gold mine? Here's a quarter." "Up town an hour later." "What's that?" "That's the name of the man I've got to get that you won't. Put up, gentlemen, or shut up. Money talks."—Chicago Tribune.

Opportunity for Ladies. Many of the lady graduates of the Yale Business College are occupying desirable and good paying positions as bookkeepers. For special reduction for 1888, only $35.00. For full particulars address Yale Business College, New Haven, Conn.

It is a pity that the type writing department in Yale Business College, New Haven, Conn., small cost—individual instruction—best facilities—competent teachers—rapid progress.

Advice to Mothers. The many who give Syrup, for children teething, is the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and has been used for forty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its use is indispensable. It cures the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhea, griping in the bowels and wind-colic. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. Price 25 cents a bottle.

IN THE GREAT SHAFT. RIDING TO THE TOP OF THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT. Queer Sensations While Rising 650 Feet in the Air—Scene from the Upper Landing—Is the Elevator Safe? The Shaft's Movements.

At last word was given that she was shut with a bang, and the conductor, with a glass in his hand, pulled the hand car downward several times in succession. There was a slight tremble or shake as the car was lowered, and then the light of the watchman and the floorman and the square doorway full of light seemed to slip down, until they were lost. The car moved noiselessly and smoothly as it slid up the longest elevator shaft in the world. The shaft, bored and drilled by the hand of man, is 650 feet long, and the light from the incandescent lamps filtered through the glass roof and sides of the car, giving a spotted appearance to the passenger. On either side were the rough, uneven courses of the old masonry, the stones ragged and the crevices widening with regard to uniformity.

LOVE IN OLD AGE. When very old, at eve, while candles flare, ...

JOHN GRANTS WARD. John Grant was in love with his ward. He regarded his condition as a hopeless one.

He was selfish, reserved, reticent, wrapped up in his books, ...

John Grant turned away from the window with a sigh, the troubled look upon his face ...

"Oh, for goodness sake stop poring over these volumes!" she said, ...

"Why so soon?" he guardian asked. "Well, I sort of dismissed him, ...

"But why?" she asked. "Why so soon?" he guardian asked. "Well, I sort of dismissed him, ...
