Doctrinal Independence.

In getting out of the Presbyterian church, Dr. Edward Clark of New York says he cannot endure the tyranny of the General Assembly. "It cannot," he says, "dictate what I shall think and believe, or rather I cannot think and believe what it may dictate." If all followed Dr. Clark's example, we could all believe what we wanted to. Dr. Clark is a brother of President Clark of the Consolidated railroad and used to preach in the old North church, New Haven.

Mr. Maples' Expulsion.

In our hurried narrative of the proceedings before the grand lodge, resulting in the expulsion of Mr. Maples from the order of Free Masons yesterday, our informant was misled in regard to the memorial submitted by Mr. E. J. Hill. Mr. Hill made no plea for or in behalf of Mr. Maples, but confined his argument strictly to a justification of the action of St. John's lodge. Worshipful Master Mead gave Mr. Hill his Master's proxy, so that he could properly appear before the grand lodge in the case. Mr. Mead, in behalf of himself and of St. John's lodge, made a satisfactory apology and both were restored to their former standing. Mr. Maples was much overcome by his expulsion, owing no doubt more to his enfeebled condition than to any feeling of regret for his intemperate assaults on Grand Master Sterling.

Gen. Hawley's Triumph.

Gen. Hawley fought his senatorial fight resolutely and nobly to a finish, as is his wont; made on invitation, a happy, conciliatory address to the assembled legislators and then took the first train for Washington. This is all after the manner and method of "gallant Joe Hawley." That he was criticised by many who voted for him, shows it to have been done with no angry bitterness and should prove of benefit to him, his party and the state. That some of his overzealous friends have been more intense than wise, in their enthusiasm, was natural and to have been expected; but now that the contest has ended in his signal triumph, it is neither good politics or good anything, to cast reproaches upon the one man, who more than any other candidate, made the election of any Republican a possibility.

Entertained Angels Unaware.

Several years ago, there came to the Marvin Brothers' East Norwalk farm two strangers from a far away land who were received and relieved by the principals of that farm. Interesting themselves and others in the welfare of the foreigners the gentlemen named had the pleasure of seeing their Assyrian friends fall into helpful hands in this country.

The following testimony from Urmi, Asia, made to the Archbishop of Canterbury with relation to one of these Persians will gratify several Norwalk people, among them none more so than the Messrs. Marvin:

"Your Grace may confidently assure the authorities of the American church that Mr. Neenan has been a most useful member of the mission. His counsel is often of the greatest weight in our deliberations. There is no one here who could supply the place of Mr. Neenan. The American church and the New York Seminary may be proud of their representative and of his assistance.

The Norwalk (Ct.) GAZETTE has just entered upon its 93d year. Notwithstanding its great age it shows no appearance of decrepitude, but in fact exhibits more youthful fire, vigor and activity with each recurring year. In this particular it but reflects the characteristics of its always wide-awake, enterprising, large hearted and liberal minded conductor—Hon. A. Homer Byington, who by the way is an occasional visitor to Middletown and pleasantly known to some of our people. He is the youngest man of his years in all "the land of steady habits."—Orange County, N. Y., Times.

Flowers For Hawley.

During the session of the Senate yesterday an enormous flower piece, to which the stars and stripes were affixed, was carried into the chamber and set upon the desk of Gen. Hawley. It was contributed by some of his admirers in recognition of his re-election to the Senate.

"Glory To Night."

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Wm. De-Klyn and children and servant girl started out for a sleighride. When near the Armory one runner of the sleigh struck the curb and overturned the sleigh. The occupants were thrown into the street but were not injured. The horse stopped as soon as he saw the mishap. The servant on getting to her feet and shaking the snow from her skirts said "Glory to night" and started for home. The horse was returned to the stable and the sleighride suffered a postponement.

State Bar Association.

A meeting of the State Bar association was held at Hartford Wednesday at which several changes were suggested in the law affecting wills. It was finally decided to recommend the amending of the statutes so as to allow property to be willed to one man for life and then to the surviving heirs at law of any one who had died before him. A motion was also passed to appoint a committee to devise some better method of making up findings of facts on appeals to the supreme court. The general opinion was that now the findings are too much influenced by the law on the matters.

To Make a Shoe.

"The Boston Globe" says that in a pair of fine shoes there are two sewed pieces, two inner soles, two stiffenings, two pieces of steel to give a spring to the instep, two rands, twelve heel pieces, two sole linings, twenty upper pieces, thirty tasks, twelve nails in the heels and twenty buttons, to say nothing of thread, both silk and wax, but the wonder is found in the rapidity with which these multitudinous pieces are combined in a single completed work, for, as an experiment, some shoe factories have from the leather completed a pair of shoes in less than an hour and a half, and, as a test, a single pair of men's shoes have been finished in twenty minutes.

He Kept Warm.

On Tuesday evening there were three parties at the Stamford House, two from Norwalk and one from Port Chester. In one crowd there were nine ladies and one man, and he remarked to Mr. Barlow that he had no difficulty in keeping warm.—Stamford Advocate.

A Good Thing.

In England they have a good thing in the way of an artificial fuel, made into balls as large as a goose egg, and composed of one third coal dust and two-thirds sand and clay. They are said to be just the thing to put on a hot fire as they become red hot and retain the heat for a long time. They are especially useful in keeping the house warm at night, and a few of them thoroughly heated and put in a brazier will take the chill off a room.

Prizes for Good Butter.

The meeting of the Dairymen's Association closed in Hartford, yesterday. Among the prizes awarded for good butter were the following: Creamery butter, Clover Farm Creamery, Redding, 100 points, $22.64, made by separator process; Ellington Creamery, 98 points, $19.81, made by the Culey process; Green's Farms Creamery, Westport, 97 points, $18.40; East Granby Creamery, 94 points, $14.50.

Scarlet Fever.

At the meeting of the Hartford Medical society the other night many cases of scarlet fever were cited where the parents had been instrumental in spreading the disease by letting out the children too early. Mild cases may spread the disease as well as severe ones and may cause the very worst attacks of the fever. It was generally agreed that the shortest time in which it was safe to let a scarlet fever patient out was six weeks. Anything less was sure to spread the contagion to others. A child should not be admitted to school in less than six weeks after being attacked.

For Shame!

William McGurrahan is considerably cast down by his defeat in the Senate yesterday. The case with which his bill passed that body last session and the pledges which had been made to him of support in the present emergency had led him to believe that the bill would be passed without difficulty. Some of the pledges, however, were not kept, and once more the aged claimant is back where he began. He said yesterday that he did not know whether he would make another effort—the first note of discouragement he has uttered in twenty-five years.—Washington Post.

A Smart Girl.

The Lewiston (Me.) Journal quotes what a sixteen-year-old Maine girl says about young men. "Why," she asks, "do the young men of Edgemoor do so much loafing? Go to work! Push ahead! I am but a young girl; I have clothed myself and got money in the bank, and only sixteen years old. I lay up more money every year of my life than any boy or young man within a radius of three miles of my home. When they get a dollar they go to a dance and go home a dollar out. My father is able to support me but I choose to support myself. I advise all girls to cut clear of those loafing boys. Give them a wide berth and never marry a man unless he is able to support you. And never put your arm through the handle of a rum jug."

Legislative.

At a caucus of Democratic senators and representatives of Fairfield county, held yesterday afternoon, Howard J. Curtis of Stratford was nominated for judge of the court of common pleas, civil side; Patrick Kane for deputy judge and J. B. Klein for prosecuting attorney of the Bridgeport city court; James E. Walsh for judge and John F. Cuff for clerk of the Danbury city court, and Galen A. Carter, Jr., for prosecuting attorney of the Stamford Borough court.

The House was in session about one-half hour and adjourned to Tuesday, January 24, at 11 o'clock a. m. The members reconsidered their former action in passing the bill repealing the law of 1889, under which the comptroller now furnishes members railroad commutation tickets, and concurred with the Senate in referring the bill to the committee on railroads.

A bill was ordered and referred to the committee on education which provides for the repeal of an important law passed in 1889. The law makes the secretary of the state board of education ex-officio a member of all town and district school committees in which the teachers are appointed by the state board of education.

Among the bills introduced were the following: The House receded from its former action on the mileage question, passing the resolution to repeal the act of 1889, under a suspension of the rules, and concurred with the Senate in referring the matter to the railroad committee.

Mr. Roche of New Britain introduced a bill for an act to repeal the act of 1889 providing that the secretary of the state board of education shall be ex-officio a member of the school district in which is situated a school whose teachers are appointed by the state board of education and shall have all the powers and duties of the other members of such school committees.

Mr. Muller of New Britain introduced a bill for an act to amend an act so that saloons may open when the polls close on election days.

A petition as bulky as a New York Sunday newspaper was presented from T. M. Crowley and others in favor of an act to protect associations and unions of working-men and persons in their labels, trade marks, etc.

MR MAPLES EXPELLED.

He Is No Longer a Free Mason.

The Grand Lodge Vote Is 122 to 24.

[From Yesterday's New Haven Register.]

The grand lodge of Connecticut of the F. & A. M. had a severe duty to perform this morning and one that the members are not often called on to perform.

This duty was the expulsion of a member, Brainerd W. Maples, the editor and proprietor of the Norwalk Hour. Editor Maples is charged with publishing in his paper "certain defamatory, disrespectful, offensive and scurrilous language concerning the grand master and members of the grand lodge of Connecticut."

The charges were read and in the presence of Mr. Maples testimony was taken. The committee recommended that Mr. Maples be expelled and by vote he was expelled.

This expulsion not only cuts off Mr. Maples from the grand lodge but drives him out of the subordinate lodge. The decision was greeted with very general approval from the members of the grand lodge, most of whom considered that by his condemnatory language in his paper Mr. Maples had well merited the punishment received. He was not a prominent member of the grand lodge, but received the same treatment of any other member. It was held that the grand lodge could not permit such conduct on the part of any member.

The vote on expulsion stood 122 in favor to 24 against.

An expulsion is regarded as a matter of considerable disgrace to the member on trial.

Obituary.

Minnie E. Brady, wife of Elmer Treadwell, died at her home in Bethel, this morning, aged 23 years. Mrs. Treadwell was born in Wilton and was greatly beloved by all who knew her. A daughter three weeks old survives her. She was a daughter of the late Dr. Frank Brady, of Norwalk.

Saved by a Felt Hat.

G. N. Judson, of Woodbury, who is 87 years of age was in Waterbury, the other day. He never wore a pair of glasses in his life, and claims that nothing but wearing a soft drab colored hat for sixty years has saved his eyesight. He married at 20 and has four daughters, all alive and well, the oldest 65 years. Four generations of his family have lived on the place he now occupies, the time being 150 years.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.

George A. Hill's People's theatre company will occupy the boards at the Norwalk Opera House every night with the usual Saturday matinee. On Monday, the opening night, the drama, Vixie or the Lightning Rod Man, will be presented with the young American actress, Miss Alice Kemp, in the leading part. The programme will be changed nightly and theatre going people will have a chance to witness several popular plays during the week.

A Close Call.

Samuel Nash of this place, had a narrow escape from being crushed under the wheels of the modern Juggernaut, the railroad car, last evening. At South Norwalk he attempted to board a moving train on the Danbury section of the Consolidated road, when he slipped and fell to the platform fortunately rolling under an express truck instead of the wheels of the car. He escaped with slight bruises, and it will be some days before he will take a like risk in boarding a moving railroad train.

First Congregational Church.

The annual reports of the officers and committees of the First Congregational church, were given last evening. These reports show that the year just past, has been one of unprecedented prosperity in every department of its Christian work. In addition to wiping out the entire old church debt of $9,100, the aggregate of the various benevolent contributions of the church has been over three thousand dollars, which is $1,000 in excess of any previous year. The church has received new members at every communion and its present membership is now 490. Twenty-six have died since Dr. Noble's pastorate and seven during the past year. A noble work has been done by the ladies in carrying for the sick, 600 calls having been made and sending carriages for the aged and feeble members of the church.

SOUTH NORWALK.

The common council will hold an adjourned meeting this evening.

The W. A. R. Club will meet this evening at the residence of Mr. John A. Smith on Haviland street.

Heine's orchestra of eight pieces has been engaged to furnish music for the masquerade ball of the Ariou Singing Society, to be held at Music Hall, February 13th, 1893.

Mr. R. J. Bell, formerly prescription clerk for Druggist Frank H. Baxter, and now with W. B. Riker Sons' Company of New York City was in town last evening shaking hands with his many friends here.

About twenty young people from this city and a like number from Darien surprised Miss Anne Lockwood at her home in that town last evening. Glover's orchestra furnished music and W. A. Gray promoted. All present thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

The Council will no doubt confirm the nomination of Wheeler as Chief Engineer of the fire department at their meeting to-night, now that certain parties have succeeded in defeating for that office one of the best firemen in the county.

Mr. Walter Hall and a party of friends composed of Misses Margaret Heine, Emilie and Cassie Quintan, Belle and Emma Stubbell and Grace Hadden, and Messrs. Charles Westers, Fred Barthall, Albert Quintan and Henry Oestman, took a sleighride to Stamford last evening. They took supper at the Stamford house.

The members of the South Norwalk Fire Department met last evening in the parlors of the Old Well H. & L. Co., for the purpose of nominating a chief engineer to succeed Samuel Mcowan, whose election the Common Council refused to confirm. The ballot for chief engineer resulted in the choice of John W. Wehle. This caused a vacancy in the office of second assistant, and the department nominated Charles D. Taylor, of the South Norwalk Fire Police for that position. The council will meet to either reject or confirm the election of the two new officers.

A Boston Boy's Eyesight Saved—Perhaps His Life

By Hood's Sarsaparilla—Blood Poisoned by Canker.

Read the following from a grateful mother: "My little boy had Scarlet Fever when 4 years old, and it left him very weak and with blood poisoned with canker. His eyes became so inflamed that his sufferings were intense, and for seven weeks he Could Not Open His Eyes. I took him twice during that time to the Eye and Ear Infirmary on Charles street, but their remedies failed to do him the faintest shadow of good. I commenced giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla and it soon cured him. I have never doubted that it saved his sight, even if not his very life. You may use this testimonial in any way you choose. I am always ready to sound the praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla because of the wonderful good it did my son." ABRIE F. BLACKMAN, 2888 Washington St., Boston, Mass. Get HOOD'S.

HOOD'S PILLS are hand made, and are perfect in composition, proportion and appearance.

Want the McKinley Law.

The New England Tobacco Growers' Association proposes to make a fight to have the existing duty on tobacco retained. The result of the duty imposed by the McKinley law upon the foreign product is a notable vindication of the policy of that beneficent measure in the minds of all Connecticut growers of the weed. The value of the tobacco crop in the New England States increased from $1,400,000 in 1889 to $6,000,000 in 1892. The revenue from imported tobacco last year was $7,000,000 more than the average annual revenue for the preceding five years, thus materially increasing the income of the federal Treasury, besides giving ample protection to an industry engaging the labor of several thousand farmers.

Murder and the Law.

Is this a law abiding country, as we sometimes boast? Statistics gathered by a western paper show that there were 6,792 murders committed in the United States during 1892. There were just 107 executions of murderers by lawful process, and 236 lynchings during the same year.

This seems to indicate that of every hundred murderers only five were adequately punished and that, of these five, only two were punished by the law, the other three being murdered by mobs whose crime was identical with that of their criminal victims. For it must not be forgotten that every lynching is a murder and that every person taking part in one is a murderer, unjustified by law or anything else but his own sense of justice or revenge or hatred.

It seems to be true that "murder will out," for all these murders were discovered. But how much good did that do, when ninety-five out of every hundred murderers escaped unhung?

Fanny Kemble's Death.

To most of the present generation the name of Fanny Kemble is little more than a tradition. She had survived not only her contemporaries upon the stage, but the stage conditions under which the name of Kemble became famous. She had survived also those political and social conditions in America, says the Philadelphia Times, with which her own name was associated and to which she had, in early life, found it so hard to reconcile herself.

Very much might be recalled in this brilliant woman's history, but it seems more appropriate now to recall only the dignity and purity of her womanhood, the richness of her intellectual resources, and the force and earnestness of her character.

It is difficult, at this distance of time, to form a clear estimate of Fanny Kemble's gifts as an actress, though her knowledge of the drama and her skill in its interpretation are known to those who remember her readings. But as a woman, an actress in the great drama of human life, it was her part to make a strong impression in the intellectual history of this country and to leave a name that among educated Americans will be long held in honor.

The Late Gen. Butler.

Gen. Benjamin E. Butler was a lawyer, soldier, and politician; a greater lawyer than any other soldier, and a greater soldier than any other lawyer. His greatness by success, says the Washington Post, but in force of character and intellectual power, in all the elements by which distinction is achieved, one of the truly great men of the country.

In his knowledge of law, in his forensic abilities, in his comprehensive grasp of critical emergencies as shown by his administrative career at New Orleans, in the intensity of his hatred to slavery and treason, in the uncompromising directness of his opinions, in his antagonism to whatever he conceived to be false or fallacious in public policy, in the fervor of his patriotism, in the depth of his sympathies with humanity, albeit of somewhat rugged and uncouth characteristics, he was always a striking and forceful personality, for whom the American people had great admiration, and whom but for the peculiar and heterodox drift of his political beliefs, they would have delighted to honor with the highest honors in their gift.

Unique and original in manner and methods, independent of will beyond most men, incapable of pandering to popular clamor, was nevertheless a thorough American, a loyal lover of his country, one of its bravest defenders, and a citizen whose record will always occupy an honorable place in history.

He may have had faults, but he was not a man of pretenses. He may have made mistakes, but the sincerity of his motives was unimpeachable. He was true to his principles, true to his government, true to his obligations, true to his friends. What better epitaph than this to inscribe upon his memorial tablet? Probably there was no General in the army of whom and with whom President Lincoln was socially more fond and free.

Death of Ex-President Hayes.

Ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes died last Tuesday at his home in Fremont, Ohio, of neuralgia of the heart. When the war broke out Mr. Hayes was a rising young lawyer of Cincinnati. He at once set to work to organize the 23d Ohio, and was mustered in as its Lieut. Colonel. Gen. Wm. S. Rosecrans being the Colonel. To this noted regiment also belonged Gov. McKinley and the late supreme court judge Stanley Matthews. Hayes soon became colonel on the promotion of Rosecrans to a generalship. He was brave, resolute, self-sacrificing and modest and rapidly rose to a Brigadiership and by brevet to be a Major General.

After the war he resumed his law practice in Cincinnati, and was elected to Congress for two or three terms. He then served as Governor for two terms, at the close of which he retired to private life. But his party having been defeated he led it to victory and was elected Governor the third time.

This made him president in 1876. The result was involved in doubt for a time, but so soon as he became convinced that he was really elected he prosecuted his rights with a cool firmness that won him respect everywhere.

The 8 to 7 electoral contest, all remember. The democrats supposing themselves sure of Judge Davis' vote, urged the passage of the Electoral Commission Bill, but Davis was elected a senator and retired from the Supreme court bench and Judge Bradley's vote gave the election to Hayes, and defeated Tilden, to the chagrin of the democracy. Few well informed and candid men ever doubted however but that Hayes and Wheeler had honestly received a majority of the electoral votes.

Mr. Hayes engendered a feeling of bitterness in his own party by reason of his futile attempts to conciliate the south.

Since his retirement from the Presidency he has lived a dignified private life. He was active in his sympathies and aid to the old soldiers and a prominent member of the G. A. R. If not a very great man, he lived and died a pure and unostentatious christian gentleman.

The Other Side.

Anent the interesting Borough Clerk controversy, which has so engaged the public attention, it transpires that it is not because of the apparent contradiction between the Borough charter and the Borough by-law in regard to the method of electing this officer, as has been generally supposed, but the contention is based on the peculiar wording of the resolution by which the election of Mr. Hubbell was presumed to have been carried. The resolve which is in possession of asst. clerk, E. M. Lockwood, is in these words:

"Resolved—That James T. Hubbell be and he hereby is appointed clerk of the Court of Burgesses."

Sec. 3, page 10 of the Borough charter specifically says that the Clerk of the "Borough" shall be chosen by the Burgesses, etc. So that the hair splitting falls on the words "Clerk of the Court of Burgesses," which should have read, the contestants say, "Clerk of the Borough." The intent to elect Mr. Hubbell is clear enough and the power to elect him by the method adopted, seems to be admitted, but on a legal technicality, Messrs. Hurlbutt and Lockwood claim the board failed to execute the powers conferred by the charter by reason of the error in the wording of the resolution. They further assert that no "official" or legal notice has been served on them that their successors have been appointed; that they continue in possession of all the books and records of the Borough appertaining to their clerical duties and that no demand has been made upon them for a delivery of the same to any other party, as clerk or otherwise. This is the position of the old clerks as stated to their standpoint there is enough in it to hinge quite a lawfully contention. The broad, general principle involved, however, is not substantially affected, or changed, that four is a majority over three and can, as the Democratic members of the Borough board believe, they already have chosen Messrs. Hubbell and Weed as Borough Clerk and Assistant Clerk.

Nor will the ethics of the situation be altered in the average popular mind, that few men would want to force themselves up to a dinner table to which they were not invited, and especially where the party raided upon is known to be determinedly hostile to the invasion. Nevertheless we shall see what we shall see.

The Machine in Politics.

The esteemed New York World sent a staff correspondent to Albany to illuminate the Murphy Senatorial affair. Whenever the World wants to be especially powerful and impressive, says the Washington Post, the ordinary regular representative of the paper is temporarily eliminated and a functionary fresh from the "staff" is ordered to take charge of the emergency. In this Albany case, therefore, the "staff" correspondent went to the front.

The conclusion arrived at is that an "oligarchy, not a democracy," is ruling the Empire state just now. The "staff correspondent" says so positively. The whole commonwealth of New York is in the hands of four men—Crocker, McLaughlin, and Murphy, with Senator Hill as the head center. Nobody else has a word to say. These four elect legislatures to suit themselves, carry out bargains and deals, distribute official dividends, and all the rest of it, and the swarming millions of New York gasp and writhe in their relentless gripe. The democrats who voted for Murphy were unwilling but impotent slaves. The only free men in the assembly were the few who voted against Murphy. The "staff correspondent," perched in Albany, ran his eye over things and took in the whole situation at a glance.

It only remains, now, for somebody to tell us how these four men, without any right of life and death over their fellow citizens, without any power save that which the democrats of New York may voluntarily confide to them, have managed, in this free country and in this enlightened age, to overawe and enslave so vast a population.

And, by the way, has it occurred to the many republicans and the few democrats and mugwumps who are so sorely exercised because the two New York Senators are in hostility to the President-elect, that the Senators can imitate the notable example set them by Roscoe Conkling and T. M. Platt and resign their seats in the Senate? But will they do it? Not much! As soon expect our ex-Borough scribes to let go their grip on the Borough clerkship.

A Quiet Day at Lakewood.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Jan. 20.—The departure of Mr. Cleveland for Fremont was the making of a very quiet day at the "Little White House." Mrs. Cleveland went sleigh riding in the morning, taking Miss Ruth with her. In the afternoon she entertained a few friends at the cottage.

Governor vs. State Printer.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 20.—Gov. Pattison and State Printer Meyer have locked horns and a battle royal is on. Some interesting and sensational developments are expected within the next few days, as the Governor is determined to push the investigation to the bottom.

The Democrats Offer Terms.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 20.—The Republican and Populist Houses sat side by side yesterday and all peace measures have been dropped. The Democrats will combine with the Republicans to defeat the Populists on condition that they get a United States Senator.

To Change the Electoral Law.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 20.—The Senate passed the Weiss bill repealing the Miner law providing for the election of Presidential electors by Congressional districts. The bill was at once transmitted to the House, where it will undoubtedly be passed today.

No Hope for National Quarantine.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The advocates of the proposed National Quarantine bill admit that their chances of passing such a bill are now about gone. The New York delegation, under advice from Health Officer Jenkins, started the opposition.

North Dakota Still Trying.

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 20.—Eight ballots for United States Senator were taken in joint session yesterday with no material change. Casey's highest vote was 13. The Democrats and Populists gave John D. Lenton 35 on one ballot.

Off on Her Trial Trip.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 20.—The practice cruiser, Bancroft, left the wharf of the Crescent Iron Works here at 11 o'clock yesterday on her trial trip. The destination of the Bancroft is Newport, where the Government Examining Board will be taken on for the official trip, which will last three days.

Thanked the Judge Who Doomed Him. AUBURN, N. Y., Jan. 20.—Taylor, the colored murderer of a fellow convict, was sentenced yesterday to be electrocuted during the week beginning March 5. He thanked the judge who pronounced his doom.

Didn't Live to Take Gold Cure.

UTICA, N. Y., Jan. 20.—D. Smith, residing at Little Falls, went to Clinton to commence taking the gold cure for drunkenness. He was assigned to a room, but no treatment was given him. Early in the morning his roommate noticed that he was breathing heavily, and called for assistance. Efforts were made to give him reser, but it was without avail, and he died without regaining consciousness.

Vindictive for Susan B. Anthony.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 20.—Susan B. Anthony was won a suit involving $10,000 by the decision of the General Term just handed down. The case was entitled "Susan B. Anthony and another, appellants, vs. the American Glucose Company, respondent." The "another" is Susan's brother, Col. D. R. Anthony. The litigation arose over a controversy caused by the transferring of stock.

A PROMINENT MAN.

ONE OF ALBANY'S ABLEST AND BEST KNOWN CITIZENS.

Some Interesting Inside History in the Life of a Business Man.

He Speaks Strongly and Straight to the Point.

The successes of prominent business men are always of great interest to the people.

So, also, when a well known and honored man is in trouble through illness, not only his friends, but all who know him by reputation, are deeply interested in his welfare.

Mr. Seth E. Parsons is one of the leading business men of Albany, N. Y., and is widely known and highly esteemed as a citizen of sterling integrity, with the energy and force of character characteristic of our American business men.

Seen at his home, 22 Park St., by our paper's representative, he expressed himself in terms of the greatest gratification that he had escaped possibly a most serious nervous difficulty which might have prostrated him.

"I was very nervous," he said, "I could not hold my hands still, especially my left hand; there was an involuntary contraction of the muscles and movement of the fingers."

MR. SETH E. PARSONS.

"My food troubled me very soon after eating. My kidneys and bladder were affected so it was difficult to urinate freely."

"I used the celebrated medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and without being tedious reciting my experience, I can say that these difficulties have left me, and my nerves are quiet, and my food does not distress me."

"I feel without hesitation in saying that I think Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has produced these favorable results."

We have heard of many remarkable cures being effected by this remedy, but when we learn directly and from his own words of its curing a man of Mr. Parsons' prominence and standing, we believe that such a cure should be to all a guarantee of the great curative powers of the remedy and should influence all thinking persons who are suffering from disease to use this truly remarkable medicine. It can be purchased for $1 at any druggist's, and we know it is purely vegetable and harmless.

What gives us most confidence in the remedy is the fact that it is the discovery and prescription of Dr. Greene of 35 West 14th Street, New York, the eminent specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases and that the doctor offers to all sufferers free consultation with him either by calling at his office or writing him.

Will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

Robert Livingston while engaged in felling a tree at Bethel, yesterday, was killed by the tree falling on him. He was about sixty years of age and leaves a wife and a large family.

Says an exchange: Should the cold weather continue a few days navigation will be at a standstill and it bids fair to surpass the famous winter of 1875 when the Sound was frozen solid."

Selectman Daskam takes great pleasure in feeding the sparrows. If you know of any sparrows that are in need of food send them to his office window and they will be provided for.

If sick headache is a misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

The number of letter carriers at the Stamford post office has been reduced from eight carriers to six. The Advocate says: "Those in charge of the local office believe that to make regular and prompt deliveries and cover the territory eight carriers are needed."

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," so they all say, and their husbands say so too!

New Londoners are again kicking because their electric cars go faster than the horse cars used to. It is even said that they object to the speed made by the Thames river as it flows down to the Sound. "O, spirit of Rip Van W."

I have been a great sufferer from catarrh for over ten years; had it very bad, could hardly breathe. Some nights I could not sleep and had to walk the floor. I purchased Ely's Cream Balm and am using it freely; it is working a cure surely. I have advised several friends to use it, and with happy results in every case. It is the medicine above all others for catarrh, and it is worth its weight in gold. I thank God I have found a remedy I can use with safety and that does all that is claimed for it. It is curing my deafness. —B. W. Sperry, Hartford, Conn.

COUGHLIN MAY TELL TALES

One of Dr. Cronin's Slayers to Have a New Trial.

A MASS OF NEW EVIDENCE IS NOW AT HAND

And Many Prominent People May Be Implicated.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—The Supreme Court of the State of Illinois has reversed the case of Daniel Coughlin, the only survivor of the men convicted of the murder of Dr. Cronin, and granted the man sentenced to Joliet for life a new trial.

Coughlin was and is looked upon as the head and front of the conspiracy that resulted in the death of Dr. Cronin. He was a police officer and was recognized as a shrewd, able, taciturn plotter. He is believed to have been the person who directed the actual work of the assassination; but he is not the man who conceived the great conspiracy.

While a majority of the witnesses in the original trial are dead, their evidence still exists as a court record and can be introduced in a new hearing. The Cronin committee has never let up in its work of probing into the sensation and is said to have on hand a large mass of new evidence. This, it is claimed, will involve a number of persons of note not heretofore publicly connected with the murder and the hint is given that others may have to stand trial with Coughlin.

The latter is said to have made overtures to Cronin's friends looking to a "squel" on his part in exchange for assurances of his own safety, and the new trial may develop the biggest sensation yet chronicled in the case.

A GIFT TO YALE.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt to Commemorate Their Son's Memory.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 20.—At a meeting of the corporation of Yale University President Dwight read a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt of New York, tendering the gift of a building for students' rooms to be erected upon the college campus. The building is to be a memorial of their son, William Henry Vanderbilt, who was a member of the present senior class, and who died in May of last year.

The corporation has designated as a site the space on Chapel street between the Art School and Osborne Hall. It was said on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt that the building would be of stone and fireproof, and equipped with every convenience for the comfort and health of the students.

Nominated by the President.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The President sent to the Senate the following nominations:

Elijah W. Halford of Indiana, to be paymaster, with the rank of major. Sidney L. Wilson of the District of Columbia, pension agent at Washington, D. C.

Postmasters—Massachusetts, Mrs. Ida A. Blanchard of Millville; New York, Marvin R. Dennison of Washingtonville; Burt Graves of Middleport; Hawley E. Webster of Brockport, and William V. Nollet of New Rochelle; New Jersey, John L. Derby of Cranford; Pennsylvania, Jacob Alvord of Lykens.

The Struggle in Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 20.—Another ballot for United States Senator was taken yesterday. The result was practically the same as Wednesday. Senator Paddock received 31 votes, a loss of one. Powers, the Populist candidate, made a slight gain, receiving 30 votes. The balance of the Republican and Populist vote went to about 20 different candidates. By agreement the fight will not begin in earnest till next week.

Legislative Bribery in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 20.—Charges of bribery in connection with the election of Stephen M. White as United States Senator have caused a great sensation and the investigation promises to make an ugly row. Bretz, a Populist, says that Kearns agreed to sell his vote to Congressman-elect Cannon.

Burned by Blazing Oil.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Jan. 20.—Mandati Consolva, a Spaniard 43 years of age, was horribly burned at the works of the Morristown Gas Light Company. While carrying a large can of oil he tripped over a wire causing some of the fluid to be thrown against one of the furnaces. In an instant the entire contents of the can were ablaze, burning the man so badly that at All Souls' Hospital, to which he had been removed, it was thought that his injuries might prove fatal.

That's What She Did.
The fair young Chicagoan's hand had been sought, and to some extent found, by a distinguished European nobleman. That she was rich it is hardly necessary to state.

That he was poor but tilted is equally unnecessary of statement.
The girl's father was a simon pure American. He had sized up the nobleman.

At the same time he was fond of his joke.

"Daddy," she said to him in her airy-fairy - Lillian - lakefront manner, "the count has popped the question."

"Has he?" inquired the father with interest. "Well, my dear, we don't want any foreign poppers around here, so you just unpop it and let him slide."

And the noble, patriotic girl let him slide.—Detroit Free Press.

The Angelic Husband.
There are husbands who are pretty. There are husbands who are witty. There are husbands who in public are as smiling as the moon.
There are husbands who are healthy. There are husbands who are wealthy. But the real angelic husband, well—he's never yet been born.

Some for strength of love are noted. Who are really so devoted. That whenever their wives are absent they are lonesome and forlorn.
And while now and then you'll find one who's a fairly good kind one. Yet the real angelic husband—oh! he's never yet been born.

So the woman who is mated To a man who may be rated As "pretty fair," should cherish him forever and a day.

State Y. M. C. A. Convention.

The 27th annual convention of the Y. M. C. A. of Connecticut will be held at New Britain, February 17-19 inst. It will include addresses and papers upon the various phases of association work, besides parlor conferences for business men, pastors, college men and for those interested in district work and in the religious and physical departments.

Worthy of Imitation.

Our Connecticut railway officials can take a useful hint from a recent order issued by the vice president of the great Illinois Central system, in which he commands the employees of that road to at all times give to the public all the information in their possession regarding any accident or delay upon the road. This is a great service to the public and prevents the spreading of idle, exaggerated and sensational rumors.

Norwalk Cats.

It is a no less curious fact than it is an interesting one, that the line of cats so attractively headed the Borough of Norwalk's Safety Vault Calendars, were the property of a Norwalk lady and arranged by her and taken to Photographer Blackman for their pictures in various positions, notably in a lady's work basket. Thrifty Photographer Blackman conceived the idea of taking a copyright of the interesting pictures and sold the same to New York and other parties for quite a large sum, it is reported, and the cats' pictures have been returned to the Norwalk lady owner of the kittens, now residing in Washington, from London, New York and many remote quarters of the United States. The Calendar Adv. certainly ought to draw attention to the Safety vaults in these days of frequent robberies and burglaries.

Consolidated Road.

The new stock issued by the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, the sale of which was effected at the meeting of the board of directors held in New York on Saturday, will be delivered on Wednesday, February 1. There are over 13,000 shares of this new stock, and on the day in question Drexel, Morgan & Co., the New York bankers, will give their checks for $3,393,297.61, and be handed over their new stock. Even with the bigger railroads of the country, very seldom is there effected such a large sale of the securities of the company in one day. Most of this money to be received from this stock sale will be used in wiping out the floating indebtedness assumed in improvements by the company, particularly on the New York and Shore Line divisions.

There is an outstanding bonded indebtedness on the main line of that road of about $2,000,000, a small amount as railroads of the country are bonded. On the leased lines, however, there is a similar cost of indebtedness amounting in the aggregate to about $13,000,000. This amount, however, was incurred before these lines came under the control of the Consolidated road.

It is reported that the block of stock sold by the Consolidated road last Saturday, was for European account. The owners of this stock, Drexel, Morgan & Co., are likely to realize a fine profit when they dispose of it.

Masonic Grand Lodge.

The 104th annual communication of the Masonic Grand Lodge of this state was held in New Haven yesterday.

In the address of the grand master is included the charges against St. John's lodge, No. 6, of Norwalk, a difficulty that has been pending since 1890. The affair relates to a bill of $195.35 that was presented by Old Well lodge to St. John's lodge for supporting a destitute brother. This matter was settled some time ago, an apology having been made by the worshipful master of the lodge, but a member of St. John's lodge is in disfavor for publishing certain articles in relation to the matter.

Editor Maples was present and his case was referred to the committee on jurisprudence, consisting of the following named members: L. A. Lockwood, J. H. Barlow and James McCormick.

Grand Secretary Joseph K. Wheeler submitted his report which showed the five lodge reports the largest membership are as follows: St. John's lodge, No. 4, Hartford, 549 members; St. John's lodge, No. 3, Bridgeport, 540 members; Hiram lodge, No. 1, New Haven, 535 members; Wooster lodge, No. 79, New Haven, 536 members; and Ward lodge, No. 93, Hartford, 439 members.

The returns show the following returns for the year: Whole number initiated, 632; passed, 635; raised, 631; affiliated, 95; reinstated, 35; demitted, 94; struck from the roll for nonpayment of dues, 164; suspended, 5; expelled, 3; died, 238; total number of affiliated master masons, 15,820.

The following grand officers were elected last evening:

Grand master—Samuel Bassett, New Britain.

Deputy grand master—Henry O. Warner, New Milford.

Grand senior warden—James H. Welsh, Danbury.

Grand junior warden—Mark R. Leavenworth, Bridgeport.

“Phware's me galluses, Mary Ann?” said Mike O'Brien of Cobble Hill.

Mary Ann: “Sure I've thim on Nora dear. It's the stoile of our fur hundred set. Oi hev to kape up, don't yez know?”

Mike: “Just be ather handin' thim over, fur Oi've something of more importance than stoile to kape up.”

The many friends of Mrs. J. W. Lines, formerly Mrs. Isaac Church, will be glad to learn that she has returned to Norwalk. Having spent a pleasant year with her son in Toledo, Ohio, she made up her mind that there is no place like Norwalk, and came back again. She is at present with her sister Mrs. Walter J. Fitch on West-port avenue.

An expert in the art of making a coal fire in a grate says the way to do it properly is to put the coal in the grate first, then build a wood fire on top of it. This insures a slow burning fire and a moderate heat.

IN DISGRACE.

B. W. Maples Expelled from the Masonic Order.

The Committee Reports Adversely.

The Committee on Jurisprudence, consisting of L. A. Lockwood, J. H. Barlow and Jas. McCormick, to whom the case of B. W. Maples, of the Hour, was referred at the meeting of the Grand Lodge in New Haven yesterday, brought in a report this morning against Mr. Maples, and recommended his expulsion from Masonry. A vote was taken on the report by the Grand Lodge, and the Committee sustained by a large majority, and Mr. Maples was accordingly expelled.

The Knob Outing Club.

The first promenade concert of the Knob Outing Club was given at the Armory last evening and was without doubt the finest event of the kind ever given in Norwalk. The large Armory floor was filled with merry dancers who with each other in making the evening one of unalloyed pleasure. The Royal Hungarian Band, Alis Aladar leader, was stationed in the center of the floor and rendered the finest of dance music, while the Wheeler & Wilson Band of Bridgeport, Conrad Weidenhammer leader, was stationed at the end of the room and furnished the promenade music. With these two famous organizations on the floor it is needless to say that the Armory constantly rang with the sweetest melody.

Supper was served in the officers' room upstairs from 11 o'clock until the close of the concert, by that prince of caterers, Marcell of New York, who evidently made an extra effort to outdo all former suppers, and how well he succeeded can best be told by those who were fortunate enough to partake of his delicacies.

Never Owned a Horse.

Said E. J. Hill at the Board of Trade meeting in Bridgeport, yesterday:
"I never owned a horse or arrived at the dignity of riding a bicycle, but I have business on the highways. If I want to send a load of lumber to Westport, the size of the load and the speed with which I will get it there depends upon the condition of the roads. Improvements can be better brought about by concerted action than by separate action by the towns."

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Brakeman's Legs Cut Off Close
to His Body.

Michael Lynch the Victim.

Last evening as Samuel Foster was at his home on Wilton avenue, his attention was attracted to cries that seemed to come from near the Catherine street railroad crossing, which is near by. He listened and the cry was repeated. He then proceeded to investigate as to the cause, and found a man lying alongside the railroad tracks.
The man said "turn me over I am freezing to death." Mr. Foster went back to the house and securing a lantern, with his cousin George Foster returned to where the man lay.

On investigation he found that the poor fellow had met with an accident
by falling from Conductor Weiler's train which had passed down the road
a few moments before.

A doctor was secured and the man was placed on it. In lifting him from the snow it was found that both of his legs were separated from his body. He was carried to Mr. Frank Foster's barn near by, and Doctors Huntington and Baldwin summoned.

It was learned that the unfortunate man's name was Michael Lynch, that he was the only son of a widowed mother who lived in New Milford, and that he was engaged as a brakeman.
He said that at the time of the accident he was attempting to climb up the side of the car but that his hands were so numbened with the cold he lost his hold and fell between the cars, the wheels passing over his legs.

Even as he was talking he was so chilled through he did not fully realize the extent of his injuries. He asked the doctor though if he thought his injuries would prove fatal, and on being answered in the affirmative cried out
"Oh what will my poor mother think.
Give her my love," etc.

Dr. Huntington administered a hyperdermic injection to allay the pain and quiet him.

In the meantime on the arrival of the train at the station Lynch was missed by Conductor Weiler, and a brakeman was sent back with a lantern, the train also slowly backing up. It was feared that Lynch had fallen from the train as he was known to have been all right after the train left Winni-pauk. The train was signalled by young Foster and stopped.

The unfortunate man was then placed in the caboose and taken to South Norwalk accompanied by Dr. Huntington and Mr. Foster. He was placed in the baggage room of the Consolidated road and Coroner Burke summoned. There being no chance of his surviving no surgical operation was performed. The victim remarkably enough lived until 5 o'clock this morning when he died. He remained in a semi-conscious state until the last.

His mother has been advised of the terrible accident. The remains were taken to Gregory's morgue.

State Board of Trade.

Nearly seventy-five members of the State Board of Trade assembled at Bridgeport, yesterday, those from Norwalk being Messrs. E. J. Hill and O.
E. Wilson. The meeting was called to order by President J. D. Dewell of New Haven. He then read his annual report in which he referred to the growth of the board during the year and alluded to the reception of the new members. The report of Treasurer Barnes was then read and showed an expenditure during the year of $281.
92, with a balance now on hand of $3.73. The report was accepted.

Messrs. C. B. Ware of New London and F. B. Rice of Waterbury were appointed tellers, and the election of officers was begun. President J. D.
Dewell was renominated, and on motion one ballot was cast for him by the secretary. Mr. Dewell has held the office since the organization of the state board three years ago. He expressed thanks for the honor conferred upon him. He spoke of the importance of the board, and advised all the local boards to co-operate with the state board in advancing the interests of the Nutmeg state.

The following vice-presidents were then elected: C. R. Brothwell of Bridgeport, Frederic Bill of Groton, H. W.
Spencer of Guilford, P. H. Woodward of Hartford, R. O. Cheney of Manchester, John McGinley of New London, E. J. Hill of Norwalk, H. H. Gallup of Norwich, T. H. McKenzie of Southampton, F. M. Raymond, T. C.
Richards of Winsted, C. H. Nettleton of Birmingham, J. R. Buckland of Mystic Valley, N. C. Downs of Stamford and J. M. Bailey of Danbury.

Among the subjects discussed were a bill for regulating itinerant vendors;
the question of interchangeable millage tickets; the question of a permanent census bureau.

The report of the committee on the improvement of roads was read. The committee has held several meetings and appointed a sub-committee, which conferred with Judge H. C. Robinson, and drew up a bill which they presented to the board for adoption. They recommended that a committee of five be appointed to present the bill to the Legislature, advocate its passage, and secure an appropriation to carry out its provisions.

The bill provides for the appointment of a highway commission of three members who shall virtually have entire charge of the roads of the state. The report was accepted and a motion for the adoption of the recommendation made.

The matter was discussed by P. H.
Woodward of Hartford, who said that the bill would revolutionize the system of caring for the roads which for years have been under the care of the towns.
"The expenses would be too heavy for the smaller and poorer towns." He said: "The increase of boards and offices tended to take the power out of the hands of the people. Such commissions are houses of refuge for de-cayed politicians and it is they who fill them. The only object of the men who fill them often is to perpetuate their own offices and the less of them we have the better."

E. J. Hill of Norwalk said: "The condition of a road is determined by the worst spot in it. The roads should be improved by the state. A bill is to be introduced to give each town not more than $10,000, to be used on highways, if the town will expend a like amount. This will give a great sum to the selectmen to do with as they please and the chances of corruption are great. The good roads are bound to come, and they might better come under the charge of the state. I move to strike out the figures in the bill." The bill provides that the expenses for road improvement should not exceed $150,- 000 in any one year. The amendment was accepted by the committee and the recommendation as amended adopted with but a single vote against it, Mr.

Woodward being the hopeless minority.
A form of petition to the Legislature was then presented by the committee and it was voted that a copy of it be sent to each local board.

The report of the committee on the fortification of Long Island Sound was read, and the committee continued for another year.

The question of the registration of partnerships was next taken up, and after considerable discussion the report was accepted. Mr. E. J. Hill thought it was interfering with private business and opposed the proposed bill.
The following resolution was then passed:

"That the Connecticut state board of trade urge upon the Legislature the adoption of such legislation as will compel the registration of partnerships, and of firms doing business under assumed names and as agents for others."

The sewage and several other questions were brought before the meeting
but no action was taken on them.

The selection of the meeting place for next year was left to the president and secretary. New London will probably be selected.

Took First Prize.

The state board of pharmacy recently analyzed twelve of the most popular medicines in order to see whether they were what they were recommended to be. After two weeks of careful work, they awarded the first prize, a gold medal, to Messrs. A. P. Ordway & Co., proprietors of Sulphur Bitters, it being their opinion the best and only strictly pure blood purifying medicine in the market.—Weekly Chemist.

The Strawberry of the Sea.

"Of all of nature's choicest medicines presented temptingly under the guise of a delicious food none is superior to the common clam, which is found in abundant along our Atlantic coast," said Prof. H. H. Nicholson, of Baltimore, at the Southern yesterday. "The scientists have bestowed upon this succulent bivalve the scandalous name of Venus mercenaria, and the Indians have applied the name quahog to it. But no matter what it may be called, it is first and best of the numerous family to which it belongs, and is one of humanity's boons. Many believe that the clam is tough and indigestible. It is, however, only tough and India-rubbery when man mistreats it. I don't believe that Providence intended clams to be cooked any more than the strawberry. Both are finished products, masterpieces in their respective kingdoms, and should never be put over a fire. The sand clam, however, should be cooked. He should first be stuffed through his siphon with finely minced salt pork; then the shells should be wired together and the clam baked. To eat a few sand clams so prepared will place a lingering joy in the remembrance of an epicure. But the ordinary round clam should not be cooked. His juicy flesh cannot be improved by fire. He makes the best dish in the world, pleasing flavor, nutritious and easily digested.
I tell you the clam is the strawberry of the sea.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Indian Temples Chiseled in Solid Stone.

Mayalipuram, India, is graced with seven of the most remarkable temples in the world, each of these unique places of worship having been fashioned from solid granite boulders. Some idea of their size may be gleaned from the fact that the smallest of the seven is twenty-four feet high, seventeen feet long and twelve feet wide, and is divided into upper and lower stories.

The "Hevava-Goda-Cla," the largest of the seven, is three and one-half stories high, its outlines resembling those of an Atlantic steamship.

The inside of the boulder has been chiseled away until the walls do not exceed eight inches in thickness. The two floors above that of the foundation are each about a foot in thickness, and seem as solid as the rock of ages. The upper stories are reached by a spiral stairway carved from the same piece of granite.

The second largest of these single-stone temples has a portico eleven feet wide and seventeen feet long, ornamented with four crouching lions and two elephants, all carved from the same boulder which goes to make up the main building.—

Pears' Soap

We perspire a pint a day without knowing it;
ought to. If not, there's trouble ahead. The obstructed skin becomes sallow or breaks out in pimples. The trouble goes deeper, but this is trouble enough.

If you use Pears' Soap,
no matter how often, the skin is clean and soft and open and clear.

all sorts of people use it.

FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

What Was Done by Senators and Representatives at Yesterday's Session.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Mr. Pettigrew introduced in the Senate a bill instructing the Secretary of the Treasury not to deliver any of the souvenir coins provided for in the bill passed at the last session until the World's Columbian Exposition shall deliver a good and sufficient bond, conditioned that if for any reason whatever the World's Fair is opened to the public on Sunday the corporation shall pay to the United States the sum of money it shall have received from the sale of the coin, not less than $2,500,000.

Mr. Wolcott (Rep., Col.) gave notice of an amendment to the bill to discontinue the purchase of silver bullion.

Mr. Teller (Rep., Col.) introduced a new bill to submit the McGarrahan claim to the Court of Private Land Claims, and had it referred to the Judiciary Committee. This bill modifies the provisions to which the President objected in the vetoed bill.

Mr. Peffer (Pop., Kan.) resumed and concluded his speech, begun last Monday, in favor of his constitutional amendment to limit the Presidential office to one term.

At the conclusion of Mr. Peffer's speech Mr. Wolcott introduced a joint resolution directing the Postmaster-General to discontinue the sale of the so-called Columbian postage stamps, except where specifically called for.

The rest of the day was occupied in debate on the Anti-Option bill.

The greater part of the day in the House was consumed in filibustering. Mr. Kilgore of Texas, by his dilatory tactics, defeated action on the bill appropriating $100,000 for the erection of a monument to the prison-ships martyrs in Brooklyn, and on the measure for the construction of two revenue cutters for the Pacific coast.

An attempt was made, but failed, to pass the New York and New Jersey Bridge bill.

The National Quarantine bill was the next in order, but its opponents succeeded in staving it off until Saturday.

ABOUT THE WEATHER.

Summary of the Conditions in Various Parts of the Country.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The temperature has fallen 10 to 15 degrees from the lower lakes over the Ohio valley and Tennessee. A warm wave has overspread the Northwest, with a rise of temperature from 20 to 25 degrees from the middle Missouri to the Red River to the North Valleys. The weather continues cold in the South, the line of freezing temperature being traced to the central part of the east Gulf States. Heavy rain has fallen in the south Atlantic States, and snow is reported along the Middle Atlantic and New England coasts. Somewhat colder and generally fair weather is indicated for the Atlantic coast States; in the central valleys the weather will be warmer and fair, except snow in the extreme upper Mississippi Valley.

NATIONAL BOARD OF TRADE.

It Urges Congress to Aid the Nicaragua Canal and the Canal Around Niagara.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The National Board of Trade, by a unanimous vote, adopted resolutions approving of the objects aimed at under the Inter-State Commerce enactment, with the recommendation that it be maintained in the statutes in the interest of the entire community, and favoring certain amendments to the law.

It was voted to instruct the officers of the Board to prepare a memorial to Congress favoring the granting of financial aid to the Nicaragua Canal.

On the subject of a ship canal around Niagara and from the lakes to the sea, the Board adopted resolutions urging Congress to build the canal and to appropriate $100,000 to make a survey.

Given More Than We Asked.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Announcement has been made from an authoritative source that the Council of the Dominion Government, by order agreed upon last Saturday, has determined to withdraw for the season of 1893 all discriminations, tolls or otherwise, respecting vessels, persons, or commerce using the Welland and St. Lawrence canals. This, it was said, is more than this Government had asked.

A Murderer Pardoned.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The President has granted pardon to Charles H. Bullard, convicted of murder in Arkansas and sentenced to be hanged on January 18, 1890, which sentence was afterward commuted to life imprisonment. The physicians say Bullard is dying.

Mr. Blaine's Condition.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Mr. Blaine's physician reports no material change in Mr. Blaine's condition. He was, the doctor said, resting easily. There seemed to be some improvement so far as his physical strength is concerned.

Mourning in Ohio's Capital.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 20.—The State House has been draped in memory of the late ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes. His picture in the Governor's office is veiled in black and above the frame are spread the folds of an American flag, the folds being caught up with white and purple ribbons. In the arches of the rotunda are suspended mottoes—"Ohio's Son," "Ohio's Dead," "Ohio's Loss" and "Ohio Mourns." The rest of the building is elaborately decorated.

Musician Julius Eichberg Dead.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 20.—Julius Eichberg, one of the greatest violin teachers in this country, a well-known musical director and the founder of the Boston Conservatory of Music, died in Boston yesterday, aged 69 years. DEMPSEY TRIAL CLOSING.

Evidence of Witness Gallagher's Bad Character—His Receipt for $25.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 20.—The defence in the Homestead poisoning case was closed yesterday, and today the case will go to the jury. Yesterday the defense produced several witnesses who testified that the reputation of Gallagher, the principal witness for the prosecution, was bad. The defense offered in evidence the receipt given by Gallagher to Dempsey for the $25 which the former claimed had been given to him in payment for placing poison in the food of the non-union workmen. The receipt read as follows: "Received of Hugh F. Dempsey $25, which I will pay 60 days after date."

"The Ghost of Leap Year."

In France there is a peculiar tradition among the peasantry, especially those of the Seine country and of La Chatre, concerning a demon called "The Ghost of Leap Year." It is said that every leap year this peculiar sort of evil demon makes his dread appearance. The creature's sole pleasure is to be displeased with everything and everybody. His shape is not distinguishable in member, joint or limb, but, taken altogether, his hideous and uncanny actions make him a much-dreaded monster. Writers have told the story over and over again, and painters have attempted to sketch his grotesque form on canvas.

One of the best known of "The Demon of Leap Year" is by Maurice Sand, and is described as follows: It is evening; the sun has just set to the west of a waste country covered with marshy bogs and fens full of stagnant water. The clouds are blood-stained by the last rays of the departed day star, and the dark red color is reflected back from the sleeping pools. Out of the depths of one of the darkest of these dark and murky receptacles a marvelous monster has arisen, and is lazily leaning against an old waterworn pile. Before his awful gaze the frightened fishermen fly in unseemly haste, tumbling and falling over each other in their mad desire to get beyond the pale of the blighting demon's eyes. It is an awful sight, even though it is but a shadowy, indistinct form traced on canvas, but still he is the "Ghost of Leap Year" nevertheless.—St. Louis Republic.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS

A Scaly, Itching, Skin Disease with Endless Suffering Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 47) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.
