The Best Yet.

After a year's experience with the single trolley the Norwich Bulletin says that the people would rebel if an attempt was made to remove it unless it could be substituted by something better.

The single trolley is to-day the best all round electric system in use, and yet its advocates do not claim that it is the ideal electric system. In fact they concede that the storage battery will be superior if it can be made as speedy and reliable as the trolley system. The storage battery in its present stage is being worked satisfactorily on some level grades, but it is not recommended by its inventor or manufacturers at present for hilly places. It may be some time before it will be; but when it has to commend it the strength, the speed and the safety of the single trolley system, it will be everywhere accepted, and the overhead trolley will quickly become a thing of the past.

Are the Police Responsible.

Some time ago the GAZETTE called attention to the fact that it was impossible to glean from the police items of news that would not only be valuable in certain cases, but would be legitimate news for the public. At that time the GAZETTE called Chief Dann's attention to the illegal sale of liquor being carried on in the very heart of the Borough, with the result that several colored men were arrested and fined for running and frequenting a gambling resort. Since this raid the police have slept on their hard earned (?) laurels and the violations of the law journey gaily along. A more serious charge now confronts the gaily caroused Chief, however, and that is that the police department is the source of the lying fake dispatches being sent out from Norwalk by a fakir, who, though young in business, proposes to surpass his chum and teacher. On Wednesday the absence of an aged and estimable lady living on Harbor avenue caused her near relatives considerable concern. They made a hurried search without finding her, then reported the matter to the police. Soon after this notification to the police one of the parties in interest was approached by a news fakir for an account of the affair. Having requested the GAZETTE to refrain from publishing the matter a similar request was made of him. Not satisfied with this he hastens to send off the following lying dispatch to the Bridgeport Union.

TOOK POISON AND HID.

Mrs. Skidmore Locked Up Her Sons to Prevent them from Saving Her.

NORWALK, May 31.—Mrs. Mary Skidmore, 75, was found dying in the garret of her house this afternoon. She had taken laudanum. A physician was called and he thinks that, notwithstanding the length of time the drug was in her stomach and her advanced age, she will recover.

Mrs. Skidmore is a widow and lived with her two sons. They awoke this morning to find the door of their room barred from the outside. With difficulty they succeeded in getting out of the room. Then they searched for their mother. A tour of the rooms showed that she was not in the house. As she had been feeble minded for some time they became greatly alarmed for her safety, and immediately notified the police. A search of the city failed to reveal her whereabouts.

This afternoon it was decided to make another search of the house, and upon going to the garret Mrs. Skidmore was found in the throes of death. Antidotes were administered and she was brought back to consciousness. It is supposed that she took the drug while temporarily insane.

It is certainly bad enough to send out from Norwalk faked news, but when it comes to sending out such lying statements about an aged and highly respected lady it is time for all decent people to call a halt. As the parties in interest requested that the publication be withheld and imparted nothing to the fakir the question naturally arises, how did he ascertain the fact that the police were immediately notified, as he states in his telegraphic account published above. We earnestly hope that the police had nothing to do with this uncalculated and unjust dispatch, but if, they did, as rumor says they have in other cases in the past, we hope the Court of Burgesses will take cognizance of the fact and reprimand any one of them guilty of providing fake correspondents with news upon which to base such lying statements as are being continually sent out to the readers of the Connecticut press.

Waterbury Races.

There was a good crowd at the Waterbury races, Thursday. In the 2-45 class it was suspected that Jim, who sold for $7 against $10 for the field in the early part of the race, was being pulled, and later it was the opinion of many that Fannie S. was also being held back.

As a result of this in the fourth heat John Cheeney, Jim's driver, was taken down and Charles Swan substituted. Fannie S.'s driver was warned that if he held his horse again he would be expelled from the track. Then the race went smoother, but there was plenty of excitement. It could not be finished on account of darkness.

In the 2-32 class Bopeep was the winner.

Hurlbutt-Coley.

A fashionable wedding took place Thursday evening at the Church of the Holy Trinity, in Westport. The bride was Miss Cornelia K. Hurlbutt, daughter of Ambrose S. Hurlbutt, of Westport, and the groom was Francis C. Coley, of New Haven.

The bride was attired in a gown of white corded silk, with Valenciennes lace and tulle veil, and carried a bouquet of lilies.

The maid of honor, Miss Laura T. Wood, of Westport, wore pink silk and lace with French lilies.

The bridesmaids were Miss Harriet L. Munson of Albany, N. Y., Miss Charlotte Huntington of Hartford, Miss Flora J. Collette of Port Henry, N. Y., and Miss Helen C. Graham of Newburg, N. Y.

They were dressed in blue chiffon, with field daisies. The ushers were Ambrose B. B. Hewett, New Haven; Samuel C. Morehouse, New Haven; Thomas F. P. Paradise, Stamford; P. W. Corbett, New Haven. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father.

Mr. and Mrs. Coley left on a short wedding tour with the congratulations of hosts of friends. They will return to live in New Haven; to occupy later a home now being built in that city, a gift of the bride's father.

Police Protection Needed.

Miss Baird has an institute for young ladies on Orchard street. For a long time she has been troubled with a lot of hoodlums who congregate in the vicinity of the institution after dark, and use profane language and in other ways make themselves obnoxious. The nuisance assumed such proportions that it became unbearable and Miss Baird sought relief from the police force. An officer was sent down that street, and it had a wholesome effect, and for a time the nuisance was somewhat abated. It soon, however, broke out again, and was even worse than at first. Here is an illustration of their deviltry. Miss Baird had a high board fence erected on the rear of her premises, this week, and even before it was completed the young miscreants had cut holes in it large enough to put their hands through. But they went even further than this on Tuesday evening. The institute consists of three buildings all joined together by covered passageways. On the above evening the first of the three was comparatively deserted although lighted up. One of the hoodlums more daring than the rest climbed up on the piazza roof and gained an entrance to the house and into one of the sleeping rooms, where turning down the coverlets he placed a toy snake in the bed. Not satisfied with this, he went into the hall and strewed wearing apparel about the same, and then made his escape to the outside. It is believed that his identity as well as that of those who were with him is known, and it is not at all unlikely that arrests will follow. It is stated that the young lady when she discovered the snake in her bed was frightened into hysterics and that it was a long time before she could be made to realize that it was nothing but a toy.

Certain it is that Miss Baird has reason for complaint, and Warden Sloan should see that the police give her proper protection from these insults and depredations.

Amusements.

MUSIC HALL.

Music Hall should be crowded next Saturday evening when Mrs. Emma A. Andrews, the well known elocutionist of this city makes her first appearance on the regular stage as an actress. Mrs. Andrews does not lay claim to become a rival of Sarah Bernhardt or any other actress, but desires simply to appear before her many friends and receive their critical attention. She has selected two plays that have a world wide reputation, and the characters she will assume are worthy of any great actress. The Violin Maker is a one act romantic drama strongly resembling the great Italian tragedy Cavalleria Rusticana, which Salvini recently produced in New York city. The Silent System is a one act pantomime comedy, which was originally written for Acres Booth in which she appeared recently at Palmer's Theatre with great success. Mrs. Andrews will assume Miss Booth's original part, and in both plays Mrs. Andrews will have an opportunity of being seen in both comedy and tragic roles. Mr. Charles Leonard Fletcher, the well known stage director, of New York city, will assist Mrs. Andrews by supervising the performance and will play the leading male roles. The performance will be thoroughly mounted as regards scenery and costumes, and it is safe to say that no performance given in Music Hall this season has rivalled this in point of artistic excellence. It will be worth seeing. Seats are now on sale.

OPERA HOUSE.

A farce entitled "Popping the Question," and the operetta "The Seven Old Ladies of Lavender Town," will be presented at the Opera House, next Monday evening, by the Doorkeeper's Circle of the King's Daughters. The entertainment will be given for the benefit of the hospital fund.

At Hartford.

In the House Thursday, Tuttle of East Haven moved that the civil action be reconsidered. His motion prevailed and it was passed.

The Senate resolution approving the lawyers' fees in the quo warranto cases affecting the titles of state officers, which the House had rejected, was recommended and made a matter of conference, Hale and Saxe being named on the conference committee. They insisted on their former action and Coffee was named as member of the final conference committee.

Thirty thousand dollars was appropriated for an insane hospital at the state prison, and $5,000 for experiments in the culture and curing of tobacco at Windsor experiment station.

The House passed the fish propagation act; amending charter of Citizen's Gas-light Co., of Bridgeport; approval of bill for statute on Capitol grounds of Col. Thomas Knowlton; appropriating $100 to carry out the register state oyster vessels and $1,600 to bound natural oyster grounds.

Henry L. Goodwin's bill to enlarge the powers of and authority of the State board of Equalization, which was summarily rejected in the Senate last week, was recommitted. This is the measure, that as is claimed, would affect the N. Y. & N. H. road.

In the Senate, Senator Holden presented an amendment to the anti-pool law which goes into effect July 1. It provides the law shall not apply to any trial or contests of skill, speed or endurance of man, beast, bird or machine for any period of 30 days between May 1 and Nov. 1 and during the progress of improvements prior to trials of speed, etc., upon the enclosed grounds of any incorporated association. This is to favor agricultural fairs. The amendment was ordered printed.

The special acts amending the charters of the Wheeler & Wilson Co. and the D. M. Read Co. were rejected, the wants of these organizations being provided for under the general statutes. The bill providing that employees shall make suitable provision for carrying off the dust where grinding and polishing are done was passed.

The bill establishing a troop of cavalry at Bridgeport was passed. Other matters passed included resolutions incorporating the Warner Bros., of Bridgeport, providing for flags over school houses, placing a tax of $10 on female dogs.

The special committee on the Putnam Memorial Camp will recommend to the committee on appropriations that they appropriate $7,500 for improvements at the camp, in lieu of the $32,000 which it was estimated would be required to effect the improvements recommended by the regular committee.

The House committee on Constitutional Amendments reported favorably a bill providing that future elections of state officers shall be by a plurality vote. It was tabled for calendar.

A bill providing that only tax-payers have the right to vote in town, borough or school meetings on questions involving the borrowing or expenditure of money or laying of taxes, was indefinitely postponed.

A bill which provided for the appointment of a dog warden for each county, and proposed a fine and imprisonment on persons careless enough to allow their dogs to be on the streets after 10 at night until sunrise, was rejected.

Resolutions were passed incorporating the Stamford Gas and Electric company, and appointing H. Stanley Finch deputy judge at the Borough court of Stamford.

In the Senate, bill for punishment of common cheats, passed in the House, was rejected.

Resolution amending the charter of the borough of Stamford so as to provide for a sewerage system was received from the House, passed, and the Senate concurred.

Bill enlarging the scope of savings bank investments was passed.

Danbury's Water Tax.

A peculiar condition of affairs was brought to light Thursday at Danbury, when the water taxes for the last six months became due, it being discovered that there is at present no official in the city who has the legal right to collect them and consequently the citizens cannot pay the tax. According to the amended charter of Danbury, the new city collector is the official who shall receive and account for the city and water taxes, but through an oversight on the part of someone James W. Porter, who was recently appointed to this position, cannot fulfill the duties of the position as his bonds have not yet been accepted. Meanwhile J. Albert Pulling is the collector as a hold-over. But his bond does not provide for his collecting the water taxes and he does not care to assume the responsibility. There is no other official who can collect the water rents and until there is the citizens can keep their money and draw the interest they may be able to get from it.

Patent Office Appointment.

It was stated authoritatively in New Haven, Thursday, that Commissioner of Patents John S. Seymour had appointed Attorney George W. Robinson of that city his private secretary and confidential clerk. Mr. Robinson is well known, having been engaged in newspaper work for several years previous to entering upon the practice of law. During the last two sessions of the general assembly he has reported the proceedings for the Journal and Courier. The announcement of his appointment by Commissioner Seymour has been expected for several days, as it was known by Mr. Robinson's friends that he had been offered and had accepted the position.

Disaster at Woodmont.

It is reported here that a cat boat capsized off Woodmont, seven miles west of New Haven Thursday afternoon, and that three persons were drowned. The boat contained seven men, the report says, four of whom came ashore.

Fell in the Canal.

In Shelton, Thursday, little John Maxwell, aged ten, fell into the canal. His cries were heard, and he was saved by a man named Patrick O'Brien.

Reported Adversely.

The legislative committee on cities and boroughs reported adversely on Thursday, on the petition for charter for the city of Norwalk, and the petitioners were given leave to withdraw.

Began His Work as U. S. Treasurer.

D. N. Morgan, the new United States treasurer, took the oath of office Thursday, and entered upon the discharge of his duties, relieving E. N. Nebeker of Indiana.

Struck in the Leg.

William Ford, a brakeman on the Consolidated road, was injured in a peculiar manner Wednesday night near the chemical works in Fairfield. A west-bound freight exploded a torpedo on the track as he stepped aside. The metal cap of the torpedo blew off and struck him in the left leg, badly injuring him.

Several Norwalk sports were in town Tuesday night endeavoring to make arrangements for a race between Steeb of Norwalk, and an unknown from Stamford. Considerable discussion took place but no match was arranged, the Norwalk sports being a little too timid.—Stamford Advocate.

A New Draw Center.

Selectman Daskam has gone to East Berlin to-day, on a business trip. The draw center on the Washington street bridge at South Norwalk has become inoperative, and all attempts to repair it have been unsatisfactory. Mr. Daskam will probably order a new center from the Berlin Bridge company by whom the bridge was constructed.

Dangerously Scalded.

A three-year-old daughter of Ephraim Dixon, who resides in Middletown, was severely scalded Thursday. Shortly after breakfast the little one began playing in the kitchen where the grandmother was preparing to do some washing. A pail of boiling water was for a moment left on the floor, but that moment was long enough. The little girl stepped backwards into it.

Judgment for Mrs. Barnes.

Thursday, at Bridgeport, Judge F. B. Hall decided the suit of Mrs. Lizzie T. Barnes, against William H. Starr, et al. in which judgment is given for the plaintiff. Mrs. Barnes is the widow of the late Hubbard Barnes, who died leaving an estate valued at over $100,000. She brought suit for the setting aside of the ante-nuptial contract, claiming that there was an agreement between herself and late husband, that it should not be an operative one. The decision gives Mrs. Barnes the life use of $25,000. But the case will not probably end there, as it is understood Mrs. Barnes will put in a further claim. States Attorney Fessenden appeared for the plaintiff, and Brewster, Tweedy & Scott of Danbury and Hurlbutt of Norwalk for the administrators of the estate.

Democracy and the Pension List.

The Republican party wrecked itself upon the Scylla of the force bill. The Democratic party is drifting dangerously near the Charybdis of ingratitude, says the Washington Post. The people frowned upon a measure so vicious and oppressive as Mr. Lodge's bill to drag the ballot box. The same people will rebuke and punish an attack upon the men who saved the Union.

It may be that there are frauds under the pension laws. If so, the old soldiers, the real soldiers, the men who bore the heat and stress and burden of the tragedy, will be the first to denounce and to aid in uprooting them. The derelict, the camp follower, the skulker is as hateful in the brave man's eyes to-day as he was some thirty years ago, when danger was his constant fare and death his never-absent comrade. No man who did his duty honestly, who offered his life upon the altar, who raised against the country's enemy the bulwark of a steadfast heart—no such man as that would countenance an imposture upon the pension laws. If circumstances warrant an inquiry, if it be certain or even reasonably probable that evils exist, then we make bold to say, on behalf of the old soldiers, whether pensioners or not, that they would have that inquiry as searching, as strict, as comprehensive as possible. They do not want to see the nation's gratitude abused. They would not have the noble tatters of the heroes filched for thieves to masquerade and prey in.

But certain Democratic organs, or would-be exponents of the administration, are gradually adopting a tone in this respect which bodes ill for the party's hold upon popular respect and confidence. By slow degrees, but steadily and surely, they are falling into the way of mentioning the pensioners as a class with contemptuous scorn. They are creating or trying to create a habit of disparagement toward the men who made the armies of Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Hancock and Thomas. In their philosophy a pensioner is a parasite, a drone, a leech. Because they suspect an imposition here and there, they take an attitude of aversion and distrust with reference to the whole body of the pensioners, and strive to educate the country's mind to class them all as charlatans and burdens. And we say to the Democrats, as we said to the Republicans, when Mr. Lodge and Mr. Hoar essayed to overthrow the ballot box: Look well to your footsteps as you move!

Public sentiment is not yet ripe—in our opinion it never will be—for a repudiation of the patriots who helped to save the union from destruction. Men are not willing to hear the veterans of the war disposed of with a sneer. The spirit that made heroes then survives in millions of American hearts to-day. It is part of our national life—the fine essence that guarantees our liberties by making us worthy of the sires who won them for us. Let the Democratic party beware of tendencies and leaders who would wake that spirit now. Dead as the Confederacy is in this fair year of '93, it were a hopeful corpse beside the party that would defile the laurels of the re-established Union.

For G. A. R. Veterans.

Decoration day was celebrated everywhere throughout this broad land wherever faithful hearts beat true to the memories of the glorious past. Thousands of Union Veterans, members of the Grand Army of the Republic, marched to the graves of their dead comrades with floral offerings. In thousands of public halls the people assembled to listen to eloquent words commemorative of the imperishable achievements wrought by Union Veterans, living and dead. There were strains of martial music in the air, star-spangled banners were unfurled, and behind many a war-worn battle flag braced and aging survivors of the greatest conflict of modern times marched to beat of drum and trumpet note.

It may cheer the hearts of some of these members of the Grand Army of the Republic, who visited the cemeteries and placed tokens of loving memory on the graves of their former comrades to read the following opinion of the G. A. R. entertained by the Durham, North Carolina, Globe, a representative Southern newspaper:

"A Post of the G. A. R., and that means, when liberally and lucidly translated, Grand Army of Rascals, has been kicked out in New York. The truth of the business is that the Grand Army of the Republic is, and for years has been, a dirty and debauched political procurer; an existence without principle, and a nuisance not amenable to the law. It thrives on corruption and owes its existence to the cool calculation of the wicked conspirators who use sentiment, dishonesty, roguery and crime to perpetuate it. The G. A. R. is an imposition, a fraud and a political prostitute. It sleeps with crime and wickedness. Its membership numbers creatures who never smelled real powder, coffee coolers, camp followers, chicken thieves and God knows what. It is a political institution conceived in sin and used to gratify the financial lust of a decayed, dying and debauched political party known as Republican."

The GAZETTE does not publish this shameless and scandalous attack upon the brave men who form the Grand Army of the Republic for political purposes, but to the end that the loyal and patriotic people of Norwalk may know the true spirit of the section which fought thirty years ago to destroy the Union.

Heir to a Fortune.

Frank Harmon, a poor mechanic with a large family living in Marion near Southington, has just received a notice that his wife has come into a fortune of $700,000 by the death of her brother, a wealthy banker and broker in New York.

Killed at Hartford.

W. E. Mattetell was killed by the east bound express on the New England road at Hartford Tuesday, while walking to his work at Elmwood. He was with his brother, and stepped from the Consolidated road track to escape a train, directly in front of another train.

Memorial Service at Ridgefield.
The Grand Army Memorial service was held at the Catholic church in Ridgefield, Sunday afternoon, and the small edifice was crowded to suffocation. The Rev. Mr. Wing of the Methodist church, who is also the commander of the G. A. R. post there, assisted in the services.

First in Two Years.

The County Commissioners on Monday granted two licenses for the north side of White street, Danbury. Owing to the abuses which formerly existed from the large number of saloons on that side of White street no licenses for a saloon in that location have been issued for the past two years.

Roton Point Opening.

Tuesday was the opening day at Roton Point and fully 2,000 people went down on the two boats, the Lenoir and Northport, which made hourly trips between So. Norwalk and the point. A brass band played selections in the grove, and an orchestra from Norwalk played for the dancing in the pavilion.

Sudden Death.

Mr. John E. Sturges, of Wilton, went to Barnum's circus, at Bridgeport, on Monday, and while in that city was taken with a paralytic stroke. He was taken to his home in an unconscious condition. He failed to recover consciousness and died at early hour this morning. He was about 70 years of age, and leaves a wife.

Broke Her Leg.

Mrs. Walter J. Fitch fell from a back stoop at her home on the Westport road, Monday afternoon, and broke her right leg just above the ankle. After falling she found herself unable to rise and called for help which was responded to by Mr. Charles Gregory, who with his wife assisted Mrs. Fitch into the house and summoned Dr. Walter Hitchcock, who reduced the fracture. Mrs. Fitch is over 72 years of age.

Trouble at the State Prison.

There was considerable trouble with the insane convicts in the state prison Sunday. One of them managed to tear some iron bolts from the walls of his cell and armed himself for fight. Another sharpened the handle of a spoon to use as a weapon. There was much excitement while the trouble lasted, and a general outbreak was entertained. After a good deal of trouble the refractory men were subdued and placed in solitary confinement.

Consecrated.

St. Gabriels church, of New Rochelle was consecrated Sunday morning, by Archbishop Corrigan. The church cost $150,000. Archbishop Corrigan sat on a throne said to have been used several years before Columbus discovered America. Red silk covers on its cushions and its back bears the coat of arms of Spain, embroidered in white. Mrs. Adrian Iselin and her family, whose summer home is in New Rochelle, erected the church as a memorial to the deceased members of the family.

Sunday School Anniversary.

The second anniversary of Grace church Sunday school took place Sunday evening. Prizes were awarded Robert Davis and Mary Hyatt for bringing the largest number of new scholars into the school. The prize banner for the best attendance during the year was again rewarded to Class 8, Mrs. George R. Byington, teacher. The school is in a very prosperous condition, having started two years ago with forty scholars and teachers, it now numbers 179 scholars and 22 teachers.

The Relay Foot Race.

The relay foot race message reached New York at 2:33 Tuesday afternoon, it having taken nine hours and five minutes to run the 76 miles from New Haven. The message was delivered at its destination by Thomas Mallon. General Ketchum did not receive the message as intended. William Hunter of New Haven won the medal for the best time, for five miles, 27 minutes. E. C. Hollander got the second medal. The banner for the best time of two men goes to the New Haven association. Director Cann of the Bridgeport Y. M. C. A. rode the entire distance on his bicycle.

INJUNCTION DISSOLVED.

The Tramway Company Can Lay Its Rails, But Cannot Run Its Cars.

The Case Not Settled Yet.

In the Superior Court this morning Judge Hall dissolved the injunction of the Norwalk Horse Railroad company against the Tramway company, and ordered the Horse Railroad company to change its rails on Wall street, to the northward of their present location.

The two companies must come to some agreement as to the payment of the costs for this removal and the Tramway company can not run its cars through Wall street until an agreement is reached. In case the two companies cannot agree, the judge will decide what amount the Tramway company must pay the Horse Railroad company for the removal of its tracks.

Work was resumed in front of the Opera House at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon and it is expected that the laying of the tracks through Wall street will be completed by Saturday.

Freight Trains Collide.

Early Saturday morning, while two freight trains were trying to make a flying switch in the yard at New Haven, caboose No 21, which was ahead of the engine, bumped into caboose 35, which was in the rear of the preceding train. Both cabooses were badly wrecked, and were taken to the repair shop.

A Crook's Work.

A crook who gives his name as F. G. Maugh was arrested at the depot in Bridgeport Monday evening while picking pockets. He had just relieved L. H. Hindes, a commercial traveller, of $20. He had been working in the crowd for some time, and as he had $150 in bills on his person it was evident that he had been doing a profitable business. He has been following the circus.

Left for Washington.

United States Treasurer Daniel N. Morgan, with his secretary, Charles G. Watson, departed for Washington Tuesday afternoon. Many of their friends were at the train to bid them goodbye.

Mr. Morgan's first duties at Washington will be superintending the count of the money in the treasury. This will take several weeks.

A Bold Robbery.

A bold robbery was committed in East Norwalk last Saturday afternoon. Two negroes entered the fish market of Burr Nash, on Benedict Farm. One of the visitors called Mr. Nash into a rear room for the purpose of looking at the fish. While they were thus engaged the other negro went through the money drawer, taking Mr. Nash's money bag, containing about $15. The men had gone before Mr. Nash discovered his loss. He immediately reported the matter to the police, but as yet no arrests have been made.

Deputy Grand Masters.

J. Tallmadge of Plantsville, Henry N. Wood, Jr., of Waterbury, Alonzo Church of Stamford, Edward B. Strong of Portland, George D. Beebe of East Haddam and William Hillhouse of Willimantic.

Was the Contract Signed?

It is stated that the contract for macadamizing Main street, while fully acquiesced in by the Borough, has not yet been officially signed. To a GAZETTE reporter the senior Mr. Blakeslee of the firm who have the contract for doing the work, this morning said that if such were a fact it was news to him. He said that his son had done all of the business and that he was at present out of town. He thanked the reporter for calling his attention to the matter, and said that he would make an investigation and that everything would probably be satisfactorily adjusted if there should be found to have been the omission made as stated, which he hardly believed would prove to be true. He said that he was under heavy bonds to fill the contract and said that he was doing the work fully up to the specifications. He added, "And you'll have a fine piece of macadam road, when it is finished."

Those who claim to know say that the contract has not been signed.

A Pointer For Warden Sloan.

Warden Leads of Stamford, accompanied by a member of the Court of Burgesses and two policemen took a walk Sunday evening. Incidental to the walk the Warden invited his company into Lee's Silver Dollar saloon. The place was locked, but the Warden took a key out of his pocket, unlocked the door and the party entered. There were several gentlemen present who were engaged in drinking what is alleged to have been lager beer. The proprietor was very affable and offered the Warden the freedom of the place, in return for which the Warden told the proprietor to consider himself under arrest, and then left. They then visited the Grand Union hotel. Here they were not so hospitably welcomed, in fact the proprietor stood up against the door of the basement bar-room and refused the visitors an entrance, and when they sought to gain an entrance by force he resisted. The Warden told him to consider himself under arrest, and stationed an officer outside to apprehend those who might come out of the place. The party then visited other places but without satisfactory results, the news of the raid having spread and the proprietors of places where liquors were alleged to be sold were placed on their guard.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY!

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache,
dizziness, dullness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs.
The nerve system is like a telegraph system,
as will be seen by the accompanying
cut. The little white lines are
the nerves which convey the nerve force from the nerve centers to every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along
the telegraph
wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to regard this fact;
instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause
of the disorders
arising therefrom
they treat the part affected.

Franklin Miles,
M. D., LL. B., the highly celebrated specialist and
student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the latter subject, long since realized the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nerve is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy amply prove.
Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., at special price $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.
Restorative Nerve positively contains no opiates or dangerous drugs.

ONE BANKER'S METHODS.

The Officers of His Bank Were His Wife
Mother and Sister.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The National bank of North Dakota, at Fargo, N. D., and the First National bank of Lakota, of Lakota, N. D., have been closed on orders issued by Mr. Eckles, United States comptroller of the currency. Both of these banks were organized by E. Ashley Mears, who was also the organizer of other national banks and other institutions.

The National Bank of North Dakota at Fargo was organized with a capital stock of $250,000, $114,000 of which appears to have been contributed in cash by eastern investors, while the balance of stock was subscribed to by the various state banks and companies.

His plan appears to have been to make loans to the various institutions subscribing to the stock in amounts which in some cases exceeded the amount of capital stock subscribed to by them. The management of the bank was ostensibly conducted by a board of five directors, consisting most of the time of E. Ashley Mears, Mrs. M. B.
Mears, Mrs. D. C. Mears and Miss L. D.
Mears, respectively the wife, the mother and the sister of the president, and one other director, who was not a member of the Mears family.

Although organized with a capital of $250,000 the deposits of the bank never exceeded $20,000 in amount, a large portion of which was obtained by borrowing money on certificates of deposit at a high rate of interest.

It appears that the National bank of North Dakota, at Fargo, owed the treasury of the United States about $14,000 for money expended by the treasurer in the redemption of the circulating notes of this bank coming into the treasury for redemption.

Mears' policy appears to have been to loan out the capital of the bank, and any deposit he could secure, on mortgages on chattels and real estate, the loans being made at ruinously high rates of interest.
These loans were made chiefly through the smaller banks and institutions and afterwards rediscounted for them by the Fargo bank.

Threatened to Duck the Bishop.
OMAHA, Neb., May 30.—Bishop Bonacum and Father Smith, of Lincoln, went down to Palmyra on Saturday to take possession of the church of which Father Corbett is pastor. The bishop suspended Corbett last week and attempted to install Father Smith in his place, but the congregation assembled and refused him possession of the church. Some of them threatened to throw him into the river and he was made to leave town and returned to Lincoln.
On Sunday Father Corbett celebrated mass for his people regardless of his suspension.

Cuffed by His Superior Officer.
VIENNA, May 30.—While inspecting the German Hussars, a crack Austrian regiment, on the parade grounds of the main barracks Colonel Smzesahy was angered by the clumsiness of a non-commissioned officer. He called the officer to him and with an oath gave him a box on the ear.
Upon returning, flushed and weeping, to his men, the officer took a carbine and shot himself in the head, dying on the parade ground. It is reported this evening that Emperor Franz Joseph has ordered the arrest of Colonel Smzesahy.

An Alleged Embezzler Held.
NEW YORK, May 30.—John H. Carmencke, of 412 West Twenty-third street,
was held in the Tombs police court charged by O. S. Cohenfeld with embezzling $1,500. Cohenfeld runs a newspaper advertising business, where Carmencke was employed as bookkeeper. Carmencke asserts that his seeming deficiencies are caused by mistakes only. Carmencke was held in $2,500 bond to await further examination.

A Verdict for the Children.
HARTFORD, Conn., May 27.—The jury in the contested will of James S. Barber, of Brook Brook, brought in a verdict for the appellants. The case has been on trial six weeks and $100,000 is involved. Mr. Barber left one-third of his estate to his wife, who has his junior by forty years; $5,000
each to various societies and corporations, and only $1,000 each to his two little children, claiming to believe that they were not his.

Why Young Milburn Suicided.
CHICAGO, May 30.—In the inquest on the body of F. H. Milburn, the son of N. H.
Milburn, the blind chaplain of the United States senate, who killed himself at the Saratoga hotel, the testimony brought out the fact very clearly that the young man had committed suicide because he had despaired of being able to conquer his appetite for liquor.

Mutinous Sailors Arrested.
LEWES, Del., May 30.—The barkentine
Herbert Fuller, Captain Nash, of Harrington, Me., from Philadelphia for Boston, with coal, arrived at the Breakwater Sunday night. Yesterday her crew of six men refused duty. The United States marshal at Baltimore came on and arrested the crew. A new crew from Philadelphia arrived today.

Coroner by His Corner.
HAVRE, May 30.—M. Schob, a coffee merchant, who has been trying for some time to corner coffee, has failed. His liabilities exceed $1,000,000 francs. He has been arrested for fraud in connection with his coffee speculations. Before his failure he was supposed to be a millionaire several times over.

A Dangerous Cravasse.
ARKANSAS CITY, Ark., May 30.—A crav-asse occurred on the levee in the Mississippi river, fourteen miles above this city.
The gap is now 200 feet wide and fourteen feet deep and is rapidly enlarging. It is feared that great destruction will follow.

Cholera in Marseilles.
WASHINGTON, May 30.—The surgeon general of the marine hospital service has received a cablegram from Surgeon Irwin,
of that bureau, at Marseilles, France,
stating that cholera exists in that city in a limited form.

Winners at Gravesend.
NEW YORK, May 30.—The principal event
yesterday at Gravesend was the seaside
stakes, which was won by the Medie cot.
The winners in the other races were Chesapeake, Diablo, Gold Dollar and Fa Juive.

Killed His Partner.
BURGIN, Ky., May 30.—John Light shot and instantly killed Ephraim Dean. They had been engaged in the grocery business,
and Light accused Dean of swindling him.
The murderer escaped.

A South Carolina Cyclone.
AUGUSTA, Ga., May 30.—A special from Anderson, S. C., says a cyclone struck the county early, doing much damage to crops and farm houses. A heavy rain followed.

"I Recommend Dana's to All!"

Mr. Denon, whose statement follows, has been engaged in the Furniture and House Furnishing business at his place on Dover St. for over 30 years. Read his wonderful statement:

"For the last 3 or 4 years I have been obliged to take a vacation in the Spring. And last March I was feeling unusually miserable.
I was so nervous I could not get to sleep some nights until six o'clock in the morning, and when I did sleep would have horri-medicines, but I procured the Sarsaparilla and PILLS. Before one bottle was gone I unexpectedly found I was receiving great benefit. My wife became reconciled, could eat four square meals a day. I have taken four bottles and can sleep all night and get up as fresh as I did 30 years ago. I also had Varicose Veins on my left leg that were very bad, and they are almost well. I recommend DANA'S SARSAPARILLA and

been greatly benefited. P. M. DENON."

DAVIS' SECOND FUNERAL

The Dead Confederate Leader Laid
to Rest in Hollywood.

RICHMOND FILLED WITH VISITORS.

The Emblems of Mourning Everywhere
Do Not Restrain the Cheers of the Multitude for the Living Representatives of Mr. Davis' Family.

RICHMOND, May 31.—All that is mortal
of Jefferson Davis, for four years the president of the Southern Confederate States of America, today found last resting place in Hollywood cemetery. The city of New Orleans made an earnest effort to retain the body, but the decision of Mrs. Davis turned the scale in favor of Richmond. This friendly contest between the cities as to which should have the privilege of paying this last honor to Mr. Davis began immediately after his death.

Richmond offered to Mrs. Davis absolutely a spot within the city limits for this purpose and any site which she might select as a site for a monument to be erected by the southern people. After long deliberation, her associations of the past with Richmond and the ties of kinship and friendship with her people decided Mrs. Davis in favor of that city.

She came to Richmond in company with Miss Winnie Davis, and, after visiting many parts of the city, decided to place
her husband's remains in Hollywood, where she and her children can rest beside him and permit the monument to be erected at a more prominent point in the city. The citizens have put the section selected in elegant condition and the Ladies' Hollywood Memorial association will keep it in perfect order, while the Lee Camps of Confederate veterans will furnish a constant guard over the spot; as was done in New Orleans.

Immediately following the death of Mr.
Davis there was a movement, accompanied with much enthusiasm, to secure a fund
to erect a fitting monument to his memory.
The movement started in a number of places at the same time and a considerable amount was pledged, but for the lack of a directing hand and an understanding as to the place where it should be erected no further progress was made until the meeting of the United Confederate veterans in New Orleans in April, when the whole matter was placed in the hands of an executive committee of the Jefferson Davis Monument association, with J. Taylor Ellyson, mayor of Richmond, as chairman, and the funds already collected at various points were turned over to that committee.
General John B. Gordon, commander in chief of the United Confederate veterans, appointed a committee from the division in each state to secure contributions, and for the first time the monument movement took permanent shape.

The site selected by Mrs. Davis for the monument and donated by the city of Richmond, occupies the center of Monroe park, a pleasure ground near the center of the most important residential portion of the city. No designs have yet been submitted for the monument, but this will be a subject for discussion at a meeting of the association in this city tomorrow.

The spot in Hollywood selected by Mrs.
Davis for the repose of her husband and family is one of

The Mugwump Dispensation.

One of the astonishing indications of the day, says the Washington Post, is to be found in the effect of the present administration upon the average correspondent. Without reference to the politics of his paper, the average correspondent finds himself impressed with the idea that there is something superior and extraordinary in the atmosphere. This administration impresses him as none other ever did before. If he finds a Cabinet officer inaccessible or uncommunicative or moody, it never occurs to him to complain, as he would have done two years ago. Instinctively he ascribes the situation to noble and exalted causes. It is not that these gentlemen are lazy, or stuck up, or ignorant—as he would cheerfully have suggested before—but that they are so immersed in tremendous and sublimated thought. If things move slowly, he says that it is the fault of the office seekers. When there is an otherwise unaccountable delay in making changes demanded by the country and necessary to its welfare, the average correspondent makes haste to say that, if the politicians would only let the President alone and spare him their vulgar and insistent importunities, there would be no trouble of any sort.

The newspapers reek with the mandarin cackle. All wholesomeness is gone. A fetch has been set up, and the whole world has gone to worshipping. The country went Democratic on the tariff issue, and all the Democratic leaders, from the President down, declared during the campaign that the people were groaning under a curse of spoliation, which they had been appointed by heaven to remove. But, now that the party has control in both branches of Congress as well as in the executive department, and now that there is no reason why the people should be denied relief, it is next door to impossible to find any one who will say that further delay is inexcusable. On the contrary, everybody goes about with his finger on his lips, tiptoeing and begging others to be still, because the administration is immersed in some mysterious and consecrated labor upon which the fate of future cycles and generations hangs.

It is like a strange dream—a phantasm of the summer night. All the rules that once defined selfishness, cowardice, stupidity, bad faith, humbug, and pretense appear to have been set aside. We have nothing left but awe, credulity, and infatuation.

CHILDREN'S BUILDING.

The Home of the Little Folks
Opened at the Fair.

ELECTRICITY BUILDING OPENED.

The Marvelous Exhibition Which Delighted the Eyes of Spectators Last Night—Minnesota and California Buildings Opened Without Formalities.

CHICAGO, June 2.—The home for the little folks at the fair was opened with simple exercises yesterday. The building is under the supervision of Mrs. Bertha Palmer, Mrs. George L. Sullivan, Mrs. L. Brace Statton, Mrs. Solomon Thacher, Jr., and Mrs. W. W. Kimball, and the program was carried out principally by children. Mrs. Palmer made the opening address, in which she stated the necessity for the erection of such a structure. She was followed by a musical program, the participants being children. A number of choruses were sung under the direction of Professor Hartung. A company of children, under the leadership of Miss Huntingdon, gave an interesting drill in the gymnasium on the first floor, after which lunch was served.

The Children's building is a typical kindergarten, and every contrivance imaginable to interest and instruct has been secured. The larger children will be given the benefit of a gymnasium on the first floor, and adjacent rooms have been fitted with cradles and cribs. Visitors at the fair who have children can leave them here. No child under 2 years of age will be admitted. The Japanese commissioners have donated a large number of dolls, and juvenile literature has been furnished by the German commissioners, Illinois donating the book cases. The building was erected at a cost of $45,000. The playground is on the roof, which is furnished with swings and hammocks. A trained corps of nurses will be in constant attendance on the children.

The attendance at the grounds yesterday did not swell to a great extent the grand total for the month of June which is confidently expected by the exposition officials. This is attributed to the inclement weather, the day being liberally endowed with showers. Although it "was an open evening" the crowds did not run the risk of being soaked even for the first glimpse of the beauties of Electricity building, which was thrown open last night.

The day on the whole was quiet, the only incidents worthy of note being the dedication of the Children's building, the opening of the California state building, the display in the Electricity building and the German exhibit in Machinery hall, and Governor Nelson's passive rebuke to the editors of Minnesota for their pranks in dedicating the Minnesota state building.

Minnesota's state building was formally declared open yesterday without further ceremony at a meeting of the full board of commissioners. Governor Nelson and staff, and many prominent citizens of Minnesota had been invited, and the date fixed for the ceremonies. While preparations were being made the Minnesota Press association arrived in Chicago and, unexpectedly appearing at the Minnesota building, dedicated it with a program of their own. The editors then went home, thinking nothing more of their prank. Governor Nelson, who is ex-officio the head of the state board, said that in as much as the editors had taken it upon themselves to dedicate the Minnesota building, he did not approve of another dedication and ordered the arrangements off.

According to the Californians, the dedicating of state buildings is now passe, that to indulge in a ceremonial of this nature is to unconsciously remain in the old rut and combat all innovations. So the men from the Golden state decided to do away with any official functions and open their building without show.

The formal opening of the Electricity building, which had been so long deferred, took place last night. The feature of the display was the unveiling and lighting of the big Edison tower, erected by the General Electric company. This shaft is situated in the exact centre of the building, and represents the highest achievement of the incandescent lamp, reaching a height of about 100 feet. The methods used in construction have resulted in showing a perfect column as though the entire shaft were hewn from one massive block of stone. It springs from the roof of the Colonnade pavilion surrounding the base, and the entire interior is strewn with thousands of incandescent lamps, as many hued as the western sunset.

The colors are arranged by mechanical methods capable of being flashed in harmony with the strains of music. The column is crowned with a well proportioned replica of Edison incandescent lamps formed from a multitude of pieces of prismatic crystals. Upward of 30,000 of these beautiful jewels are strung on a frame and are all lighted from the interior by a large number of incandescent lamps. The effect produced is marvelous and can only be appreciated when seen.

Californians Favor Hawaiian Annexation.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—John L. Stevens, ex-minister to Hawaii, addressed the chamber of commerce of this city yesterday on the subject of Hawaiian affairs and other subjects of interest to the United States. At the close of the address a resolution was adopted favoring the speedy annexation of the islands.

MADRID'S MATCHLESS MATADOR

Spain's Capital Goes Wild Over Lagartijo's Last Appearance.

MADRID, June 2.—Lagartijo, the king of bull fighters and the idol of the Madrid populace, made his last public appearance yesterday. The performance was for his benefit, and besides the fee of 50,000 francs he received half the gate receipts, which were approximately 150,000. More than 14,000 persons were present. Lagartijo was greeted with demonstrations of mad enthusiasm, which were repeated at the death of each bull. All the bulls were from the herds of the Duke of Veragua, who breeds the fiercest fighters in Spain. After Lagartijo had killed six of them he retired amid the wildest cheering.

Towards the close of the fight the audience yelled so loudly as to confuse Lagartijo's assistants and disturb his calculations. The matador, evidently fearing that his last appearance might be marred by a mishap, turned towards the audience, scowled and motioned for silence. As he turned back he slipped and fell. The bull charged, and for a moment stood over his prostrate body. The matadore's assistants distracted the bull, however, by a united attack, and he made his escape.

Lagartijo will pass the rest of his life on his estate at Cordova. Despite his expensive habits and his proverbial generosity he is a millionaire. He made all his money in bull fighting. The route from the bull ring to Lagartijo's house was lined with his admirers standing ten or fifteen deep.

NEW YORK, June 2.—In the custom house investigation Stephen Bassett, Appraiser Cooper's stenographer, swore that the appraiser had, after Secretary Carlisle had ordered an investigation, requested him (Bassett) to swear falsely regarding the giving out of the facts in connection with the charges made of wrong doing in the appraiser's office. Twice Bassett declared he had been requested to thus swear falsely, and on his declining the appraiser threatened to make it hot for him by recommending his dismissal on ground of insubordination.

The Plankinton Bank Suspension.

MILWAUKEE, June 2.—Regarding the suspension of the Plankinton bank of Milwaukee yesterday Cashier Mommson said: "The depositors need not be apprehensive of losing their money. Every dollar will be paid, but it will take a little time, probably not over two weeks. Arrangements have been under way for several days relative to a reorganization of the bank, and it was thought best to suspend temporarily in order to properly adjust matters. The suspension has no significance whatever." The deposits are estimated at a quarter of a million. The bank was organized in 1887 by the late John Plankinton, the millionaire pork packer. The capital stock was $300,000.

Another bet was placed by the princess on the fifth race, and when Chorister came in a good winner it was announced that the princess had won $100 and had presented it to the Catholic Orphan asylum.

AGAINST DR. BRIGGS.

The Appeal Against His Acquittal Sustained.

THE CASE GIVEN TO A COMMITTEE.

Upon the Report of this Committee Will Probably Depend the Question as to Whether the Professor Shall Sever His Connection with the Church.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The fate of Professor Briggs, so far as his connection with the Presbyterian church is concerned, is practically in the hands of a committee of fifteen. On the report of this committee will doubtless rest the decision of the general assembly. It was after 10 o'clock last night when the assembly, by a vote of 375 to 117, decided to sustain the appeal against the decision of the New York presbytery, and an hour later before it was decided to place the matter in the hands of a committee.

It was 8:45 o'clock when the moderator put the question, "Shall the specifications of error be sustained?" and Dr. Roberts, the stated clerk, read the first specification, in substance that the presbytery of New York, on objections made by Dr. Briggs, required the prosecuting committee to amend the amended charges and specifications by striking out charge 4. The specification was declared to be sustained by a vote of 283 to 190.

Specifications 2 to 12, inclusive, under the first ground of appeal, all relating to irregularities in the proceedings of the New York presbytery, were sustained seriatim, some by tally and some merely by viva voce or rising vote.

The second ground of appeal alleged the receiving of improper testimony, and was based upon three specifications. They set up that the defendant should have been sworn; that the statements and matter interpolated by the defendant into the proceedings were admitted to remain; and that the quotations and extracts offered were received as evidence without his having been sworn. On the first specification a division was taken, the result being that the specification was sustained—263 to 185. The others were sustained by viva voce votes.

The third ground of appeal was that of "declining to receive important testimony" with two specifications, that charges 4 and 5 be stricken out, thereby preventing the proving of the charges. These specifications were sustained without a division.

The fourth ground of appeal alleged "manifestation of prejudice in the conduct of the case," and of its six specifications the Briggs men carried two and came within two votes of carrying another.

Specifications 2, 3 and 4, alleging that the presbytery did not try the case on its merits, attempted to terminate it without attaining the ends of discipline and evaded the issue, were sustained by viva voce votes.

Specification 5, alleging that Revs. Francis Brown, Henry M. Field, Thomas S. Hastings, J. Hall McIlvane and Henry Van Dyke, members of the Presbytery, voted to sustain the accused after they had been charged in the appeal with prejudice, was lost by a viva voce vote.

Specification 6 alleged that sundry directors, officers and professors of Union Theological seminary voted to acquit the accused upon each and every specification and charge after they had approved of Dr. Briggs' inaugural address, which contained the most erroneous doctrines.

A viva voce vote was followed by a count, and the stated clerk announced that it stood 238 to 234.

The fifth and last ground of appeal contained "Specifications of error," and it charged "Mistake or injustice in the decision." The specifications charged error in the failure to convict the defendant on competent charges.

The votes on these specifications resulted in a declaration that each and every one had been sustained.

This part of the proceedings having been disposed of, Rev. W. C. Young, of Kentucky, moved that the roll be called and the assembly vote upon the main question, "Shall the appeal be sustained?" which was adopted. The vote was announced at 10:15, as follows: To sustain the appeal, 375; not to sustain, 117.

After the result had been announced Rev. J. T. Smith, of Baltimore, moved the appointment of a committee of fifteen commissioners, of which the Rev. Thomas A. Hoyt, D. D., of Philadelphia, shall be chairman, to bring in an explanatory minute. This was carried. The moderator was authorized to appoint the committee.

The explanation of the action of the assembly as to the action taken by the committee to suspend Dr. Briggs, it is taken upon the judgment of the presbytery of New York—whether it shall be reversed or modified—and what penalty should be imposed against Dr. Briggs, if any. The report of the committee will doubtless provoke some discussion, and with the other important matters still on the docket for consideration promises a continuation of the assembly's sessions until tomorrow night.

THE CASE OF PROFESSOR SMITH.

Lane Theological Seminary Criticized for Retaining Him After His Suspension by the Cincinnati Presbytery—The Assembly Adjourns to Meet Next in Saratoga.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The closing scene in the Briggs case before the Presbyterian General Assembly was not witnessed by so large a crowd as that which listened so attentively to every other feature of the celebrated controversy. In the galleries there were some vacant seats, a noticeable contrast to previous days, when even the aisles were crowded. Many commissioners were absent from the floor, while there was a lonely look about the table, beneath the pulpit, on each side of the central aisle, where the prosecuting committee in the Briggs case and the supporters of the suspended professor had sat during the progress of the trial and previous proceedings. Professor Briggs was not in his seat, and all the other commissioners who had given him their support and counsel had gone with the exception of Professor Francis Brown, who waited to hear the verdict and then left the church.

Drs. Birch and Lampe, of the committee on prosecution, were also absent, Colonel McCook being the only member in his seat. The gallery pew which had been occupied by Mrs. Briggs and her friends was conspicuously vacant for the first time since the assembly met.

The business of the assembly proceeded as usual while waiting the report of the special committee on the Briggs case. The most interesting report was that read by Rev. John Dixon, chairman of the committee on theological seminaries. In reference to Lane seminary the report says: "In the list of professors the assembly finds the name of Rev. Henry P. Smith, D. D., who was in December last suspended by the presbytery of Cincinnati for unsoundness in faith. On Jan. 31, 1893, Professor Smith tendered his resignation to the board because of that suspension. The board declined to receive such resignation, but continued him, by formal action, in the duties of his professorship in the seminary.

"Where a minister is suspended he is suspended from all the functions of his office. Among the most important of such functions is that of training young men for the ministry. However serious the embarrassment to the seminary, the board should have immediately accepted the resignation of Professor Smith, or at least to report him from the discharge of his duties. Loyalty to the church should have compelled them to take such action. But they were further bound so to do by faithfulness to the trust which they have assumed with regard to that seminary. Its charter requires that 'all the professors shall be members of the Presbyterian church in good standing.' The assembly, therefore, is constrained to withhold its approval and commendation of Lane seminary until the board has reconsidered its action in this respect and remedied the error."

The event of the day was, of course, the report on the Briggs case. Rev. Mr. Hoyt, chairman of the committee, before making the report called upon Dr. Baker, chairman of a sub-committee sent to interview Professor Briggs in a spirit of conciliation, to report the result of that interview. Dr. Baker said the committee had hoped that Professor Briggs would say something which might relieve the tension of the present distressing situation. But this hope had not been realized. Professor Briggs stated his irrevocable determination to abide by the declarations made in his address before the assembly in his defense, and to continue to teach the doctrines there avowed. Whereupon, Dr. Baker said, the committee took the action which Mr. Hoyt would now report to the General Assembly.

The report, after reciting the proceedings in the case, proceeds: "This judicatory finds that said final judgment of the presbytery of New York is erroneous and should be, and is hereby reversed; and this General Assembly, sitting as a judicatory in said cause, coming now to enter judgment on said amended charges, finds the appellee, Charles A. Briggs, has uttered, taught and propagated views, doctrines and teachings contrary to the essential doctrine of Holy Scripture and the standards of the said Presbyterian church in the United States of America, and in violation of the ordination vow of said appellee, which said erroneous views and doctrines strike at the vitals of religion and have been industriously spread.

"Wherefore, this General Assembly, sitting as a judicatory in this cause on appeal, does hereby suspend Charles A. Briggs from the office of a minister in the Presbyterian church until such time as he shall give satisfactory evidence of repentance of the violation by him of the said ordination vow."

The report of the committee was adopted, whereupon Rev. Dr. Sprague gave notice that at the proper time a protest would be offered against the finding of the assembly as being too severe a sentence for the offense of the honored scholar named and as tending to restrict the liberty heretofore enjoyed by office bearers in the Presbyterian church.

The protest against the action of the assembly in the case of Professor Briggs received the signatures of sixty-three commissioners, and that against the action upon the inspiration of the Bible about a hundred.

Saratoga, N. Y., was chosen as the place of meeting of the assembly in 1894, the invitation of the First Presbyterian church to hold the session in that church being accepted.

At 9:30 last night the General Assembly, having finished its work, was dissolved. New York, June 2.—The Rev. Charles Augustus Briggs, D. D., returned from Washington last night. The professor and some of his friends intimated that the action in Washington did not end the matter. Something will undoubtedly be done before long to continue the fight. It was learned that Professor Briggs would go right on just as if nothing had happened, and he will be sustained in his action by the board of directors and members of the faculty of Union seminary.

SEVERAL FATALITIES REPORTED.

Houses and Churches Blown Down and People Buried in the Ruins—A Colored Clergyman and His Wife Meet Death by the Storm.

HOPE, Ark., June 2.—A terrific hail, snow, rain and thunder storm passed over here, devastating the country from two to seven miles round about. The home of William Martin, twelve miles from Hope, and all his stock were washed away. At Gunsey, seven miles south, a number of houses were blown down. Several fatalities are reported. Hail fell to the depth of eight inches.

In Howard county County Assessor Stewart and two children were killed in the collapse of their house. Many bridges and trestles along the different railroads have been wrecked, and train service has been abandoned. The entire country is wrecked from two to seven miles southwest. Rain and hail both fell heavily. Judge Gibson's farm house, three miles south, was totally wrecked. At New Leadville a destructive hail storm did great damage to crops and residences and killed a large amount of stock. At Centre Point, Ark., a number of houses and the Baptist church were blown down. A negro was killed in the church. At Nashville a negro's cabin was blown down with a family of four in it, but they escaped without fatal injury. Lightning struck the house of Joseph Stuart, fatally injuring one of his daughters.

ROSEDALE, Miss., June 2.—A cyclone struck this town, and the roar of the wind drowned the cries of the wounded. The scene was awful in its grandeur and beggars description. The killed are W. L. Bowdre (a colored minister) and wife. A large number were wounded.

MILAN, Tenn., June 2.—One of the most disastrous wind and rain storms known for years struck this section and continued throughout the day. The destruction to crops, buildings, etc., will be enormous. The sewers on Main street became obstructed, flooding business houses and converting that thoroughfare into a roaring torrent and sweeping away several bridges. Jack Morgan attempted to ford a stream and was swept away and drowned. While standing in the door of his house Charles Benem was struck by lightning and knocked unconscious, paralyzing his left side.

PADUCAH, June 2.—A severe wind storm struck Paducah and for one hour buildings rocked and cracked as if about to fall and engulf their terrorized occupants. Trees were blown down on every street, and many people fled from their houses and sought refuge in the government building. About fifty business houses and dwellings were damaged. At Brooklyn, Ill., three miles down the river, the damage to boats was disastrous. The Dick-lynde was torn to pieces, part of it sinking and part floating down stream. About twenty barges, mostly loaded with lumber and ties, were torn to pieces and sunk.

The most sensational episode connected with the proceedings of either branch of the General Assembly occurred Wednesday morning. Gunn, Democratic leader of the House, and Healey of Windsor Locks, who may be called assistant leader on the Republican side, were the disputants. The subject of debate was the bill amending the civil procedure code, the text of it being as follows:

"In all cases where the defendant makes default or files a demurrer which is overruled and claims a hearing in damages either party to the action may file claim for an inquest in damages by a jury, and thereupon the question of damages shall be submitted to a jury as in any other civil action."

It was assumed that the object of the proposed act was to give relief to those who had suits against railroad companies or other corporations and whose desire to have a sympathetic jury pass on their grievances was defeated by the familiar method of a demurrer and the consequent transmission to the court of the matter of assessing damages.

People who did not before understand it would have received some light and intelligence from the debate of today. Tuttle and Healey spoke in favor of the bill, and Gunn and Stoddard opposed. The former argued that it was the practice of railroad companies to nominally default when suits were brought against them and thereby defeat the purpose of the jury system. In combating this view Gunn said there could practically be no injustice as a judge would be more likely to fairly assess damages than a jury. About this time out broke the tempest.

"I don't wonder," said Healey, "that the gentleman from Milford talks this way as he is in the employ of railroad and other corporations."

Gunn was on his feet in a second. "I have heard this sort of talk before," said he, "and I assert that the gentleman from Windsor Locks, in making the accusation, is a liar."

Then there was a scene, the members being manifestly disturbed while they awaited developments. Healey was deathly white as he arose from his seat. He said the Milford gentleman was disrespectful to the House and its speaker. "I mean no disrespect," retorted Mr. Gunn, "but I am tired and sick of these accusations and innuendoes about my being here as a representative of corporations. I partly represent Milford and only that. I presume the Windsor Locks gentleman spoke hastily, and I will apologize to this house for my language if he also apologizes and withdraws his offensive remarks."

Mr. Healey declined to retract unless Gunn first retracted. This the latter said he wouldn't do, as he had been the first one aggrieved. There the matter was left, the two gentlemen being left glaring at each other in a parliamentary sense. Mutual friends are confident of bringing them to an amicable understanding. The bill was defeated.

William Hammersly was confirmed as judge of the Supreme court, all the 166 members present voting in the affirmative. The Senate subsequently confirmed the appointment.

The House convened in making the "close session" for black bass from May 1 to June 10.

On an unfavorable report the special bill giving the Bridgeport Police commissioners power to retire superannuated and disabled officers on half pay was rejected. The objects are provided for in a bill already passed. There was also rejected the bill providing that the item "spirituous and intoxicating liquors," when sold to be drunk on the premises, should include all malt and fermented beverages. The bill would apply to cider, and this the members kicked upon. They also rejected the bill that no person not 15 years of age be employed as a driver of a public vehicle under a penalty of $15 a day.

The Senate rejected the House action of last week in cutting down the bill for services in the quo warranto cases, and approved the original bill. On motion of Coffee these bills were approved, and also a bill paying all Democratic officials deprived of their offices.

For the use of the Fish commission $5,000 was appropriated for the propagation of shad.

Pricked by a Bayonet.

Mrs. P. J. Welch complained last evening that her little boy had been stabbed with a bayonet by a member of Co. F, at the rifle range. Capt. Rose investigated the matter and found that while the boy had been slightly pricked with the point of a bayonet it was through his own carelessness. In company with several other lads the Welch boy was playing on the grass near the range. A member of the company had left his musket lying on the ground and as he picked it up the Welch boy ran directly in front of the gun and as he did so stumbled and fell, the fleshy part of one of his legs striking on the point of the bayonet, causing a slight wound.

Look out for Her.

The officers of the Southern New England Telephone Company were informed yesterday that a woman was calling at houses in Hartford and asking leave to examine the telephone. They want it understood that no woman is authorized by the company to do any such work. What she may be at they can only guess, but they know that she does not in any way represent the company, and they want everybody to understand this. A person planning theft might follow just her course. The telephone company's employees all wear badges, and everyone claiming to represent the company who is unable to produce a badge may be set down as an impostor.

Suicide in Bridgeport.

Mrs. William Bull, wife of a former landlord of the Grand Union hotel, Bridgeport, committed suicide Tuesday by taking laudanum. She was found unconscious by a milkman, and though physicians were called it was of no use. She leaves a husband and three children.

Refused to Pay for His Horse.

The House committee on Wednesday reported adversely on the resolution to pay D. G. Honnecker for the loss of the use of his horse, which it was claimed was afflicted with glanders.

Joseph Carpenter has brought a suit against the city of Bridgeport to recover $10,000 damages for injuries sustained by his wife in 1888, by falling into an excavation on one of the streets of that city.

THREE VETERANS.

Commander James S. Dean, Gen. Grant Post, Rondout, N. Y., Quartermaster Wilbur Hale, Pratt Post, Kingston, N. Y., and Dr. David Kennedy.

An Experience That Will Be a Benefit to Many a Soldier, and to Those Depending Upon Them.

When it comes to a matter of health we advise being careful. Do not accept as truth the statement that comes from some man out in an unheard-of place who was cured of some dreadful disease because his name is signed to a newspaper advertisement. This is not sufficient when your health is at stake, but ask: What has this medicine done for people we know? Has any of our friends or neighbors been benefited by its use? There is one remedy, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, that has stood the best test of twenty-five years of acquaintance and is recognized to-day by the medical profession as the only safe and reliable cure for diseases that arise from an excess of lactic acid in the blood.

Dr. Kennedy, who will be remembered by many an old soldier as President of the Examining Board of Surgeons at the discharge of invalid soldiers at the Saterlee, U. S. A., General Hospital, West Philadelphia, Pa., found the need of a medicine that would dissolve the excess of lactic acid in the blood, which is the cause of so many common ailments physicians encounter, kidney, liver and urinary complaint, dyspepsia, rheumatism, inflammation of the glands, scrofula, salt rheum, excessive nervousness and sleeplessness, all of which arises from this one cause. After patient toil and experiment Dr. Kennedy has produced a remedy which is now known the world over.

That it met the want and accomplished the cure of these various diseases is evident by the grateful acknowledgments of thousands of the best citizens of the country. There are few Grand Army men more widely known than Commander James S. Dean of General Grant Post, Rondout, N. Y. In speaking of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, the Commander said:

"I suffered from an aggravated stomach trouble and chronic dyspepsia for years. Various physicians prescribed for me without benefit. After using Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy but one week I felt better, and a little further use completely cured me, and," said Mr. Dean, growing enthusiastic, "if you are going to publish this, tell every man who reads it that it is the greatest medicine on earth, and does what they say. It cures dyspepsia, stomach disorders and builds up a broken down or worn out person, for I am a living testimonial to its merits."

Mr. Wilbur L. Hale, Quartermaster, Pratt Post, G. A. R., Kingston, N. Y., who has made a national reputation on the lecture platform in the delivery of his different lectures on prison life during the war, speaks with as equally forcible words of the good he received from Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. "After I returned from the war," said Mr. Hale, "I had a most horrible case of salt rheum. Doctors gave me up, but Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy healed every sore, strengthened my nerves and built up my weakened constitution. I now enjoy life."

Mr. F. C. Brink of New York, suffering from catarrh of the bladder and chronic kidney complaint for several years and had given up all hopes of ever finding relief, when Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was brought to his notice and by the time he had taken the fourth bottle his old trouble had entirely disappeared.

It is a medicine that cures the people we all know that we pin our faith to, and we can do no better service to persons who may be suffering from any disease mentioned above than to say, do not suffer longer, use Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, for it will cure you as it has others, if taken according to directions.—Utica, N. Y., G. A. R. Journal.

We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. H. B. Hale druggist.

ONWARD TO RICHMOND

Bearing Jefferson Davis' Body to Its Final Resting Place.

MET BY GREAT CROWDS OF PEOPLE

Montgomery Honors the Dead Chieftain by the Greatest Floral Display Ever Seen in Alabama—The Body Lies in State in Montgomery and Atlanta.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 30.—When the train bearing in it the body of Jefferson Davis arrived here yesterday the casket was almost indiscernible under the mass of flowers heaped upon it. One bunch of a few wild flowers had a card attached with the inscription in a woman's hand, "A faithful subject of our southern chieftain." The Confederate monument, the cornerstone of which Mr. Davis laid in the presence of thousands of people April 29, 1886, was elaborately decorated. The floral tributes were the greatest ever seen in Alabama.

As the procession moved from the depot to the capital every window, balcony and sidewalk along the route was thronged. The capital was decorated outside with bayonet plants and magnolias, and inside with a profusion of flowers. The minute guns at the depot fired till the head of the procession turned into the broad avenue leading up to the capital, and then a battery in front of this building opened and kept firing until the procession had reached the front portico. The flags over the capital and on other public buildings were at half mast and the approaches to the building were lined with infantry.

The procession approached in the following order: Mounted police, the governor of Alabama and staff, and then an advanced guard of veterans; then followed the coffin on a caisson with a lofty canopy of purple over it, drawn by six powerful black horses in regular artillery. By the caisson walked the pall bearers, twenty-five or thirty of the most eminent citizens of Alabama. The balance of the procession was made up of Confederate veterans from several southern states, carrying tattered battle flags.

The body was at once taken to the supreme court room, where it lay in state. In the brief time before the departure of the train fully 10,000 people visited the capital, and even after seeing the casket the crowd would not leave the grounds, but stood waiting to see the procession reform and return to the train. The bells of all the churches tolled as the procession moved from the depot to the capital and again on the return. The Confederate generals in the line were Stephen D. Lee and General Ferguson, of Mississippi; Peyton D. Wise, of Richmond; W. W. Allen, G. P. Harrison, and J. H. Lane, the latter the commander of the famous North Carolina Lane's brigade.

GEORGIA'S TRIBUTE.

Escorted to the State Capital by the Governor and Staff.

ATLANTA, May 30.—Governor James and staff accompanied the Davis funeral cortege from Montgomery to the Alabama state line. As the train drew out the infantry saluted and the cannon was fired. The artillery service throughout at Montgomery was excellent. A few miles out the wayside tributes began, volleys being fired as the train passed. All along the line crowds were gathered at the various stations. At West Point the crowd was denser, if possible, than at Opelika. Children had the day here. Every boy and girl had a magnolia or a cape jessamine, which they passed up to the veterans. The ladies handed up more elaborate offerings. At West Point Governor Northen of Georgia and his staff boarded the train and thence a high speed was kept up until reaching Atlanta.

Over five thousand people turned out to witness the ceremonies incident to the arrival here. At the depot several hundred people had gathered. The military and civic societies of the city formed in a line around the depot. Conspicuous in the immense gathering were Confederate veterans, who marched after the remains. A tattered Confederate flag was borne aloft by one of them. Every organization in the city was represented in the pageant, together with state and city officials. It was one of the grandest pageants the city has ever seen. A striking feature of the procession was the presence of a number of Grand Army men.

On a flower garlanded bier within a few feet of the statue of Ben Hill, the unveiling of which was the occasion of his last visit to Atlanta, was gently placed the casket containing the body of Jefferson Davis. The Gate City guards, under Lieutenant White, acted as the escort of honor and drew up about the bier, presenting arms as the casket was borne in by twelve veterans. The doors were then opened to the people, and the rush was tremendous. There were many affecting scenes, one veteran kissing the casket. For an hour and a half the people passed through the capital in two solid lines, and it is estimated that not less than 40,000 saw the casket.

At 7 o'clock the casket was again placed on the caisson, and escorted by the Gate City guard, was taken to the Union depot and again placed in the funeral car. A large crowd was present as the train drew out.

The only stop in South Carolina was made at Greenville during the night. At Greensboro, N. C., a short stop was made early this morning, and Raleigh was reached at noon. Here elaborate preparations had been made, and impressive ceremonies are now in progress at the state capital building, where the body now lies in state. The gathering at Raleigh is from the state at large, and the occasion is being utilized as a reunion of Confederate veterans for perhaps the last time.

The New Surgeon General.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The president has appointed Colonel George M. Sternberg to be surgeon general, United States army, to succeed General Sutherland, retired yesterday. Colonel Sternberg was appointed an assistant surgeon in the army from New York on May 23, 1861, and served with Generals Sykes and Banks, and as medical director of the department of the Gulf during the late war. He was a member of the yellow fever commission that went to Havana in 1879, and a delegate to the international sanitary conference at Rome in 1885. Dr. Sternberg is a member of medical societies at home and abroad, and a writer for scientific journals.

Indicted for Perjury.

TRENTON, N. J., May 30.—The Mercer county grand jury has indicted Lieutenant Edward S. Farrow, of the Barneget Park company, and Hiram T. Downing for perjury in connection with the recent litigation over the Barneget Park property. Detectives are now seeking the men.

THE BRIGGS TRIAL

It Will Probably Lead to the Foundation of a New Theology.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—A cold cheerless rain that fell steadily all day spread a wet blanket of depression over the proceedings of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church yesterday, sitting as a high court for the trial of Charles A. Briggs, D. D., upon the charges contained in the appeal of the prosecution committee from the judgment of acquittal entered by the New York presbytery.

The principal argument for the prosecution was by Rev. Joseph J. Lampe, D. D., who finished after having spoken three hours and a quarter.

Professor Briggs began his answer and defense, to which seven hours had been allotted, and continued it at the evening session. He will conclude it this afternoon, and then Colonel McCook will close for the prosecution. It is scarcely probable that a vote on the question of sustaining the appeal will be reached before tomorrow.

CINCINNATI, May 30.—It is learned from authentic sources that Professor Briggs has been corresponding with E. D. Morris, of Lane seminary, concerning the best method of forming a new church. Dr. Briggs wants to raise the banner of a new theology. Professor Morris has replied to the letter, attempting to discourage the scheme. The movement has not been squelched, however, as it is known that four well known liberal Presbyterians of Cincinnati have gone to Washington with the avowed intention of assisting Dr. Briggs' new church project.

THE ATLANTA AT GREYTOWN.

Our Minister to Nicaragua Has at Last Been Heard From.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—A telegram has at last been received at the navy department announcing the arrival at Greytown, Nicaragua, of the United States steamer Atlanta. Captain Higginson reports that he landed the marines attached to the vessel, but withdrew them subsequently at the suggestion of United States Consul Brada, that there was no danger to American interests. Secretary Gresham says he has heard nothing authentic about a proposition to establish a protectorate over Nicaragua.

For the first time since his departure for his post as minister to Nicaragua Mr. Baker has been heard from officially. Secretary Gresham has received a cablegram from him, sent from Managua. The cable came by way of La Libertad, Salvador. The minister telegraphs that he thinks that a warship is necessary at Corinto. Of course he was ignorant of the fact that the United States steamer Alliance is hastening to that point on the west coast, and is expected to arrive at Corinto tomorrow. He further says that the war between the government and the revolutionists will probably become bitter, as the revolutionists are aggressive and powerful.

Fatal Cyclone in Georgia.

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 30.—A severe cyclone struck North Upstate, demolishing the roof of the railroad bridge. Several houses on the Pope plantation were destroyed, burying the occupants in the ruins, but all miraculously escaped unhurt. Box Springs had a big scare, the cyclone skirting the edge of the town. A number of houses at Juniper were destroyed. At Chandler's Hill a house was blown down and George Barker's wife and daughter are in the ruins.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 30.—Reports from points east of Athens state that a severe cyclonic storm swept that region, and many houses were blown down. At Greenville James Kinsley was killed and his wife badly injured, and in Banks county George Dowdy was killed.

Probably Demented.

PITTSBURGH, May 30.—David R. Jenkins, superintendent of a large tin plate works in Wales, is comfortably quartered at the department of charities' office in this city. He is evidently demented. Last Saturday he landed in New York as a steage passenger on the steamer Campania and purchased a ticket to Pittsburgh. On his arrival here he had but $3 and went to the office of John Jarrett, secretary of the Tin Plate association, where he has remained. He is said to be one of the best authorities on tin plate in the world. He will be cared for.

A Determined Suicide.

NORFOLK, Va., May 30.—A man who had been brought to the county jail on Sunday night masked in his head yesterday with a large iron seal which is kept in the office and is now lying in the Dixie hospital barely alive. He was brought to the jail after an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide by jumping from a tree. The stranger is evidently a fugitive from justice, and when taken to jail pleaded not to be sent back to New York.

Heavy Exports of Gold.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Since January 1 $60,000,000 in gold have been exported to Europe and the export movement, instead of having abated, seems to have received a fresh impetus. Most of this gold was taken from the United States treasury, and practically all that is now being exported comes from the same source.

Killed in a Political Quarrel.

ALBANY, May 30.—Michael Connelly was stabbed to death in a Cohoes saloon by John Casey, the result of a general quarrel over politics. Connelly was a Cleveland man and Casey a Hill supporter. Both were ward heelers. Casey escaped, but subsequently surrendered.

Grateful for Sympathy.

FOSTERIA, O., May 30.—Ex-Secretary Foster has announced that he is physically unable to answer the hundreds of letters and telegrams of sympathy which have poured in upon him, and takes this method of making a general acknowledgment of thanks.

Dr. Graves Again Free.

DENVER, May 30.—Dr. Thatcher Graves, the alleged poisoner of Mrs. Barnaby, of Providence, R. I., was released on $30,000 bail yesterday. A new trial was set for June 14, but it is believed the case will never be called.

Noblemen Arrested for Treason.

VIENNA, May 30.—Twelve young noblemen have been arrested in Baje, peninsula of Istria, for high treason. They are charged with having conspired to separate Trieste from Austria and annex it to Italy.

EULALIE AT WEST POINT

The Nation's Guest Takes a Sail Up the Hudson.

MET BY GENERAL GRANT'S WIDOW.

The Princess Sails from the Metropolis to the Military Academy in the Quickest Time Ever Made on the River by a Steamboat.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Princess Eulalie took a trip up the Hudson to West Point yesterday. The infanta had a levee on the Monmouth as the steamer passed up the Hudson. New York society had turned out in honor of the guest of the nation and the princess. The naval reserve of the state of New York, with Commander Miller in charge, lent a martial air to the occasion. The handsome steamer was gay with bunting, the colors of Spain predominating, and the main gangway was a mass of flowers.

As the Monmouth passed the Brazilian, Spanish and American war ships in the harbor the princess was honored with the royal salute. Every steamer, tug and yacht which the Monmouth passed going up the river saluted, and at several points where quarries were located twenty-one blasts were sent off as the boat passed.

At West Point detachments of regulars was drawn up at the landing and crowds of people lined the drive up to the academy grounds. A salute was fired when the arrival of the princess was announced.

At West Point Captain Craig's troop of cavalry acted as escort to the princess. They were drawn up on the wharf. Colonel Ernest, superintendent of the post, went on board the Monmouth and was presented to the princess. He escorted her ashore and rode with her in the first carriage. Prince Antonio and Commander Davis also rode in the first carriage.

At Colonel Ernest's house the princess met Mrs. U. S. Grant, who had come up from Cranston for the occasion. The princess expressed great pleasure at meeting the widow of the great commander, whom she had met in Madrid.

The party remained in Colonel Ernest's house only a few minutes, as the cadets were assembled on the plain, ready for the dress drill. Colonel Ernest, with the princess on his arm, led the way to the parade ground, which was on the lawn in front of the officer's residence. Mrs. Grant followed with Mayor Gilroy, and the guests of honor were escorted by the officers of the post and members of the committee. The West Point band played the Spanish march as the infanta approached. When the drill was ended by a beautifully executed double quick movement up the plain, wheeling to the west side down past the reviewers, there was enthusiastic hand clapping from the spectators.

After the drill the princess and party walked across the soft turf to Colonel Ernest's house, and while the West Point band gave a concert on the lawn the princess held a reception in the parlor.

The return to the boat was a sort of triumphal procession, for the country folk lined both sides of the roadway and waved handkerchiefs, parasols and bouquets of flowers as the princess passed.

It was 3:50 p. m. when the Monmouth started on her return trip to New York. The princess retired to her state room and rested while the boat sped down the river.

The others of the party spent most of the time on the deck, enjoying the scenery and the rapid down the Hudson. The fifty-two miles to West Point were made in two hours and twenty-seven minutes, which is said to be the most rapid traveling that has been done on the Hudson river by a steamboat. The party was saluted at several of the Hudson river towns by cannons which had been placed at the waters edge, and every passing tug or steamer whistled and dipped its flag.

When the men of war abreast the city were reached, yards were manned and big guns boomed.

Last night the infanta attended the concert given in her honor by the Spanish colony.

The infanta visited Riverside at 1 o'clock today and placed a wreath of flowers on General Grant's tomb.

At 5 o'clock there will be a reception at the Savoy, given by Commander Davis as the representative of the United States to the mayor and members of the committee of one hundred. In the evening it is on the program for the infanta to go to the Fifth Avenue theater.

Taffy from the Thunderer.

LONDON, May 30.—The Times says in a leader on the Geary law: "Even if the three Chinamen arrested in New York be expelled, which probably is the furthest extent to which the exclusion act will be carried, the Chinese government will do well to shut its eyes to so minute a grievance, and not to commit the tactical blunder of offering defiance likely to check the generous impulses of the American people."

Justice Barrett yesterday afternoon declared Martin Anderson's cash bond forfeited. Anderson was arrested Wednesday night for drunkenness and his brother deposited a bond for Martin's appearance. He failed to appear.

One of the members of the South Side Athletic club, states that he will accept the challenge of Mr. Joyce which appeared in the Sentinel a few days since, to run a half mile for a purse.

A brakeman named Thomas Quinn, employed on the Danbury & Norwalk
division of the Consolidated railroad, suffered the loss of two fingers from his right hand while coupling cars in this city, last evening.

The capture, in New York city, of Frank Davis, the burglar, leads many to believe that he is the one who has been operating in this city. He entered stores by breaking the windows and unfastening the locks thereon.

The surplus of wheels and the lively competition in the same has caused a big drop in the price of several brands of bicycles. The manufacturers have now begun to cut their prices and wheels will doubtless be very cheap.

The eleven year old son of Edward Brenton of Stratford ran away from his home yesterday and was found in this city last night. The boy was seen on the depot platform with considerable money in his possession. The police were notified and the boy was held until his father came here this morning and took him home. He had stolen money from the servant girl. The boy has a mania for running away.

Our music loving people are soon to have an opportunity to hear a concert of marked excellence. Prof. Platon Brunoff the famous Russian composer, graduate of the Varsova Conservatory of Poland and St. Petersburg, Russia, is to appear at Music Hall on the evening of June 12th. The various newspapers in the cities in which Mr. Brunoff and his excellent company have given concerts, are loud in their praise of the excellency of the performances given. Mr. Brunoff recently delighted a large number of our citizens in Studwell's music store, by his selections on the piano. He is a brother of Mr. Brunoff the artist, of this city.

HOW TO GREET ROYALTY.

Be Careful Not to Turn Your Back on the Princess.

New York, June 2.—Commander Davis
has written a lengthy letter to Mrs. Potter Palmer, of Chicago, in which he gives explicit instructions as to how the infant should be received in the windy city. He explains that the change in the day of departure from this city will make the arrival of the princess in Chicago one day later than was originally intended, and asks that the Chicago program be modified.
He states that he had promised that Mrs.
Palmer be given the first opportunity to entertain the princess in Chicago, and asked Mrs. Palmer to see Mayor Harrison and President Higginbotham and arrange the program accordingly.

Commander Davis asks that no entertainment be provided for the evening of the infant's arrival. Mr. Davis proceeds as follows:

"Will you kindly warn the good people of Chicago that when they are presented to her they are presented to her husband as well, who stands by her side, and who is a prince of royal blood. People when presented should bow to each. They have made the mistake here in New York of almost ignoring the prince and saluting the princess alone."

Mr. Davis then informed Mrs. Palmer just how the presenting should be done, and that in retiring people should avoid turning their backs on their royal highnesses.

Commander Davis concluded with "You can easily understand that it is an utter impossibility for a lady in so conspicuous a position as that of her royal highness to meet and know all the persons in one city who would like to know her or even are entitled to know her. So that I would advise you to make the list of those for whom you desire a special presentation as exclusive as possible."

Princess Eulalie and suite dined with Whitlaw Reid last evening at his handsome residence, corner of Fifth street and Madison avenue. This was the first private entertainment the princess has attended.

The Order of Tontu Wins.

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—The court of common pleas yesterday made an order directing that, in consideration of an agreement filed by counsel, the equity suit of John E. Eastwick against the Order of Tontu and its officers should be discontinued and the bill in equity dismissed, with prothonotary's costs only to be paid by the complainant. This peaceable adjustment of the proceeding is a victory for the Order of Tontu. The bill in equity sought to wind up the order under a receivership as an illegal insurance organization. The Order of Tontu has almost 25,000 members and almost $1,300,000 in funds.
