RECOLLECTIONS OF A WAR CORRESPONDENT. Editor of the Gazette.

CHAPTER XXV. Passing over the din of innumerable small battles, skirmishes and the like, which filled the summer and early fall of 1861—let the reader's attention be again recalled to Washington, Congress and the Army of the Potomac. By the middle of October McClellan had not less than 75,000 men in and about Washington, and all in splendid condition for action.

of large numbers of colored children in Washington. Many F. F. V. families had their winter homes in the city and when the "Northern hordes" of Union army officers and men began to pour into and possess the capital, these families commenced to slip away through our lines for Richmond and other localities in the south, taking with them their retinue of colored servants. Among these would be many mothers whose babes had been put out to the keeping of some poor old auntie, for a small pittance per month to be paid by the masters. As masters and mothers had disappeared, these little waifs were thrown upon the cold charity of a city in all the terrible upheaval of civil war.

A Laundry Burglarized. Some one gained an entrance to Charles Quong's Chinese laundry in the Price building on Water street, last night and stole nine packages of laundry belonging to customers.

David Hunt, who was bitten by a dog some days since while riding a bicycle through Orchard street, has had a bill for the doctor's services made out and will present the same to the owner of the canine for settlement to-day. The dog, a Newfoundland, has bitten other persons and is liable to prove an expensive "luxury" to its owner, as well as a terror to those who are obliged to walk on that street. The animal seems to have a special grudge against bicycles and children.

German Cabin Fares Reduced. HAMBURG, Oct. 12.—The North German Lloyd Steamship company and the Hamburg-American Steamship company have agreed upon a reduction of the cabin fares charged for passages upon their express steamers. The reduction will go into effect on Oct. 15.

A Wonderful Conqueror. No disease is more common among the people than scrofula. Handed down from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family in some form. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, swellings in the neck or goitre, or in eruptions of varied forms.

Attacking the mucous membrane it may be known as catarrh, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption. In whatever form scrofula may manifest itself, Hood's Sarsaparilla is its inveterate foe and conqueror. This medicine has such powerful alterative and vitalizing effects upon the blood that every trace of impurity is expelled, and the blood is made rich, pure and healthy.

TAMMANY NAMES STRAUS. The Philanthropist Nominated For Mayor of New York City.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Nathan Straus, nominated by Tammany Hall for mayor of this city, when seen today said: "It is somewhat in the nature of a surprise. Of course I had seen in the newspapers that it was possible my name might be considered, but from any one connected with Tammany Hall I had no intimation that my name might be presented to the convention until 5 o'clock in the afternoon."

Then two of the leaders of that body called on me and asked if I would accept the nomination if it should be offered to me. My answer was that everything depended on the manner in which the tender was made. If there was any split in the convention or any opposition of any weight was developed against me, I would decline, whereas if the nomination was made unanimously and spontaneously there was a strong probability I would accept. This, too, was contingent on the fact that the rest of the ticket was strong for if I entered the fight I would want to win. It is a strong ticket, as far as I know, and it will win, I believe.

The other Tammany nominees are: For recorder, Frederick Smyth. For sheriff, William Scholmer. For judge of the superior court, Charles H. Truax. For president of the board of aldermen, Augustus W. Peters. For coroners, John E. Shea and Jacob A. Mittnacht.

Alleged Murderer In Jail. SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 12.—Detective Willard has discovered among the police records in this city a notice offering a reward of $1,000 for the arrest of George F. Rose, one of the murderers of the Fredricksons in Pacific county in 1890, to which a photograph of the fugitive is attached. The picture leaves little doubt that Thomas Black, alias Frank Hamilton, the doltie murderer now in jail here, is Rose.

The Unfortunate "Doc" Linn. MILWAUKEE, Oct. 12.—A special from Tomahawk, Wis., says: Two flat cars on the Eco line at Tomahawk were started down grade in time to meet the east bound passenger. The train was thrown from the track. Engineer, fireman and baggage master were killed and several injured. The wreck on Monday was at Tomahawk Junction and killed one man and fatally injured another.

A Sensible Step. PARIS, Oct. 12.—M. Hanoteau, minister of foreign affairs, has instructed the French consul at Chicago not to send his usual consular report, but to return to France and to make a brief stay in the chief ports of this country, beginning with Bordeaux, in order to acquaint French merchants and manufacturers verbally with the present condition of trade in the United States.

Disruptive Bands Chief Captured. DUBLIN, Oct. 12.—Juan Goja, one of the most desperate bandit chiefs in Mexico, has been captured, in the city of Masatlan. Goja has kept the country district of the Pacific coast of Mexico in constant terror during the past 15 years. The bandits probably will be shot with the formality of a trial.

Characteristic Anarchistic Threats. PARIS, Oct. 12.—The Journal announces that a number of government and municipal officials in this city have received letters from anarchists in London containing violent threats against these officials and also defending Cesarro Sanno, the executed murderer of President Carnot.

James B. Mathes Acquitted. PROVIDENCE, Oct. 12.—James B. Mathes was acquitted today of the charge of murder in killing Monk Saunders at the Narragansett park racing track on June 9. It was alleged that Mathes shot Saunders in a quarrel, the defendant claiming that the shooting was accidental.

Weekly Fashion Hints.

SHE DON'T WANT TO TELL

—what made her beautiful. Yet it's only what other women know. Wealth of beauty comes only with a healthy body. Health is a set of good habits. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription assists nature in establishing these habits. Women have sallow faces, dull eyes and hollow cheeks, together with low spirits, when they are made miserable with disorders, derangements and weaknesses peculiar to their sex. Health is regained, after periods of dizziness, nervous prostration and excitability, or other manifestations of derangement or displacement of the womanly organs, when the "Prescription" is used. Besides, it's sold on its merits. The proprietors take the risk.

It is guaranteed to benefit or cure all the disorders, diseases, and weaknesses of women, or money is refunded.

What offer could be more fair!

Office of J. N. McELROY, Druggist. ORLANDO, Fla., Apr. 20, 1819. Messrs. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga. Dear Sirs—I sold three bottles of P. P. P., large size, yesterday, and one bottle, small size, to-day.

The P. P. P. cured my wife of rheumatism winter before last. It came back on her the last winter, and a half bottle, $1 size, relieved her again, and she has not had a symptom since.

I sold a bottle of P. P. P. to a friend of mine. One of his turkeys, a small one, took sick, and his wife gave it a teaspoonful, that was in the evening, and the little fellow turned over like he was dead, but next morning was up following and well.

Yours respectfully, J. N. McELROY.

SAVANNAH, GA., Apr. 26, 1889. Having used three bottles of P. P. P. for impure blood and general weakness, and having derived great benefits from the same, having gained 11 pounds in weight in four weeks, I take great pleasure in recommending it to all unfortunates like me. Yours truly, JOHN MORRIS.

Miss Ida Poillon of New York is the guest of Mrs. John H. Hoyt, on the Park.

Cards are out announcing the wedding of Miss Gertrude A. Scott of Ridgefield to William H. Farrally of New Milford, to take place at 3 p. m., on Wednesday, Oct. 17, at St. Stephen's church, Ridgefield.

Two Lives Saved. Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill. was told by her doctors she had Consumption, and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thomas Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at H. R. Hale's drug store.

The Enniston pavilion at Shippan Point, which was erected in 1886 at a cost of $10,000 was destroyed by Tuesday night's storm. The building was 192 feet long; 36 feet wide and 30 feet high.

Are Your Children Subject to Croup. Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the rough cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. 25c and 50c bottles for sale by Gregory & Co., druggists.

John E. Short, a letter carrier attached to Station D., New York city, accidentally shot himself in the thigh Wednesday, at Sanford Station, where he has been spending his vacation.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. "I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Maser of Chilton, Carter Co., Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by Gregory & Co., druggists.

Miss Florence Wigham, is the guest of Miss Bertie Harrison, of Danbury.

Electric Bitters. This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do what it claims. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove pimples, boils, salt rheum and other affections caused by impure blood.—Will drive malaria from the system and will prevent as well as cure all malarial fevers.—For cure of headache, constipation, indigestion try Electric Bitters. Entire satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded.—Price 50c and $1 per bottle at H. R. Hale's drugstore.

NEW BODICES.
They May Still Be of Bright Colors and a Wide Variety of Trimming.
There is no diminution in the popularity of bodices differing in color and material from the skirt with which they are worn. Not only is crepe and every sort of silk used for these garments, but bright toned challoes and other woolen goods. Summer gowns of velvelling and crepon, the dainty color of which has been faded or injured here and there, may be taken apart and the best pieces utilized to make house waists for winter wear. Trimmed with jet, ribbons or black velvet, the effect is very good. A full, round bodice of red chaille, with black figures, for instance, may be made over a fitted lining and gathered along the shoulder seam and around the neck and waist. A pointed corselet is then simulated by two bands of black velvet ribbon. A black velvet collar with choux finishes the neck, and a black velvet belt encircles the waist. The tight sleeves have velvet bands at the wrists and a double puff above the elbow, divided by velvet bands. For evening wear different bodices are particularly liked and are made in varying degrees of elaboration. Plain glace silk, so long favored, is now beginning to give way to stripes and checks, while black corsages are brightened up by collars, cuffs and belts of brilliant velvet. Geranium and bluet are the shades of the moment, but blue of a warmer tone is seen and also rich tones of olive.

For breakfast wear a pretty variety of Russian blouse is shown. Made of striped flannel, it is smooth over the shoulders, but gathered at the front and back of the neck, which is rounded and collarless. The blouse opens at one side of the front, under a flat band of trimming. A similar band borders the neck and sleeves and forms the belt.
A blouse of glace silk is shown in the sketch. The upper part is tucked to form a yoke, and the fullness is confined by a ribbon belt. The sleeve puffs are tucked at the shoulders and midway of the arm. The lower part of the sleeves is plain.

FASHIONABLE TRIMMINGS.
Ribbon, Lace and the Perennial Popularity of Jet.
Ribbon decorations are as fashionable this fall as they were during the summer. Both satin and moire ribbon are used in choux, knots, bands and bretelles. Ribbon belts are worn, tied at the side or behind with long floating ends. Gulpure and other lace, especially chantilly, are favored and are used in every possible way. The wide lace collars worn during the summer are seen in greater variety than ever, while shaped pieces for cuffs, epaulets, figaros and basques may be obtained in all the usual tints. This greatly simplifies trimming of gowns and admits of their being altered with little trouble.

Jet seems to enjoy a perennial popularity. It never goes out of fashion either for the decoration of gowns or millinery. The sparing use of a fine variety of jet passementerie is more effective than lavish quantities of the cheaper sort. Gold and steel trimmings appear in profusion among the autumn importations, and fashion still insists upon frosted plumes in spite of their extreme fragility. The plain ostrich plume is likewise to be much employed this winter for the decoration of gowns as well as of hats. It is always beautiful and becoming, and provided that it is not allowed to get damp it remains in good condition for a long time.

Buckles will remain in style as long as belts are fashionable. They are not as large as they were a few years ago, but are shown in greater variety and are used for a larger number of purposes. In buying a jet buckle it is more economical to take the best quality, as the cheap ones come to pieces easily and will be unlikely to last out half the season, while the good ones can be used over and over, besides looking much better.

An illustration is given of a silk and wool gown trimmed with gulpure. The plain skirt has a full tablier of soft silk and is trimmed around the foot with gulpure vandykes. The round, belted bodice has a basque, yoke and epaulets of gulpure, the lower part of the sleeve puffs being similarly trimmed.

JUDIC CHOLLET.
Peach Dumpling.
Into a quart of sifted flour rub a tablespoonful of lard, add 2 teaspoonfuls of salt and milk enough to make a soft dough; roll out the dough and cut into rounds, and in the middle of each of these place a peach, pared, but not stoned. Put the dumplings on a plate, steam them for a little less than three-quarters of an hour and serve hot with cream sauce.

SILK GOWNS.
They Are Now Within Reach of Persons of Moderate Means.
Silken fabrics in great variety are as fashionable this fall as they were during the summer. Next to wool, silk is the easiest thing to dye, and it runs riot in the whole gamut of colors. The aniline dyes, evolved by German chemists from coal tar, give many of the most delightful tints. For the rest there is madder and Brazil wood, tumeric and cochineal, indigo, logwood, fustic, prussian blue and a hundred more.

There is no shade, no tint, no cloud of color but may be caught and repeated in order that beauty may be adorned like unto the king's daughter in "vesture of gold wrought about with divers colors."
Not many years ago the wearing of silk was confined to the favored few who possessed long purses, but lately, especially during the last year or so, silk of good quality has been so reduced in price that it is now easily obtainable by the woman of moderate income. Ribbons and silk hosiery as well as piece silk are wonderfully cheap, as are plush and art draperies, while silk and linen and silk mixed are superseding silesia and cambric for the lining of bodices and skirts.

As cold weather approaches fine woolen goods will be combined with silk, an excellent opportunity for such combinations being afforded by the double and draped skirts, which, while not yet prevailing over the plain variety, are quite a la mode and are shown in many of the new designs. Before they succeed in ousting plain skirts from general favor it will be necessary to contract the width now accepted as the rule, for a skirt four yards around additionally weighted with drapery is too heavy for the average woman to carry about with her.
The sketch shows a gown of gray cloth combined with gray and white striped silk. The lower skirt is of bias silk, the upper of cloth lined with white satin. The cloth bodice is cut with a ripple basque and has cloth revers over wider white satin ones. The vest and cuffs are of silk, with the stripes arranged in points.

JUDIC CHOLLET.
SUITS FOR BOYS.
They Must Withstand the Hardest Kind of Usage.

The seams of boys' clothing should be neatly and strongly finished at the ends and strong linen thread used in their manufacture. Buttons must especially receive plenty of thread, and those that have to bear a strain should be sewed on over a pin or a match, which should be removed when the sewing is done. The thread should then be wound around the strands between the button and the cloth until a structure is built which is perfectly firm. Then the thread should be securely fastened on the under side. It is astonishing to find how many mothers and even professional seamstresses do not sew buttons on in this way and seem never to have heard of it. A strong double lining or stay for the button should be provided, or else at the first provocation the boy will demolish the very cloth itself, and nothing will be left upon which a new button may be established. On all ready made suits the buttons should be carefully re sewed before the boy is allowed to put them on. Cloth covered buttons are a delusion. At best the cloth covering wears shabby in a few weeks, and it is often difficult to match such buttons. Bone and gutta percha are good enough for any common suit. Braid binding, even when it is of alpaca, is to be avoided. It wears off early in conspicuous places and must be often renewed.

Most mothers find the ready made suits, if purchased from a good shop, the most economical. Among most of these, even some of the best, a prevalent failing is a narrowness of the coat across the chest. The result of this is to make the boy stoop and to injure his breathing power. It would be better to have the coat a trifle too broad than too narrow. Indeed in buying coats for growing boys allowance must be made for much filling out and stretching up during a period of three or four months.

A sketch is given of two suits for a 7-year-old boy, the first of serge, the second of cloth. Each is suitable for school wear.

JUDIC CHOLLET.
Royal Bracelets.
The German emperor wears two bracelets, in accordance with an old royal custom, and the Duke of Saxe-Coburg wears one that is his betrothal bangle. The Prince of Wales put on his when he went to India many years ago, and it has not left his arm since. There is considerable sentiment in this custom, and though its steadfast nature is scarcely in touch with the modern laxity of the marriage tie it might not be a bad idea to cultivate it as a corrective if not a preventive of divorce.

WINTER STYLES.
Popularity of Plain Skirts and Those Awful Sleeves.
Plain skirts continue to appear on the majority of the new French models in spite of the acknowledged claims of double and draped styles. A close fit about the hips is essential, but this is made up for by increasing width around the bottom. The fashionable skirt touches the ground all the way round, but does not drag.
Tailor made styles are as much in vogue as ever. Gowns of this sort are the most useful ones for everyday street wear, as they always look neat and have no frills to become shabby in dampness and dust. An extensive variety of goods suitable for these costumes is shown this fall in dull reds, blues and greens as well as in the older tan and mode colors. Large and small buttons of cut smoked pearl, with rows of stitching, are the accepted trimming.

Round waists, worn with a belt, continue in favor. Pointed corselets are also seen, although the novelty of these is long outworn. Tight fitting Eton jackets, with wide revers, are to be employed as outer garments and will be made up in fur, astrakhan cloth and similar thick goods. As an example of how extremes sometimes meet in fashion may be cited the fact that long redingotes, extending nearly to the foot of the gown, will also be worn this winter.

No new departure is noted in sleeves. An exaggerated gigo style prevails, very full above the elbow and very tight below. Less often the upper part consists of one or more separate puffs, sometimes ornamented with bows and bands. The high close collar is universal.

The illustration shows a toilet of flax blue glace silk. The skirt and bodice are perfectly plain. The cape has a yoke, pointed behind and square in front, on which are mounted two ruffles. From the front of the yoke fall two long stole ends. The yoke itself is trimmed with jet passementerie and pendant tassels of jet.

TRAVELING COSTUMES.
A Style That Women Should Strenuously Decline to Receive.

It used to be a canon of dress that simplicity ought to be the chief feature of traveling costume. Folds and frillings and gathers were forbidden as receptacles for lint and retaining the inevitable dust of railways. But now there is a change. Even the tablier is sometimes seen, and the polonaise has been adopted in more than one instance. Women should strenuously decline this form of skirt trimming. It is heavy, useless, by no means invariably decorative and absolutely senseless. There is some little meaning in panniers, but none in polonaises. The former give shape and dignity to very thin, angular figures, preventing them from showing that straight line up and down which is such a foe to grace. But the polonaise, or double skirt, adds warmth where it is least needed and makes it difficult, sometimes impossible, to hold the skirt free of the mud or dust of the roads. The ideal traveling costume is light, easily donned, as easily doffed and is made of a material that does not crease or wrinkle.

Some sort of an outer garment is always required on a journey, even in warm weather, and a smart traveling gown appears all the smarter if the coat or cape matches it. On occasions of sufficient importance to warrant a special traveling gown it is worth while to complete the costume by an appropriate wrap. Capes of medium length, single, double and triple, are liked by many persons, while others prefer a short coat, plainly made in tailor fashion. Women who dislike severe styles often have a lined coat made of the dress material and allow themselves a becoming latitude in cut and trimming. A costume jacket of the latest style is shown in the cut. It is of cloth like the gown and has a long basque and an immense flaring collar. The cuffs, which reach to the elbow, and the vest may be made of the same or different material.

Etiquette on a Royal Yacht.
Captain Carter, who sails the Prince of Wales' yacht Britannia, was sitting with a number of other yacht captains after one of the Britannia-Vigilant races, and the conversation turned on the reception of royalty. "Well," said the captain, "I ought to know something about it. Last week the prince came aboard with the princess and the two daughters. The prince says, 'Carter, my wife and two daughters.' So I said, 'Hope you're quite well, ma'am, and the same to you, misses.'"—Philadelphia Press.

THE DOCTORS OF RATIONAL MEDICINE.

Chartered and Incorporated by Special Act of Legislature, June 10, 1881. HEADQUARTERS FOR U. S. PHILADELPHIA, PA. With Supplementary Offices at Boston, Mass., Baltimore, Md., Washington, D. C., Pittsburg, Pa., Rochester, N. Y., Columbus, O. and Bridgeport, Conn. The Chief of Staff and associated doctors and Surgeons from the Bridgeport office, will arrive at the CITY HOTEL, SOUTH NORWALK, MONDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1894.

AND OPEN OFFICE IN PARLORS 1 AND 2. All who visit these Eminent Physicians before October 21st, 1894, will receive Consultation, Advice, Services and Surgical Treatment ABSOLUTELY FREE until cured.

The object of this Free Service, is that they may become rapidly acquainted with the sick and afflicted, and to show what wonderful success can be achieved when diseases are carefully diagnosed and scientifically treated by expert specialists.

All that is asked or expected in return for this Free Service, is that each patient, when cured, will recommend these Physicians and their system of treatment to their friends.

The doctors feel assured that the grateful endorsement of these patients will give them an extended practice at once, and amply repay for this great expenditure of time and money.

These Physicians wish it distinctly understood that while they treat all chronic ailments, they will not take incurable cases, and if after examination, your case is found to be of such a nature, you will be so informed, and saved all further trouble and expense.

This is your opportunity. No matter what your condition may be, how long you have been sick, or how many doctors you have tried, no matter what your doubts. There are but few cases beyond hope. A perfect knowledge of disease is one-half its cure. It is your life that is at stake; you must either get well or suffer. No matter how many physicians have given you up, or how many hospitals have turned you away as incurable. Do not accept what anybody says—go straight to these physicians and satisfy yourself. They give you this opportunity free of expense.

These specialists will positively cure Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Throat and Lung Diseases, and will absolutely guarantee every case of Consumption they agree to treat. This mode of treatment is safe, sure and certain in its results. Epilepsy, Hysteria, Nervous Exhaustion and all forms of Nervous, Blood, Skin and Surgical Diseases of men permanently cured by their specific treatment. Those suffering from Rheumatism, Sores, Ulcers, Tumors, Cancer or any form of Skin or Scalp Disease, should visit them at once and investigate this the first and only Rational System of Cure.

McKINLEY IN KANSAS.

The Governor of Ohio Warmly Welcomed at Lawrence and Topeka.

TOPEKA, Oct. 4.—The home of Populism was invaded by Ohio's governor today. A special train was started from Kansas City today at 7:30 a. m. over the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, headed from Hutchinson, and stops and speeches were scheduled for 11 places en route. Mr. Cyrus Leland, Jr., chairman of the Republican state committee, and a number of Republican workers; General Passenger Agent Nicholson and General Freight Agent Gay of the Santa Fe accompanied Governor McKinley. The first stop was at Argentine, where a few words were spoken.

At Lawrence there were fully 2,000 people at the station, who cheered lustily when the train stopped and gave earnest attention to what Mr. McKinley said. With apparent reference to Populism the governor said, "We might as well understand now that one or the other of the Republican and Democratic parties is going to conduct the policy of this government, and it is for you to determine which one of these parties will conduct the policy of the government in such a manner as to best serve the interest of the people of the United States."

Topeka was reached at 9:30. A cavalry escort preceded Governor McKinley as he was driven through the streets to the statehouse grounds, where a platform had been erected. There was an immense crowd assembled, and the greeting given to the distinguished visitor was very cordial. Governor Lewelling offered to be present and officially receive Governor McKinley, but the Republican managers declined, saying that they would make the occasion a purely Republican one.

Candidate Morton Notified.

RHINECLIFF, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The Republican notification committee notified Hon. Levi P. Morton of his nomination for governor. The party consisted of Chauncey Depew, General Tracy, William Brookfield, Charles W. Hackett, General Horace Porter, Edmund Wetmore, General Anson G. McCook, General Collins and John S. Wise. The party, with Senator Saxton and Judge Halght, were entertained at luncheon by Mr. Morton.

Russell Will Not Run.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—The Traveller tonight says that Hon. John C. Russell of Leominster has refused to be the Democratic candidate for governor; also that he will not only refuse the nomination if tendered him at the state convention, but that he will decline to be present or take any part at the gathering. Mr. Russell gives as his reason for withdrawing this time that his health is poor.

Requiem For Archbishop Bayley.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 4.—A solemn mass of requiem was sung today in the cathedral for the repose of the soul of Archbishop Bayley, the predecessor of Cardinal Gibbons in the see of Baltimore. The rector of the cathedral was the celebrant of the mass, and the senior assistant priests were respectively deacon and subdeacon. The cardinal gave the absolution.

Shot When She Screamed.

DOthan, Ala., Oct. 4.—While on her way to school Miss Lena McArdle, aged 16, was attacked by an unknown negro, who attempted to assault her. When she screamed, he shot her and ran. The bullet entered her breast, producing a fatal wound. Armed men are searching for the negro. If caught, he will be lynched.

The Suiatna Murder Mystery.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 4.—Lawrence Keegan, 50 years of age, formerly employed in one of the largest dry goods houses in this city, but lately a man about town without employment, has been arrested, charged with the murder of Emily Chambers, and is confined at police headquarters, pending further investigation.

An Old Man Bleeds to Death.

HUNTINGTON, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Jarvis R. Rolph, a prominent citizen of Huntington, fell today and struck his head against the mouth of a coal scuttle. The point of it pierced his temple, and before medical aid could be summoned he bled to death. Mr. Rolph was 81 years of age.

Fire Destroys Valuable Paintings.

Fairfield County's Sheriff.

Of Tuesday's two county conventions and the nominees of the republicans and of the democrats, the Bridgeport Union thus remarks:

"Hawley against Clarkson is the title of the political contest for sheriff of this county this fall. Tuesday the convention of the republican delegates from this county selected Sidney E. Hawley, of Brookfield, as their candidate for sheriff and the democratic convention honored Robert L. Clarkson of Stratford by a renomination. With Mr. Clarkson's majority of about 1,700 two years ago, it would seem that his election was reasonably certain, yet with the strong candidate the republicans have placed in nomination they are hopeful of terminating Mr. Clarkson's official life as sheriff at the end of the present term of office. In the struggle Mr. Clarkson has the benefit or detriment, as the case may be, of having been in office and of making friends or enemies thereby. He has always been a very popular official and has a host of friends. Mr. Hawley, the republican candidate is well known throughout the county as a prominent and hard working republican and one on whom it is believed all republicans will unite and one whom democrats who propose to vote the Republican ticket the coming election will be fully satisfied."

Defence of Christian Charity.

"Oh, the rarity of Christian charity." The New York Sun thus rebukes what every one knows to be an injustice:

"The self-sacrificing Catholic Sisters who collect alms for charitable uses, ought not to be spoken of disrespectfully by our Baptist contemporary, the Christian Inquirer. It is a shame to call them beggars. They are no more beggars than are those Baptist ministers who solicit money or take up collections for their own support. Through the humble labors of these pious and worthy women, hospitals are supported, suffering is alleviated, children are educated, and the helpless poor are comforted. Not for themselves do they ask alms, but for the afflicted, in whose service they spend their blessed lives. They give to many people the opportunity to make small contributions which they would not otherwise have the opportunity of making. They touch the heart where other means of touching it would fail. These meek Sisters give lessons in charity and devotion which strike the innermost chords of the soul. Their benignant presence is ever welcome in thousands of the business places and households of the city. All honor be to these good and grand women, the merits of whom are known in heaven."

New York Harmony.

Senator Hill has a terrible amount of harmonizing to do before he can tell just where he is as a candidate. The trouble he had in the Senate was a trifle compared with the disharmony that takes in all New York city and Brooklyn.

The anti-Tammany Democrats in New York would be glad to beat Hill, but they care more at this time to reform the city government, while the city government, is just the thing for which Tammany cares the most.

Hill would no doubt be willing to let the State Democracy print their local candidates with the regular State ticket if they would be satisfied with that. Unless they are allowed to do so they threaten to run a candidate against him. The Tammany workers kick at any recognition of the kickers, and Hill does not yet see his way clear to harmony.

To Disband.

A prominent member of the New Britain Law and Order League is credited with saying that the no license war having been lost by them the organization as a body will go out of existence after November 1, and the enforcement of the law will be left to the police authorities.

HER DUTY TO TELL.

One of the Loveliest of Ladies Writes Our Readers a Letter They Will Never Forget. It is a Grand Letter and Well Worth Reading.

MISS E. BURKE.

We have received this remarkable interesting letter, with the accompanying beautiful portrait from Miss E. Burke, of Amoskeag, N. H., and we place them before our readers:

"Soon after graduating from school, I was stricken down with nervous prostration, and no one but God knows what I suffered.

"I was so nervous that the least little thing would cause my heart to flutter and palpitate. I was also troubled with severe headache and dizziness, which unfitted me for any mental work. I tried several highly recommended compounds, but they did me no good.

"At last, I decided to give Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy a trial. What a blessing it has proved to me! I can truly say that I owe my present excellent health to Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. We keep it in the house, as it cures a sick headache or neuralgia in every case, and gives immediate relief.

"I am so grateful for the good this wonderful remedy has done me, and in order that other poor sufferers may be pointed to the path of health, I deem it my duty to state what Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has done for me. My faith is so strong in this grand medicine which has done me so much good, that I urge others to use it and get well. I have recommended it to several, who have tried it and been cured."

Here is the voluntary testimony of a most estimable lady, that she was cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

It is a wonderful tribute to the great value of this medicine in curing disease. There is a large class of people who, while not exactly sick, suffer from extreme nervousness, feel weak and tired, lack their old-time strength and ambition. They do not eat or sleep well, wake mornings tired, with dull-aching head and no inclination to take hold of their work.

To all such we would recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, for it will certainly give strong nerves and vigorous bodies—in fact will make you strong and well.

This medicine is recommended by doctors. It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that this medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

The Times Against Them.

In his speech before the Democratic State convention of Massachusetts accepting the nomination for Governor, Mr. Russell took particular pains to admonish his friends that they had nothing before them but a certainty of defeat at the forthcoming election. There was not even the ghost of a chance for success. "We will lose," he said, "because the times are against us."

This is not the sort of speech to rouse the enthusiasm of the Bay State Democracy to a very high pitch, but it is well to face a foregone conclusion bravely and better to accept a bad situation as it is than undertake to gloss it over with empty and illusory suggestions that it may not turn out as badly as it might.

It is true, indeed, that the "times" are against the Democracy. No party could be expected to weather with any pronounced success such a combination of adverse circumstances as during the past eighteen months has operated to the prejudice of the party in power. Even the failure of the corn crop in the West is charged up against the administration. Had a pestilence devastated the country the Democratic party would have been held responsible for it.

American Apples in Europe.

London fruit dealers have been looking over the apple crop, and have decided that there is a fine market for American apples this year. The English crop is the smallest for twenty years, and prices are high. The Nova Scotia crop will reach a total of 120,000 barrels and the Canadian crop about 600,000 barrels. It is expected that Boston will be able to ship between 300,000 and 400,000 barrels, and New York about 1,500,000 barrels. London wants American apples. The first consignment sold there Monday brought from 17s. to 20s. per barrel. Freights are lower than they have been for years and carriage can probably be secured at 2s. per barrel.

Dead Body Found.

The dead body of a man very much decomposed was found off the beach in Fairfield, Monday. No clue to the man's identity has yet been found, but it is thought that he was a hand on an oyster boat and fell overboard without attracting the attention of his companions. The remains were those of a man about 5 feet 7 inches tall, bald and wearing a grey mustache. The theory that he was a sailor is advanced by the fact that there were no shoes or stockings on his feet. The dead man was evidently between 40 and 45 years old.

Norwalk's Congressional Candidate.

The GAZETTE, as its readers of all political parties know, is not a partisan newspaper. It is tied to no party, sect, clique, man or set of men. It has neither religious dogmas or offensive politics to thrust upon the public. Yet, while it is distinctly nonpartisan, it is as decidedly courageous and independent. Its loyalty to "beautiful Norwalk," never has been and never justly shall be, impugned. Whatever event promotes the fame and honor of Norwalk, at home or abroad, shall ever find earnest espousal in these columns: Whatever best promotes Norwalk's Industrial, Manufacturing, Labor, Commercial, Civic and Social welfare, will be supported with all possible ability and earnestness. So when the exceptional honor and distinction is conferred on Norwalk, by naming EBENEZER J. HILL, one of her citizens, for the United States Congress, the GAZETTE most heartily joins in the congratulations of our best people, with the same fidelity to our town, it did, when a short time since, another Norwalk man, of another political party, was placed at the head of the United States Patent office.

The GAZETTE has no fulsome laudation to bestow upon Mr. Hill. He needs none, expects none, and doubtless desires none, at its hands. Nevertheless, such a life as his, is a public benefaction wherever it is lived. Mr. Hill was the son of the late Rev. Moses Hill, and was born in Redding; in early boyhood he removed to Hartford, and after some three years residence, he came with his parents to Norwalk, where his school days and later active business life, have been spent. His boyhood, his early and maturer manhood, his eager, ardent, frank, impetuous and sometimes even blunt earnestness of character, are known to all of the older residents of Norwalk. At fourteen he had fitted himself at the Union school to enter Yale, but the straightened circumstances of his clerical father, rendered it necessary for the lad to first earn something for himself. He secured a clerkship here and for two years served his employers faithfully, and diligently studied his books in over hours. At sixteen, he was admitted to the freshman class at Yale and maintained a creditable standing for two years, when the war fever seized him, as it did so many young men of that period, and knowing the sacrifices his parents were forced to make to maintain him in college, (for the income of the average Methodist clergyman in those days was very limited,) he withdrew, with the approval of President Woolsey, and a certification that he could return at any time and enter the junior class. He accepted a clerkship in the Commissary Department of the Army of the Potomac, and served to the end of the war, expecting to return to Yale and finish his academic course. But on getting home to Norwalk, stern poverty compelled him to relinquish his cherished collegiate career and again he accepted a clerkship; he then went to Iowa and engaged in the lumber business at Clinton, on the west bank of the Mississippi, where he remained but a brief period when he returned again to the home of his choice in Norwalk. He soon after engaged in the lumber business here and has since put it at the head of our largest and most prosperous concern, in that trade. By nature, he is endowed with unusual breadth, activity and versatility of intellect, and a robust and untiring industry. He is a man of broad gauge ideas; has a natural taste and fondness for politics, and the association of public men, with whom he has an exceptionally large personal acquaintance, both state and national.

Mr. Hill believes with intensity, in whatever cause he espouses. He is therefore an earnest friend of the soldier, for he believed in and served in the war for the preservation of the Union. He honestly and earnestly believes in Protection. In his view it is wiser and a duty to give employment to our own American workmen for such manufactured articles as this Nation needs, instead of sending our money abroad to aid the foreign mill-owner and his half-paid operatives. So deep and strong were his convictions as to the necessity of Protection for this country, that he voted for Horace Greeley, as our ablest and most conspicuous embodiment of that principle, when he was nominated by the Democrats as their candidate for President.

Mr. Hill is and for years has been, a consistent member of the M. E. church, of which his late father was so able and prominent a teacher. And in his religious as well as secular life, he has always seemed more desirous to win the approval of his God, than the applause of men. Of no man can it be more truly and emphatically said, that he is "diligent in business and fervent in spirit." He is president of Norwalk's superb electric Street Railway Company; president of the Gas Company; vice president of the National Bank of Norwalk; vice president of the State Board of Trade and of the Connecticut Society of the Sons of the Revolution. He is a Mason and an Odd Fellow, of the latter fraternity he has been Grand Master of the state and twice chosen Grand Representative of Connecticut to the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the order. He was elected by the New York East Conference to represent that body in the quadrennial General Conference of 1892 at Omaha; was twice elected Burgess of Norwalk; twice chairman of the Board of School Visitors; served four years on the Republican State Central committee; in 1886 was elected senator from the 13th District, by more than two hundred majority, although the district had been previously carried by the Democrats. He represented this Congressional district as delegate to the National Republican convention of 1884, and has been honored by his Alma Mater with the degree of A. M. He has been a life student; has a remarkable memory; is a good speaker, and able and strong as a debater.

But over and above all, he is a sound honest, common sense, successful business man, thoroughly grounded in his knowledge of, and familiarly with finance, tariff, manufacturing and commercial affairs. If elected to represent this district in Congress, he will prove exceptionally active and useful to us, the state and the nation. He would bring honor and credit to his district because of his high character, clear headed, practical, brainy ability and really phenomenal industry.

Is Seriously Ill.

Gen. E. S. Parker, supply clerk of the N. Y. Police department, is seriously ill at Fairfield. He is suffering from an attack of nervous prostration, which it is feared, may result fatally. The General had a paralytic stroke a year ago. He was on General Grant's staff during the war, and earned promotion through bravery. He is an Indian, being a lineal descendant of the famous Indian chief, Red Jacket, and is 75 years old.

TOOK PARIS GREEN.

Lieut. Henry H. Pierce Commits Suicide While Under the Influence of Liquor.

Sad End of a Brave Soldier.

Henry H. Pierce died at the Norwalk Hospital, Monday evening, and his body now lies at the morgue in Raymond's undertaking establishment.

Pierce owned a place on the Fort Point road, which he leased to Mr. Charles Walters, he himself occupying a portion of the house.

The poison he swallowed was part of a quantity he had procured for exterminating potato bugs in his garden.

The physician did not arrive until about 7 o'clock in the evening. He prescribed for the patient, who in the meantime had ejected a quantity of the poison out of his mouth, and ordered that he be sent to the hospital.

For some reason or other the ambulance did not put in an appearance until about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Pierce was very weak but was able to walk out to the ambulance, and he was taken to the hospital at which institution he died about 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Walters said that he had not eaten scarcely anything for over a week. His stomach was in a bad condition from an overindulgence from intoxicants which was the primary cause of his death, hastened no doubt by the Paris green he had swallowed.

Pierce's wife died a little over a year ago, since which time he has cooked such meals as he ate. He made a will last summer which was witnessed by neighbors and in which he bequeathed all of his belongings to his brother who lives at Shelburne Falls, Mass., and who has been advised of his death.

Pierce was a native of Vermont; was a slater by trade, and came to Norwalk soon after the close of the war and worked for builder J. R. Raymond.

He received a back war pension some years ago and a pension of $24 a month since which time he has done no work. He was a familiar figure on the street, being compelled later to use two canes when walking.

He enlisted in Co. C, 7th C. V., at Meriden, Sept. 6th, 1861, and while in the service was promoted to a Second Lieutenant.

He was captured by the rebels in 1864, and in trying to make his escape from "Camp Sorghum" at Columbia, S. C., received gunshot wounds in both legs. He was later paroled and finally discharged from the service Jan. 6th, 1865.

The Danbury Fair, "The Greatest Fair on Earth" which closed at Danbury last Saturday, was a record breaker, the attendance for the week reaching a total of 56,051 people.

Table with 2 columns: Day, 1893, 1894. Rows: Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday.

The attendance in 1890 was 53,745; in 1891, it was 45,593; and in 1892 it was 48,667. The total for the last five years reaches a grand total of 256,259.

A Runaway.

Harry C. Brower drove to the fair grounds, Monday afternoon, and gave his trotter a spin around the track. Later he hitched him and when ready to go home unhitched him and as he was about to get into the carriage the horse started and ran. To save himself Harry let go his hold on the lines.

The horse continued his mad flight until he reached the gate at the grounds, where the carriage collided with the fence and the horse rearing himself from the vehicle ran to his stable on Newtown avenue. The carriage for which Mr. Brower had recently paid $225 was wrecked.

DOCTORS APPROVE.

Substitution of Coffee for Alcoholic Stimulants Pleases Them.

At a recent congress of physicians it was stated with much approval that the temperance agitation was leading to an increased use of coffee. Such, it was also stated, was infinitely better, as it is a food of no more harm as well as the only safe strong stimulant.

Houlihan Renominated. A Danbury despatch says: Senator M. J. Houlihan of Newtown was renominated by the 15th district convention, held on Wednesday.

A warm discussion followed. The Danbury delegates who voted solidly against McPheley said that if McPheley was declared the nominee, Houlihan would not receive Danbury's support at the polls.

DeForest Renominated. The delegates to the Democratic convention of the Fourth Congressional District, met in Bridgeport, this morning.

Col. Samuel Daskam of this city, was elected chairman, and in accepting the honor conferred upon him made a neat little speech.

After the committee on resolutions had made their report, nominations were called for, and Mr. F. W. Tracey, of Bridgeport, in a highly eulogistic speech, presented the name of Hon. Robert E. DeForest for renomination.

DeForest was seconded by Litchfield county. Delegate John F. Cuff of Danbury, then arose and said that in behalf of the delegation from, and the Democrats of Danbury, he protested against the renomination of DeForest, and added that while DeForest had carried Danbury by a flattering majority he, if placed in nomination, would surely lose that vote at the coming election.

After considerable wrangling chairman Daskam managed to put the original motion which was by viva voce and it was carried by a heavy preponderance of ayes and a much smaller number of nays, whereupon Mr. Daskam promptly announced that Mr. DeForest was the nominee.

The convention then adjourned.

Thought it an Imposition. At the Westport annual town meeting it was voted to give each of the fire companies $50, as has usually been done.

Certain persons who live outside the fire district opposed the proposition on the ground that the companies, being so far away from their property, could not protect it, and they thought it was an imposition to make them help pay the sums named.

The minority intend to appeal the matter to the courts.

Object to Glover.

A petition is being circulated in Newtown addressed to Sheriff Robert L. Clarkson asking him to pledge himself not to re-appoint William H. Glover his deputy for that town in the event of his re-election.

The petition originated in the village of Sandy Hook, a mile below Newtown borough. Mr. Glover has made himself unpopular with the Sandy Hookites and they propose to have his scalp if they can get it.

Noted Mason Dead.

Joseph K. Wheeler, of Hartford, aged 60 who had held the secretaryship of the Connecticut Grand Lodge of Masons since May 8, 1867, died at his home on Wooster street Wednesday.

Mr. Wheeler had been a prominent figure in masonic circles in this state during the past quarter of a century and was the most widely known Grand lodge secretary in this country.

ACure for Croup.

The following receipt is handed the GAZETTE with the assurance that it is a sure cure for any ordinary case of croup. It is certainly worth trying: One teaspoonful of glycerine, one teaspoonful of turpentine, mix with four tablespoonfuls of water and give one teaspoonful of the mixture every fifteen minutes until relieved.

Afterward a teaspoonful every two hours until cured. Always stir the mixture thoroughly before administering and rub the throat well with turpentine.

Mrs. Mary Skidmore of Harbor avenue, still lies in a critical condition.

BWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces, such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to that of a good you can possibly derive from them.

A New Firm.

Messrs. William L. and Theodore O. Olsen, have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of conducting the boot and shoe business here in Norwalk.

Use It in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge.

CURTIN LAID AT REST. Fears Dim the Eyes of Speakers Who Praise the Dead Ex-Governor. BELLEFONTE, Pa., Oct. 11.—This town is draped in mourning today in honor of the memory of Andrew Gregg Curtin, who was laid at rest this afternoon.

The storm which had been raging all the morning broke away at noon, the sun coming out, leaving a beautiful day. At 10 o'clock this morning a memorial meeting was held in the courthouse, a great number of distinguished men being present.

At 12 o'clock the ex-governor's body was borne from the family residence to the courthouse, where it remained until 1:30, thousands of people viewing the remains while they lay in state. The body was then taken back to the Gregg mansion, where, at 2 o'clock, the funeral services were held.

The funeral cortege was as follows: Military escort, consisting of battery of artillery, troop of cavalry and nine companies of infantry; special escort of G. A. R.; clergy in carriages; the honorary pallbearers, consisting of Governor Pattison, John Dean, John Scott, ex-Senator Wallace, General Beaver, General Hastings, General Taylor of Philadelphia, A. K. McClure, Colonel W. B. Mann, Judge Furst, Morton McMichael, Judge Craig Biddle, Thomas Collins and E. C. Humes; the hearse and carriers, family and friends, representatives of the Pennsylvania Reserve association, representatives of the Union League, general officers of the N. G. P., governor's staff and staffs of the general officers of the national guard, representatives of the Center County Veteran association, battalion of Pennsylvania State college cadets, president and members of the town council of Bellefonte and the citizens.

THE LE KIN BACK AGAIN.

China's Old Tax Is Once More Destroying the Trade of Americans.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—It is said at the state department that American and other commerce is seriously menaced by the decision of the Chinese government to impose a transit tax on goods. This tax is well known to diplomats under the name of the Le Kin. It is levied on all goods passing through China. It is a terrible restraint upon commerce, for it is levied repeatedly at every town through which the goods pass and accumulates with rapidity to a total that is actually prohibitive upon a large class of goods which our merchants have just succeeded in introducing, after painful efforts, into interior China.
