

BLUE GLASS.

Something about General Pleasonton's Blue Glass Experiments.

The Wonderful effect of Associated Light Upon Animal and Vegetable Life.

[Special Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune.]

New York, January 13th.

Some months ago, a number of the papers in the country criticised, generally with some degree of fairness, a book written by Gen. A. Pleasonton of Philadelphia, entitled "Blue and Sun Light; Its Influence upon a Life Disease, etc." Some of the ideas set forth by Gen. Pleasonton are calculated to startle reading and thoughtful persons, and, failing to comprehend his theories, it is no wonder that the critics spoke considerable fun at them. My attention was recently directed to the "blue glass" treatment by an old friend, who recommended its use in a case of sickness in my family. Having confidence in my friend, I wrote to Gen. Pleasonton regarding it, and in reply received a copy of his book, and instructions regarding the application of the blue light in the case I received to him. Having practical evidence before me of the benefits to be derived from the application of the "blue light," I propose in this letter to give some general idea of Gen. Pleasonton's theories regarding the

the other in an ordinary coop. The former soon showed the stimulating effects of the blue glass, their growth being almost visible from day to day, and their strength and vigor far exceeding that of the chickens in the coop. This is testimony from a gentleman of high standing who is in the habit of carefully weighing his words.

WIFE OF A PHILADELPHIA PHYSICIAN

was suffering from a complication of disorders, and the medical fraternity of New York in Philadelphia could do nothing for her. Her husband, Dr. Beckwith, writes that she was suffering from nervous irritation and exhaustion, which resulted in severe neuralgia and rheumatic pains, depriving her of sleep and appetite for food, producing great debility and a wasting away of the body. The lady and her husband had abandoned hope of her recovery. Gen. Pleasonton recommended the trial of the blue glass, and accordingly Dr. Beckwith arranged one such of a window with alternate panes of blue and common glass. His wife then exposed to the effect of the associated rays of blue and plain light those portions of her body which were affected by neuralgia. In three minutes she experienced relief, and in ten minutes the pains disappeared. With each application of the associated lights, her pains became less, her appetite and strength returned, and in three weeks she was restored to her normal health condition. This lady had been losing her hair in consequence of her sickness, there being several bald places on her head. Under the stimulating effect of the blue glass, the hair began to grow vigorously, and the bald places were soon covered with a luxuriant growth of hair. Dr. Beckwith, in relating this case, says: "From my observations of the blue and sunlight upon my wife, I regard it as the greatest stimulant and most powerful tonic that I know of in medicine. It will be invaluable in typhoid cases, cases of debility, nervous depression, and the like."

TWO MAJOR GENERALS.

old friends of Gen. Pleasonton, were affected with rheumatism in their forearms, from their elbow joints to their finger-cuffs, so severe at times that they were unable to hold pens. They determined to "try Pleasonton's blue glass," and accordingly obtained a piece of blue glass and set it up loosely in one of their windows. For three days they bared their arms and held them in the associated blue and sun light for thirty minutes. Each day brought them relief, and at the end of three days the rheumatism had disappeared. Two years later they both informed Gen. Pleasonton that they had not had a return of rheumatism in any form. A little child that had, from its birth, scarcely any use of its legs, was taken to play daily in a room where blue glass formed a portion of one of the windows. In a very short time it could walk and run without difficulty. Numerous other cases are mentioned in Gen. Pleasonton's book, showing that there can be no question of the stimulating and curative effects of the associated blue and sun light. But I prefer to give my own experience, and then follow with Gen. Pleasonton's explanation. A lady of my family, about six weeks ago had upon every plant and leaf within the graperies. In April, 1861, he sent out twenty varieties of grape vines in his graperies, all of the vines being one year old, the size of a pipe stem, and their canes to the ground. These vines soon began to show a most vigorous growth, and in a few weeks the graperies were filled with vines and foliage. By September or five months after setting—the seed-man who had furnished the cuttings made measurements, and found that the vines had grown forty-five feet in length, and were an inch in diameter a foot above the ground. These vines attracted great attention in the neighborhood, but it was predicted that, owing to this unusual growth, they would not bear fruit. Next year, however, the vines displayed their most vigorous growth, and in addition bore over 200 pounds of luscious grapes of unusual size. This was more astonishing to horticulturists than the growth of the vines, but from that day to this the vines have kept up the same vigorous growth, being entirely free from disease and destructive insects, and bearing with proportionate profusion. How remarkable this result will be appreciated when it is known that the grape-growing countries the vines do not bear fruit until the fifth or sixth year. Having been so successful in his first experiment with vegetable life, Gen. Pleasonton next tried the effect of

BLUE LIGHT UPON ANIMALS

His first experiment was with a litter of pigs, which he placed in a pen which was lighted by blue and plain glass inserted in the roof of equal proportions. This litter gained wonderfully in weight, size and strength, and at the end of a few months, were found to weigh very much more than a similar litter raised in the usual way. He next experimented with an Albany bull-calf, which was so puny and weak at its birth that the manager of the farm said it could not live. It was put under blue glass, and in twenty-four hours it was able to stand up, and was taught to drink milk; in four months it was a perfectly-developed bull, strong and vigorous, and was turned in with the herd of cows, and has since fulfilled every expectation regarding him. Subsequently other experiments were made, and now all his cattle are raised under blue glass, showing great vigor and with most surprising precocity. A heifer becomes a mother when 14 months old, and the cows and their progeny are healthy and strong, and the former are great milkers. It is generally held that heifers should not bear young before they are 4 year old, but under the influence of blue glass, they do so with out injury when 18 months old, thus saving the expense of keeping them through two and a half years. The beneficial effect of the associated plan and blue rays of sea's light upon vegetable and animal life has been demonstrated to the wonder and amazement of all who had observed the experiments; their effect was tried upon

SAVING THE DAUGHTERS LIFE.

Four years ago she was afflicted with a violent attack of spinal meningitis. Her suffering were inexpressible but continuous. Every conceivable remedy had been resorted to during these four years, but the patient received no benefit. Her nervous system at last became so disordered that the slightest sound or the most gentle agitation of the air threw her into the most agonizing suffering. She wasted away in flesh, could not sleep at night, had no appetite, and her life was despaired of. Hearing of Gen. Pleasonton's discovery in associated lights, her parents determined to try it. A boy window was fitted with alternate panes of blue and plain glass, and the young lady sat daily in the light which streamed through them. Her physician, of course, laughed at the idea, pronouncing the whole thing a humbug, etc., as is the habit of professional gentlemen whenever any new idea is broached. The physician was dismissed, and the young lady relied wholly upon the blue-glass treatment for her restoration to health. The lady says that on entering the room thus lighted the pains from which she was suffering almost immediately ceased. They would return in a modified form on leaving the room, but grew less from day to day. Very soon her condition began to improve, her appetite returned, and with it her strength. She began to gain flesh, her sleeplessness disappeared, and in short time she was speedily restored to health.

VARIOUS SICK PERSONS.

The most astonishing results have been obtained, which are certified to in such manner as to leave no doubt regarding them. Commodore Goldsborough, who had read something regarding Gen. Pleasonton's discovery, relates the case of a lady who previously gave birth to a child, which was weak and puny, weighing but three and a half pounds at birth. There were blue curtains to the windows of the room in which the child was reared, and these were changed so that the light entering the room came about equally through the blue curtains and the plain glass of the windows. The child began to thrive, developed a tremendous appetite, while the lactating mother was greatly excited, and her milk gradually increased. The child, in a few months, weighed became as bald as an egg. Her physician examined the scalp with a microscope, and declared that there was no roots of hair remaining, and that consequently, she would never again have a natural head of hair. This announcement, to the young lady, was worse than would have been the reading of her death warrant. Better the cold grave and its attendant worms than to go through life with a wig. Under the blue-glass treatment, however, the hair did begin to grow, the young lady discarded her wig, and when she called upon Gen. Pleasonton she showed him a luxuriant growth of hair, which any young lady might envy. She was profusely grateful to the General for having restored her hair, and incidentally saved her life. So much for examples and illustrations. These and numerous others which I might cite if you had space to print them, show that the blue associated with the sunlight have a wonderfully stimulating effect upon both vegetable and animal life, and have cured diseases with which the human family is afflicted. If they will do this, everybody ought to know it, for it is a great saving of doctors bills. Now for

WASHINGTON LETTER. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 19th, 1877. Editors of S. Norwalk Sentinel.—The talk about the decision of the Electoral Tribunal to receive evidence in the Louisiana case spread like wildfire, and the hotbeds and other public places have been filled with heated polemics, some exalting and others denouncing the result.

CHIEF OF POLICE TRIAL. The investigation of the charges against the chief of police was continued on Thursday evening in the council chamber. Several witnesses were examined and some new testimony taken. An adjournment was then made until Friday evening the 23d.

THE SITUATION TO-DAY. At 10 o'clock nearly every democrat was in his seat. The word was given that what to be promptly on hand. They came like a flock of sheep and led in rank for a leader.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLAN. At the present time of writing it is received by the Senate and led the count process. When the Louisiana decision is officially announced the House will object to receiving it, and the two Houses will then decide. A recess will then be taken until to-morrow.

NO PAY! NO PAPER! Home News and Notions.—Mr. Geo. W. Saults is doing jury duty at Bridgeport.

Home News and Notions.—The iron fence around Mr. Mather's place (Edinworth) is being painted.

Home News and Notions.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. W. Palmer, of New York, and their traveling companion Mrs. L. Steven are in Paris.

Home News and Notions.—"Charley, the Barber," has taken one of Lumber's basements which he is fitting up, and will open, as a first class hair dressing saloon, this (Saturday) evening.

Home News and Notions.—By actual count twenty-nine full grown men were congregated in a circle on the depot platform Tuesday last, watching a half dozen boys spinning tops.

Home News and Notions.—Now three cent postage stamps are to be issued about the middle of May. A change of color is deemed necessary, and there will also be a change of design.

Home News and Notions.—In the Superior Court, Saturday, Feb. 17th, a divorce was granted to Mrs. Mary A. Deane, from Mr. E. J. Acker, her husband, and her name was changed to Martha E. Bristol. Cause, irreconcilable hostility.

Home News and Notions.—Music Soap, the article sold by A. K. Kapp is the woman's friend, indeed. It reduces the labor of washing hair one-half, makes the shampooing water, and performs all its work in a few minutes, and is easy to use.

Home News and Notions.—Now a day's work has become so valuable and so short, that many are as ready to part with any other establishment, through a direct and liberal advertising. Circulars and hand-bills are useful in their way, but are far more expensive than an extract or advertisement in a largely circulated journal.

Home News and Notions.—S. D. Duran's little market at the corner of Washington street, has many fine fruits in the course of the day. It is all the size of the market and is well stocked, but the price and quality of fruit are not the poorest with which they are delivered, that makes the people to buy of Samuel.

Home News and Notions.—Fanciers of the strains of poultry should look at the new acquisition to Mr. Wm. Sander's stock. It has the White Game, (very rare) White Cochins, Spangled Hamburgs, and Leghorns, none of which are for sale, but eggs from which can be produced by application to him.

Home News and Notions.—We call attention to advertisement of A. H. Hoyt & Co., dealers in fine boots and shoes, at Norwich. This firm has built up a large business by first keeping a first-class stock and selling it at fair prices, and judiciously advertising the fact. Parties visiting the borough will always find a large stock, to select from and polite attention at A. H. Hoyt & Co's.

Home News and Notions.—There has been quite a run upon the City Savings Bank of Bridgeport. The town officials having a curiosity to ascertain who were the depositors that were frightened, upon looking over those in line found many in it who were living upon the charity of the city and its charitable associations. It looked like a run of the city paupers upon the City Savings Bank.

Home News and Notions.—The beautiful prizes won last summer by Capt. J. D. Smith's Yacht Etchelle are to be seen in the window of Messrs. Parker & Ward's drug store. One of them a massive solid tankard, won in a race by the Brooklyn squaron, of which the Etchelle is a member—bears this inscription—"B. Y. C. Regatta, June 10th 1876. Etchelle." The other a large solid silver urn, gold lined, is inscribed—"Sawatch Club, Flag-officers from Yatch Etchelle. Won in Corinthian race, Tuesday, June 13th 1876." Both were made by Tiffany, and are highly ornamented with appropriated devices.—Stanford Herald.

Home News and Notions.—On the 19th of January the Milan, Ohio, Advertiser announced the death of an old resident of this town, Mrs. Esther Lockwood Saunders, in the 80th year of her age. She was born in Norwich, Conn., in 1797, and in 1820 was married to Rev. Wm. Saunders, who was pastor of the Presbyterian Church, of South Salem, N. Y., for a number of years. His health failing he removed from there to Milan in 1853 and for about a year thereafter he occupied a pupil in Norwich. His feebleness in increasing, he quit preaching and in 1855 he died. His remains were buried here. Mrs. Saunders was a sister of Mrs. David Gibbs, of Norwich, and of Ralph, George and Henry Lockwood, of Milan. She had four children—three sons and one daughter all of whom survive here—Levy W. Saunders, of Oxford, L. Grand Saunders, of Norwich, Stephen Saunders, of Iowa City, Iowa and Mrs. Harriet Edly, of Milan. She was a kind, hospitable lady, and had been connected with the Baptist Church since the year 1810. Her death was a great loss to the community.

On the 19th of January the Milan, Ohio, Advertiser announced the death of an old resident of this town, Mrs. Esther Lockwood Saunders, in the 80th year of her age. She was born in Norwich, Conn., in 1797, and in 1820 was married to Rev. Wm. Saunders, who was pastor of the Presbyterian Church, of South Salem, N. Y., for a number of years. His health failing he removed from there to Milan in 1853 and for about a year thereafter he occupied a pupil in Norwich. His feebleness in increasing, he quit preaching and in 1855 he died. His remains were buried here. Mrs. Saunders was a sister of Mrs. David Gibbs, of Norwich, and of Ralph, George and Henry Lockwood, of Milan. She had four children—three sons and one daughter all of whom survive here—Levy W. Saunders, of Oxford, L. We call attention to advertisement of A. H. Hoyt & Co., dealers in fine boots and shoes, at Norwich. This firm has built up a large business by first keeping a first-class stock and selling it at fair prices, and judiciously advertising the fact. Parties visiting the borough will always find a large stock, to select from and polite attention at A. H. Hoyt & Co's.

There has been quite a run upon the City Savings Bank of Bridgeport. The town officials having a curiosity to ascertain who were the depositors that were frightened, upon looking over those in line found many in it who were living upon the charity of the city and its charitable associations. It looked like a run of the city paupers upon the City Savings Bank.
