

Mojica Questions for Sept, 2010 shoot

JP/URR 8/25/2010 Version 1

Mojica moments:

Spend time capturing life without Mom-a typical day without mom. More showing than telling (interviews may be too emotional for the family)

- *Rosaura cooking

- *kids more independent, heading off to school

- *Chuy playing soccer in the lodi labor camp

- *Rosaura 21st B.D

- *What does Chuy do on Saturday's (Dad @flea market?)

- *Sunday - mass/cemetery

Mojica Questions:

Rosaura Mojica follow-up questions:

Last December, you shared the story of working in cherries as a child and suffering from migraine headaches, and how you had to work anyway. Please tell us again.

Please describe the migrant camps in Oregon and how the system here in CA forces you to move because it closes down.

Please share the story of how you had a teacher tell you to go back to Mexico despite the fact that you were born in CA and speak English.

Please share with us your future plans. Have they changed?

You did well, graduated from High School, attending a college but many migrant kids don't. What do you think is working against them.

Anything we haven't asked you or that you want to share.

Jesus 'Chuy' Mojica:

Will you have to move again in December? If yes, how does this affect your studies.

Do you think you'll go back to the Oregon/Washington to pick cherries next summer. If yes, how do you feel about that.

Have you had time to think about your future? Last December you wanted to become a technician. Has this changed, if yes - why.

You're still playing soccer. Tell us why you like it so much, it's tiring does it compare to picking cherries.

Anything you want to talk about or you're worried about.

Consider a family sit down interview. Let whoever can speak, speak.

Jose Angel Mojica:

Please describe how the whole family is working together to survive.

Will your family head back to Oregon/Washington next summer for cherry picking?

If no, please explain why.

how your family will survive financially?

If no, will you be kicked out of migrant housing.

Mom Mojica said she thought her cancer may have been due to so much pesticides.

What do you think?

Did this influence your decision ie if no?
