Jonathan I buried on Friday; His Brief Life Starts a New Tradition for State Students

Mascot’s Death After Being Struck By Automobile Focuses Interest of College in the Idea He Symbolized

It was a quiet group of students that gathered on the front campus Friday afternoon to observe the closing of the career of Jonathan I, Connecticut’s first mascot. As the four class presidents lowered the blue and white box into the small grave, those who were present felt that there under the quiet grey skies and beside the old stone step of the first building on the campus, a tradition was being established that would rise and grow.

PROPOSED TRUSTEES BILL WOULD ADD TWO ALUMNI

Dean Gentry Declares Bill to Be Very Unwise

Instead of one alumni to be named by the Alumni Association as provided in the Board of Trustees bill, President Charles C. McCracken has pointed out that due to biennial elections of alumni members to serve for four years, in reality the “one” member will be two. Because the present law provides for the election of one member each passed that the officers of both the Mediator and the Pan-Hellenic Coun-

its present mandate.

BEIGERT RECUPERATING; CONDITION CRITICAL

Henry K. Belgert of Bridgeport, who tumbled ten feet from his window in Storrs Dormitory and received a fractured skull, is reported "resting comfortably" in the Windham Community Memorial Hospital in Willimantic. An ambulance was rushed to the infirmary Monday morning and carried Mr. Belgert to the Hospital where twenty stitches were taken in order to close the wound. He is now permitted to see four visitors a day.

The accident happened late on Sunday night, February 10. According to his roommates, Belgert lost his grip on a slippery window sill while attempting to cross from one window to another. His roommates helped him to the infirmary where Dr. Gilman took charge and called for Willimantic for an ambulance.

Dean Sumner A. Dole and Frank C. Kent, superintendent of dormitories hope that in the future students will realize that window climbing is very dangerous sport and hope they will refrain from such recklessness.

STUDYING TILL ALL HOURS... GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

"LIFE IN COLLEGE is a busy one," says John Cowdery, '38. "Take my case, for example: I have a leaning toward dramatics, and spend every minute possible studying the drama and playwriting, in addition to the work required by my general course. On top of that, I have a job that takes up three nights a week. So you can see my time is pretty full. I get tired... feel 'blue' sometimes when my energy is at a low ebb. Then a Camel sure does taste good! It's really swell how Camels bring me back. Although I smoke them all the time, Camels have never made me feel nervous."

PRESIDENT McCracken has revealed that instead of one additional alumnus provided for in the board of trustees bill, there will be two because the law states that each alumnus will be elected bimennially and will serve for four years. Thus, if the bill is passed, there will be four additional members, making a total of seventeen.

It is difficult to see how the addition of four persons to the board represents a step in the direction of college welfare. Particular, it is difficult to understand why the Alumni Association clamors for greater representation. Already, it has two members who elects, and moreover, Mr. King, commissioner of agriculture, is of the faculty and its scholastic committee to raise the scholastic level. The rapid development of the Arts curriculum at this college during recent years has made necessary an increasingly intensive use of the library, for "the library is the laboratory of the Art-lege during recent years has made necessary an increasingly intensive use of the library, for "the library is the laboratory of the Art-

The principle of special interests, on which the bill is based, we condemn as being incompatible with anything unequivocally in the light of its usefulness to the college as a whole.

We reiterate our stand which is against an increase in the board. We continue in our belief that the board should be reduced in size in order to insure smooth and efficient functioning. Learning that four members will be added instead of three, means simply that an already aggravated situation is irritated more.

ANOTHER SILENCE PERIOD DESIRED

A basic reform which an increasing number of students have demanded in the last few weeks, is the matter of reduction of noise in the library.

The situation seems to be that the place which should be by purpose and is by necessity, the center of study and learning of the institution, is so noisy and distracting that students dislike to use the library facilities. There are numerous stories in circulation concerning students who ask permission to use library books in other rooms of the building where quiet is available, and others who forego reading an assignment rather than wasting their time attempting to concentrate in the library.

The unusual condition is fraught with danger. The unsatisfactory library atmosphere is in diacritic opposition to the efforts of the faculty and its scholastic committee to raise the scholastic level. The rapid development of the Arts curriculum at this college during recent years has made necessary an increasingly intensive use of the library, for "the library is the laboratory of the Arts student." Most important of all these considerations, however, is the fact that with the present small and entirely inadequate library, all noise and confusion must be reduced to a minimum if it can be used to the advantage of the library and to enable the work of the college to proceed under the smallest handicap possible until a library providing proper equipment and adequate facilities is built.

The reason for the present amazing abuse of the library seems to lie in the ignorant and almost childish ideas which a few students apparently hold concerning the purpose and use of a library. May we say here, that a library, anywhere and most particularly here, is not the place for tete-a-tetes, debates, or sewing circle meetings? In respect to the rights of others and in loyalty to the college, we urge the inauguration of a campaign to maintain silence in the library.

The majority of students who realize the undesirability of present conditions can get results if they place themselves firmly behind this movement. We further suggest that conspicuous signs be placed about the library, and attendants be alert to refuse offending students the use of the library.

PROPOSED TRUSTEES BILL WOULD ADD TWO ALUMNI

President Will Not Make Statement
Although Dr. McCracken will not make a statement to The Campus, and is not expected to oppose the bill, it is believed that if he appears before the Education Committee he may discuss the bill from the viewpoint of an educator.

Dean Gentry Opposes the Bill in Statement to Campus
"The enlargement of the Board of Trustees of Connecticut State College to 17 members including more ex-officio members and more representatives of alumni, as proposed in the bill recently introduced into the General Assembly, would, in my opinion, be very unwise for the follower reasons:
1. A board of 17 is too large for effective and economical administration.
2. Ex-officio members may be well chosen for the offices which they hold and yet be a poor selection for an administrative board of a college. Members of a board of trustees should be chosen because of their special fitness to deal with matters of policy of interest and concern to the college in its efforts to serve the whole state, not to represent any particular occupation, creed, political belief, social society, or other special interest. Should we select for membership in the Mansfield Town School Committee a farmer, a housewife, a coal dealer, a button factory operator, a Catholic, a Rotary Club member, etc., in order that all "interests" of the town may be represented? A Protestant coal dealer on the town school committee is not expected to represent coal dealing or Protestantism. He

THE AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY PUBLISHES WORK OF DR. GLIDDEN
Research Conducted in Laboratories At the College

Doctor Kenneth E. Glidden, formerly an instructor of chemistry here has had published in the February issue of the Journal of the American Chemical Society an article concerning the measurement of the interfacial tension at a mercury-mercurous sulfate solution interface, by the drop weight method. The experimentation involved in Dr. Glidden's work has all been performed at the Chemistry Laboratories of the college, and the results of his research are considered to be an added proof of the validity of the Gibbs equation which was originally formulated by Professor J. Willard Gibbs of Yale University.

Weigold followed this with a 57.2 100 yard dash from a second off the college record, but failed to beat the pool mark. Frosh Quintet Downed Twice In Fast Week

Trinity Jaynees and Rhody Score Victories

What started out to be a drear en-counter turned into a most thrilling overtime game as the Trinity Junior Varsity eked out a 38-35 margin of victory over the Connecticut State Freshman quintet here Saturday night. The game was very tightly played with neither team leading by more than 5 points at any time.

Janiga broke the ice for the Frosh in the first period with a double-decker and was followed by Jerry Driscoll who swished the net for another tally. Poor passing and the inability to convert foul throws kept the Connecticut score down to 4 points while the Jaynees managed to register 6 markers.

Janiga Plays Sensationally

The Frosh went into the lead at the start of the second quarter as the diminutive Teddy Janiga sank two sensational shots from the field goals. The game was speeded up and Trinity ran its total up to 16 points while Driscoll and Carney added 3 points to the Connecticut tally and the half ended with the score 16-11 in favor of the visitors.

Teams Speed Up in Second Half

Trinity held the yearlings scoreless for the first three minutes of play in the third period until Carney dropped a poorly played game to the Frosh Saturday by a score of 24-14 with the score tied at 9 points at the half.

Rhody piled up their lead in the second half and by the fourth quarter the score was 18-11. Rhody's score was fortified by baskets made on fouls.

Warner and Koczosi were evicted on fouls in the third period and Hottchkins who usually plays side center was placed at forward. Coach Guyer did not go along with this move because the team's defense was not good.

Next weekend the girls will travel to New Jersey and New York University at New York. This will be the second time this season that the Staters were beaten by the Frosh, but they scored the Connecticut girls by a score of 48 to 14.

The Frosh went into the lead at the start of the last period as the Blue and Gold tied the score at 17, but the Frosh had the lead at twenty-two points with high total of 276 carried off by Prince Albert.

In the last quarter the lead changed hands eight times while the teams exhibited the fastest brand of basketball in any preliminary played so far this season. Driscoll converted four field goals as the Frosh fought vainly to retain their unbeaten record. As the gun went off the score was deadlocked at 35 all. In the ensuing overtime period the Jaynees tallied three points and then proceeded to freeze the ball. The period ended with the score reading 38-35 in favor of the visitors.

Varsity and Frosh Win Over Rhody Riflemen

Loiselle, Wozenski, Stevens Star for State

The Connecticut State Varsity Rifle Team continued its banner season by outscoring their traditional rival Rhode Island State at Kings- ton last Saturday by the close score of 1324 to 1276. Shooting at their best Loszinski and Stevens were outstanding for Connecticut, while Irving of Rhode Island had high total of 276 carried off by the individual honors.

Connecticut State yearlings, shooting like veterans, handed the Rhode Island Freshmen a decisive setback, the final score being 1208-1154 in favor of the Nutmeggers.

The Rhode Island co-eds winning the only Rhody match of the day outscored the Connecticut girls by a score of 142 to 161. Miss Nevius and Miss Tread did their best for Connecticut but the rest of the team was far below par. Miss Jarrett of Rhode Island took individual honors with a perfect score of 106.

We noticed quite a few events that took place down at Rhody Saturday night. With one of our most beautiful debutantes taking part in the game and a few the dance, Connecticut made quite an impression. Some interesting facts we noticed about Rhody was that the girls go in strong for powder and paint, their bands play awfully hot music and ANY type of dancing goes. Some pleasing couples that attracted our attention at the dance were “Sis” O’Loughlin’s little boy, went quite that way over one of the Rhody blondes. The conversation between “Goody” and the blonde was like this. “What course do you take at Conn.” “Oh, I’m an arts student.” “Will you let me be your model some time?” reply O’Loughlin. We became quite interested in one of the Prof’s daughters as the evening progressed. He says she can cook, too.

During a preview of “One More Night” at the Capitol recently the following words were flashed on the screen: “She wasn’t living, she wasn’t dead. What was she?” George Fell became quite interested in this adonis from sunny Italy, who was Bosco Nestico, the campus strong man, and Dot Doane. So to Hopefuls have been going out on many dates Uncle Raybuck, Montville; Alice Smith, Willimantic; Mary Beth, Montville; Katherine Colomore, Essex; R. I. State, B. F. Pts.

Almost everyone has been heard John “Checkered pants” Montaan singing “She’s the object of my affection” and we have also noticed that this lovely “North-eastern climate has changed his complexion from white to rosy red.

For the benefit of those girls who are wondering why they haven’t been going out on many dates Uncle Katherine Colomore, Essex; Mabel O’Loughlin, Milford; Irene Parmelee, Middletown; Adelaide Raybuck, Montville; Alice Smith, Montville; Katherine Colomore, Essex; R. I. State, B. F. Pts.

Outstanding in defeat were Driscoll and Ted Janiga, who combined consistent scoring, and Paul Carney, with his steady play on the defense. Capt. Herrold excelled for Trinity.

Frost Thoroughly Outclassed in Rhody Contest

Losing their second consecutive game of the season, the Connecticut State Freshman basketball team succumbed to the Rhode Island Fresh 54-13 at Rhody Saturday night. The Nutmeg yearlings were hopelessly outclassed during the entire encounter, scoring only eleven field goals to twenty-two for their traditional rivals. From the outset it was obvious that the frosh were fighting a losing battle as Rhody grabbed the lead and kept it throughout the game.

Morrill High Scorer for Locals

Teddy Janiga again proved to be the sparkplug of the frosh quintet, although Morrill was high scorer with seven points. Tashjian and Parlington were the big guns for Rhody scoring twenty-nine points between them.

Holy Cross Glee Clubs Give Concert Recital In Willimantic Armory

The combined Glee Clubs of Holy Cross College, located in Worcester, Massachusetts, will give a concert recital on Friday evening, February twenty-second in the State Armory in Willimantic.

The musical program under the direction of Professor J. Edward Bouvier, M.A. will include the Glee Clubs and the Philharmonic Orchestra. Holy Cross has an established reputation of musical superiority throughout the East. For many years the college has sponsored a glee club and philharmonic orchestra on concert tours with the result that the exceptional concert recitals offered by the clubs have attracted the attention of music lovers and critics throughout the country. Each year the concert schedule of the musical clubs varies, but it is interesting to note that annually the college organization is contracted for concert performances in such prominent cities as Boston, New York, Hartford, New Haven, Springfield, Worcester, Albany and many other large localities.

The winter concert season of this year will find the clubs appearing in performances in Fall River, Hartford, Bristol, Springfield, Brockton, Abil and in numerous other towns and cities of New England. An annual after-Easter concert tour takes the collegiate musical group for a musical tour in large cities where the clubs appear under the sponsorship of prominent civic and church organizations. The concert in Willimantic is being sponsored by St. Joseph's parish.

Dancing will follow the concert until midnight to the melodies of the "Purple Crusaders" the dance orchestra of the Holy Cross College.
